

The Mushroom Files.

[Previously on drunken wish go backwards. But long story short our group are now on a adventure to watch over someone who is currently heavily pregnant yet with a dragon baby, Making her stronger to at least take care of the battlefields ahead possibly figure out what's causing this mysterious curse of black ooze and now they're heading off into the forest Pumwoods. Heading over to Tonic Lake which is not man-made but it is artificial technically as the 'paddlehounds' created it! Now for the info dump of the story it has been completed now for the warnings of things that you should probably understand. Gigantic DICK, Tidal waves CUM! Futa Everywhere, Big TITS! And of course pregnancy I mean it's literally just been stated in the beginning. And many other things!}

Date: 1453-4[beoLand]-6[Eterday]

GarySon GloomHorn,was riding Her stonewraith, By the name of Graga, Zach writing still on the high of being amped with infinite energy until the next day if things go the way it's calculated summoned her shadow duplicate and was basically converting it into a giant spider mount the creepy Shadow Spider keeping up with the rest of the group it was big enough to actually carry two people so Maya was riding along with! Prisca's Harkon{The normal bear}, And finally The other three on the Dear like creatures known as nature stags that have shedded their Antlers,As it was starting to be summer naturally shutting off their antlers before growing new pairs for the vigorous meeting rituals during the fall.

“So that's Tai Mountain?” Symu Remarked looking at her to Stag being slightly perturbed that it was still slightly bleeding from losing its antlers. As she spotted the mountain in the distance shaped like a giant ball with multiple jagged spikes,With a flat top if smoke was billing out of it it would probably look like A giant pineapple the smoke looking like the green leaves coming from its top. As her breast bounced and jiggled as she carefully placed him next to the Creatures head making sure to be going back of the group because she didn't know the way although the dried up river bed trail was pretty noticeable. “Yes and the landmark for our mushroom collection, At Reddsh Field.” Gary responded while writing on her panther-like creature of stone shifting through the ground and with each step.

As the steeds galloped through the mountain pass it's surrounded with jagged rocks this was technically a dried up riverbed it was going to be flooded again real soon earlier the town was getting braced for the flooding everybody was told that the town was forcibly going to be flooded to help repel whatever curse is involved to wash away certain bacterias. “So roughly how long do you think the floods going to last? Two weeks maybe a little bit into the third we're towards the end of the week so I'm going to hazard is there that way.” Kathy explained Feeling her chest smack her into the face a couple of times with each gallop.

As they heard the distinctive weird howl of the paddle wolves. “Grrrrr,” 12 duckbilled purple furry bodies with long webbed claws beaver tails {Their dire Platypus} Gallping 6 on 1 side 6 on the other flanking the two paths you can hear their waddling petals smacking across the ground they're venomous talons sticking into the stone and dirt. “Paddle hounds!” One of the large fighting things slacked into the Stag that Kathy was on! She quickly turned to smack it with her ax Which caused its head to explode leaving still the beak lodged deep into the one of the legs. “Don't stop running then until we get to the dam itself we're almost there!”

Harkon Gave our loud growl, Before raising up two large swerving claws Slamming while galping be naturally missing the creatures but doing a good intimidation should make them back off each one of the slapping claws tallying into the graph end of stone and dirt the cracking of stone underneath the paws. "Good girl." As the group continued moving forward. They reached the dam it was composed of large wooden branches the wood was old and red and brownish what tiny shreds of green moss climbing all over it. Strange tar likes substance it's gray and status and color was along several parts of its ridge.

"OK those paddles can really do some amazing construction work? Is that Gorgon cement?" Zach remarking at the gray stuff that was holding several pieces of the wood together that is usually made only from crushed gorgon eyes or other creatures that have stone sight. {Ok now I know someone who's reading this is probably going like I want to make a platy monster, I'm using The stats for Hellhounds for the most part so good luck making your own} She said that she shifted her body through her spider's shadow, Aiming herself directly in front of 'the wolves '! "I hope my bindings can hold them up!" She remarked giving her chest a big squeeze As the string of webbing being missed the 'wolves!' their paddles easily avoiding it! Soon the pals were close enough to actually take a bite luckily shadows are not actually physical objects so that was kind of a bummer for them.

"Let's see how my blade works!" Maya climbing over Zach and pulling her 'sword' that's still covered in its sheath, To a deadly swing to the closer creatures Swinging the blade and slashing one of the bills giving it a nice deep gash across its plank and you can see the razor sharp teeth underneath the flat buck. "Are those spikes along its tongue?" {If you've seen a goose's mouth you know what I'm talking about here} Symu, Missing with one of her fireballs. "Sorry!" Miste tried to follow up with a quick smack with her Dick, But she wasn't used to melee combat on a deer so she missed and just barely avoided getting a counter bite. "don't worry we're almost there!" Grayson said as she turned her entire waist in a normal shape to do a firing of her arrows backwards!

The Arrow took the one that was heavily injured out right in between the eyes as it fell to the ground going "GRRG!" Moving faster! As they reached the dam, Compose of the wooden concrete like materials More the vicious creatures started to show, The bear now rearing onto its claws and getting ready to strike! Another one of the Paddle wolves was instantly slashed down! Prisca Wearing her Dragon like disguise! Climbing off of the bear! Striking her new blade the flames kickling and tickling! She missed as the creature rowled up and get ready to strike!

"I Have an idea!" Symu Remarked as she pulled out the whistle she claimed from the hunter that was killed earlier you're back in the town on the way to Pebbleton. "Here goes nothing let's see if it controls them as well!" As she blew into the whistle Loud howling could be heard from the distance galloping from the woods, the feet its claws and tendering slashes! As a series of wild wolves appeared each one of them covered in strange textures shears and sparks of flames of fire, Yet with tiny sparks of light! "Please tell me those are friendly?" As she summoned a pack of five Regular wolves, Most of them were covered in the dirt and grime though of the area hence why their fur had strikes of red and fire yet Burt Patchmarks. The wolves engaged with several of the pedal hounds and stirred the fierce fight!

"Well that just minimized a little bit of them?" She remarked uh slightly saddened but she didn't dare risk trying to blow the whistle again after all it might irritate the current wolves that she just summoned and she doesn't want to risk doing that.

“My shadow to me!” Zach remarked ordering her shadow to attack the first creature as they jumped off Maya sliding it forward with a skid, Sadly the paddle hounds were too focused on the newly arrived wolves to even react get, As the shadow mist! As one of the wolves was instantly struck down by two sharp paddles it takes two paddles to take down one wolf but still the grisly sight luckily they also distracted them after they got busy although these two paddles seem to be looking a little less lively than the others. Now they were taking on a full tribe of paddle wolves with only a small pack Of regular dire wolves.

“I guess we help our new animal friends?” Maya said trying to slash one of the paddles but missing but she also made sure not to accidentally attack the wolves to strike their ire. As one of the wolves avenged their fallen comrade biting clear through one of the creatures it's still wiggling, the wolf spit out the black! “Aid to the animals of the forest!” Gary quickly grabbed the ax from her side and threw it right into one of the paddle wolves all of a sudden the black icker pouring from its head as the blade slammed straight through moved down towards its gullet it's still girly as it moved. “Do we need to cleanse the liquid in the lake bed or is it going to be cleansed anyhow?”

“If the prayer works the way I think it will, yes. But I'm not going to activate the prayer until I know we're clear for me to actually do this! I don't know how long, I'm going to be active on this and I'm going to need at least two functioning bodyguards, I'd rather not have them be exhausted until later?” Kathy responded as she pulled out her Sacred chain first, Finishing off the infected platypus with her sacred chain and bringing its dead body backwards. “May my ax fly true with the blade of strike!” She said with a humble prayer but not actually using it to advance her strength. As the ax strike divinely threw one of the other creatures!

Miste stayed on her steed as she placed her hands getting ready to charge! As the wolves decide to continue their actions to take down the build creatures. Prisca Try to unleash a spitting acid breath and failed, Harkon Open its amazing jaws and swallowed one of the wolves with the beaks completely whole! And causing the other one right next to it to step into the acid spray a little bit. “Sorry, I'm not good with uh my skills yet. “ She replied realizing that maybe they might be tempted to take the bear instead of her.

Zach jiggling her furry chest and flexing her biceps to make yourself look more appetizing “Come on big big bulky boys come and get me?” While twirling her blade! Has several of the platypuses slowly moved with their grinning beaks making their growling noise towards Zach then taking the attack action As the two blades struck down two other plateaus but the third & 4 was still ready to go ready for its rearing attack! As they leapt in between the blades right into the range of the shadow? “And I will place you for food later.” As one of the platypuses just disappeared into the shadows.

Maya preceded to raise her sword still in the Leather bindings, Missing with the swirling wind leaving herself open for a counter attack, as too the creatures also missed as well! The wolves proceeded to take their actions against the Platypuses! The Paddle creatures start diving into the Lake bed, Crossing Up some water in the wake but missing completely! “Do the prayer now I'll take care of this. “Gary shouted slipping off of her steed Placing her Right hand unto the lake The placement next to the lake a wave of unusual energy as mushrooms flew both from the hands in the ground vines and tree limbs. As Kathy swung from the glass We'll quick before taking Up the action. “I Wish, My Prayer of My Holy seed, Fueled by The tonic Lake, Will cleanse of the dark curse that plagues this land, And I will unleash it upon this land, Until The lake is no more in the basin!”

{A countdown die of D8 for the bonus to avoid getting stress. & you can use your attack bonus of your weapon: Sacred rings Chain+3 } The 'Nuts' Start to glow and pulsate, Racing to the concrete and wooded dam, As it merges with the wood, The long brown oak wood now slowly turning into fleshy pink with streaks of dark brown hair pouring out where the concrete plaster used to be! Molten flesh, Bound with interlocking chain holes along the meat 'chain' Showing veins and knots steam pulsating out from the tiny cracks! “HO,HO,HO, AAHAH!” As multiple streams of liquid blasted through the tiny little cuts like a garden hose with multiple puncture wounds bouncing in the white streams Of glowing liquid! The dam was completely sealed off by a giant pulsating blubber for once stood the forest that was created it by the Ranger.

“Ok, that is not what I expected?” Remarked the ranger noticing that she did not mention the goddess this involves but maybe since she was taking a swig from the goddess flask she didn't need to mention which god she was praying to. “But it is certainly monstrous so it makes sense that a monster goddess would choose this action? “Okay I guess I don't need to unleash right now.” Miste responded storing the mystical waterball into a section of her robes pocketing the spell for later.

“Okay we'll take a small rest everybody gets some food and we'll divvy Up our squads because I gotta find feeling we're going to be stuck for a while.” Maya said taking the leadership action. Zach pulling out the creature from the shadows which now is surprisingly a block of ice. “Yeah the shadow rim was not exactly a warm place so glad that my chest is starting to grow fur! Now, I won't be freezing my TITS, When I'm in the dark shadows.” As the group sat down to take a small rest break pulling out some of their foods thankfully the beard technically Ate! Already, and several of the wolves sat down next to them as well. Symu Tossed over some of her leftover meat luckily they did pack a meal before leaving.

