warning: minor world building[It's sad that I have to make this a warning] Futa, Big Dick & BOOBS, Fattening. [New info I have switched to the system of daggerheart! I will reveal what characters are playing what classes later when it's necessary, I will reveal what ancestries that some characters are playing as when necessary although some will be extremely obvious only, one character is currently play testing a custom ancestry.]

Narrator/the undead wizard “Due to world altering events the flashback will now be taking place in the New World which is technically the old world but you know magic is weird like that?” Response the mysterious cloak figure the curves of her body showing signs the smell of garlic around her body yet it only hides the smell of death doesn't get rid of it. “ Oh you're probably wondering who, I am well as it says I'm the undead wizard. Don't worry I've only a master in light and dark magic that's what the eight wizards are for the Masters of the blends of two magical concepts oh you might think there's more considering that there's six magical concepts but some magics just don't mix well also we didn't keep those towers around we have wars between ourselves and I have plans.”

She said moving over towards a crystal ball rubbing her nice orb surround it. “But I'm not going to reveal those plans and this is not my flesh fact that we're going to be investigating it's going to be one of the party members that stole my little bottle that was going to give to the princess as her inauguration gift, oh well. Their Second wish was world altering but it didn't really matter to me. Although my vampiric friend that watches over me might have changed a lot from this I'm not complaining and yes, I remembered the old world as much as they do? but that's because I'm stronger!”

With the wave of her hand the crystal ball began to glow,In it was a small yellow skin girl with streaks of red her horns being slightly more prominent sitting next to a rather larger version of herself source speak ample bosomed and a long slowing robe. She was holding a book in front of a small fireplace a whole bunch of other girls was of different races and see some with different colored skins some much bigger than others some starting to show signs of hitting puberty a lot sooner some more humans some were or of the demon folk somewhere of the gelatin somewhere of the beasts some more like mermaids some had skin of metal and stone some happened to be more reptilian in nature.

“Mother Mervyn! Tell us the story tell us the story tell us the story.” Commented the little version of herself the nun sat down with all the girls surrounding her. “You mean the story of how come our princess and our queens And the entire royal family do not wear clothing? Aren't you tired of listening to this tale over and over and over again, My Little Sammy.” Several of the other girls also cheered with Glee they were all eager they hear the story once again,The little girl named Sammy gave a slight nod of wanting to hear the story again it also shook her head about being tired of it. “Okay.” The woman's side opening the book her double d's slightly jiggling from the pages. “ Long ago in the Kingdom of Zarhra. There were two powerful and terrifying Queens.”

“The Queens were vain cruel always looking at each other's beauty and being jealous of their partner while also being jealous and others constantly battling over the Magic Mirror that kept choosing which one was the fairest of them all and the mirror being afraid to say it was not the other there that was staring in the knit's face.” As two lovely ladies with giant melons and large flowers and branches down below. fighting over magic mirror containing a very ample bosom girl one side. She looked like to be a Lynx like demon it was hard to tell how many tales she had behind her. The two redheadish Girls were fighting over in the mirror humans with a firm rule over their kingdom both were big with children during it as well. “No my glowing beauty is beautiful.” “No my dear wife I am more beautiful with my glowing beauty, I am ready to pop and blow at any moment!" The demon rolled her eyes as she was really worried that they might break her mirror and that would practically kill her or at least banish her into a world of unknown horrors.

Thankfully the Royal Guard walked into the room flanked by a mysterious Ranger she had long silver hair with a single streak of purple against her pale white skin but she was definitely human smells the glint of smiles she was supplying with a variety of new garbs as she opened up a box with an evilish grin. The two somehow gently placed the mirror down when they dropped it onto the bed as the two Queens ran over towards the chest and looked inside there were so many beautiful different fabrics but they were none stitched together into clothing yet as the Ranger responded with a smile and Glee.

"I will give a great design of your latest outfit when you both have popped after all you need to show off your after labor glow as much as possible to the rest the kingdom along with your lovely children, during my Queens? But I do need to at least pay for some of the commissioning work my Queens, I am so sorry, I cannot do this for free." The Queens were fiendishly smiling rubbing their bellies of hugeness it was true they were both ready to pop any day now. "Of course, We'll even supply you with a room within the very castle walls." Said the one with the crown of multiple spikes both of them were strong redheads which meant their children would be strong redheads as well showing signs of the fire Elemental within their eyes flame humans were often flaming redheads although there was rare occasions where they were blue aligned.

The transition back to the nun telling the story. "Two weeks each one of the Queens slipping into the room and messing with the outfit of the other driving the Ranger Mad she finally decided to pull a very fiendish trick on the two that were fighting over which one was going to be the more beautiful after having their child. It was an uncommon for the young princesses even when burned to be nude but it was extremely rare during those times where the Queens to be. The Ranger revealed that the outfits that she sewed were made of a special silk that only those of the Wisest and most performatively beautiful people could ever see she even remarked she had a hard time seeing them herself and she was with the ones sewing it."

