

“Bye Grandma! Bye Grandpa! Thanks for lunch!”

Maddie stood near the front door of her grandparent’s house, inserting her arms into her jacket as she prepared to leave. Occasionally, her grandparents would invite her over for lunch on Wednesdays or Fridays since she didn’t have class on those days until late afternoon. They lived in the same town as her university, so the trip wasn’t bad at all. It usually took 15 minutes or so to get there from Maddie’s rental house if traffic was good. Having family close by had been one of the factors in choosing this particular school.

“Maddie dear, hang on one moment.”

Her grandmother’s voice called out as Maddie was turning the door handle. Maddie stopped and turned around. Her grandmother and grandfather were standing in the front foyer to see her out, and it looked like they had something to say. Maddie’s grandmother was a thin woman with graying blonde hair. She, like her granddaughter, was rather short – maybe only an inch or two taller than Maddie. Her grandfather, on the other hand, was rather tall with a large build. He had snow white hair and, in contrast to his imposing stature, a kindly face. Both of them had striking green eyes, just like Maddie. She looked between their faces, confused.

“We’ve been discussing it, and we’ve decided to give you something – an early Christmas gift you could say.”

As her grandfather said this, her grandmother approached her and pressed a slip of paper into her hand.

“We’ve heard about your money troubles. We know how hard you’ve been working at school, and we want you to be able to focus on your studies – at least through the end of this school year.”

Looking down at the check in her hand, Maddie read the amount listed and her eyes grew wide. This amount would last her well beyond the end of the school year. She knew her grandparents were well-off, they did live in this nice, big house after all, but she never in her life thought they would just give her this much money. Nor did she necessarily want them to. She looked up, her mouth agape.

“I... I can’t-”

Her grandmother cut her off before she could continue.

“Don’t even start, young lady. We know how well you’ve been doing at school, and we trust in your character. You aren’t the kind of person to expect something like this, which is exactly why we’re comfortable giving it to you.”

Her grandmother smiled, her eyes twinkling.

“Plus, I know firsthand how expensive larger bras can be.” She gestured towards Maddie’s prodigious chest. “You got those from your mother’s and my side of the family, after all!”

Maddie’s face immediately became beet red. “G-Grandma!!” She was smiling though, despite herself. It was true though, her mom and grandma were both exceedingly busty, just like Maddie.

Her grandmother chuckled. “There’s no need to be embarrassed, dear, we’re family!”

Her grandfather hadn't moved from where he stood. He had tried his very best to keep a straight face, but he had a very, very slight grin if you looked close enough. He was a wise enough man to keep his mouth firmly shut.

Flustered, Maddie's face was still red as she tried to thank her grandparents for their generosity. They gave her a big hug and soon Maddie was out the door and walking towards her car. Her mind was still spinning as she got behind the wheel. With this much money, she no longer had to worry about finding work for quite a while. She could invest some, and maybe she could... Her face grew warm again as a thought crept into her brain. With this amount of money, she could afford to have giant stuffing sessions occasionally! The thought that she could now regularly have gluttony sessions to rival her bake sale escapade made Maddie shudder in excitement. Thanksgiving is in two weeks, that would be the perfect time to have her first self-funded glut! As she pulled out of her grandparent's driveway, Maddie was already planning things out in her head. She needed to get home and put some orders in!

Maddie waved goodbye as she watched as her housemate, Kate, back out of their driveway and drive off. It was the weekend before Thanksgiving, Friday evening to be exact, and Kate was going to be gone until the Sunday after Thanksgiving. Maddie had the whole house to herself for nine full days. Grinning, she locked the front door and then trotted to the back door and locked that too. She was going to waste no time in taking advantage of her time alone. It was time to have some fun and prepare her body for Thanksgiving!