“Okay, Zach, Miste and me we'll go with Grayson. You too and the wolves will watch over Kate because she's going to be busy.” Kathy Slightly moaning in the background as she braces herself with more of the strength! “Is there a reason why, I'm staying back here with the bear hopefully?” Prisca As slightly nervously. “Well since Katie's going to be busy being here for at least more than just one day we need someone to set up a permanent tint area at least she's near the area for watching her and it would be best if we had someone who knows the area yet to figure out where to place the tints?”

“Not mention even with my second portal spell it will take a considerable distance but not that far of a distance since for us to utilize so, we do need to make a proper base camp.” Miste adding in some reinsurance. “Oh and Sammy you need to probably watch over the bottle an get it sent back so maybe you should take a quick gallop on return if you can make sure we don't want the frogs getting their hands on it in case they wish to make a 'prayer' I think there might be a little bit left but I'm not sure how much. Or even worse they might use it as offering.” Giving a slight nudge of a hint and on why they're leaving one deer behind. “Oh yes of course and I can also go get some quick supplies because we weren't expecting a long tinting. Prisca Here's the whistle if you have more trouble blow it if you think you can't handle it.” Giving her the hunter's whistle.

Prisca, Was slightly confused by this action but then maybe they realized oh yeah the Dragons currently possibly undead which means offering godly power might mean it gets a power boost? “Right and you're assuring that, I'm strong enough and this is to help boost your my strength got it.”

Grayson: “Right this way to the Grove where, I picked the mushrooms. Also if you want me to ever do that gloom thing again I can't do that until the next day really I mean I could pull it off maybe a little bit if I tax myself but that's really meant for me to heal not to trap creatures.”

Pumwoods:

A gigantic Bubulb Tree, Cover in a variety of mosses and fungi. [15<Instinct role, The number of failures will trigger something. Zach has a 1 but can use hope freely to boost it to a plus three! Maya using her bandits nohow can also raise hers but her hope is not infinite for to day. And Miste also only has one bonus but if she feels daring she might be able to pull off one hope role with a bonus to make it 3 but that also means she'll have to take a chance to see if her stomach can handle it expensive case means variety of things.} [Gary is forced to use the d20 but has a plus 7 instead of the role 2D12]

“I should warn you this tree can sometimes be a bit more emotional if that's unintended it's not exactly, As powerful as a Treant but it might be close to one on the intelligence scale.” Gary said with a ssshhh. {D10 countdown it goes down for every failed search} As Zach started searching And absolutely rubbing out one, Spring a little bit on to the tree. [9] As they could hear the wrestling of two arrows being fired, The era that struck Zach just grazed her armor meanwhile the second arrow that struck Grayson and bounced into her shoulder as she pulled it out. “Don't worry, I'll work on these you just focus on hunting for the mushrooms.” Remarked Grayson as she pulled out her ax.

Grayson Through her ax into the field, Striking one of the hunters that she spotted in the bushes that was hiding behind some rocks. Meanwhile leaping out of the other side of rocks was a mysterious frog like sorcerer. She jumped close enough of to throw a mystical ball of energy at Grayson smacking her in the face she, coughed up a little bit of blood but nothing too major! [8] As the blood started turning to a misty fog. “Ok, little dear why don't you go help out grayson?” Miste said while jumping off the deer and getting ready to look in the bushes she is near the tree. [7] Just as a arrow struck the side of the deer.

Meanwhile the other arrow is straight through the fog. “Hot my special instincts are helping me out?” Grayson remarked signaling them to continue their search. Zach deciding to lock in and focus picturing it as loot as she was scrounging around parts of the tree she found the red Moss, They were blood red. She managed to pick one of the big Bundles of the red Moss and now it was clear why it was called blood mushrooms while it was a mossy exterior on the outside when you grabbed it and picked it up it felt like you were picking up mushrooms with the tiny little feelers around it all well being bright red.

Grayson leaped into the bushes grabbed her ax and then quickly slammed it into the side of the wizarding and frog gushing some minor black vile. Now Maya successfully found a bunch of red moss , Again understanding now why It was called blood mushrooms? Collecting a sizable mount. As be frog raised its hand crippling and shake as a dark looming energy fields the sky a swirling burning rock summoned into the sky and slammed directly in front of the frog causing the tree to shake and luckily the rest of the girl's birth far away but Grayson was correctly Point blank hit with a giant boulder of burning fire. “Keep searching!”

“Are you sure you're okay?” Remarked Miste as she collected a handful of more of the fungus growing all over the tree. “Trust me, I'm much more heartier than you think!” As the flames swirled away with another swing of her mighty ax As the ax blade sliced in half down the middle! Just as Zach was looking for another batch [6] PoOing out of the tree that they were actually excavating, Was a large multi colored lizard it had a horn on its nose circular eyeballs that were darting around in little dots as it was wielding it ax it was the same sizes of full grown human and it slammed it right into Grayson's back bouncing off of her quiver of liquid. “Ha ha ha barely felt it!”

As Maya continued searching This time at arrow struck grayson in THE TITS! “FICK” [5] Miste squeezing her 'staff' firing some 'gunk' directly at the lizard, Blasting through its back and splattering all over the barrel leaving the rested AX plaintive firmly inside. “I said continue searching!” Miste the turning with her stiffened, Dick! Grumbled with her jiggling Boobs, reluctantly went back to searching. Grabbing another handful of putting it in the bag! As a flashy red frog revealed just as Zach twirled her fingers into the moss.

A bony dagger stabbed into her chest “FUCK YOU!” But instead of the webbing coming out where she was trying to it came leaking out from the cut now on her very furry breasts! “Ribbit, Rubit?” Remarkd the creature slightly confused picking it's own version of Moss, And then a large smoke cloud of toxic fumes surrounded the tree! The lizard that was closest to the tree also climbed back up onto its feet the hole in its chest still gushing out now with black ooze. As the multicolored Red and black spots frog giggled in its laughing smoke. [4]

“Keep an eye on those things?” Remarkd Grayson turning to spin her ax directly at the undead creature easily swerving to Dodge. As the ax slammed into its skull it was still moving with its razor sharp teeth trying to go for bite again, This time managing the bite into her shoulder! As another arrow blasted into her shoulder during this time from the back. “Okay, I can still fight!” Maya managed to find a little bit of that moss before you're swishing away some of the smoke.

“You two keep searching I'm gonna help Grayson!” Remarkd Miste [3] Activating her staff and once again blasting thing the undead creature now this time only its head being left onto Grayson's torso. “Maybe, I'll contribute this to my body armor later get back to searching!” She responded with a grumble. Symu? Was standing next to Grayson. “Wait a minute aren't you supposed to be!” As the bony dagger slammed into her gut. “Sammy, what are you doing?” Zach now wondering what was the order. Completely missing the fungus and turning to try to figure out what was going on [2].

“The frogs take on disguises?!?” Grayson remarked running over to do the search herself Eating some of the blood mushroom. “Okay, okay, okay ,okay!” Just before the frog could drop its disguise raising its dagger! The dagger was plunged directly into Grayson's skull. Slightly turning bizarrely she got up to her feet the Black Ickery Goo leaking from her forehead. “It's going to take more than that to take me down!” As the frogs disguise went down. Miste's Missy Her target with her mystical blast from her 'staff'! Just as the tree started the shake! [1]!

As a giant tree root grew right underneath Grayson plunging up into her Piss And blasting out of her back parts of her spine ripping open in splattering across the ground grayson's eyes turned green to blistering red with black dots mold pouring out from her body. “Braaaaaaiiiiiinnnnns!” With a tilt as the dagger was still in her head the frogs freaking the heck out and running!

“How much do we have?” Asked Maya turning to Zach “Maybe 17 lbs worth?” “I think it's time we cut our losses.” Remarkd Miste as the beast that Grayson controls also slowly started to turn its coat slightly darker more infected like! [STONEWRAITH: Difficulty: 13 | Thresholds: 11/22 | HP: 6 | Stress: 3, ATK: +3 | Bite and Claws: Melee | 2d8+6 phy, Experience: Stonesense +3. Rocky Ambush - Action: While Hidden, mark a Stress to leap into Melee range with a target within Very Close range. The target must succeed on an Agility or Instinct Reaction Roll (15) or take 2d8 physical damage and become temporarily Restrained. ]

Zach twirling her blades quickly ran over to the giant beanstalk and cut it down with 1 slash, Causing the beanstalk to drop the zemified corpse of Grayson smashing the tree on top of it as it slowly starts wiggle out. Maya understood what was the plan without even a minor communication raising her blade next, Exhaling and taking a focus stance! The slimy parts of her body became stiff and rigid her Boobs shifted to look more like iron plates still green but,More like they were armored shielding!

“Miste you're back on healing duty!”She shouted raising her blade and charging straight torched the Zombie! The wind missing the target with her swing of her blade just barely, As the zombified creature which are known as a stonewraith raised its staggering claws to slash at Maya's body bouncing off the blades! The undead creature wielding her ax still with the giant gaping hole in her torso swung and mist as well. Meanwhile Miste was already pouring out large misting fog from every orifice of her body! The steam pouring out from her sweat glistening, Nippes,The Dick,Piss, Ass, And her mouth!

As one of the roots plunged and penetrated Zach,Wrapping and binding her into position,Her engorged belly and vines were pulsating through up through her mouth! Quickly using her own shadow beast to destroy the vines binding her. “Focus on keeping Zach, Up! I still got to unstoppable energy in me!” Maya said unsheathing the blade revealing her swollen now much larger Cock Slimy sword! Smacking the leather bound mystically enchanted sleeve first off into the zombie,Then following Up with her pulsating,Sword thrusting into the hole that was generated by the giant vines!

Miste running to Zach her hands coated mystical healing,Just barely avoided the giant sprout of another deadly vine in green bean stock like and very phallic shape! Slapping Zach on her ASS! As the healing energy surged through her body! Zach using those blades like a pair of scissors start pruning the branches of the giant tree monster! “Shadow aid my friend in her vanquishing of the undead!”As the shadow swirled around diving and wrapping around Maya's Dick Sword and slowly turning into a razor blade of its own style spinning and raging as the organs that were already highly eviscerated were continually being sliced and diced! “Oooooook?”

Misty turned her hand as sparks started to erupt from the tree itself bursting and burning! “Might as well burn some candlelights!” Just as the sun was slowly starting to set and the rising of the three moons. Medusa Waxing gibbled, Stheno Waxing gibbled,Euryale Waxing Crescent! The vines that missed all of a sudden swirled and twisted and turned diving straight up Zach's ASS! Her stomach bulging and plummeting but she managed to keep it down. “Just call me a lumberZach!” This time using the giant swords to clip the big part of the tree slicing it completely open!