Then the older ones that were still awake responded with glee. "Naturally the Queens were too vain to believe that they were fooled into believing that they were wearing nothing but air the fabric was made of flames at first glance so that way they would notice but once the smoke dissipated of its clean wispy form they were out walking the streets in their bears." The nun who is roughly about 40 smiled although her body looked like she was about 20 years old. "And then a young girl when watching the two Queens after covered in their glistening sweat for two days ago they delivered their young walking out onto the street the guards nervously did not wish to argue it's a little girl said why are the queens naked?" "Everyone gasped and worried and freed that the Queens would be cruel and mean. But almost as if birthing gave them new lease on their minds or was it the fabric that never existed that changed their souls. The two Queens looked at each other with smiling glee giving a small kiss and turned and said." As the two oldest a redheaded girl human and a 9 tailed fox smiled to each other and said. "When Queens feel comfortable to be around their subjects with no need to fear with armor and glee why should we worry we are loved by everything."

"And from that day on it was A royal decree from the royal family that as long as the kingdom is in happiness and safety the queen will walk without a single shed of clothing no armor no protection of as long as they feel safe and comfortable as well as the kingdom will feel safe and comfortable as well. No one knows what ever happened to the mysterious ranger her pale white skin and her single purple stripe within her hair and the smell of death over her body."

Ten years later. Waking up in the big huge bed right next to a gelatinous green with dark black well actually more closely to very blood it crimson girl as they stretched and groaned. Sammy now all grown up Sporting her own pairs of double D's her golden skin flame and her hair with only small red tips to make it look less bizarre her horns blending in with her skin glistening and sweat and her 'honey' The seeing inside her translucent partner her massive Cock, The 11 inches going so close up the throat was unreal and being as thick and chunky as 5 her partner in the bed was Maya now known as a glowing green jelly formally a human smiling with her Stretchy. As she removed herself slipping and sliding back out. 13 inches long and still spewing out gel with its thickness of being only 4 inches. Both jiggled their rears and their junks reaching the size of basketballs both sets as they giggled stretching.

“Good morning I'll go wake up the other two there's sleeping across!” Remarked Maya as she went straight towards the adjoining door that was connecting the two rooms.

Meanwhile Kathy J Elijah Tosses her Short purplish hair, Her eyes showing the glint of darkness and shadow the fact that she'd taken the path of light shows that she is battling against her natural element of inclimate She's gone up a few cup sizes since last now being double F's her belly is not showing but time has changed she is debating if she doesn't have much time to debate unlike her friends who have all done their discardments but she is of the cloth which makes it harder times but since no one's paid for it she might have to talk it up with the sister. As she hears the knock on door turning to see her partner in bed Mist. “Wake up.”

Mist the dragonic elf also known as Kilsy Now with spiky leaking H's making the beds soaked with water. Still climbing up from her bed and sighed naked in flush readjusting her massive 13 long and three inches thick Dick, Balls Still making her belly look like it's not unmatched by the size of her rear she still has a bit of a gut from her last wish not really burning off that much it's been about a week or two since everything's been changed up more investigations more things have been playing as she climbs out of the bed turning with her dragonic eyes of light blue matching her coat and obviously her element, She wondered a little looking at the bottle and then carefully moving torch the door opening trivial Maya.

“We should head into town and figure out all of our missions Zach is already there.”

Standing over in the docks, Zach wearing now a disguise that helped with investigations. Her once long flowing red hair that formed into her ridiculously huge cloakish cape with the small streaks of blue that she added from her friend's scales was now a short brown bowl Haircut with a Mixture of both blue and red dress covering her ample bosom wrapped around her waist was her 'belt'[17-2] looped with a variety of objects to sell, Thankfully it was much longer or else it wouldn't be able to handle a bit of her belly that she still had from building up the storehouses. Swinging her H's and bouncing with smiles. As a series of City guards watching over the area and they very familiar lawyer investigating well familiar to Zach not to the crew. As a guard was sent flying.

“Matt Locke,How is it the case treating you?” Mattline [Matt] Locke, A human She was your standard E Cup her, tits about burst out from her top, Button and reddit. Smiling with a bit of a devious grin she said the big bulge in her pants on her right side was her swollen Cock,16-2The tip pulsating out from her pant leg. {Lawyer occupation Daggerheart job class: Witch.} “Doing pretty good and you've looked like you've burst a couple of times, since the last time I saw yo?”Both had the same background of society being born in the slums and all. “Well the new home has a couple of wrinkles in it a room that makes me pump out a wild boar that's still alive and we have to kill.”Matt gave a bit of a side eye on that information. “Interesting I guess I should double check on the curses and the houses.”

Two of the captain guards were standing flaked. “Don't worry about Zach here she's a good acquaintance of mine.” As they were investigating one of the buildings things in the shopping area and near the docks. “The rest of my party will be coming by shortly. Well maybe you can clue me in on what's going on exactly.” Looking over to see a dead body, curled and crumpled several swords slashes. Several of the guards looked a little bit exhausted. “Well the store owner turned into one of the undead last night thankfully I was on hand with two guards few hex bolts and a decent set of swings laid the prairie beast down. Trying to figure out how did the person become undead.”

