

Drunken Wish power 1:Towering treasures

Warning: Generic fantasy world, futainari, MEGATITES, Girl on girl action and altering wishes.

Maya Lore: Is a warrior short hair[Turquoise][Cut similar to Clover from Total spies] slightly roundish around the torso small B cups, 5.4 Human. Current load-out heavy mail, And the standard iron sword.
Miste Vomardriv: Is Water-mage, Bright blue hair with a long flowing ponytail on her left side it goes all the way down to her Scale covered legs, her scale's green skin being only picked out by her thin silk blue fabric that barely reveals the fact that she has huge double D Utters, With her naturally huge spikes, With golden rings latched on to them. 6.2 Kilsy[The Draco elf race] Sporting a bit of an hourglass shape wondering how she doesn't break her spine.

Symu {Sam} Mervyn: Fire-mage Short blonde with red streaks call that half Ony[Basically half Orc only with more colors] Also rocking the double D's, Wearing dark blues and bright reds to correlate with her yellow skin if it wasn't for the red streaks in her hair you would think her head was misshapened And also still towering over her warrior bodyguard and a whopping 7 foot tall with a body that makes it look like she's a giant penis, If her melons were considered the testicles!

They're on and off friendly teammate currently not on is another human Zachary Thundermoore, Known as Zach by shorts The only male in the group, A warrior fighting style but actually a rogue, Skilled at disarming traps and stealing from treasure chests that are especially booty trapped redhead and makes many girls blush with how long and flowing it is Often wearing cloak cloth armor with leather stitching. Although Miste doesn't like it when he walks around in the armor, Considering that his recent armor upgrade has been using a couple of her own shed-dings

Zach was waving off to them after joining a different party he too scout out the dungeon as usual Crown Peak Park, What's the name of their small village town that they lived in with Crow Tower being the dungeon near by. To keep the economy going the local ruler currently the princess has to send in several priests into the towers, And make deals with certain subjects to rejuvenate the towers treasuries. Known as the eight tower lords in each kingdom very rarely do people see the tower lords and when you take part in when they're dungeons you forfeit your life if you die and become either one of the Tower Lord's servants or they will set for your soul, but it's lucrative and good business.

Maya: "Okay so we're sticking to the first three floors today." She said grabbing her sword and a couple of bottles was stored for collecting the slimes monster Goo sells extremely well especially slimes good for making healing potions, And other chemical concoctions like flasks of acid and ET cetera. Symu gave a slight nod, Meanwhile Miste getting up from her seat again both of them towering over her. "I'm so glad we have our small strong valiant warrior on our side." She let a bit of a rumble she really was jealous over the big huge gorgeous melon that she wanted to smother herself with!

As the girls stepped to their usual routines walking over towards the dungeon Miste being proficient in water magic was doubling as the healer as usual, Also she had to step up and do the neutralization spells while still keeping the acid technically function-able she had to neutralize it a little bit so that way you can actually be stored inside the glass containers and leather sacks and also so that way they can dip their hands into it without basically dissolving them. Well Miste's race can actually withstand pretty decently on acid damage with the exception of prolong exposure.

As they were knocking into the first floor taking down a couple of silver jellies, Followed by some glowing Puddings. They came across a very strange treasure chest though couple of them were wondering should they have gotten Zach just to help them out with some of these high tier treasure chests? The treasure chest was dark blue with silver plating in on its metal brims but the bolts were covered in gorgeous gemstones the chest itself looked like it was worth at least 100,000Gyms[Platinum pieces for D&D]

“Okay should we crack open the chest ourselves or should we just take the whole treasure chest?” Symu Remarked noting for well that she was not strong enough to lift the chest, Granted she was technically the weakest of the member of the team even if her race was built towards strength normally as she was a outlier. Maya gave a bit of a smile and said. “OK the one who opens up the chest gets what's inside, Since we don't have our standard beef to help us out how about sword, axes and lances to determine who goes first?” The three gave a big nod and threw hands Maya went first!