“Okay one last swing dual style!”Maya said as her stiff slimy body slowly started to spring back into Slough be gelatinousism. Again the shadows being Wrapped around her 'blade' She swung all the way up slicing straight through the body and through the skull and brain as the shadow was now being plumped and filled with her goo. “Good because, I think I'm spent. As the zombie creature still raising its claws getting ready to attack luckily she was still hardened for that last barrage of strikes.

Miste blasted off the creature! “Zach, we do need to finish off one more corpse?” Zach quickly firing a webbing onto the creature it smacked and binded it and then it merged and melded into the ground swimming through the ground as if it was water it leaped up and attacked but Zach quickly dodged. Almost out of instinct her shadow dived off still covered in its sticky goo! To defend using mystical energy! Zach also disappeared into the shadows it was with spikes slightly scaring the creature! Miste's trying to twirl her ring to do its damage mist variantly,As the creature merged into the ground.

As the razor sharp claws slashed Maya's skin of oozy gelatinous body nudging her awake, she grumbled and grabbed the sheave that was still laying next to her! And sliced its head clean off of its body as the head rolled across the field. "Hopefully Sam brought back food when she returned the bottle, I'm starving." Zach patting her big belly. "Well I'm filled with the love bark, I hope it doesn't have too much bite in it!" Miste with a bit of a grumble. "That's a bad joke."

Thirteen minutes after Grayson turned into a zombie: Back at the dam!

Symu Just arriving back from dropping off the bottle and picking up some food for the late night shift and possible breakfast. Prisca Still in her dracon disguise Sitting with the big huge bear Harkon. Spotting behind her friend 2 freeing Frogs but was too far away to shout a warning! Allowing for the frog Ranger to fire its arrows run arrow struck Prisca In the back while the other arrow pricked the shoulder of the bear growling in anger and rage. "Time for a battle rage!" She said pulling out the arrow from her back running towards the frogs priming her throat !Vomiting up acid and melting the skin off the two creature's bones! "Woohoo!"

Symu Skidded on the deer that she was galloping with immediately went to look over the arrow marker in the back. "Thank goodness for thick scales you would have been infected with something nasty, I hope the others are okay. I can't heal this up, yet!" Wondering if she should take some lessons from the priest, when she's allowed to take a secondary class? "Oh you shouldn't be focused on healing you got a cleric over here that can help out with that and we can hold off on that for a while." She said also feeling a little worried too hoping that Grayson was ok. "Remember you two cannot leave me alone so don't even think about running off to go check on the others." Kathy remarked still unleashing the mystical energies now it was slowly turning into a decent river.

"Right Symu how bad was it at the village?"She asked how badly was it flooding. "Not even up to the angles goes yet. I would say it might be up to waist height by morning if we're lucky and that's not counting for the fact that some of the minds might drain some of the liquid out." The demonic monk replied. "Yeah we better keep watch if the frogs are doing this to write us out they would be hiding in the minds anyhow." They begin deep into her knowledge of education.

Several minutes later:

Prisca Finish setting up the tent when she noticed the group was returning mine is Grayson but there was a big huge webbing bag behind Zach and she had gone down a couple cup sizes. "What happened to Grayson are they still looking for mushrooms?" Symu Asked as the fire was worrying. Zach was the one who quickly responded. "Well after turning undead we tried negotiating to bring Grayson back with us, but! she kind of argued against it so we had to make her more Dead then undead that's who's in the basket along with her pet." Placing down the bag of webbing revealing the split in two head. "Oh, Tyson's not going to like that, who should break the news to her?"

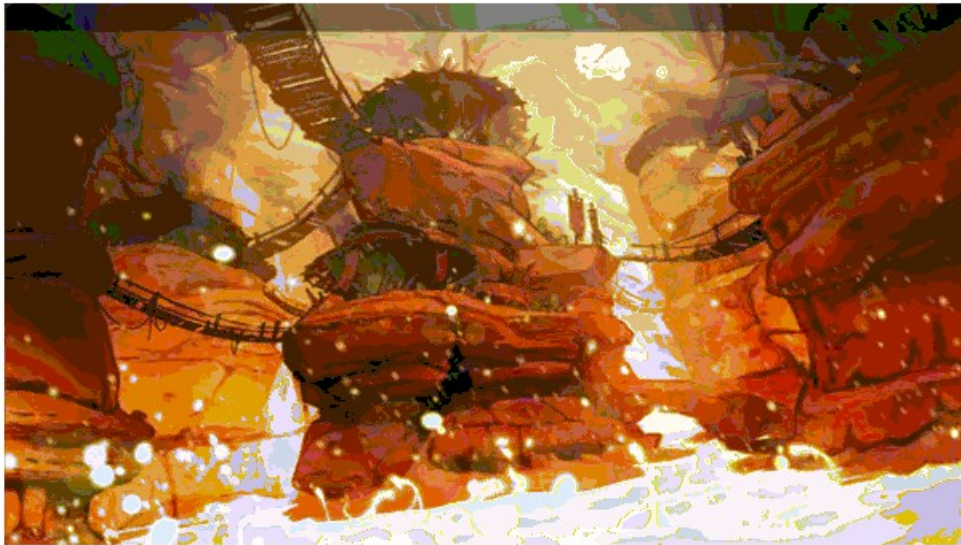

"Well, I'm guessing it should be Zach after all you were the only one there who could state the story." Prisca remarked slightly looking like,She was having trouble believing the argument not that Zach was lying about Grayson turning into a zombie more or less that they tried negotiations first. "Only if you come with me princess, I mean lordship you're not actually a princess although you're gonna be walking around like one later." She looked at her big busting belly and then Zach's big busting belly. "What exactly happened?" Maya quickly gave some of the rundown not all of it she rearranged some of the tales as that they negotiated on earlier. "So Zach dealt the final blow to Grayson but you finished off Grayson's pet?" "Yes, Zach Shadow Demon was the actual killing blow so that means its Zach's job." Answering the reply.

“Okay how come with you Zach besides this could at least constitute as me completing a small mission.” She responded reluctantly, Rubbing her gigantic pregnant belly in her breast bounced and jiggled, taking on the scaly Of the beast with a slight outfit has gotten, her interested in a variety of things! “Also I can drop off some of the mushrooms and then we'll go around and buying Up some things for the group since we'll be stuck here camping for a while.” Zach remark realizing that she is kind of stuck with certain key jobs sitting as she was stuff full of tree root.

“Well I guess that means Maya and Miste are hungry?” Symu Pulling out several pieces of cooked lamb and the large chicken legs. “Thanks.” The other two remarked as they started munching their share of the food. Maya stated. “I'll take first watch.” As Kathy started her sleep spewing her stiff long log of Cock, Was still spraying within the valley. As they continued their shifts eating their meals. They can hear the croaking of frogs but none were coming out thankfully, The rivets and croaks throughout the night. With a little of moans and groans from two ladies as well.

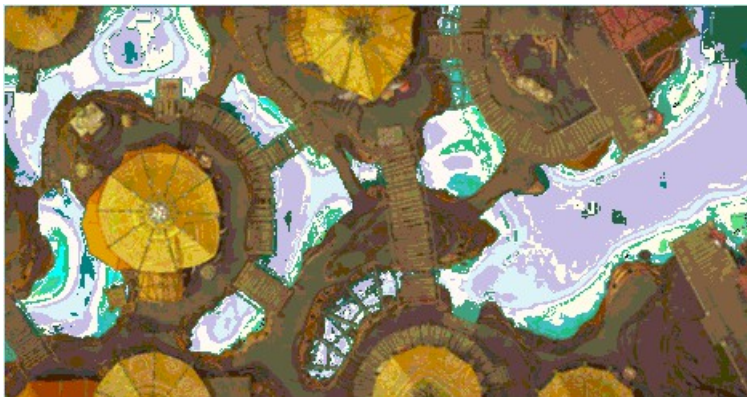

[17Difficulty] [Success With fear ] Kathy Moaned and groaned but the large slap! Her Cock, Chains and rattled gushing out of her tip was the stream of holy 'water'! The river was now more raging and more powerful! “I think it's moving a little too fast and strong for us to go try to gallop down that area is there another route back to the village?” Remarked Zach slightly wondering. “Nope.” The sorceress soon to become village leader responded. “Well, I guess I'll just make a wormhole for you to and me. Maya, Symu these two think you can handle this place?” The slime & the demon gave a slight nod. As the draconic elf whirled her hand and created a small portal of water revealing towards the Entrance of the village from the start of the river a bit of a gush of the liquid pulsating around it.

The village:[Party Zach, Miste, & Prisca]

As the three left from the portal, Which was systematically parting it so it was barely having the 'water' touch their feet. Until the portal disappeared then the water rushed splashing up towards their knees causing them to shift and shake a little bit. "Whoa." Prisca Fell into the murky water, It is slightly glad and gligaling that she was already ready to explode even though she had several lands to go! Both Zach and Miste helped her back up to her feet. "Don't worry dragon babies are heartier than that." Remarked Miste with a bit of a chuckle.

As the turbulent waters are along the canyon walls swished and bowled it's radiant magic slowly making it look like the area was filled with the heat of lava but not burning straightening the area and giving it the shade it needs. "Well let's head towards the village Tavern church." Navigating through the multiple bridges and ladders there's to climb up the village. the village leader house was actually on the ground floor, But the entire center rock face was actually the core church with multiple houses leading up towards the top surface.

Once they climbed up into the top part of the church area the immediately went to meet up with Tyson, who was sitting in a chair there's slightly wondering what was going on. "Ok Tyson you're not going to like this but Grayson is kind of dead-dead." Prisca. Nudge Zach to place down the now soak spider web with now only the broken bones left of Grayson apparently the holy liquid burned away even the flesh. "I expect as much I was kind of hoping though that the holiness wouldn't kill Grayson and if wait when you mean dead dead are you saying that, she died before being doused in the holy liquid." All three nodded with a response. "Who did the killing blow." Zach set forward and responded.

"I did, Actually it was with my shadow force to do it." Zach said stepping forward with her large plunging and delicious rack shaking barely being covered by the fabric. "Was the bones bleached beforehand or after you guys came down here." "After." They all responded Tyson carefully wrapping the bones back inside the silk webbing. " Well I was kind of hoping that Grayson would still be around because she was the strongest tracker we had. But, I guess that's now down to the rookie, farmers some Have their camps on the high ground and others have their camps near the ground-ground." She sounded slightly exasperated and exhausted. "I'll fix you guys some care packages, I got a couple of Deer packages and maybe some other meats." Zach gave a slight nudge. " Prisca, You do look a little bit stronger maybe if you finish collecting us some meals, you could be more 'prepared' for the next set of challenges." {Mpc character level up]

Prisca. "Got it." As she gave Miste a small key. "This is to the store house in case you need to get some extra stuff." She whispered as she went and helped Tyson fix up several deer meat care packages of food. Zach said with a response. "And I'm going to talk with some of the farmers around here just to get some skills adequated." As the group proceeded to separate out.