The idea had come to her mind as she was leaving her grandparents last week. Maddie wanted to go all out on Thanksgiving. She wanted so much food inside of her that her bake sale belly would look puny by comparison. She wanted to be MASSIVE! To help with that, she was going to do some belly stretching this weekend. If she inflated herself with water until she hit her maximum capacity and then held it in for a while, her stomach should stretch out thus increasing her maximum capacity, right? That was the idea, anyway. Even if it didn't work and she wasn't able to finish all the food she had ordered for Thanksgiving, she would still have a fun weekend filled with water and orgasms. Win/win, really.

Jolts of excitement shot up Maddie's spine as she scampered into her room. It had been a few weeks since she'd been able to inflate at all, so she was really horny and eager to get started. She stripped down completely and checked out her belly in the mirror. It was completely flat, even a little concave. There was absolutely no indication that she had eaten more than double her body weight in sweet treats just a month or so ago. Whatever genetic lottery Maddie had won gave her a unique metabolism that seemed to just ignore excess calories. She was immensely thankful for such a blessing. In contrast to her belly, her breasts curved out from her chest a substantial amount. They had actually grown a cup size in the past six months, increasing her bra size to 32K. Whether this was related to her inflation sessions or not, Maddie wasn't sure. She had done most of her inflating with water in the past six months, so it was probably unrelated. More than likely it was just natural growth due to coming from a line of overly busty women. She patted her belly lovingly and then turned to her chest of drawers.

Maddie grabbed an azure-blue bikini out of the top drawer and slipped the bottoms on. She then tied the top behind her back and slipped each boob into its respective cup, shifting her shoulders as she adjusted the fit. Satisfied, she turned her attention to a cardboard box sitting unassumingly on her bed. Maddie had decided that this inflation session was going to be different, so she had ordered something to spice things up. Reaching into the box, she pulled out a large jet-black butt plug. This time, she was going to inflate through her ass. The plug wasn't obscenely huge, but it was larger than a normal plug. She held up the tip to her face as though she was looking through an oddly-shaped telescope, and could see a channel that ran directly through the center of the plug. This plug was hollow, with a one-way valve and threaded attachment point on the bottom underneath the flared end. This plug was specially made for inflation and had been one of the first things Maddie bought with her newfound funds. Face flushing, she grabbed the included bottle of lube and headed into the bathroom.

After cleaning herself out, she double-checked the hose's connection to the shower head before connecting the other end to the butt plug. She then looked over to the counter to make sure a spare hose was within easy reach. If Maddie was going to get as big as she wanted, she was definitely going to need to change locations at some point. While her shower was a walk-in of decent size with a large door, it was too small to contain her desired size. She wouldn't have been able to fit inside after her bake sale binge, and she was planning on shredding that record tonight. Squirting a generous amount of lube all over the plug, she pulled her bikini bottoms to the side, bent over, and lined the tip up against her entrance.

"Well... here we go..."

Trying her best to relax herself, Maddie slowly started forcing the plug into her ass. Groaning as her hole slowly opened around the large plug, she could feel inch after inch steadily enter her. Her breaths came quicker and quicker as she struggled with the widest part, until finally...

SHLORP!

The widest part slipped fully inside. Maddie's breath hitched and she whimpered in pleasure. She was relatively neutral about anal play; she could take it or leave it. What she did love, however, was feeling full – and this big plug was already delivering on that front. Standing back up straight, she grabbed a bottle of salt tablets from next to her shampoo and shook a bunch into her mouth. She then reached for the valve behind her, grinned, and cranked it all the way open.

Almost immediately, Maddie's belly went from concave to convex. Her hand flew to her mouth as the air being pushed up through her guts caused her to burp. A cramping feeling pulsated throughout her lower abdomen – perhaps she shouldn't have started so fast while trying something new. Another, much longer, burp erupted out of her mouth. As the burp tapered off, the cramping melted away into that feeling of internal stretching that she relished so much.

"Oooohhh..."