Zach gave a slight nod, Miste {Using the custom subclass of wizard and as the school of runes} Sammy [Infernus/ogre] Flexing her muscles and pulsating her melons, [Testing out the brawler from the void section] Kathy [Human, Seraph], & Maya [Custom race gell, Guardian] Coming over to investigate Matt was slightly curious how they showed up from where they showed up from because that was more closer to the water? Also their bodies looked quite wet as their clothing was practically see through if they weren't wearing any clothes at all exposing their junk and melons all over the place the clacking of their balls. “Right well while we're investigating the area we're only having a few shops being forced to closed due to the heavy Investment in also the fact that the princess is coming very shortly.”

Matt said quickly grabbing her leg that has been concealing her swollen 'blade' To make sure it stays nice and sheaved. “Oh that's right her majesty will be coming around shortly in the couple of days and you want us to clean this mess before it gets bad huh.” responded Maya. “Yes if she shows up and the town is overrun with the undead things are not gonna go well, I mean it's bad enough that she's right now going to get a tournament set up for selecting who's gonna be her bodyguards for the tower run, the only time she's allowed to wear armor.” Miste was slightly grumpy that she was not getting ready to sign up for this tournament. Placing her arms underneath her bosom lifting them.

“Exactly, Matter of fact last night, I was doing shopping for some of the prizes for completing the first round. “Remarked Matt as she flexed her chest as one of her buttons popped revealing a little bit more of her chest it's glistening rosy exterior. “So what do you want us to do exactly.” Kathy remarked her breasts slightly jiggling with her breath glistening with the milky sweat of her flowing utters. “Well, I convinced the store owners of each one of the shops to let a friend of mine watch over them. As a handsome contribution. You'll be filling in as merchants for the following shops.”

“Gra's Apothecary, Known for selling the finest potions even once in a while some fine brooms to ride on.” Matt gesturing to one of the buildings, “Val's Trading Post, The best weaponstore we got Charlotte's weave, Known for a fantastic outfits & Darkbane's Wands and books.” Each hand moving around to the buildings in question. “Also, I have a spare guards uniform if one of you wants to pretend to be out on patrol all the others are Manning the stores. So which stores are you going to take?”

Symu's Took over the trading post. Maya, Took over Charlotte's weave Making her slimy body more fleshless than usual crafting address out of the body and making her chest look even bigger than usual which is a challenge considering health huge it was already. Miste Covered the magic wands & books. As each one of them made their positions. Gra's Apothecary: Kathy Was covering, As it was filled with brims of potions and healing items.

Miste Was taking full advantage of her bookstore options of just sitting behind the counter her large Billing breasts, Easily overtaking the counter and positioning herself to sit almost undo her testicles as they were rubbing against the interior of the desk along with her massive and soon to be pulsating Cock! “Honestly I thought I was not going to do this by myself.”

Kathy Was it a similar position although she was now following the rules of the sign of the Potion shop as it was decorated with its variety of Potions, All customers and employees must be naked!With only their shopping bags of gold on their side hang your clothes on the racks just before you enter. Her nude naked breasts still glistening with the milk in her swollen tight nipples Lounging onto the desk slightly drenching it in milk. Again her sack rubbing against the interior of the desk along with her pulsating and hold field with rings darted across Dick!

Maya Major self look like a fashion designer still having a sheath to make sure her pulsating stiff rod of a blade was not going to smack into everything! Her jiggling slimy breasts jiggled, and bounce like the standard jello body she is. Rearranging several key dresses says with a bit of a smile and flare even suits of armor were being selected. And she heard that the familiar ring of the bell stopped and mutually walked over bouncing her bosom Butt, With its bubbly glint!

Symu's Market was covered with a variety of different sailors there's and sailors some were doing things that shouldn't be near food but it's not like she was going to stop them she was also trying to keep herself from getting long and hard everyone's chest was pulsating with rippling muscles and sweating with Glee trickling off the tips of their tips some were swollen in stiff and hard in other words were limping lagged dragging across the wooden dicks.

Miste's management:

As the customer walked into Misties situation, Miste was forced to mark a stress,She was trying to encourage the customer to come towards her,Causing more Of her slimy glinting breasts to glint even more as the scales upon her chest were shinier and shinier. Her top was already see through but now you could see the pulsating tips of her spiked hard jagged covered in nails of Nipples. The petty looking noble lady walked over glistening with her body she was of a standard humanoid descent smiling devious in nature. Her long dress gowns covered her waist making him possible to see how big and pulsating Cock,That she had to be sporting was underneath it.

Miste shrugged as she got up from the counter,Raising her jiggling melons just enough so that way they would knock over anything before plopping them back onto her chest down, As her stomach felt a little sore from her smacking herself with her own Tits. "How may, I help you madam?"Noticing a little bit of stench as the woman turned to her her face was slightly covered by a cloak. "Oh well it's still better than what, I was originally, expecting to run into today so I guess, I'll have to talk with you at least you have a decent set of melons." Said the woman with a brood tone as her face was covered in a strange black mold that Miste has seen before.