While Zach was heading towards one of the farms wading through the mounts of semen swirling around her legs the glowing radius as was slowly climbing up a little bit past her knees her large throbbing DickRubbing against her giant pulsating breasts still covered in the thick bushy red and black hair putting away in soaking up some sperm into it the river spluge coating the town's floor as it was slowly getting Higher and higher.

Meanwhile back with the demon, slime, & Priestess.:

Kathy was looking at her giant throbbing hold riddled yet strangely not spewing from these holes now just from her only strong rigid tip of her swollen large pulsating Cock! As it was spraying out the water re sperm at high speeds! Her cum covering bring the sides of the mountain,As she was forced to sit stuck to that hill sitting on her giant pulsating, nuts that were practically fused to the wall itself. Symu "I'm a little jealous maybe, I should have focused more on my lessons of being a nun?"She said staring at the river of white that was slightly radiated and it was raging hard much like the swollen and fountain that was spewing it.

Maya, Looking with her gooey eyes and wondering as she was munching a little bit more intensely on to the meat that they had for breakfast and wishing she had more, but she will have to wait until they get back. "True even though we all seem to use our, Penises like weapons. Mine is a large rigid sword blade where I wear a shieves to make it into other weapons there are still large and throbbing. And you right now have one little piercing, I'm sure you want to add more?" Gently stroking her demonic friends ropie Dick. "Yeah I'm debating should, I go full chain mode like Kathy!" [Moans in the background slightly caressing her swollen breasts.] "Or try that staff trick that Tyson uses and also maybe I should take a couple of her magical cues?"

"Yeah also is it just me or is my Fuck blade,A lot bigger?" Remarked Maya quickly unsheathing the sword to examine the glowing green penis blade it was more triangular in its shape than round in a way horizontally it tapered at two ends meanwhile it was still fat in the Sinner. "Yeah it does look a whole lot bigger, Especially when you are using that shadow demon of Zach's as a condom then with Pulsating saw blades! I mean you were really taking the 'Glory' on to Grayson the w'Hole' time." The demon girl said with slight gesturing as she quickly pulled out her Dick,Out of her slimy companion's hands before it was starting to get stiff and rigid itself.

"Very true.Also you were really stretching for that joke weren't you?" Remarked Maya noting that they don't have really a bardded on their team so they have to make some of their jokes on their own they're trained for the comedy though. "Yeah well, we are still educated we're not just trained to be barefoot and pregnant all the time pushing out backups of all you lovely adventurers." She marked laying back as her breasts fell upon each side of her body.

Several hours later.

As the group got back together, Miste's spending another one of her mystical energies to create another portal this time from the inn To the dam. " We should have enough food for the 4 of us to last for 4 days at least I mean the 5 of us?" Zach did the slight correction. "Actually 6 of us counting the little bundle in your belly." Pointing out to the young lady who is now furged herself back into her human form. "Oh yeah speaking which, I scrolled up my organs again lee that stings. But it made it easier for me to practice my new ability." Prisca Placed her hand,Up while placing her left hand over one eye. A giant glowing orb of fire appeared in her hand with a flame that was flickering like a tiger's eye then she moved her other hand to reveal the eye that was glowy with the same flame color.

“Ah an utility spell that's more useful for being the chief leader instead!” Miste Snickered as she recognized that this was called the floating arcane eye spell. Allows you to generate ethereal flame of your own eye and whatever you see out of that ethereal flame you see from that eyeball. “Yep and it's only got a decent far range, but I figured this would be useful although if it does get hit with any attack it will instantly disappear.”

“Well I visited a couple of farmers but they were a little too busy trying to make sure that the animals were getting covered, so I didn't talk to any of them. But I did stop by one of the mapping stations and see if I can buy at least a old map of the mines maybe, I could figure out some of the layouts.” Showing a rather large map. “And using your new arcane Eye, spell might be a great idea! you can scout out each one of the mines with that spell. And check and see if the frogs are making a tint in there.” “Good thing I know my fair share of the forest too although it might have changed a little bit. I hope that big tree is still good decent landmark?”

As the group stepped through the portal.

They saw Maya and Symu Slightly talking and wondering what they should be doing exactly when the group came through the portal. “Anything exciting happened?” Remarked Zach noticing that Kathy was still sound asleep, And still sporting her stiffness somewhat it was more like coming out not as raging as before. “Surprisingly nothing I'm wondering if they're busy investigating what happened to the giant tree that you cut down.” Remarked Maya all of a sudden The one flaming eyeball that was following Zach turned into 6 instantaneously with a bit of a out loud screech.

“You cut down the oak tree guardian! That's the only thing that was keeping the forest from turning into a braaging beast!” Prisca Voice boomed across the portal. As a slight conversation was popping up and they could only hear a little bit through the portal, Miste was still holding the door open. Thankfully since there was so much food Zach actually carried some of it so the other two were not starving.

On the other side of the portal. “I was afraid this might happen after all the tree has been dying. So I did commission one of the farmers to start growing a new tree Guardian that was in their job that Garyson was going to do.” Tyson remarked slightly grumpy this was the real reason why she was so focused on making sure that G.g. came back. “But it's not old enough to be safely transported yet give it a couple more days in the meantime, I guess one of you is going to have to keep coming back here every so often?” Miste gave a slight nod. “Look as long as I can get my mystical energy up every so often, I think, I can make at least 1 or two portals a day.”

“Cool, and I do have a little bit of mushrooms thanks to you guys droing them off for one more ritual if necessary but I really doubt it. I could pull it off, I might need to do the whole town one day! and I don't think I can do that with just this.” Tyson remarked grumbly but yeah. “okay you two head off now.” The two girls gave a slight bow as they stepped through the portal as the portal slowly disappeared behind them.

“How much did you guys catch over that?” Remarked Miste looking at the other. “Enough to realize that you're probably going to be printing a tree later, probably without me still.” Jokingly Kathy Responded is slightly slapping, The mountain ridge of her testicles. “Yeah and now the plants are going to be more restless because without the Guardian to keep them quiet they're going to start being revolting.” Prisca Responded as her orb disappeared.

Once the portal closed and the orb disappeared two shots were fired one arrow struck Kathy in the shoulder the other arrow penetrate and stab into the bust of Prisca! As she screamed Miste grabbed her staff and getting ready to blast, Maya was reading her sword, Zach twirled her blades as they started to look around to see if they could spot where the arrows came from! Zach pulling out the quill with a quick point, As the Sparks began to fly!

“Blah Eag yog!” As two more arrows wiz by stabbing Zach in her pulsating chest with more webbing leaking out. “I know, I know that's a giant target?” And then Zach turned to see that Miste got shot in the chest as well. “ You S**p IN THE BOOBS!” Swirling from her staff was a orb of giant fiery flame of lightning sparkling the water swirling with storms and fiery smoke, As Purple Plasma was blasted directly at the spot that she thought the arrow came from and then some! Leaving only the frogs skeletons and a sharp portion of grass left in that area!

“And I'm supposed to be the fire mage of the group well it used to be.” Symu Remarked wondering if if there was anyone around they would probably have fled. “I'll take first watch.” Remarked Maya as the group quickly started tendering to their injuries. As the group sat down and started pulling out medical bandages. “I'll take second.” Symu Pulling out some medical lotions to treat the injuries. “I'll take night watch.” Remarked Miste as she was getting hers rubbed. “I'm going to need to take a double dose of medication from that bump.” Prisca.

When it came to Miste's shift, she heard a little bit of rustling. In the bushes but when she went too quickly investigate. “Oh just a few nightbirds.” With two hisses in the background as they were skulking away returning to their hiding ways.

Date: 1453-4[beoLand]-8 Kelday.

Kathy everyone awake up call, With her moaning and groaning as she unleashed a tidal wave if the tip of her swollen Cock! As the jetting stream, Filled with holy energy splattered across as some bouncing across the walls. The thick white And creamy Cum, Lather down! Flowing down into the village, the holy energy wreaking up into the sky! As it was radiating small glowing gold and light! Zach slightly ripping her eyes, She's upon seeing the waves!

“I don't think it's going to be ready, or else I would have been called back immediately? so we're going to wait at least maybe a few more days before I use a teleportation to go straight to town.” Explained Miste real quick not getting ready to tell apart right this second while getting food. “Yeah and I'm going to spend time studying the map real quick also I have no clue what type of curse word you said but dang when you curse in dragon I guess it's strange.”

Throughout the day Zach was busy studying the map with a little aid From Prisca. {Giving Zach advantage without sending hope} Noting the three mines that were the closest to the village and the waterway, And there were two mines that were close to the tree but relatively deep in the forest. It took them about three hours to decipher the map a little bit enough to figure out a good game plan. “Okay, what did these three mines specialized in? And are they still technically in use or not?”

“Demon Fossils, Fire Ores, & Rupee Ores.” She remarked instantly took a while for her to think though if they were still active. “I think this one is but the other two may have gone dry on the demonic fossils.” Pointing to the one that's the closest to the village Ironically the one that was where they came from entering into the village.

Zach: “And also covered in gravity Ore but, That can be usually crafted from rubies so yeah I guess that makes sense why you would only mention it as Rupee Orb?” Making a note and assuming that the reason why is everyone sick so that Minecart area was slightly less underneath maintenance.

Prisca, Start using her new enhanced shapeshifting ability to shift into her draconic new look the stress of shifting her bones and organs it's too Feline yet reptilian looking creature. Gausing her to moan and groan underneath her long lavish outfit that was still showing off her large pregnant belly. “Maple Tunnel [Difficulty 15] Or Irene Mine [Difficulty 24] I think they're closed for other reasons than being low on resources this is though. I just can't remember exactly and now, I'm trying to think are any of them going to be flooded after this?” Placing her arms, between her new scaly breasts. “ Irene Is most likely going to be flooded so it's going to be harder actually.”

Zach shifting the map in slightly rubbing Her tip across its back. “And learn the names these two mines exactly, I can barely make out their names?” “Ja'Abe Ridge [12] & Ja'nebrae Mouth [7]. Both named after the Twins actually actually that discovered them then went in the woods about several decades ago. It was roughly when we started switching to growing the animals to do the mining, Although we still collect several or from those locations and then plant the food around it to try to stimulate certain growth formulas.” She said poking those particular spots which encourage more rubbing. Zach quickly moving the map just a touch away from her penis.