“Dang it I knew I should have picked Lance.” Remarked Mist as Maya put her sword tip into the lock mechanism. With a slight jostling the treasure chest opened revealing a gorgeous empty bottle it was covered in nice gorgeous gemstones correction they were just glass colored glass but glass nonetheless with its different glass panels does it seem to look pretty nice but otherwise doll at best maybe 3 copper if you were just selling it as a regular bottle if you were selling it as a piece of art you could get a couple of silver. “Okay well that's little..” The treasure chest vanished which meant that it was definitely a tower chest sometimes people put treasure chest here for storage of their old items other times it's a tower chest which means it disappears the moment you open it and it will reappear the next day with new loot and items.

Given a bit of a smile as they head up to the next floor failing to notice one of the most devious traps ever devised at least that is not part of the dungeon trap list but actually the deviousness of explorers a shortcut panel normally you can't use one of these unless you're one of the explorers that places them but sometimes they leave them active because some are lazy as they warp from the second floor to the 20th floor, Without noticing beyond a quick flash of light.

“Okay everybody can see now?” Maya Remarked grabbing her sword They gave a slight nod every tower was about 30 floors, At least from the outside looking but some people have said that they've gotten up to the 40th floor before having to come back down and lost a good chunk of their party and these were gold rank adventurers her and her party are for all that the purposes bronze! barely even qualifying to get close to silver rank, Zachary was actually the closest to getting up to being silver and that's just because every time he did the exam he hesitated on dealing the lethal blow on certain people even though there were clerics nearby that could actually resurrect some of the lower tiers.

Ochre Mosses were lining the area, And then they saw it “Aren't we supposed to be only on the second floor.” Remarked Symu Quickly pulling Up her staff and priming a fireball. “Yeah, I think we were supposed to be there but I think we're not. Good thing you're a fire user we didn't bring any silver.” Maya Remarked as jumping down from the ceiling was a large vampire her breast jiggled and bounced freely her belly was huge the rumors were true she had feast upon many of heroes and champions that were foolish enough to reach the 30th floor her large bat like wings razor sharp teeth palish skin and long flowing black hair she screeched. The girls started running down the hallway firing fireballs behind them well actually it was just Symu.

Maya Was using her sword to slash away the slimes was of Moss their glowing greenness and then there was the blood red slime slowly appearing afterwards slashing with her sword again and again and again, Then were gargoyles quickly Mist fired her water spells, Not all that strong barely even cut cold or chilly but at least they were doing some decent damage they managed to get to the 29th floor to get away barely.

“FUCk!” They all shouted shutting the door and being in front of a slightly higher ranked party who pushed them out of the way. “Yeah and I hope she feasts on all of you!” Symu Shouted grumbly. As their belly started to give a growl they were not prepped for actually spending a couple nights in the tower the whole reason why they were only going to stick to three floors was so that way they could leave go to the in eat and rest now they're stuck with no food no water well aside from their mage and barely any supplies. “Let's go find a restroom and relax for a little bit, I guess we're just going to have to eat slime for a while.” Maya Remarked as she started looking for when the signature rooms that some adventures make known as a restroom free of monsters and pretty good coordinated.

After barely avoiding some ghouls, They found one of the resting rooms. Sadly there was only a storage chest nothing inside! Which meant they were very grumbly. Maya Selected a couple of the slime bottles the glowing green slime, Some electric slime, And the splash of the red slime she got on her shoulder for from slashing a while back and put it into, Her shiny colorful bottle. “Make a fire, I need to boil the stuff a little bit.” A place did have a section for a campfire and they did have at least some cooking supplies nothing meant for them to actually normally eat. Grabbing some of the other jars and mixing them and stirring them up to make at least some decent drinks to hold them over farther the night.

As they were drinking the slimes, Maya Turn to Miste. “ I Wish, I could FUCK YOU! Long and hard!” She said grabbing onto the Spikes. Both the bottle and privates began to glow. Piss Started to grow longer and longer and thicker, Letting out a huge moan. Both girls were looking in awe! Why did stop growing it was about the a foot long and 4 inches thick. “Uh what just happened?” They remarked as some growling came from the sides of the walls. “ Misty, Get your ice ready.” Responded in Maya with a massive Gretchen, As for Cock Was smacking her in the face. Symu Crafted some fire, And said. “I Wish, we were sitting in a tavern room right now.” The bottle glowed once again and a teleportation circle was crafted in the middle of the room engulfing all three girls and then they arrived in the tavern room that they usually have.