"I'm sure you're wealthy enough to have asked the cleric to look at that." Miste try not to sound too rude but figuring that this must be the reason why she came in here. "Well of course but half that temple is filled with no wait, I have to talk to you never mind." "Well I guess you don't want my help either to deal with your little problem." Squeezing her breasts to make them look slightly smaller actually. "Oh oh I'm sorry, I'm sorry, I'm sorry, I need some disinfecting holy water. Preferably of the golden hare?" Miste sighed as she knew that was coming. As she started looking around to see if there was any bottles of the particular holy water variety the answer was no,That said she was successful in finding some holy water well sort of. "Holy Cum of Asyn?" She said holding up the bottle filled with swirling moving glowing sperm. "I guess so." Giving her 70 gold. And the wealthy woman put it on immediately before leaving the store even the mold was instantly attacked and slowly being removed moved off her face there were still some left in the jar of course naturally. "Thank you, I may return for the rest for my village it's currently being ravaged by this unusual plague. Unless you do deliveries?"

Miste replied with a devilish grin “Possibly not of the same goddess but we do have a priest on our Payroll, Maybe she can come to the village maybe around next week if, we can start the journey do you think your village can handle it being that far in advance? Although you could pay up front and possibly make it sooner but the queen is coming, I would like to have seen it?” “And the race of the priest?” “Human.” The wealthy lady contributed Gave her another hundred gold closing the hands tightly. “OK prepare for the visit as soon as possible, I will be in town For the Queen's ceremony so you can visit me at the Snowy Orb Tavern and Inn. Miste smiled.

As the noble lady left with her bottle filled with sperm that was glowing and still breathing because of the Holy Magic and of course being very very fertile.

Maiden shopping:

Maya Finish sailing a beautiful wedding dress. As a short stout woman with bustling ripping and jiggling freely melons Ony[The Orcs of naturally noble descent] “You're not the usual lady with the multiple arms?” “She's given the day off for supply shopping.” She smiled hopefully. “Well that makes sense she has to always by greet fabrics for her wonderful designs even if she does use some from her own butcherious. After all you can't rely just on your own natural silks you have to use sometimes others there are furs and unique designs. Well since I can't have my usual spidery silky outfit maybe you can supply me with a unique one of your own i'm sure you're a bustling newer designer.” She said merely walking to the back wiggling her ASS and shaking it all out,Her nuts also tucked between her legs making it look like she had two of them.

Maya's side with relief and then realized she was going to have to fake it in order to make it further she quickly walked up to the sign of the door and flipped it and said working on tailoring before heading into the back with her customer. “Fuyi[PronounceFu-you} Amman is the name” Maya gives a slight nod as the two head back feeling very nervous. “So what are you in for exactly?” Fuyi “Well I'm giving new armor before, I get started on the tournament to determine if! I get to protect the princess or not.” She responded with glee. “Ohh you're some type of adventurer what type of outfit do you normally wear I mean what's your fighting style?” “Spellcaster, I don't want to give too much in case you might be in the tournament yourself but I highly doubt it.” She said with a flurries flirtatious tone as she flexed her booty.

“Oh yes well I know a couple of spellcasters you're so, I know do you like to keep your arms very free for casting purposes as well as 'other things'.Preferred element?” “Dirt.” Which showed that she had a unusually high muscle distance said the 1st one who was more clearly styled for books and spells. “Preferred position of your party or should I guess?” “Frontline.Aggressive.” “Do you have your weapon on you or is it built in like behind?” Gesturing to her blade inside a silver shave. “I wonder if your teammate also happens to sport a weapon as part of their body I've not that daring yet unless do you have a method of crafting one or two?” Squeezing her full And sloshing Tits. “No but I could suggest you to some one that might be able to pull that off later, right now a friend of mine is taking over the spell casting shop. In the meantime. I guess you, want me to leave your beautiful chest exposed?”

This spellcaster gave a slight nod. “Ok, let's start off with your measurements.” Girth 2 length 15in.Feeling a little small but at least smiling about her thickness of her blade. Then measuring out the waist 16. “I know, I can't use it as a belt.”She grumbled as her hips betrayed her as they were a little bit bigger notching them around 18 and if you squeeze them relax there about 21. Balls Registered as a Bcup, Which was the complete opposite to her chest G. “Any particular type of fabric?” “If you still have access to the silk, I would say the silk of course.” She goes over to the spider silk fabric, there was a large spool of it.

As she grabs the fabric wrapping around the waist going all the way up to where the chest line separates. “Straps no, straps and do you want a slit?” The Lady nodded and responded for a slit, would prefer straps. Lacing the fabric as stiff as possible before cutting getting into position and uncheving her blade with a quick strike before sliding it back in as she slipped right back to her positions. “ “I think you nicked me.” She responded cradling her now slightly bleeding lower half quickly giving this dirt off and removing the stain. “Sorry! I didn't realize, I was going to do that much damage, I was trying not to actually hit you physically.” Quickly using her bandit know how to help improve her bandit skills. “A good night's rest might help you help later or a healing potion or two.” Using the two pieces of fabrics you manage to cut and just place them on top of the shoulders to sketch markers.