“Right, And I think they're more closed than just being deep in the forest and things have gotten crazy in the forest?” Zach remarked moving the map just in place to make sure nothing would happen still. “I think we were just too sick to travel that far for most of us, I'm sorry grayson knew more details she was the one who constantly visited the areas. But if I had the hazard a guess It wouldn't be surprising that the mouth would be covered in Lamias.” “You mean the ones that can turn people to stone and are top part gorgeous ladies bottom part snakes?” The new draconic head gave a slight nod. “Yo'll Mis uh how do you pronounce that word again?” Picking Up on that sound she also made the usual groans and growls. “ Sssi-MOWp!” (I use voice to type software and I have cats somehow things get picked up) “What she said?” Exclaimed Zach.

After eating lunch they were taking their shifts watching over the entrance.

{Going to do the necessary roles but I'm going to use now jump in time for 3 days later} another raging river day, Miste noting that they were running low on food decided this was the day she was going to teleport. “Okay, I'm not going to teleport alone. BUT, I think it would be best if we had 3 left here on watch this time! So, who's coming with me?” During the first game of rock, Shield and Ax! Maya barely lost, But Zach and Symu Tide. “Now, it's time for the tiebreaker. What's today's Lucky number for me?” Zach showed three fingers, Symu Showed 5. “Okay, Zach you're coming with me again. “ Miste stated as she created the portal. The swirling vortex was not filled with 'water' But the sky was looking very clear. “Looks like I don't know the village, as well as enough for this I hoped?” As the two stepped into the portal luckily they were just on one of the many bridges just connecting the village together. Seeing now the flooding waters reaching up towards the bridges that they were on they were one of the lower tiers but at least this was over maybe one or two stories definitely some people were being emerged.

“Well it's a good thing we weren't instantly summoned into a drowning situation or several stories higher. Now I gotta go check and see if the farmer's still there?” Remarked Zach getting ready to go when Miste grabbed her With her tail wrapping around the waist in rubbing against the furry furry Tits! “Oh no you don't we'll hunt for your farmer later! first off I gotta get the Food and check and see if I need to plant a tree in a little bit.” “Oh they don't want to need to learn legal documentation again! The Fay Court system is more confusing than the regular court system?” Complained Zach being dragged surprisingly very easily. “Oh please we're at least dealing with just the Court of growth & Flow !” {Hey just coincidentally I just watched A D and D video talking about these courts. If you've already figured out the rules of this universe you could probably figure out what courts are what but look their domains can be very interestingly complicated growth, flow, Light, and dark. These are the four courts each court has to work with another court like every single hm battle of the legal frustration there's always a prosecutor and a defense now you might be wondering why would grow and flow be against each other? Well there can be wisdom involved in that you'll soon understand.}

Back with our watchers.

Maya turns and smiles. “Well if we're going to have to plant a tree soon let's be a little proactive and check it out the area without leaving our spot we have a nice new floating, Tool in our toolbox to use?” Symu Also was poking and prodding her friend suggesting the idea as well. “After all you might want to get some good practice when you eventually have to plant that tree later or what new rules that the courts is going to put on for you I mean we're not even sure which one will rule inside will flow the tree, Be willing and friendly and allow allies to live along sight of it or will it be growing and dominating the area controlling and fierce ever expanding and claiming more territory in land that you will eventually have to fight and crush!”

Prisca, Gave a little sigh as she placed her hand over one of her eyes. Although she is thankful that she doesn't have to deal with the courtroom battle again. Although now the flame was slightly different it was green and sickly looking and inside was a tiny little thread the dark. It could see far range not very far so she would still have to walk a little bit closer to the area that was going to be targeted. Symu, Followed closely behind, Still trying to avoid the being swatted by a giant tail attached to large pulsating ripples of gluteus maximus.

As The Flaming Eye floated into the area where the tree was cut you could see the large now remaining log of the failed tree in the pulsating stump that was left behind now being engulfed in the mushrooms? The grass was now turning from its usual deep green should now being overrun with the bright red mushroom moss growing like a weed all over the area, spores of smoke and dust were swarming the area as well. The Froggs corpses We're covering the area now slowly revealing just bones in what was left of their tattered clothes. But the eye didn't just see the physical world it could also see within the Fay Wilds, The energy of dark and flow was merging around grinding and binding for you see death is flowing forward in darkness but things grow from things that die within the shining of light thus life cannot exist without death and yet death must be fought for death is no longer existence you must flow with the existence Swirling in the darkness of the conquest.

“So far necromatic energy is not dominated but it might win, I start to see a bit of a quart bowel brewing. Looks like Miste and Zach aren't going to be the only ones dealing with a legal battle, we might have another one following if we are told when to plant the tree if we're told to plant it in the same spot. Oh wait now I filled the necrotic energy coming!” As you could see one of the red mushrooms climbing onto the frog skeleton blooming and growing turning its bow, Into a walking stick as the skeleton slowly shifted upwards looking back and forth. luckily her floating eye was blending in with the will wisps flames slowly swirling around the area!

The skeleton move towards the log of the tree the trees log moved into a different position standing in front of now a stump swirling onto the stump was not a fairy those were the Elvish Faye the insects there are of a dominant species race no this was of a different part of the court gliding with energy flowing from its body a squirrel wrapping itself with this big huge cloak of its skin coated in darkness and stars. Standing next to the skeleton was now a withered old tree grumpy and fierce. "Hear ye hear ye the court of life and death battle shall fierce the reins the old tree king is gone without the air to rain over this land the poet begs for new life, but also death reign supreme! All flames rise for me your honorable judge Sugar flake! The flying squirrel!"

Soon all the other skeleton frogs immediately stood up and stand meanwhile the trees and roots in the fungus took their standings graces. Then the two representatives sculpt over to the tree stump and nodded it before stepping back into being behind the log itself growing next to the tree stump with a series of thorns and branches crafting around a bestial head of stone.

"Creepy, I represent, The College of gas and claim the rights to this land and all! For those who shall be no longer with us in the world of the living for death is the true greatness of all nature shall follow before my beauty and the Plagues shall continue to grow unchecked!" Crook the skeleton frog sounding much like a certain health minister at this moment. {I'm not being political his voice just sounds like he's dying all the time and also he likes to spray plagues}

The withering old tree leans upon itself a Bush crafted from a variety of thorns and wakes. "I represent the college of the light end of the spring of the flows of the waters nature wins me into coldness you may hold me, Fern. I am here to argue that the fungus may claim this land but not spread to the town further that is currently being flooded by my nature's coal." Prisca Said thankfully her flame does not wreak out a voice. "Oh the court battle was also talking about you Kathy that's great."

Sugar Flake acknowledged the 2 slamming a large acorn onto the bottom whom of the Rings of the stump. "Now to determine who shall call upon their first witness fern the green man versus the skeleton Knight Creepy! Draw forth your weapons, The first one to land a blow upon me, May swing their first argument!" Fern generated a large glowing green blade from its right hand meanwhile the skeleton was wielding the bow as a sword! As the wooden branch smashed and crashed upon the squirrel's head meanwhile the green grass sword mist. "Ow, Creepy this argument will start bring forth your first argument."

"I call forth the spirit of one who has been slayed here by the tree itself before its final wake!" As one of the flames moved over towards the bench revealing just the floating spectral head of Grayson. "The tree slayed you by growing its owl roots through your body, Yet your body continue to move and grow that means the tree was long member Of the undead thus we have right to claim the land." "Yes, but the tree didn't cast the zombie spell on me." The skeleton turned with a grumpy tone if it had eyes would be looking with evil and killing intent. "It is not important to what caused you to become a zombie the fact that, you became a zombie after being slayed by the tree!" As Grayson was forced to retail the tale of the battle.

"According to this information the Ribbets that are currently inhabiting this area have been casting necrotic spells. I fern now call upon one of the Frog skeletons, To answer my questions one of the sorcering skeletons to be exact are there any source for skeletons here?" As The Flaming specter moved from the seat and was replaced by a skeleton wearing a tattered robe. "Are you the one who is able to cast the undead spells."

“Raul, Might work my jerk thought not contain underdog?” As its jaw dropped right off of its mouth and fell into the floor scrambling to pick up its jaw. “You see the witness of the trees, That she is not capable of casting the undead magics! Meanwhile might witness established exactly how she died and stated that one of the corpses was raised from a plume of smoke on the field.” Shouted the undead frog the shrimp ye turned with its old and rather roots and shouted “I call upon the shakes shifting rogue skeleton that is in the area.” No skeletons stepped forward.

“Your witness cannot be called for they do not exist. We have one failed call and you have brought up evidence so far that does not rule out creeps arguments.” Sugarflake responded as the stump slowly started to turn into a throne. “As the judge my life is tied to this case, The argument will determine! If I become undead as well as well as several of the creatures along these lands or I be staying with the world of the living yet, I cannot claim any stake within these arguments I must stay impartial.” As the skeleton gave a smug look as the client found its jaw lined and slammed it back into its mouth. “The rogue that was accompanying us fled torched the dam. One of our fellow Rangers was there as well we sent a group to investigate earlier, I believe as custom tradition there will be more souls there to interrogate.”

Prisca Quickly went over to the section of the ground that was scorched earth, Making sure that there was nothing left for them to summon forth except for maybe spectral spirits. There were a couple of skulls but for the most part there was nothing left of the skeletons. She quickly signaled the others to get into position backing away just enough for her eye to disappear the glowing around her real eyeball now fading back into normal to see the range of the spell was far not very far and that was a very distinct distance.

“Get ready they're going to expand the courtroom possibly or at least just call in more witnesses from another location?” She shouted getting her sword ready to fight the bear groggled and guard as it was still in its position as well. Maya prepped her blade as well, Symu Was getting into fighting position! 3 ghostly frogs stood up their skulls were the only things that were actually of the physical plain, They turned with a croak in a ribbit! “Ye well revenge!” Then spectral chains wrapped around their bodies and yanked them into the forest. The three & the bear gave a sigh of relief. Kathy was thinking was she going to have to figure out how to turn and flood the other side of the forest now could she even turn and she started to try with the wiggle?

Meanwhile at the inn:

“Oh no Court battle today the tree is not old enough yet to represent itself uh. Unless you want to be one of the attorneys although I don't really want to be the judge, I kind of would rather not but last time I got judged. I had to institute an entire land of erections.” Remarked Tyson trying to keep things in check. “Ah and considering that tradition is long before your current leader isn't going to be in charge soon, I'm guessing that was back during the first tree.” Remarked Zach with a bit of a chuckle and thankful that he didn't have to do any court babbling this is the whole reason why she knows Matt! Warwicks and witches make excellent lawyers In the courts of the Fay.

“Yeah, I guess that sounds like a good thing, well I guess Zach you can go check and see if you can find your farmer now?” Miste taking a sigh of relief again she did not like dealing with the courts her draconic nature spies is the legal attributes of certain rules. “Although this will give us plenty time to brush up on the legal battle which ones would be verses, I'm thinking it would be growth and flow but I could be wrong?”