“What, Did we find some like magic lamp or something?” Remarked Miste now turning off her eyes these claws that she was generating from her hands.” Maya Still had a bit of a hungry look on her eyes. “Okay, but before we get started, I'm going to make a slight test run!” Grabbing the bottle “II wish to know what's happening?” Her eyes began to glow, along with the bottle. She shouted “That's enough.” As it finally stopped her eyes stopped glowing. “Okay, I think I'm good for recession or two?” As she pushed Maya Onto the bed, Spreading her legs and shoving the penis into her vagina as the two let out a loud moan thrusting and pumping her face rubbing deep into the breasts. Carefully avoiding the sharp spikes thankfully there are only two that were replacing her nips.

“Man, I wish I could join you too, OK that's not working so that means we only get one wish right now.” Symu Said staring at the bottle as well as her own nether regions nothing happened no glow no nothing shh. As she watched her two party members FUCCCCCKKKKK! Miste's belly growing a little bit, But the thrusting in the fort pushing, The bed pounding and shaking some light knocking on the door. Symu Open the door to the maid watching in the corner Miste and Maya, Laying on each other unable to see the junk from the angle. “We, could use some, meat and ribs? Maybe some light vegetables?” As the maid gave a slight nod. Just the door closing the two switched into different positions. Maya Was shoving into the back!

The next morning. Maya's Dick Still hasn't gotten soft, And Miste was starting to rub her belly a little bit more worrisome. Using her new glowing eye ability for a split second and everything was okay for now.

“So spill uh what does the item do?” Symu Remarks sitting on the other bed they had a Some of the leftovers for breakfast. “Well it seems the potion bottle, Turns any elixir into a onetime wish, For whoever drinks the liquid from the bottle and remember we were passing it around last night it only gives you one wish though per drink if you don't make another wish before your Next drink it only counts to the power of your wish. And you get more control over your wish based on it and so the worst wording you have it's okay, in some regards it still requires you to at least have some understanding of wording structure? Also yes uh it still contains the same effect, Of your usual elixirs.”

“Okay then?” Maya Walked over to the elixir bottle, Which only had basically one sip left at the moment And then killed. “ I wish for Monster TITLES!” At least trying to get rid of her breast envy. The bottle glowed as did her chest, Slowly growing they were getting bigger and they were staying very much green and as they were getting bigger they were also getting harder and harder to not see a little bit through like murky liquid once they reached down to her hips leaking from her nips we're tiny droplets of green goop her chest was still slightly glowing but it looked like it stopped. “Yea!” She glee jumping around barely.

Miste naturally was the ones who placed her hands upon the chest feeling them and squeezing them her hand went straight through them after a little bit of pressure, With a bit of adjustments and using her own magic. She could move around to form slightly different body, armor Maya noted it kind of tickles. Making some slight hand gestures they noted whether they going to do now there is no way that they could just hand wave most of this.

Symu Pulled out the sword out of this sheath and tried to shove the sheath right over the giant Dick! “WO! WO! OW! OW! I don't think this is wor—k?” her Dick Was too thick for the leather thankfully this was just a basic iron sword chief as well so a little burning away the leather and retooling some of it wasn't too bad. Miste: “ I think Green armor can work?” Wrapping the leather strap back onto the waist she twirled around with her junk looking more like a short sword. “OK but let's find a quest that we can work with? In the meantime we're going to have to use your satchels.” She said pulling up the bag and placing in the bottle, And sword. As They walked down stairs into the tavern hall where the guilds let's got their jobs.

They found a job that says possible rank Up located in Vath Forest, Miste was sent to pick up Zach they were not going to be without a thief this time. Symu Went to fill out the paperwork for them it was going to be a rank Up since all of them were bronze and the mission level was technically bronze to silver on difficulty. The clerk easily recognized them. Kheryl The clerk quickly gave them their tools for the mission which included three bottles of holy water.

Kheryl: “Knowing your party, you probably don't have a cleric. The old mansion has gone a little mini dungeon.” The clerk exclaimed with her bouncing chest rubbing against the clerk window. “J.K. Elijah, Could be dead or Just playing crazy. If the owners did bonus you get the whole mansion but you have to fix up yourself if not the mansion goes back to the person, who issued this her daughter. Kathy J. Elijah.” Obviously they're a holy water was in case she turned out to become undead. which can happen if you live out in the forest for too long. Especially black mold slimes.