After a little bit more work. Fuyi, Walks over to the mirror and takes a look mirrors were extremely expensive, if they weren't magically created! Most often or not you would have to judge someone else's work, by asking your friends and allies to come with you. “Okay but I will take off a little bit of the price tag for the fact that you nearly, {Gritted teeth} Stabbed me to death.” Just as the customer left and she quickly pocketed some of the excess silk and the customer replied “Be sure to take the hell of your pay.” Maya slightly grumbled she knows how to take down bandits not really how to steal like one that's Ok Zach style.

[Bustling marketplace Management ]

Symu & Zach, We're covering them bustling marketplace that was the trading post. Here instead of selling it to the shops you were selling it yourself mystical items you either created and created yourself or found in the dungeon crafted by one of the Great Wizards. Things that you slayed from beasts or crafted again from your own styles. Usually a collection of blacksmiths were around the area hawking and selling their custom weapons. Symu Was forced to walk back and forth across several bars, Zach had the nice opportunity to watch from the rooftops the day was getting slowly darker now it was mid dusk.

Symu Was forced to interfere with a argument between an adventurer selling their wares And one of the worshippers of the Wizards of the towers. The adventurer head dear like antlers a humanoid top part and the bottom was legs of a lion. Nekinx[Faun] [Difficulty: 12:] Meanwhile the worshiper was of a human. “Excuse me I believe, I should have This speaking orb for 30, Since you don't have its partner.” Symu, Try to resolve the price in favor of the adventure, A minor fact but it felt on delft ears. “With the bright spells you can make any Speaking or contact with any other speaking orb.” Wizard worshiper “ Look the wisdom of the matrix are important to be clear and precise. After all only the divine Knight can truly master the skills of sorcery.” “Hey my familiar's can even learn how to cry another orb and they're literally figments of my imagination.” Replied the strange creature during adventure gesturing to a floating beetle next to her holding several of There wares.

“And I say 50 gold is too much for 1 orb when I know for a fact that you might have the other one and be able to listen in on any of my conversations?” With Mystic symbols surrounding Surrounding her hands. Symu Grab one of the arms and stop the ritual. “If you're going to start a fight over price tag then you're going to have to fight me not the person who's selling things remember those that the rules of the trading post the head merchant is only allowed to fight for low in grades.” Flexing her muscles and just doing a tight drip With the sound of Cracking bone! “Fine then.” As her other hand turned into a demonic wolf head and slashed across the chest miss biting the left Tit! Before leaping backwards into position her arms and legs becoming bigger and more forceful and covered in a strange dark black spore! “Evacuate the area!” With webbing now lashing around the creature jer as a ball of web shot from Zach's BOOBS! The arms and legs were bound just as the sorcerer was in mid transformation which revealed that was one of the shifting classes possibly a witch maybe a druid?

“Everyone get back to business we will take care of this.” Symu Said wrapping her chest a little bit,As the crowd dispersed there's giving some space but returning back to their usual sailing. As a razor sharp bird claw slashed through the webbing nearly striking Zach but only slashing a little bit of her fabric the giant bird like wings build out as the creature flew off away still covered in spores. “Well at least we got some clues.” Collecting several of the infected webbing. Mold was a sign of a dark usage of a god meanwhile Clear slime was a sign of good usage!

Zombie brawl in the Apothecary:

Kathy Was now looking over several of the formulas she did her fair share of sales,And already put most of the cash back inside the drawers she didn't pocket any of it unlike her teammates. When all of a sudden crashing out through the doorway was a mold covered or humanoid the black mold was crawling over their body flashbacks. Flashes of battling her possessed mother sparked her flames as she reacted flavorically with the creature swinging her Ring covered Dick For a quick attack! Lashing around one of the legs she hopes and bringing in the creature closer. “Blessings of the Lord Divine my ax make sure it strikes with all its might!”The creature slammed its fist right into her arm and as she raised her ax to slash into its body! Cutting off the arm in question!

“ggjyggjybj!” Garbled the creature it's body coated in the molded flesh Raising her ax once again it coated in its holy aura but it's slightly dimmed compared to the massive holy ore who is once charged up with As the ax sliced right down the middle cutting the creature into two separate pieces. “OK done wow they didn't expect it to go there fast and I'm not even hurt.” She noted looking at her arm that was taking the blow although the fabric along her robes were severely torn. “Hopefully Charlotte will be in ToMorrow and I can have her stitch it up?” After that there was nothing remarkable going on throughout the night.

MaTTie showed up,With her usual party ye have investigators The tree girl was the one who was checking the area with more unusual energies. Showing off her plank of 'wood' a lot more clearly. “The zombie was the same one that Zach and her partying encountered the mold is the same. It seems after fleeing the creature completely zombified maybe that's why they were so eager to get the orbs cheaply, I'm not exactly sure though?”

Miste turned to Matt. “Well I'm going to investigate a lead on possibly some of this problem by talking to a lordship later on today so do you think you can have your party fill in for managing the stores? Unless some of yours are in the tournament as well?” Matt shook her head. “You can take one of your party members with you on covering this lead at the moment I'm not risking the whole group. But I will take over the Magic shop how about that and Hornbeam,We'll take over the other one.” The tree turned with amazing speed all of a sudden the glowing red eyes and anger. “ Look horn you're the only one who showed up out of the group, I called for the whole team and you're the only one.” Hornbeam formed her giant fist and then raised one of her small branches in between it's in a direction that obviously showed signs of insult.