Maddie moaned, her initial fright completely gone and replaced with pleasure. Inflating through her ass felt even better than she had hoped it would; her mind was being flooded with unique sensations. She could actually feel the flow of water massage her insides. All of this without needing to continuously swallow! It was glorious.

"Mmmmmmm..."

Maddie's moans intensified as she felt her favorite inflation sensation begin deep in her groin. She was already at the point where her stomach was putting enough internal pressure on her vagina to sexually stimulate her from within.

“That was... Q-Quick... Mmmmm...”

She brought her hands to her swelling belly. It was already past pregnancy size and moving into overdue-with-multiples size. She rubbed it and fondled it as it continued to swell larger and larger. The weight was becoming harder to manage while standing, so Maddie shifted her feet apart to take a wider and more stable stance. Arching her back, she moved her arms underneath the bloating balloon attached to her middle as it sagged closer and closer to the ground. It now covered her crotch and started inching down her thighs. She couldn't handle the weight anymore, so she eased herself down onto her knees, her huge belly hitting the cool tile floor a little harder than she meant it to.

SHLOSH!!* *GA-LUNK!!

Now the size of a large beach ball, her bloated gut undulated to and fro as it came to rest on the shower floor. Maddie, now on her knees and leaning against her belly, groaned in bliss as it wobbled into her crotch, grinding into her pussy through her now slick bikini bottoms. The desire to give in to her arousal and hump her own belly was strong, but she grit her teeth and resisted. She wasn't even close to finished.

Gallons of water continued to shoot deep inside her. Her monstrous stomach flowed out in all directions and was quickly approaching how big it had been after eating the bake sale. It was almost up to her face while she was kneeling. Soon she would be too big to squeeze through the shower door – it was time to move to phase 2. Maddie reached a shaky hand behind her and shut off the hose.

“Oh god... Ooooooohhh...”

Now that the sensation of actively being filled was gone, Maddie became much more aware of the other sensations she was experiencing. Her vagina was practically throbbing with pleasure, being squeezed between her overinflated stomach and the big butt plug still lodged firmly within her ass. She whimpered as her arousal flared, the desire to cum coming back with a vengeance.

“No... Want to get... Bigger...”

Panting, Maddie ignored her raging libido and unhooked the hose from her ass. The one-way valve held firm and no water escaped. Grunting, she slid her belly across the tile and out of the shower, barely squeezing through the shower door. Grabbing the extra hose and an extra bottle of salt tablets from the counter, she started making her way to the kitchen. She moved herself and her over-engorged abdomen in a manner that was similar to how she moved herself around at the end of her bake sale glut. Supporting most of her body on top of her gut, she pushed herself forward using her feet in an awkward waddling motion. After squeezing herself through the bathroom door with a shhhlorp, Maddie slid herself down the hallway and into the kitchen. Thankfully the hallway had a hard floor.

If Kate was home right now, she would freak out.

Thinking about how absurd of a sight this would be to her roommate, or anyone else for that matter, made Maddie giggle. A nearly naked human woman with a gigantic flesh-colored balloon belly sliding themselves along the ground because they were too heavy to stand up – anyone who happened to see Maddie in this state would think they had gone nuts. Maddie's giggles caused the belly beneath her to slosh around, which caused her giggles to stop abruptly as she bit her lip to stifle the assault on her pleasure center.

More...

Sliding herself as close to the kitchen sink as she could, she strained her arms up to the faucet, attaching one end of the hose and turning the faucet on. Reaching behind herself, she attached the other end to the plug still dutifully sitting in her ass. Before turning the flow of water back on, Maddie slid herself out from behind the kitchen island and more towards the center of the room. Finally, she could resume inflating! Hands trembling from the anticipation, she popped open the bottle of salt tablets, downed almost the entire thing, and let the bottle fall to the floor. She then reached back and fully opened the valve.

“Yesssss...!!”