“How many days are we allowed to do this mission before we get checked on?” She asked just as the group was getting back together they're around the desk. The clerk showed three. Zach remarking. “So three days stuck with these lovely ladies inside the castle. What could possibly go wrong.” Spending his little tiny short sword and then shoveling it back into his dual set of sheaves.

“Last time we says this is probably going to be just still a copper mission, but we figured the rank Up might also be an extra incentive for some people. since you take in this one we will not be issuing this mission until the 3 days have passed.” Remarked the clerk giving them at least 50 gold. “This is your down payment for the mission, you will receive the other half from the client when you get there, As your mission exception fee. As Usual we've already taken out the cut for the guilds.” Stated the clerk as the girls nodded and walked off.

Vath Forest: Was a perfect place for Maya to practice awesome for new skills. First off she focused her mind as her armor changed from a glimmering glowing green to a vibrant yellow. Zachary's eyes tilted and then the girls proceed to reveal to Zach minor details not everything of what just happened to Maya. They left out the wishing bottle and said it was some scrolls instead giving some basic lies and rearranged some of the actions that happened, Zach grumbled he wished he was there on that day! Giant Forest Spiders, Wolves and dire wolves, deer, & Bears, Where the usual monsters of the area well just standard beasts but you know the usual stuff. the real dangerous stuff was the giant spiders. “So you guys got three cool items, well ones that are still round I guess?” Remarking how the scrolls affects technically how they lied worked on them.

“Slime armor, And you're still trying to figure out the effects of the spell and for all you know it's permanent.” Miste remarked “permanent” “Write your spell which is giving you a bit of a slight knowledge lower effect, but you have to be more specific on how you identify items. A permanent stiff which makes me even more jealous. How unfortunate for you, Sam that you had the teleportation scroll and you had to use it too that was like what 150 gold easy!” She was quickly elbowed and gave us somber saw. Just as they came to a giant spiders web and as on cue they did have to face off against the giant spiders and the surprise A Moosebear[Sometimes called a Ursula ankle]! As they were getting into fighting positions. Symu, Use the technique of fire create weapon! After all they didn't want to burn down the entire forest.

Maya, Bludgeon One of the spiders with a giant smack of her Cock Blade. Miste icicle shards, The Ursa, As it raged and growled Zachary jumping and throwing several of his daggers into one of the spiders killing it and knocking it down to the ground. Symu Using your tiny flames upon her fingers to do some quick slashes, she's running up and doing some flourishing punches and blows who's onto the big beast. The beast counter attacked with a good swing and knocked her clear across torch into a tree.

The spiders firing several of their webs and priming their venomous teeth. Maya Leaping over to her knock down friend just as one of the spiders leaped onto her back. Out of instinct the slime moved around on her body make it look like her Boob sunk smaller but in reality it was just engulfing her entire torso bit more, And giving off an electrical charge of lightning the spider fried and falling to the ground. “You can do lightning magic!” “I can do lightning magic.” “She can do lightning magic. {Zach and Misty}” Symu Getting Up and checking her satchel nothing was broken. And she tossed out the sword. Maya Grabbed her old iron sword and leaped and slashed right across the belly of the Ursa it's organs falling out of its body.

After collecting some monstrous rewards,Zach collecting some of the spider teeth and Venom sacks along with a couple of the sacks for making spider silk. Symu Quickly started filling up the bottle with some of the Bears blood. Zach noted it was a very pretty bottle but no big deal. As they start walking back onto the path it was getting dark and by the time that they reached the castling palace it was nighttime. End of part one!

Drunken Wish power 2:Ghastly riders

Warning: Generic fantasy world, futainari, MEGATITES,Fatting, and World altering wishes.

Maya Lore: Is a warrior short hair[Turquoise][Cut similar to Clover from Total spies] slightly roundish around the torso small HH cups, 5.4 Foot-long Penis with diameter of four inches, Human. Current load-out Slime breasts , the standard iron sword, Cock Blade.