Hotel negotiations

Snowy Orb Tavern and Inn, During the early mornings. The same wealthy lady instantly spotted and recognized Miste, Who was flocked with Kathy it was rise to bring already the healing maiden with her one to already reassure that they had a humanoid priest and two in case things didn't go well. Showing off her F size Cup size more clearly now the maiden revealing her striking red mane of hair quickly grabbed the two and took them upstairs. Surprisingly she was very strong.

“Prisca Peddle, Of Pebbleton Village we're known for our unique 'honey' elixirs, & Elemental mining.” She said placing them into two chairs in her slightly small rented room. “This must be your human cleric.” Kathy gave a slight nod. “Tell us about Pebbleton?” Miste inquiring. Prisca: “Well we're mining town I guess stated we live high in the mountains we once in a while go hunting for a highly powerful Elemental bees collect the honey you know the usual stuff.” Kathy stepped in and asked a slightly different question. “What makes you think your village is possessed by evil spirits or evil god exactly?” She looked back and forth Making sure that no one else was listening. “Well a variety of mold has started showing up in the village some of us who do not go into the woods get hit with the black ones meanwhile the ones that go into the woods in the forest start getting green mold on their bodies if they return it is if not they are claimed by the woods. By the way thank you for that holy Sperm that said I has not finished applying it to everywhere yet.” She said slightly blushing.

Kathy turned to Miste and Miste responded”I'm surprised that a bookshop has it too then again certain spelled books do require holy ink ingredients to be made and that is a good starting base.” Kathy sighed and responded. “Did you come here alone or did you bring a venturing party?” “yes, I had three escorts with me. And all of us were infected it's strange Zaela Hasn't come back yet she was supposed to get some orbs last time I checked.” Kathy raised the eyebrow and responded. “Basic description please?” “Hmm let's see she has a similar cup size to me, She was wearing a green robe uh she's A druid,Blue eyes blonde hair, Fuck Above ASS. Why do you need this description?” “Because I slayed her last night and she was completely undead.” Kathy responded slightly nervously. Prisca didn't believe, her so with a little bit of convincing they took her to the crime scene.

“ Zaela!” Prisca Responded as she saw the body even with the holy purifications doing some decent cleansing she could tell it was her friend luckily the other two Human party members had shown up. Them too suffering from the mold Runhild Klein a Wizard & Pilow Ironword A Magic Knight. We're getting quickly treated. As the other two were being cleansed with holy water by higher level priestesses with much more arguing. “Do you think your village can handle you being away for so long?” Remarked Maya as the group we're now back to being in their separate stations and it's the original owners returning to their positions.

“Tyson, Tyson Genovefa,Is the one who's currently treating most of the village right now she can handle a good chunk of the Magic around it be at least a stall she's got several apprentices under her 'wings source beak'.Remarked Pilow,As several of her spores were being wiped away by eh mermaid her feathery scales was along her legs in her large blooming arms that don't work as actual flight wings but still look like wings. “G.G.Is also covering the forest she's a good ranger drove the area although you could almost pretend she's a Druid at times with how much she doubles them healing.” exclaimed RunHild{Run-Hilda]

Matt gave a slight nod. “I'll send for a messenger bat since I think that's the reason why you were so eager to get your hands on the orbs and maybe purchase one of the orbs as well. To keep track with your village did you bring anyone else that was possibly infected?” They shook their heads. “Okay we'll double check the body and see if that was more of a bare attack than a werewolf attack otherwise I'm more suspicious so I'm going to have someone tell you girls until you leave since this party has chosen to do that they will be your detail watch.” Maya's party started to grumble but understood at least they were getting paid for this mission of watching the remaining three fine lordships. Splitting into teams of two for each one. Maya revealed her cover story a little bit explaining to one of them that she just recently reincarnated into a Slime. So she was placed on the same detail with Pilow.

Finally getting themselves a short rest before splitting up into their groups for finishing some minor shopping and getting ready to attend the opening ceremonies of the second round of the tournament's calibrations the first round of the tournament was a renounced and had the queen standing about introducing the contestants the queen and her glorious naked body, well to be exact princess she still hasn't been married yet. With finishing off explaining the rules for the next round of the tournament with her big boosty breasts jiggling freely and the podium covering her lower half. “Jade beetles VS Silver Frogs, The amethyst blade versus The Red Aslans, Yellow Eagles versus The magenta hamsters, & Shimmerskulls VS Black Phoenix” Revealing the party's names of the groups each one of them you could see of Max 6 Party members some though were smaller!

Maya "Fuyi Good luck!" She said to the magenta hamsters there's party as the groups were getting placed into their separate little arena boxes the magenta hamsters were a party of four. Fuyi Ory [Orc] spellcaster, Earth Bender, Oritara stonefist Nekinx [Faun]: Deck runner, Anna darkshout, Dwarf: Magic Knight: & Dorshy Warbarb Mermaids: Deck runner: VS
Knohwip Bloodbreeze: a We [Minotaur]: Oracle [Arcane/Splendor], Sami Keats a Nekinx [Faun]: Druid.
Bonryn juvunzath A mermaid martial artist, Treeleave A Dryad Guardian & Beath fargust A Sadian Warlock.