“Well light is the neutral representative so yeah I would say it's probably going to be growth in flow. Then again maybe growth might be neutral but then what would be the dark aspect because we're breathing life into the world no matter what so it can't be the darkness could it huh it's hard to tell it sometimes it's what the courts?” Tyson already preparing a decent backpack of food.

“Is the faye court a regular thing here or not?” Zach being curious and turning to see if the farmer was already here. “Not really we tend to not have to deal with it too much although the frogs and the other lizard folk might deal with it more. Since, I dip into the sage a lot you tend to have to deal with it a couple of times every so often.” Tyson remarked slightly nervous. “Wait that could mean that this curse could be court related, I wonder if that's going to be Important later?” Miste remarked with a bit of a growl.

Back with the 4 & Bear.

“We really need to study this battle in the courtroom before we figure out what's going to happen here is there any way how we're going to get involved in the court without actually getting involved in the court?” Maya Stated still gripping her blade harshly. “I don't know you're part of the Fay Listings things you're uzi slimy mold creature you're part of the plant listings too!” Remarked the currently disguised as a Dragonic creature. “Recently reincarnated type not actually born and raised as one. You know I mean.” Maya try not to reveal that she wasn't even born into the form she was transformed into it. “Okay church demon you know about religions Fay court?”

“Uh no I was raised in the church of the avatar not the church of the unicorn. While the avatar represents both the human world and the demon world it's not exactly the same rulings in both scenarios. Right Kathy?” Symu Responded now twirling Cock, Like her chain! “Yeah and same goes for me too trained in the avatar status which is not dealing with the Fay Court. Has anyone in the group been involved in this information?” Maya just mumbled of course they would be off doing their thing.

“Harkon, You're a bear you can go at least go watch the court proceedings.” The bear nervously grumbled and decided to go ahead and head towards the clearing. Then the disguise Dragon preceded a place for hand over her eye once again moving Up closer, And spending more mystical energy to some of another eye to watch the proceedings. As the flame once again followed into the field right behind HarKon!

Back to the courtroom

“This argument is getting nowhere. The witnesses you have summoned didn't help us at all they were just merely useless his arrows of their own slinging. The tree was a part of the undead court its final days, we shall be the ones who claim the land until a new tree has barked then they will have to mount a war against us!” Creepy said Brandon Shingit's broken bow more and more.

“No this belongs to the forest and nature must be reclaimed nature is charged, we grow we oversee we overtake the dead, death is not allowed to continue on this part! Holy waters are flowing across anyhow do you really think you are willing to take on that war front, before you're ready to take on a war front of our holiness is of the natures of the wells?” The tree forming its blade into now a large wooden club swinging in wildly.

“Order order!” Sugar Flake said slamming a large acorn upon the stump the squirrel was now getting bigger but the skin was looking like it was being stretched over a large piece of bone and ridge!

“Look at the judge sugar Flake is already showing signs of becoming more in tune with the undead your argument is falling deeply downward young tree maybe you shouldn't have come you're only a mere what two to the 3000 years old?” Mark the skeleton whizzled clearly much younger and we're going by that argument! “Only 200 but I'm still older than you, you bag of bones you're barely even been here for more than a day or two.” As the two started brandishing their weapons up closer.

“The range of these fields are much more vast than necessarily countered but you wish to also expand your court undead one don't you?” Sugar Flake turned now when eye sinking in becoming flame while the other eyes slowly leap expanding. Creepy Muttered into worrying them. “You know you're right maybe I should cull upon creepies hirer? Or maybe I should just call upon one of the other priests to get more information first, I don't want to risk calling in something that big?” Fern responded.

“ a Coilsk! I call next as she might have done preaching to summon forth the undead?” Fern exclaimed asking for the order. “Are you calling for one that is living or one that is already gone?” “Living your honor.” Creepy quickly turned “Objection you're assuming that the snakes are part of the deal even if they are living within the territory for now.” “The objection has been ignored but your summons is not allowed right now we can confer a recess and postpone the trials some more until we can call upon the snakes. Any arguments from the stands?” The skeletons gave a shake in a rattle especially the newly summoned archers. “The rowdy of the undead have spoken. We can mission a challenge to help answer this trial?” Sugar Flake taking a step off the stump now looming tirelessly.

“Fern call upon warriors of your choosing if you can slay 3 of said archers trees of the undead of any warrior within our radius you may have a recess and go for the next day for our said trial failure and then the undead shall continue to rain here and I will be dead and join as a arch squirrel lynch!” Fern turned to look at when the flames and with a gesture. A tree popped out from the ground revealing a freaked out and terrified Prisca!

“Wait why am I fighting by myself and what just happened here OH” She said as the skeletons archers smiled and ready their arrows it wasn't the one that they seeked vengeance against but it will do! [Difficulty: 13 | Thresholds: 6/14 | HP: 3 | Stress: 3} As the three spiritual archers aim their bows! The first arrow missed her completely! And the other two arrows were still skiing ready to fire! “Yeah well you're not built for close range combat and I am right now! As an angry pregnant lizard, I mean cat ! I shall fight with all my motherly rage!” Still gesturing her flaming eye it didn't say anything about getting up closer! As one of the spectral archers was vanquished with a blade of fire stabbed straight through its chest it screamed in terror. “ Oh I'm not done yet!” As she took a deep hulking looking breath As her acidic spits splattered across another one of the ghosts and it was mystical in nature thus melting even further down into the seeping floor!

“Harkon Commend yourself!” She sounded her voice now being a little raspy taking deep breaths as her bosom bounced and jiggled pulled within her cloaked armor. Cock Was getting stiff and hard not now she thought oh no the fight was arousing her! As the arrow proceeded stab her in the chest as the last remaining spectral archer fired it was in close range but it was still successful. “Oh you do not know what you are messing with!” She said breaking the arrow that was stabbed in between her cleavage her large pulsing pregnant belly looming as she raised the blade with one hand! And she missed slamming the blade deep into the ground and the swirling specter thrust its arm through her chest!

“I don't think you're really interested in that anymore!” Shifting herself chested a little bit to make it where the hand was groping inside her large lactating TIT! A tickling in the feeling even more exhilarating. With a quick swerve she opened her mouth once again this was going to be point blank! The specter quickly started to phase itself through the ground avoiding the clean shot! That said the Mystical's acid did do some damage! Once again the specter fired another arrow this time right up torch her Piss! As gold in like strength from out from her body the arrow bracing through her and shooting out through her left breast holy Blood leaking out of her body!

As a voice wrinkled into her ear her horns now shaking and vibrating. “You dare try to do that I told you the rules of your payment and you've only impregnated one you need to impregnate three to replace the one you are risking with that of the seed of the dragon and she has the eggs of one so you passed on that one! If you die here I claim your soul and I will reek vengeance! All Debts shall be paid!” In a voice that she could only hear. Well at least she knows now that she knocked up Miste.

“I applore you, I am sorry! but, I need more help give me your strength and maybe I can continue more for you?” She said placing her sword upon the ground kneeling the spectral archer gleaming with Glee! A sugar flakes arms were now turning full skeleton, The stretching of its skin ripping it out bones to being revealed! As she opens her mouth Instead of The acid she was usually spraying it was now a fiery thunderstorm of cosmic holy light searing across the area! Sugar instantly started the shrink back down and flesh rewrapping around the tiny bones the eyes popped into back into normal existence. “Recess has been agreed you may confer into your corners we will continue this meeting Tomorrow morning! When the holy Eye points into the sky!”

Fern carefully walked her back to her location the bear doubling is carrying her weight as well she almost resisted losing the child and now she knows this price if she does remove it a dragon goddess might come and claim this territory a lynch versus a goddess either one would be pretty ignorably bad of a battle to see but it draconic litch versus a dragon goddess one would definitely destroy the village the two fighting against each other will not only destroy the village but maybe the entire valley itself!

“ohh FUCK!” Miste said as she came through the portal with Zach followed by a farmer or carrying a backpack full food!”

After the healing and the info dump!

“What?!?” Miste still in shock meanwhile the others were still laughing! “You know me finding this out nearly dying is not a good sign, can we move on to the part where you guys have a plan?” Prisca, Responded as her injuries were being still treated thankfully the farmer knew a couple of healing spells on hand as well adding to the healing. “Yes, we could use some more aid in the fight. I don't know if, I can handle the case as well as, I should be?” Explained Fern. “Okay okay I'm done with my Moment of happiness because of course this is the reason, why I have Matt on my team and I can't go kick her right now. Okay give me the particulars of the case.” Zach remarked trying to think of a plan.

“Sugar Frank represents the neutral party of growth I represent the light of life and the nature of forced Creepy the Ribbit Skeleton, Is representing the dark the end of life in this case. Choosing which one will claim the territory of the land in question. The argument that Creepy is placing is that this land has already been claimed by death by the rules of the inheritance of the tree guardian which was already undead at the time supposedly.”

“Right huddle up we'll come up with a plan!” Zach said gathering the group also introducing the farmer Harley Berry. : She had orange hair more like autumn leaves than they were or the flames, With green tips along her two pigtails, HCup size. [24L] Dick:L10inG:3in. That quickly turned to Harley. “Quick question how much do you know about the ferry court law system?” “Not much?” “okay what was your tracking skills again?” “I can find a Swab in being a Bee carton. That's good” Harley stated, Maya got that reference. But, Zach's look was huh? “Roughly that means she could distinguish a She could spot a wasp inside a bees nest.” Maya quickly explaining the reference. {18For a tracking} “OK. I have a plan!” Zach said taking a seat with a smile on her face.

Next day:1453-4[beoLand]-12.Merday [12<Critical success}

Kathy was unleashing another raging river, With a bit of a pulse in the screech! Flashing and crashing the waves of white smashed and crushed, The Holy Globe was looking a lot brighter than usual! The smell and texture was unusually strong that day the cracks in the smiles, As the priestess was slightly slipping down the leverage as the Reservoir behind her was almost empty.

“Ok, I think I got about two more days left to go.” She said slightly out of breath and making sure she grabbed to the cliffside a little bit as she could feel herself slipping downward actually. Prisca & Miste Teleported to the village. Symu, Zach. Maya, Fern, & Harley. We're heading towards the courtroom clearing field. “Ok Maya, you're staying with Fern in case another one of those sessions of recess comes up. We're going to Wrangle Up one of those priestesses snakes, And hopefully find the base at the same time. Once we get one of the snakes I'll send Harley, Back with one of the snakes.” “Are you sure that's a good idea to just send me by myself with one?” Remarked Harley as she was not a high powered fighter character. “Oh don't worry, I have a plan for that! I'm just not going to tell you that part, of the plan! because if I tell you that part of the plan, before that! Part of the plan, can be enacted. That part of the plan will have a problem! With that part of the plan, soooo! Thus I need to have that plan, become with a backup plan! Within that backup plan and that's not good backup plan.”