Miste Vomardriv: Is Water-mage,Bright blue hair with a long flowing ponytail on her left side it goes all the way down to her Scale covered legs, her scale's green skin being only picked out by her thin silk blue fabric that barely reveals the fact that she has huge double D Utters,With her naturally huge spikes ,With golden rings latched on to them. 6.2 Kilsy[The Draco elf race] Sporting a bit of an hourglass shape wondering how she doesn't break her spine.

Symu {Sam} Mervyn:Fire-mage Short blonde with red streaks call that half Ony[Basically half Orc only with more colors] Also rocking the double D's, Wearing dark blues and bright reds to correlate with her yellow skin if it wasn't for the red streaks in her hair you would think her head was misshapened And also still towering over her warrior bodyguard and a whopping 7 foot tall with a body that makes it look like she's a giant penis, If her melons were considered the testicles!

Zachary Thundermoore: Male,Long flowing red hair down to his ankles making it look like he was always wearing a Red Cloak and hood, Same height as Maya Or maybe slightly shorter it's hard to tell but with the constant slouching. Wearing blue leather armor that is coated in dragon scales well actually Kilsy scales. Armed with of course a satchel of bag of holding carrying three on total,With two bandedly or sleeves of daggers with one adjustment of two short swords Placed on his left side. Currently carrying two giant spider silk sacks and some venom sax.

Client: Kathy Jesse Elijah: Short purplish hair, DD Mellons wearing a basically green bartenders outfit. Holding your standard woodcutters ax. Her skirt matched her hair that was short and purple. Obviously she wasn't dressed for usual combat again send anything that was way higher than the standard Brussels that were in the forest despite the MooseBare, Which if it wasn't for a good strong strike it would have actually been a really hard fight. She might even go down against maybe a couple of giant spiders.

House description: The house was your standard two towers there's in the front fortress castle and not really designed to be a true fortress though more like a castle gate with a wooden House built behind it you could see where the old castle towers were attached to the wood cabin,Covered in Moss. They saw Kathy cutting down several branches from the door with her ax swinging harsh and strong. Taking a seat on some old rocks nearby and taking a bit of a rest pulling out a flask.

“Where the adventurers that took on the job?” Maya Walking Up now readjusting back her strap to make it look like she was holding a secondary sword, Upon her side thankfully she hasn't had any clackers yet. Her armor slightly changing to now blood red and she started growing tiny vampire teeth. “I see uh your, a very unique party, I was expecting a cleric not a vampire? How did you manage to get through the forest during the day.” Maya Checked her mouth and jokingly respond. “I'm not really a vampire, I just have good teeth problems. And also some unique armor that might cause this problem.”Gesturing to her blood red outfit that was now glowing a little bit.

“I see well. I'm not a skilled warrior so, I will be standing out here. With the exception of one servant mom fired them all, shortly before she went a little nuts. Strangely it was just the new doctor she recently hired Father Batzoo. But I haven't heard from him either so I think he might have died as well. It's been about two weeks since I last heard from her and from him as well roughly around the same time as she fired all the other servants. She was ranting some really strange stuff too. Like how the old princess is going to destroy us all by giving the and I'm not going to say that and from the present company.” Gesturing to Symu. “She doesn't like the ogre races?” She gave a couple of hand gestures and also gestured also to the Elvish. Kathy: “Yeah we asked for the father specifically because she was starting to get some black mold in the place and we think she didn't bother to deal with it.”

A couple of side chuckles, As she broke open the doorway and then gave them 20 more gold. As they walked into the first floor/first room which was more of the guard post area Is slightly refurbished from the battle courtroom. And the two doorways leading up to the upper tower sections. The area was glowing in red eyes, Skeletal rats were already being visibly noticed small mounts of Slime Gelatinous ooze, Of dark black goop and finally signs of giant spider webs. The skeletal rats ran away one of the great things about skeleton rats are there small and they really don't like combat but there are good sign of undead magics coming around.

“Wait for me, you're gonna need me!” Says Kathy running in with her ax. Maya Gets a little confidential and says “Look we don't need to do an escort mission and you can trust us let's see if it turns out that she's not crazy, we'll put her down if she is crazy see only we'll try the saver.” “No I can trust you on that it's the fact that, wait what do you mean try never mind? I am a trained priestess! well rookie, I can cast a little bit of cleansing magic and you need this place cleaned no matter what and despite you probably receiving what 3 holy waters.” Zachary chimes in. “Don't worry, I think we can trust her that you have a mystical sword attachment!” Gesturing to the sword on her side.

