Kelly Nimble: Forgotten her original hair color she's dyed it so many times that she thinks she might have actually permanently changed her roots to be a deep pink? D-Cup, Roughly 5.4 decent rear,With unusually violent eyes, Her palish skin showing off that she really needs to get more sunlight. And she's not at all as skinny as she used to be. 190. Although she often chucked most of her weight as being top heavy.

Kelly was doing what she normally does on a Sunday browsing for good websites to set Up shops or to analyze the competition? She wasn't selling her own merch she was a merch Hocker which meant that there were a variety of online stores besides the standard competitions like Nile, The Angelic Cards, The Yellow Sell, And 64Bits & Pcores. When she came across this new app. "Digital mall? Tired of Searching through pages upon pages she's trying to figure out what you're typing for but you can't just recall the name you'll know when you see it but you just will never because it actually requires you to know the name or you'd want an impulse buy but you can't?" Reading a little bit out loud about the advertisement sales. Some of these type in ads were just really hard to sell as much as they used to. She quickly went to check for the reviews on the app there were actually decent ones.

"This place is amazing I even got to set up my own store after a while and watch the money roll in! And I got the hire a couple of my friends as employees and they'll dare get the walk around and have fun feels like walking around a place and talking with people it's weird and new and strange."

"This is totally worth the five stars and it's cheap due to get this app 5 bucks and you can just walk into a mall, It's cheaper than gas and you can actually work there too with all the Hotties!"

"Okay I love this you don't want to spend money buying like 14 different streaming apps but you want to watch all the latest movies and bonus you get the experience like you're going into a movie theater without the annoying kids so good and I get to get popcorn and I can even make my own popcorn bucket they are awesome and very lewd yes please! 5 stars I wish I could give more but that's the maximum limit!" So many of these were five star reviews and they were very positive ones some of them were very weird though it made it seem like that you could actually visit places yeah right. At least one of these review ads made sense.

"I am so glad that this place is one of the few that says hey no shirt no problem, No pants still no problem, I just love online shopping in the nude I can do that and not get in trouble for once like walking into a store and deciding do you want to buy those pants and then walk out with them on and as I not to walk with them on that is 5 stars."

She quickly downloaded the app and placed it onto her phone but she also placed naturally a copy onto her actual laptop. There were two options on the a before she could open it though it said 'These options can be changed at anytime in the options menu please be sure to use your phone and whatever devices you have it synced Up with to have shared user information sorry for this process but it is required in order for you to not accidentally get trapped.' Slightly confused by that statement and then she read basically the standard implies and so forth strangely no ads were listed on the thing also not selling your information hmm all the app requests is if you start an online store 1% of the profits is added to the store itself.

“Holy cows not even Eggplant does that, As a matter of fact every app on their app store is like 35% of a cut of your profits and that's a monthly rate this thing is just saying like if you start a store if you're just a customer you don't apply anything you could literally just walk in here and just use the app and not buy anything. I mean click on it and look on the screen yeah.” Talking to herself and making her think maybe that's why everybody talks like this is a physical place. It only cost $5 to download and that's it it's on your PC forever or your phone and you can just transfer it to a new phone whenever you don't even have to buy the newer version.

She sinked it up with her laptop, And finally opened Up the App it has some several key questions as she expected. The first one was your preferred door, And showed a variety of different images the automatic the pull handles the button pressure, Pushed to enter and pull to exit et cetera. She liked the idea of a push a button she probably figured ok it'll map one of the buttons on her laptop and if she activates the app it's just pressing the app opens the door to it automatically. This one was not one of the options that you could change on the family it said warning when you select your door this door will be only active for as many times you would like but you can only change it after three different times of using the same door. This is for your own security purposes because changing your door multiple times can causeway unique Problems?

“Okay do I wish to start in a store, Or in the mall lobby, I think I'll stick with the lobby that seems a little weird of a question I guess it means for someone who's regular in a store this can be changed too that's no problem it makes sense now?” Then it said private mode or not? She went with private mode of course it said “Note employees will still be able to see you, And you'll be able to see employees do you wish to see other customers that are not in private mode or do you wish to just only see employees?” Another strange question but she answered yes, you would like to see other customers that are dumb enough to not be in private! “Please select a wall in your location if you are using your phone if not click on your laptop's app first before activating the door or pc screen recommend using a big screen?” She went to the bathroom and used her phone against the shower wall it wasn't too big but it was big enough to at least count and there it was...

“What the....” Two screen doors and a button that said press to open, Was in her bathroom shower, Pulling your phone away and then quickly looking at it the location again it was still there the door wasn't gone or disappeared. She closed the app the door was still there she opened the app and pointed it to where her bathroom sink was the door disappeared from the shower and appeared on the bathroom sync mirror much smaller she closed the app and pointed it straight at the door again this time of her bathroom door her bathroom door was replaced with the push button door? “Faith of Dragons, What is going on here? I mean I didn't buy the Egg wizard 9T I'm still on egg wizard 60 mines a freaking flip what's going on here?” She pressed the button the door opened as she walked in to see people actual people walking around oh private meant she was invisible as nobody noticed her walking around.