“And she says she doesn't understand farming isms.” Remarked the two farm girls. “Oh and hopefully Miste's part of the plan will come into play and Symu, We'll run to get that taken care of so she'll be with you for most of the travel if things doesn't get hairy on our end.” Zach completing the complete information of the plan without explaining the full plan because explaining the full plan causes plan to have problems.

Village: Prisca & Miste.

Now the bridge was slightly coated with a layer of ooze and goo as the river was rushing some of the planks were actually getting cracked with each slush and slam of the rushing river raising the difficulty of the bridge from its usual 10! To now a whopping 14! Naturally they passed with flying colors. But several of the planks of wood start cracking and breaking once they got past the bridge there was a good sign that it was not going to handle another quick run.

“Well you two are here early? Tyson is still upstairs what brings you to here?” Remarks one of the guards who are former blacksmiths getting ready for combat in case strange things happen. “Well we have an emergency that requires, there's the future treeking to be called upon.” Prisca Explained with it a quick tone. “Well right now it's still just a sapling it hasn't even gotten old enough to even call it forth its true name let alone give us its false name.” Miste looks slightly back and forth and they remembered oh yeah trees do that. “Look we don't have time for that there's a trial going on in the middle of the Grove where it's I guess grandfather or father died it's complicated with those types of trees I guess? Or would it be considered mother come to think of it what would you call yourself if you've knocked yourself up the mother or the father or would you be considered both?"

"Well none have to worry about that as far as I know of." Prisca Remark pushing the two guards out of the way of the door as they rushed in. Tyson quickly ran up to her little position and a favorite table of hers. "What seems to be the problem I barely had enough time to get dressed." "We need the new tree thing because there's a trial in the middle of the Grove right now over the dead or the living taking over on the growth scenario." Tyson slowly blinked her eyes on the subject matter when Miste explained as quickly as possible. "Good thing, I've been keeping the plant in my room. I will go fetch it and I will be right back."

Meanwhile at the trial

"Hmm the motion has been ruled, Your group of bounty hunters will gladly go retrieve one of the snake priests these then bring them here there has ordered by the summons." Sugarflake gave a slight nod just as Zach gave us slight skilled old hen gestures or two help negotiate Fern into making a better argument. "But we can't have a emergency recess while they go send out the bounty hunters to collect a witness we need something to negotiate over for for this trial." Remarked Creepy trying to not let them stall for more time. "I see you wish to argue against them claiming a witness, when I've already stated that it's okay for them to claim the witness. I will give them a time limit then. You have until Bahamit reaches The summit of its flight." Sugarflake gesturing to the star that's blazing in the sky that creates the light within the land. Basically stating they have until noon. "And to make sure that both parties are vindicated for this choice Creepy you may give them three of your skeletons to go with them."

As the group dashed off for the twins cave locations. "Ok, Harley do your tracking!"
{This is just to simulate the board}

As they arrived at the Cliff Mountain drilling Ja'Abe Ridge. Zach raising a hand as she slowly became transparent the shimmering effect scaling up her legs, Cock & TITS, Starting to look reflective and Glasslike before turning into complete invisibility! Zach noticing the roster of guards which were 4! 2 on one mincart shaft And then one was guarding the other two mincarts.

They were two Rattlers Group together they had chocolate brown scales they're upper skin was strangely more light though like a light pink greasling off of their large pulsating melons covered in sweat they're sneaky hair had tiny little circular around it hence why they were called Rattlers instead of having snake heads on their head they had snake tails with every shake making the rattling noises. It's sitting on its side was a lounging about slightly more roundish snake of a Bobra, Its giant melons resting on its huge fat belly it's dark Greenish skin balancing out with its purplish kale covered in deep deep brown spots slightly sleeping as it was underneath the shade and finally their prey! "CoilSssk"? In a low whisper.

CoilSssk Was known for its extremely long tail when fully standing in up onto its tip it towers over several people from the head to the tip of its tail it's a whopping 20 feet long, And only 5 of it was humanoid, Its Upper torso was tiger striped purple scales tiger stripes upon the deepest bluish skin making you think it was without air been reality there was plenty of blood flowing through those large bumps. It was alert Unlike its friend who was using the spear as a leaning pillow the bull's spear a large two pronged hook spear you could almost mistake it for a Trident if it wasn't for the fact that it's missing its 3rd sport located in Sinner the shaft as you will. Its long serpent tale also mimicking the tiger stripes only reverse. "Okay, I need to take out three units without suspicion." Zach said in a low whisper.

Firing a shot first off at one of the Rattlers the webbing binding and trapping one as the want to immediately start to pull off dropping down her bow. "Curse the spiders hiding in the tunnels when the farmers must have let their arachnids loose, I can't wait to taste one of them farmers! Shall Digest well into my gullet." Remarkd the snake as she was trying to rip off the webbing from her friend who was surprisingly bound shut too. Then a fireball struck in the back make of the snake that was trying to rip off the webbing, With a bit of a scream as the boa constrictor woke up groggy and sluggish quickly stabbing the pole into the ground. "What's going on. "Instinctively chucking the spear and missing fantastically!

Harley Tier 3: Ranger. Difficulty: 16 | Thresholds: 18 /36 | HP: 6 | Stress: 6

ATK: | Ax : Melee | D8+4 phy. "Skeletons with me!" She shouted charging into the field and quickly grabbing the spear that was left behind. As the skeletons all fired you're directly at the rattler that was bound in webbing but the Rabbler that was trying to remove the webbing quickly flexed her back in front of it and took all the arrows into her back! "I knew their priestess was a freaking necromancer, They're so desperate that they're even summoning the undead skeletons to fight us off!" Shouted the Rattler pulling her arm in a strange way to pull out the stakes thinks of arrows that were in her back using her tail to toss over her bow to the snake that was slightly bulging Belly picking & ready to fire your once grabbing the bow!

The arrows fleeing and missing. The extremely long snake leaning upon her spear resting her Boobs In between the two large spikes Opening its mouth wide and unleashing a large spectral splash of corrosive acid missing as it sprayed across the walls. Zach was still waiting! Symu Unleashed another pyrobal kick but mist wildly, Before the boa could get ready to fire another arrow the flame did spark one of the minecart rails. "Get up close and attack!" Shouted the coil quickly running over to put out the fire with its very long tails tossing dirt onto the rail.

Harley using her hand that was holding the spear got ready to chuck it Which allowed one of the rattlers to quickly grab the spear just before it landed. Stretching out its long tail and making them grab the spear in the awkward way wrapping around their body!

After grabbing the spear the Rattler instantly She headed his eyes slowly start glowing irradiating an unusual beam of light,And then use it spear to finish freeing its ally! Zach quickly slept behind one of the of the overturned minecarts just enough so that She can get ready to climb inside of it! Symu Was now getting close enough to put you put into at least close too! “Bewild the ancients of the fires behold the hopes!”She said grappling her 'chain' And doing a piercing throw the flames upon it crackled and tickled called increasing the range the other rattler who just got freed from being bound and wrapping immediately jumped and took the flame being rap of the chain binding it again!

“Let rain!” Harley said signaling the Archers one more time as she was getting into Very close range onto the Rattlers and close range within the boa!The arrows fired wildly and mist. Zach quickly popping out of the mine cart giving a quick squeeze and the webbing mist. Quickly diving back into the minecart. The Boa Snake with its large bulging belly moved over to the mine cart seeing the hairy red and black fur. “Dang they grow those spiders huge?What are they you're too busy dying of a plague their own creation to milk these things? IT ASS Is bigger than my gut,Heck I think Cordy couldn't even wrap around her entire waist around the darn thing. It's almost like--!”

“Oh thank Rilsora, I thought nobody would wait where did she go?” Cordy The target that they were supposed to keep alive. As the coil snake moved over to the location where her friend disappeared looking inside the mine cart, That was completely empty zach quickly spending in the casting skills while murdering the snake at the same time, disposing of the body by swallowing the darn thing! With one action! {That was a crit,For Zach!} “I don't even see this giant Spider, she was talking about? Everyone keep your eyes out, I think the spider got her and also I think it's not one of the farmers pets!”

The Rattler with the glowing eyes was starting to hiss more wildly. “Where's the spider if I stare at it long enough it will turn to stone where's the spider where's the spider?!?” The demon pulled her target that was wrapped and bind. “Stop your P---!” As the snake's skull and skeleton was punched so hard out of its body that she basically skinned the snake alive. {Thank you combo ability but that was not accurate!} Harley reaching Melee range to the freaked out snake slammed her ax twice into the chest slicing blood and cutting off one of the massive TitS! As the snake turned its eyes directly at Harley!

Harley with the unusual flexibility,Dodge the flip the spear that was tossed up to her head by the Rattler as she shouted. “Bones aim to injure not to kill!” Ordering the skeletons to fire once again this time on to the yeast snake that was in the back! The long coilings increased the snake raised her tail using it as a quick shield taking the arrows within it it hurt! Zach,Underneath the invisibility smiling with her swollen fat belly! Giving another tight squeeze and unleashing the webbing all over the snake wrapping and binding its mouth and covering its eyes. “Semi eliminate the last one quickly!” Zach shouted as her invisibility, She leapt on top of the body! Almost within instinct a fist slammed into that snake's chest and pulling out its still beating heart! “Excellent work!”

Zach remarked as her invisibility slowly faded away her large now double K Squeezing the large snake in between covered in fur,Her gigantic belly barely allowing her to slip through the now cracked and bent mine cart crushing the snakes ridiculously long spine. Still bound in webbing with a bit of a smothering the snake was knocked unconscious. “Normally I would start trying to scout these tunnels. But, one I ate a lot!” She said with a bill of a belch. With a flash of light that was green but nothing happened. “And they might send reinforcements any minute now we need to go!” With a quick nod the group started running normally they would be taking some of the tools but they had a prisoner to escort.

Meanwhile in the Village

“Well here's the tree.” Tyson said having a farmer give a potted tree, To Prisca. Both girls gave a bit of a smile looking at the tree it was extremely healthy and glimmering with life. “A cherished sapling?” Miste said that she picked up the tree. “Not exactly it's the same breed as the previous tree while its fruit looks like cherries and even when it's blossoming it starts to look like cherry blossoms the fruit actually is not it has a giant acorn with inside the cherry these pit instead so we often call it a cherry Cone instead but we still call it cherries for short or Coney's.” Quickly explain the farmer handing the tree over.

The portal was slowly opening just during the middle of the trial will group getting ready. “This is Heine irregular, I will let you get away with having pinch people be hired to collect your recent choice of witness but now portal of strange mystical energy and by the Oak nuts and the chestnuts!” Remark The judge folds sugar glider. Noting the two were of draconic looking dissent. Zach with her pulsating belly gave a slight nudge to Fern. “00 oh right, Apparently the new lordship of the land is currently ready to start growing into this field or are we flowing into the field should we change the venue of the court or are we still arguing over who claims the growth?”