“Not to mention she knows the layout of the place she probably can give us a better map.” Remarks Mist. “Fine, but don't freak out if I do strange stuff. I just so happen to get lucky with some high level loot.” Kathy nods in gestures torch when the tower walls. “She didn't feel like building stairs so every time we just use the tower stairs and Justice edit a door towards the stone building which means the mold had to develop its own methods of moving floors because it's here too.” As they looked around the floor and noticed a lot dark black spots with tiny pustules of green and purplish goo.

With five giant Globals forming in from the mold. Maya Quickly unlatches the strap onto her shave causing her quickly already stiffened Cock With these small sheave chips looking like it was a blunt sword. Kathy's eyes slightly adjusted while Getting ready with her ax within two hands! Symu was getting her fingertips coated in the flames once again. Zach pulls from his left breast pocket of Of his bandelier of weaponry Two brass scimitars clip together into looking like one giant sword.

Maya Attacks first smacking with her unique blade the first globule. “Their oozes remember they are strong against butt--ons too late wait what the..?” As the Slime actually revoltedly reacts like it was being struck by something higher leveled as her body still glows bright red? “Okay, I guess you're the exception to the rule again. Zach pouring a little bit onto his scimitars there's a little bit of the holy water before jumping up into the air and stabbing with the Scimitar then flipping the Switch and pulling them apart slicing the creature in two! As it starts to vaporize into dust.

Miste moves her hand in a gripping formation and one of the oozes instantly dies turning into clear water. Symu Creates a giant fireball in one hand and throws it directly at one of the slimes, But it moves like its controlled. Burning it all the way down to even its toxic fumes being gone. As Kathy gets ready to prime up against her next opponent, Using both hands on her ax she slammed it right down on the first slime leaving a crack in the floor! The ax was coated in a slight holy energy which caused the slime to dissipate. The globule that was facing off against Maya, As the black goop slams its arm into her and then it's arm just reacted like it was being absorbed as the black goop was turning bright red and then, Turning into pure water?

“I'm guessing your armor gives you some divine setups?” Noted Kathy looking at the glowing red armor which is slightly shifting away from wrapping around her body again. Maya Lightly giggled. “How about before we move on to the next part of our job we take a short rest for you to finish cleaning Up this area with a holy spell or two?” She said starting to look around the area Kathy gave a slight nod and started drawing up a circle go with the ax starting at this first spot where she made the indentation onto the floor. “OK, sit in the circle why cast the barrier. As they all sit in the circle the barrier slowly generates from around the tips of the circle going out throughout the first floor of the building torch the stone pillars then stopping the walls being wiped away from the dark gooey black goo. Kathy's body covered in sweat showing signs that this was a very powerful move but also takes a lot of priming hence the real reason why she probably hired people because that and also you have to go floor by floor in order to set off this ability.

“Are you good for the next floor or do you need to take a rest break?” Remarked Maya placing a latch upon her waist again and checking her teeth. “You can take a 5 minute search and then we're going up to the next floor. Besides the barrier does not instantly wipe away everything I would prefer you guys to do a quick minor check. Maya Finds a small Red-Rod with a turning slit. “A blast rod that could come in handy.” As two mages scoured across the area, Spotting no mold. Miste taking a quick sip from some water that she crafted. Symu Finding a couple of strange old Blades that are probably not that great but decided to start them in her satchel a bag of holding is extremely useful.

Zachary finds some old clothes to pocket away for later and make sure to quickly dispose of some Rotting meat which could be the result of bringing down the black mold in the first place. “OK, Since you upgrade this to an escort mission unless you wish to permanently join our party after this. You have foregrewed any loot deal?” Kathy gave a reluctant nod although she might consider joining them after this mission her priestess teacher did suggest her that she might want to start doing some Adventuring work to get stronger. As they opened up towards the next tower room.