Maddie squealed in delight as she felt the water begin gushing into her already overinflated body once again. Her belly grew steadily in all directions, surpassing her bake sale size and lifting her feet off the ground! Maddie was pulled up on top of her belly as her entire form rolled forward slightly. She was now resting completely on top of her own gargantuan gut!

“Oh my goooood...”

Maddie’s eyes rolled as she processed her new record. At the end of her bake sale feast, she could still reach the ground with her feet, but right now she couldn’t! She was that huge! And she was still getting bigger! Now in full pleasure seeking mode, she slapped and kneaded as much of her outrageously huge belly as she could reach. She then switched to fondling her boobs, pinching and tweaking her erect nipples through her bikini top. As Maddie thoroughly enjoyed herself atop her belly, that very same belly continued to inflate bigger and bigger. Rising steadily into the air, she soon reached as high as the kitchen island. Then she was higher than the kitchen island! Lost in a drunken haze of overwhelming sexual pleasure, Maddie didn’t even register this. She was having far too much fun playing with herself.

Hiccup!

As Maddie continued to bloat outwards and upwards from the water’s relentless assault on her insides, something new began happening to her belly. It was starting to change shape. Up until now, her belly had been much wider than it was tall, due to gravity and her body’s odd pliability. Now, though, it had stopped swelling out to the sides as much and was mostly swelling up. Maddie’s belly was rounding out. Maybe she was finally approaching something resembling a limit?

Hic!

Meanwhile, Maddie was oblivious to all of this due to her masturbatory frenzy. She was finally jolted back to her senses (mostly) by a bizarre new sensation – it felt like her back was expanding. Obviously this was impossible due to her spine being in the way, but the feeling was still there. She also started to feel a little crampy again. Immediately, Maddie reached around to her ass and shut the valve off. She then felt around above her ass to try and find out what was going on with her back. What had felt like her back expanding was simply the two sides of her belly, where they connected to her torso on either side, pushing up and out on either side of her spine. Maddie was so unbelievably full of water that it was causing her back to inflate! This new phenomenon made it look like she was embedded deeper within a gigantic flesh-colored balloon. Towards her front, only her boobs, shoulders, arms, and head stuck out of the balloon. Towards her back, only her ass and legs stuck out of the balloon. Both were connected by a sunken valley that contained her spine.

The cramping vanished pretty quickly as her body got more used to being so close to its maximum. The sheer amount of pressure and pleasure Maddie was experiencing was intense. She could feel the orgasm she had been working on a moment ago begin bubbling back up within her. Looking around, Maddie finally realized how enormous she had become.

“Oh my- hic! -god...”

She was bigger than their kitchen island. Hell, her stomach was now huge enough to fit the entire kitchen island inside, easy! If a normal uninflated Maddie were to walk into the kitchen right now, current overinflated Maddie would be above her head with room to spare. Her brain short-circuited with pleasure as she took in what she had done to herself, and, with a howl of ecstasy, Maddie orgasmed harder than she ever had before.

“Heeeey!! Maddie’s here!!”

Maddie’s family called out a chorus of greetings as she opened her grandparent’s front door and let herself inside. They were all seated in various places on various chairs throughout the large living room. Most of them were watching the football game on the big TV mounted above an ornate fireplace. A cozy fire was crackling inside said fireplace.

“Hey everyon- oof!”

Maddie’s niece and nephew had run into her at full speed to hug her, knocking most of the wind out of her lungs. Just as she was catching her breath, her mother and grandfather appeared at the door to the kitchen.

“Food’s ready! Everyone to the tables!”

Releasing her just as quickly as they had hugged her, Maddie’s niece and nephew took off at full speed towards the kid’s table. There was a commotion as the large group of people all made their way towards the dining room. Maddie paused for a moment before joining them. Her phone had vibrated inside her pocket. Taking it out, she read the new text message:

Your delivery order of FULL COURSE THANKSGIVING DINNER x 5 is now being prepared, for delivery at 6:30 PM. Thank you for your order!

Maddie grinned. Tonight was going to be awesome.