“Ah you are suggesting that this case should be divulged to a different case, I'm sorry while life would be already arguably presented in this case we are fighting for life or death not flow and grow. But now is flow claiming that they wish to enter into the court proceedings it is rare that we've ever done a 4 way trial but it has been done before but we will need a representative of flow and we do not have one here if the tree is to represent the grow and I could forgo my position as that judge or I could be the referee the bottle is very rarely called upon.”

With a loud belch, That quickly pushed Maya into the field. “I say a slime represents flow more than it does grow would all of you agree, especially one that flows is fluently as this one?!!” With a quick nod they all exclaimed as the battlefield started the shift. “Ah then we will have a battle Royale of 4. The two remaining fighters will determine the next trials key points.”

Creepy[SKELETON KNIGHT] VS Fern [DRYAD] Vs Maya VS Sugar Flake [Faye Judge]
[Okay to make this battle Royale easier, GM Only spends fear when attacking Maya! Oh and Fern is slightly modified instead of wielding a makeshift bow fern is wielding a blade so in Murph to being a melee combatant still has the same damage! Also do increase the chances of fern hitting things and also since I want to roll out some of my new dice I'll be using Symu Dice to determine the success rate for Fern until the inevitable betrayal]

“Also Zach what in the heck happened?” The other three remarked seeing Zach's ample belly. “Well the best way to have the dispose of a body is in my gullet, when you're invisible. Also I think I've successfully finished digesting her enough to at least have her not react.” Carefully rubbing her stomach. Avoiding her Very hard COCK! “That said everything is going a lot faster to plan than I expected, but at the same time not too fast.” Expecting to get at least one or two questions off from the snake priestess they also interrogate her afterwards. Just possibly not without the influence of the courtroom's truth.

[Just pick your standard arena}

Creepy cackled madly immediately heading straight for Fern, As the instincts of day and night and light and dark overtake creepy's personality! As The two swing their blades the grassy blade slip right in between the ribs and sliced directly into the spine, Meanwhile the wooden club, Smash part of the trees bark causing the dryads chest to bounce and jiggle its leaves. As the squirrely judge leaped backwards and swayed as a ghost-free bitch-in-check blasted from its hands, To Maya but she dodged easily with her jiggling slummy physics and using her mastery to the blade to swing in close!

The spinning winds slashed across the squirrel's body. "You even fight with the flow of air or that breeds be underneath My's cloaked skin! You will be certainly a worthy opponent I'm so glad I chose myself instead of the darn young wing and to represent the grow! {whisp blast is modified from the Cultus Support version} Firm raising thing her free hand as the grass sea ground covered in thorns and spikes! Creepy swinging the club widely like creating a small air current but barely flexed into the others when slamming harsh into Fern! Maya's slimy body was surprisingly ignoring the thorns that were on the ground, With everything bouncing and jiggling and she swerved to focus her actions now on creepy as her windy blade sliced and diced the skeleton the pieces. "The night's cycle has lost its part of the duel it cannot take any pleasures in its truth!" Mark the squirrel in cackling laughter!

Zach smiled everything was gone your master plan she did even have to maneuver things any more, Trusting in her teammate was the perfect choice now all must wait until the fall of the squirrel! After all if the last two are left standing determines who's going to be the one's versus sing in the battle and if it's life versus flow well technically it won't be life anymore it will be just the day Cycle instead for it is the cycle of light and dark that means it will only flow into the moonlight or will it flow only during daylight? "Keep it up!" Zach remarked and then quickly whispered into Harley's ear. "Since creepy is out we need to interrogate ourselves bring the snake over for to the tree over there." Gesturing to a small tree in the corner. Just as all the skeleton bodyguards fell to the ground representing the darkness.

The squirrel raised its hand as vines lashed upon everybody he within the battlefield the Thorns covered around them the latching tight binding and squeezing around Tits, Asses, & Dick! "Oh but that's not all I really get to spring out my favorite tools that collect from The villages." Pulling out from one of its many skin flaps within its giant cloaky arms was a tiny piece of paper! As the paper splay apart and then turn into a giant wave of rats missing completely as they scattered across the battlefield and started being instantly scourged by the thorns! "Oh no my Brethren!" Squeak the squirrel realizing that she might have just sacrificed and killed maybe about One or two giant rats that she summoned she wasn't sure it was hard to tell what the instant blood and guts everywhere!

"Well since you prove that I can summon allies as well well your honor so be it. Oh and Maya remember I play for keeps." Fern said channeling her mystical energy into the roots that were binding her growing them into sapling Of oak and thinned humanoid warriors with their arms bulking up to be clubs. Their bodies were strangely shaped as the three Bulky Arms built like a certain sailor man! Treant We're still thin in the torsos and bodies clearly not meant to be full grown or ready to really be fierce fighters. Brandishing their big bulky arms to swing punches and Miss, Miss, Miss! Maya using that at times a swerve in between the barrage of Punch's, To breakthrough her bindings!

"Oh thank you for making it easier for me to get out of these tight contorting ropes!" She said while swerving in her blade the smashed the squirrel! As the blood splatters across the grass sea ground The squirrel giggled and laughter before noticing its organs falling out of its chest and slowly falling to the ground. "As the new judge of this trial taking over for the lost of great sugar Flake and into the honor of taking my true name is ~~XXXXXXXXXXXX~~ ."

“But you may call me, Sugar!” Stated the young tree now growing on top of the fallen tree stump. “I represent the college of the light, My name is Fern.” Stated the tree as She called back several of Her uh creations. Taking a seat now representing a much larger legal team. “Now for you slime lady?” “My name is Maya Lore and I am representing,…” Difficulty: 11. Zach stepped in shaking her newly acquired giant belly. “The College of Rosefair?” Coming up with a fake name on the spot the tree looked accusatory but brushed it off. “Interesting credentials but we'll roceed.” Fern established her ultimate first argument. “ Well this is highly unusual I am arguing that only during the day shall I thrive within this kingdom flowing with the winds in the currents be argued against stopping all flow within this land during nightfall.” Maya quickly piping. “And my argument is that the wind and the pollen and the grass will, flow down to the sea, all times within this situation.”

“I see. Well since you're arguing the flow of this giant dam that's currently flowing a large river into the village, As well as the daybreak argument hmm.” As the sun was slowly setting time had progressed rather violently throughout the day. “Then I proceed to test this argument. Being proposed by Fern.” As Kathy was slightly drizzled in her sleep not realizing that a series of vines were wrapping around , Her gigantic COCK! Sliding the vines up and down threading through the holes was within the long tube binding and And squeezing and plugging up just as the night began.

“The court will reconvene in the morning. To test out Fern's document everything here will be stopping its standard flow to night the see of Fern's argument can be sound.” As Maya's body began to stiffen and harden more than usual. As Zach and Harley began to try to interrogate the snake, But neither one of them could speak for sound flows through air and the air is flowing with words there is no sound everything is quiet within the forest.

Almost as if everyone was hit with a stone spell at night the ground was shaken and stiff everyone takes 14 damage direct.

Next day:1453-4[beoLand]-13.Eterday[ 22>8 Failure]

As the vine whipped crest and crushed and squeezed was trying to flow the stream now was being drunk and drinking as the series of roots were pulsating. “ By the avatar!” Katy shrieked feeling the air now flowed back into her lungs her entire body no longer feeling like it was stoned her heart rebeading and within the grasp of its flow as if she was dead for one whole night. Turning to look to see if her allies were there but nobody had returned to the base slightly freaking out and they realized she was still trapped as the vines were shrinking and drinking from her!

Meanwhile back at the Sacred Grove just as Zach Springforth awakening feeling her chest no longer being crushed turn to look at Harley gripping her chest and her eyes slightly tilted with a bit of red and then the snake slowly began to turn as its skin was starting to fall. “ OH FUCK!” As Zach sprang into action! Instantly slicing the undead creature in half. “Ok so things can just instantly die now are you still breathing or are you turning undead too?” Symu Quickly ran over to check on the others everyone was 'still alive' Although Harley did take the hardest hit, If it wasn't for certain standards she had been dead instantly. “It's a good thing this didn't radiate into the village yet, oh no it would if Fern wins to challenge Maya you gotta win this case!” Looking at everybody who did actively look like they had a harsh blow her tankiness might have saved her actually.

As the trial reconvenes.

{No one gains the benefits of the long rest} As sugar was sitting on the stump slowly growing over it it's long dangling roots seeping into the ground flowing with new life as it was feasting off of the energy desperately cooing its own health! As the tree gained back only one of its own wafts health barely functioning of its own accord. "I barely survived the night fern your argument does not sound great as for the rest of the Grove as well I'm not sure." "True I do represent the life of light. But the dead must flow as well thus there was no undead this night as well as those of the living." "That does not matter the flow of your life force as the tree if one day you represent death with immediately after a trial would be taking place over which one rolls over the Grove that trial would have been mute. Thus I employ you that life must flow through this valley at all times not just during the day?"

"I do see your wisdom. Is only logical." As sugar's veins of the roots start pulsating with more growing liquid the tree now wrapping its engorged body over the stump and now becoming a brand new tree over the once desecrated one, It's once thin branches and thin body now becoming large and pulsatingly thick. "I have come to a decision of my ruling. Life will flow from this valley both day and night!" Both go yes, "But only during the day shall growth expand within this valley and life flows in both directions in this land during the night you are neither alive nor dead at nightfall." As the tree starts to bear fruit with cackling tone. {New stage hazard when anyone enters into the forest they must make a presence roll when it's night time! To choose which temporary transformation they get if they succeed against a 11 with hope they stay human and Have their hope die temporarily decreased to AD10, If they succeed with fear they temporary gain the vampire status. If they fail with hope they gain the vampire status if they fail with fear they gain the ghost status transformation with a good chance that they might die permanently} [This also applies to all the enemy creatures now they have to be 11 and by default they're always stuck with fear!]

With a slight wave of horror flowing in down their faces but the rolling is seriously stated. As the fruit turned its round revealing heads. "The court is adjourned, I am no longer a young dryad, I am Δέντρο με κεφάλια θανάτου. {Roughly translated to deadhead tree: Leader 2T:Difficulty:16: Hp:8[15/35] Sts:6 Atk:+6 Fruit Bite. V.Close [one target] d6+6. Features to be revealed later} As the vine slowly ripped backwards setting free their cleric friend as the group carefully fled from the situation. Reaching to the edge of the field of where the dam was now slowly being replaced with new large reach and vines these are jagged spikes it's adorned with a variety of unusual heads.

"So what happened? Exclaimed Kathy. Zach still with the Rotunnel belly quickly started explaining, As Mist generated a mystical portal to take them back to town. As they were going to have to explain this also to Tyson anyhow.

End of session we'll get to the time skip later