Taking the left tower route the stairway was blocked by a suit of armor black ooze wrapped around the arms and legs a little bit it's head leaking toxic chemicals. “We've got possessed suit!” Remarked Zach Jumping Up onto the ceiling, Using the little patches of webbing to give him a bit of a mimic of spider climb. Then leaping and slashing with his two blades in the same ambush style we'll to knock the suit of armor into the bigger room. “I think we found the way how they're moving from floor to floor when was it first spotted by the way?” Maya Said getting nervously while jumping in front of it to make sure it was focusing its attacks on her and Zach after all they were the better choice for tanking hits granted Zach is more of a Dodge tank than Maya but that's beside the point.

“It was first spotted on the 3rd floor, but we did build a attic, a while back so it could have been in there? It's where Mum Does most of her writing when she was writing the, 5th book she starred gang a little bit crazy see I have to admit.” Remarked Kathy. Latching some webbing across the shoulder ridges, Zach flipping right next to Maya with a bit of a wink. Maya coated her blade in lightning as the slime oozed up from her arms with a strong slash the seat of armor fried itself killing everything inside!

“Well that was quick and simple do you have anymore of these suits of armor?” Kathy gave a slight nod as the shoulder guards were still stuck to the webbing, but now blatantly in the hands of Zachary. “In the other guard post.” Symu Open the right guard post and spotted the second suit of armor Which gave us slight slit of a scar torture sure as she opened the door, Instantly reacting by engulfing it inside a giant orbit fire Instantly baking it and melting the metallic metal around it and the sword and the wooden shield burst into flames.

“That was a 1500 gold Suit of armor that you just turned into molten steel, Over a paper cut?” Remarked Kathy the others of the farmer she wasn't really too upset about I mean scorch marks can be taken care of a little bit but complete melting no that was a set and that was one suit it's price tag. As they started walking up the one that did not have the molten smell. “Look we are trying to get rid of the mold there's going to be some collateral damage to some stuff.” Symu Remarked as they moved on to the next room. There they see two flaming spirits creating large amounts of really strong black mold slimes. One was a fire spirit the other one was a ice spirit surrounding Father Batzoo. “Uh what are you doing father?” As the preacher moved his eyes covered in the black mold this flesh slowly being creaped over with different markings. “The Lord biggest me, and the lord covers me! The Lord claims me to press the Gospels! You are all uncleaned we must keep that cleaning!”

“I think it's time to get ready!” Getting into position and to combat order! “Zachary maintain getting rid of the slimes, Sam, You take on the father Misty cover Kathy, I focused on the two spirits!” Maya said barking orders. Charging into the fray The spikes along her body are starting to form the blood red her teeth begin to stretch her eyes swollen and consumed into darkness. “By the flames of Klaatu!” As the two spirits circled around her and a blaze of fire striking her body Reeling backwards is the Holy Flame Scorched her body. Symu's nipples Unleash small flames as she leaps and spins in front Of her teammate shouting. “I'm your opponent old man!” The flames of her kick slammed a little bit into the ice elemental but he dodged it's getting only a minor scrape of fire as he shouts. “The sadness of the unfaithful shall destroy tears of the Heretic!” As is oozing black eyes swirl with water and cry out streams with a great flip she dodged it.

“Thy Holy Father Please stop, you are making more of the ooze that you were sent to stop!” Kathy's shouting as she started heading towards one of the globules! Her acts being imbued with holy energy Zachary getting ready for cover fire. Slamming the ax into one of them just as it was about to give a counterattack of a punch she was yanked by a stream of web, Using his hair as a giant cloak to hide the fact that he has the spider satchels right next to his waist giving him a bit of a web shooter setup! With the other webs latching onto the ax and slicing down a bit further there before plopping it back into her hands. “I really hate escort missions!” Using the two scimitars to slash across the other ooze just barely avoiding it unleashing toxic spores.

“Puch[Punch]-Ami, Commands us all to go back to the goo!” Replies the Holy Father! Miste summons a bowl of water and throws at the priest! “Choke on this!” Swallowing the water and then in a gobbled oath the black slimes turned crawling around his body and sliding inside of him making his belly swell and grow as black goo bursts from his stomach with this big pulsating belly his outfit torn asunder derve his big flowing robes pouring from his chest leaking from his very small breasts. As the two flaming spirits slowly start crafting two new slimes. “OK, I'm going to have to beef up the collateral damage possibilities!” Remarked the group. Maya. “Sam do you have the bottle?” She said getting up and readjusting her slimy body the armor. Symu pulling the bottle out from her satchel filled with the bare blood. “I trust you to come up with a good wish time for another distraction!”