“Ok this is weird this is weird this is weird this is whoa she's got a nice,... {Futa with her junk slightly tipping out of her skirt} wait what?” She started walking by some of the shop she actually recognized as pretty generic ones, Like game go, Electrical city, Best Buy, Even zombie stores like Videohack? The same girl walking into the nightclub, As she headed towards the doorway the bouncer stopped her. “Sorry, ma'am you're on private mode. Night clubs and other dating establishments aren't really allowed, You are having a private date and even then the nightclubs aren't really, A option. Sorry?”

“Gotcha how does that check out some stores first off before I switch onto the mode maybe later..” Slightly confused but now she was getting on why the girl was probably willing to walk so Risky. Heidis' Secret was the first store she slipped into, It was a lingerie store but not just any lingerie store, Dick Socks, Testicles Bras, We're also being sold along with regular corsets, Freely laced tops and regular bras you could tell the difference between the regular ones and the ones that were meant for the jiggles by the single ring that was located to slide up and down with different notches.

“Whoa, I've never heard of this store but dang this is nice.” She said looking at some of the mannequins and wishing that she had some more options. As she noted the store she carefully walked to the mall map this would give her a good load down of all the variety of stores which was much much larger. “Okay there's arcades god it feels like you time traveled and yet jumped to an entire world? What's next I'm going to find myself in the upside down?” Cafe Seiren, Loki Deals, Hot Dick Lacey, And Tom's spectacular candies. Has she heard her stomach growling and she was not so sure as she could slip into the restaurant the candy shop might be an interesting choice something to at least settle her tummy as she placed her finger onto it all of a sudden she found herself in a different part of the mall.

“Oh thank goodness this place has quick Travel, wait this place has quick travel? Ok, eat some candy then ask some questions this is amazing, I can't wait to start getting some of my people to work on this place! Maybe, I might even manage my own store for a change?” As she walked into the candy store there were so many different candies she'd never seen jawbreakers that could break your jaws is with how big they were, Rope licorice that was actually measured in rope terms? As she walked up to one of the employees. “How does this place work?” The slightly rounded man responded. “Well here's your bag you go over to what you want store it then you come to the counter and pay for it.” “No, I mean the whole mall thing. But thank you I will go do that.” Walking over to generally first off and foremost the jelly bean collection, Called 'fruit' beans, She grabbed her standard choices of favorite flavors watermelon, blueberry. Strawberry, Pumpkin, black cherry and last but not least sour Apple.

Seemmers: Was an unusual candy bar, They came in variety of sizes and she grabbed a moderate size one which was 4[w], 5[l], And then some sugar roods {A very phallic looking lollipop}. Before she headed back towards the pay encounter she placed the bag onto the scale she had it set for real cache so she was kind of prepared but not really luckily luckily she still does have her credit card on her. The sales clerk was not that much helpful on the mall stuff although he did help her by telling her that you could take it outside of the mall in the candy would still exist also he recommended eating the jelly beans in a private area your outfit is okay for the sugar roods to not be too noticeable not exactly his choice of words.

“Right, let's start off with the candy bar.” She said removing the wrapper off of the candy bar it was covered in silvery speckles, And it was also a clear coated candy bar not made out of chocolate but yet still soft enough to take bites, It was sugary and sweet with a hint of sour. She couldn't really tell the flavor but it was quite delicious very tasty. “I wonder where, I should leave reviews?” As she walked over to the map and checked and see if that was one of the places. Then she noticed that she was in the adult section, oh? “Well, I'll still give it their stars I'm not usually in these type of situations then again.” She also opened up her phone to see if there was alternate methods going to another one of the adult stores.

She pulled out one of the blueberry, Jelly beans and swallowed one just before reading the sign in front of Loki Deals. “No, eating in the store, If you have food please just keep it in the bag? Or activate your phone drop off app there are extra apps activated on your phone when you are here?" As she pulled up her phone she slowly noticed her hand was turning blue, Then she felt her belly stretch and expand a little bit she grew two cup sizes, her rear was getting plumper! As her clothes were getting much tighter and tighter. "Oh so that's what he meant." She quickly scrolled through her phone to see a setting called drop off at your house. As well as the app called phone storage? She quickly dropped off the rest of the candy at the house it popped off into the bathroom just where she had the door only now it was just a small slot.

"Okay... let's see,... am... I still swelling?" Checking over her body, She quickly took off her top it was in private mode well the employees will see her bear giant blue TITS! Her pants felt super tight as well and we're starting to develop stains. "Well at least there's not a sign that says no leaking." Looking back and forth and unzipping and unbuckling. She still kept them on it's just now she was loosening them up a little bit the dark blue stain around her Panties! [Tanga] As she walked in to the store. So many SECTOYS, They were inflatables, Dildo, strap-on, Vibrators, Venus balls & Milking machines, Et cetera. First off getting one of those Toys as she felt the swelling was stopping, Poking her big blue belly.

"Ah I see you've had some candies, We do also have toys that can help you stimulate into other zones?" Said the uh Futa, Yeah she could clearly see both sets on the girl. Clearly working in this section meant you had no shame which right now is probably a good thing. "Yeah and were you born with that or did you get a toy from here to get that?" Kelly said gesturing Cock. "Oh, do you want one." She gave us slight nod. "Do you want removable or want to pack all the time?" "After you answer a couple of questions about the actual mall, like does it have a grocery store." Feeling the urge, She felt like she was going to like this place after she was told yes.

The end for now.