Fuyi Manipulates her hands it's to her side and pulls out two giant stone great swords The rival bird slash mermaid jumped in front to block the attack as you can hear the loud crack of bones. "Bonryn!" Remarks Beath A humanoid monkey like creature complaint with a tail wrapped around for a waist and hairy body if it wasn't for her skirt and the fact that it's a tail you would swear she was wrapping around the other part. The monkey warlock quickly did a powerful turn swirling around a ball of green energy before throwing it like a cannon launching from her right arm!

Meanwhile their rival mermaid the deck runner lost one of her familiars here's in her shady actions as a shadowy streak appeared and she swam into it like a diving board to raise her sharp daggers popping out of the shadow right underneath bloodbreeze, Her bestial oxhorns and yet spiky covered body the lashing of her tail as she spelt the spike slashing to her back she turned swirling her cards around her left arm forming a scorpion stinger as a close range blast of holy energy unleashed point blank knocking the mermaid back in sending her slamming into the counter wall of the arena the crowd owed in the grinch of pain.

"She's of a Delphi!" Shalled the other deck runner the shifty looking Tara Stonefist, Streaking out from her dear antlers were her two familiar squirrels charging up Mystic runes of their own okay! The Acorn barrage of mysterious missiles were completely ineffective! But Anna darkstout, Drop down her shield and pulled out her battle ax from her back! Charging, Through the barrage of mystical energy ! Just as the axl played midst the deer like elf her hooves jumping backwards the countering Tree with her Okie leaves and huge giant bark of red oak slam through forming into a bow ax slicing through that armor nor with a crowd crunch another rising cheer of the crowd swirling in the bow!

Sami Landed back into position, Just barely avoiding being hit with another barrage of missiles so acorns quickly using her animals shifting powers there's to turn into a large primal cat! She decided to target the prone deck runner fish leaping towards the wall and scratching across the arena just barely avoiding the fish! Diving into her shadow while trying to at least use aspiring attack but missed before popping back into another location. "Curses!" Not noticing she popped up right next to the mermaid martial artist of the rival team who turned an allowed popping noise could be heard the crowd owed. Zach looked a little bit sad after all this was the same one who was selling the orb Luckily she was only knocked unconscious although you might rethink that possibility if it wasn't for the fact that skin showed she was still breathing.

"Dorr-shy!" Fuyi Shouted as her two swinging blades were tossed into the field, Just as the ground start to turn into large melted spikes luckily it didn't hit any one and forced the opposing team to have a hard time trying to figure out the battlefield again! Oritara stonefist With making sure her familiar state on her antlers charging for the rival deer elf! Sami Keats, Was staring a barrel of acorns that turned into mystical trees of power as she was hit full force her clothing blasting apart or what was left of them as she was blasted out of her beast form of a tiger stick firecat! That is a hole was in the arena wall a whistle was blown ring out was the mystical auras of words placed into the sky.

Knohwip With her demonic bull like exterior, The crack of her pointy tail as the card swirled around her right hand As the step where dwarf mystically jumped in front of it taking the blow, But her shield was called back just in time to make it very minor she turned her shield towards the Oracle as it started the charge. "FU--" Before she could finish her response as a barrage of missiles blasted into her chest of ice unlike her deck runners she didn't spring for the missile barrage spell she sprung for the ice spell hooked remark in her starter roster ew, as the ice daggers were lodged into her chest! A hex bolt blasted into the back of the dwarf she turned wielding her ax leaving her shield pointed directly at the Oracle, the tree guardian getting ready to jump in front! And...

"Look Mommy, I got a souvenir it's a arm!" Responded the kid in the audience as the mother was horrified to see Golden Sap covering her daughter's face as she was holding the bleeding arm of the Tree monster as her arm was lumped clearly off in the swing her armor completely shattered if she had enough clutching the stump of her wooden limb! The Oracle quickly running over to quickly mend over the scar not realizing she just triggered the Shields spell again! "I can handle a few ice Shoooo!" As a blazing flamethrower of a fireball shot out and struck both units and was a scorcher scenario... The monkey raised her hands and said. "I surrender!" Quickly pulling out her spells it's too at least salvage her teammates they weren't dead thanks to her magics but it came pretty darn close according to the rules she had to bolt her healing spells to not being utilized of the resurrection types so she was going to be drained afterwards anyhow "who!"

Several of the error matches had concluded and they were going to break for the next set of tournaments later the next tournament round was going to be a question with the princess themselves and she was scored the champions to determine which one would go with her in the tower these would be mock quests inside the arena still but it would take several days for them to line up. The remaining champions to line up for this questing tournament.

Princess Lorin Usna A human would still her striking red hair, "Jade beetles, The Red Aslans, The Magenta hamsters, & Black Phoenix!" Giving medals to several of the groups, Surprisingly the black thingy sizes got the best roster of not surprised come back that was held by the Aslins Although it was surprisingly close for both of them luckily they were given few weeks because their teams were practically destimated only one teammate was left standing on both of them! As the princess walked over to a small box and started pulling out the Particular quests that the arena was going to imitate!

"And the first quest to end the first one to simulate it?" Pulling out a quest from the quest board with the Very vague details. "My neighbor's house has just recently indeed out she was previously murdered and we don't know what caused it we still hear terrifying screams in the howls we believe it's still haunted by her ghost can you please exterminate it so that way, I can have new neighbors? And since this would be probably really good for a urification team that currently hasn't been normally functionalized this seems good for the Red Aslan so you have to have a week to prepare and replace your last cleric because they're currently did she spring for being intermittent or not?" Responded the queen turning to the sole remaining member and slightly saddening, She's gonna have to recruit harsh!

Cut to next scene!

"What do you mean all the wagons have been booked?" Prisca complained To the carriage seeker. "Look a lot of other foreign dignitaries booked their carriages in advance to go back after the tournament I'm sorry you should have planned an advance and assumed that this was going to be a round trip. But hey you could stay like some of the other ones who are determined to have meetings with the Queen, she's going to be here for at least two more weeks if she doesn't have to schedule another week recovery time for the next team.” She slammed her fist reluctantly she would have to take at least a good trip through the forest and maybe make it to the next town.

“Don't worry if we're really good on the pacing we might be able to avoid having a challenge if you can path and cut down a good 10 weeks journey to the next town from maybe 5?” Remarked Maya really wishing that she could sneak off a wish or two but it would be way too noticeable! As it was they were going to have to leave the ball behind at least it's way too risky to bring it with them! who knows what's causing the village to be infested with it could be a dark god or angry plague dragon or something.

“Fine I guess we'll have to go through the forest a couple of times, I wish there was some proper roads we can navigate through easily but the cart roads are securely kept by fences.” Run Responded with a bit of a grumble. Zach signaled for a quick huddle. “OK, we can't use 'the you know what' But Katie wasn't your mother a well known author, shouldn't she have at least maybe a wagon?” “Yessss? It's back at the house I think.” Miste turned to the group, That hired them and asked him a simple question. “Ok it's going to take a lot of energy for me to teleport all of you to our cabin in the woods or would you like to take one day's journey and then assess the state of our wagon that we do have to use that one instead. Because we haven't taken a look at our wagon yet and I don't know if I need to fix it or not and I can only tell port to our cabin right now it's kind of working on a circle system.”

“We'll contribute our Mystical energies for your teleportation circle and rest at your cabin instead. Also I thought you were a wizard not a sorcerer like myself to have something that powerful.” Prisca Remarked successfully beating the persuasion check. “I'm a Study of ancient languages and runes so I know my magics besides that house was owned by a wealthy author so it has its own teleportation circle, I could just study it hence why we are limited also, I think that quest was referring to our house, we need to really cut down on our moaning?” Kathy shook her head No neighbors near her mother's house for a variety of reasons so it's probably not that case. As the group headed towards the church to Kathy's quarters in the church being utilized as the other teportation circle marked for the watery bed.

As they arrived at the cabin, Miste white With Mystic Energy drained from her body as they were standing in the mystical matriarch of the building. “I'll Fix us meals, You're just going to have to deal with the slumliness.” Remarked Maya trying to make sure we get as little information done of their cabin as possible which means Zach is not allowed to cook! Kate quickly went off to investigate the garden. No wonder it was a pain in the D**k to realize that it was there! What was left of the wagon was turned into a planter the wheels were completely gone, there was no roof! And the posts that work meant to pull had rotted so much that you might as well say no. All there were signs to say this was actually originally a wagon was the little pieces of wood that attached the wheels and this metal square box frame because a good wagon was made out of metal if you were extremely wealthy if you were poor it was all wood which means it would be gone in days, Compared to the conditions it was left in.

She returned to the group sitting at the table with everybody else getting ready to eat dinner taking the time to also take a quick look at her armor and patch it up a little bit.” Well the wagon is completely in no shape to perform today.” Pilow “Is there any chance of fixing it?” “It's basically a greenhouse frame minus the cost of possibly buying windows and that's even more expensive so I was honestly not surprised that it was just a glorified box that's just opened."Kate already slightly twinging. Run "Can I see how much damage it would take for me to negotiate repairs, we do have a decent sum of money?" Before anyone else could put their foot down kate did. "After Dinner and Miste needs to rest! So if you want to repair it, we're going to have to do it here and also there are no horses there is no annual seeds that we have on our roster so either. A we're going to have to capture animal and pray that we can tame it, or B we just go ahead and start our long walk in the woods? Either answer is in the morning, we have a head start from the Cabinet at least if we take the run for the woods?"

The three wealthy hires snuck out during the middle of the night to look at where they perceived the wagon was they managed to do it without alerting. Each one then assessed the damage it was going to take a lot of work and effort, All three of them reluctantly sighed it was making perfect sense. "Even if, I did shape earthly walls it wouldn't be that helpful. I could make the tires but that's about it and even then that would take at least two or three days that! We would be adding to our journey not taking off."Explain Run and then she was given. "SSSH"By her remaining colleagues she nodded it and continued the conversation until pathetic tones.

End of chapter.