Symu Starts guzzling the bottle her belly swelling for there was a lot of blood in that bear, Maya once again leaping into the fray! Taking her iron sword from her chest and coating it with her toxic slime as she slashes into the guy while also smacking it with her big throbbing Cock, Let the blubber is a lot harder than you would expect! Zach still holding back not sure what's going on.

Symu Finally stopped his guzzling down the bottle. “ I WISH THE WHOLE WORLD IS BIG DICK LADIES, Nice key HONIES from the START!” As the bottle started to glow brightly as well as her belly bursting out into a giant wave! Maya Cock Cover tip was now leaking a waterfall sliding down of deep glowing green as swelling from benign her cloak was BALLS!

Drunken Wish power 3:New/Old World

Warning: Generic fantasy world, futainari, MEGATITES, Fattening, Cum Inflation, Futa on futa action!

Maya Lore: Is a warrior short hair[Turquoise][Cut similar to Clover from Total spies] slightly roundish around the torso small HH cups, 5.4, Currently tennis size Balls & Foot-long Penis with diameter of four inches, Human. Current load-out Slime breasts , the standard iron sword, Cock Blade.

Miste Vomardriv: Is Water-mage, Bright blue hair with a long flowing ponytail on her left side it goes all the way down to her Scale covered legs & Foot-long Penis with diameter of 2in, her scale's green skin being only picked out by her thin silk blue fabric that barely reveals the fact that she has huge double D Utters, With her naturally huge spikes Along with the natural spikes around her Nut-sack that made her Ass look even bigger , With golden rings latched on to them, And along her bumpy spiky Cock! 6.2 Kilsy[The Draco elf race] Sporting a bit of an hourglass shape wondering how she doesn't break her spine.

Symu {Sam} Mervyn: Fire-mage Short blonde with red streaks call that half Ony[Basically half Orc only with more colors] Also rocking the double D's, Her Cock, Is slightly shorter maybe about 11 inches but very thick bidding close to about 5 inches thick balls A little Sorcerer ! Wearing dark blues and bright reds to correlate with her yellow skin if it wasn't for the red streaks in her hair you would think her head was misshapen-ed And also still towering over her warrior bodyguards Standing at still a 7 foot taller with her appendage not even touching the ground although getting pretty darn close

Zachary Thundermoore: Her long flowing hair doubles as her cloak being slightly stitched up to look like a giant cloak around her body, Blending in with the scales Of blue attached to the dark gray leather across hers jumpsuit a single Flap down the middle. C Size chest. Baseballs & DICK 16in Long maybe one inch thick when deflated but show signs of possibly being a grower With the suit giving her a look of being a Nice long tail. Stored in the interior of the jumpsuit are her daggers meanwhile laying on The left side of her hip is her twin scimitars in a single sheave still made of copper and bronze.

Client & Guest party member: Kathy Jesse Elijah: Short purplish hair, DD Mellons Practically pouring out of her top with the suspenders them squeezing them together, The outfit was strikingly green going down over her slightly slim belly was a pair of purple skirts barely covering her 13 inch very long Dick, Extremely thick thanks to the extra long piercings taking her notches up to what would be probably on average around one to three to now being a decent 5 inches thick the silver spikes along it Including three on each one of her basketball size testicles . And being armed with a standard woodcutter's ax.

The large old priestess Batzoo Being engulfed in these slimy ooze, The fire and ice spirits swirling around her keeping her both hot and very moist making the slime oozing from her DD BOOBs Enlarge bloated belly that makes her completely unmovable the ooze leaking from her mouth and her Big throbbing and vein and bursting with multiple cuts and bleeds it's a black goo COCK. As the slimes were strangled the farm around the body.

“WHAT!” Maya remarked now staring at her opponent, The cap on her junk still flailing and struggling to keep on! As Miste unleashed a mist of energy, As fog started pouring from every orifice coding the area. “Zach get Maya to the ceiling, I have an idea.” Zach gave a slight nod pulling out the small sacks of spider silk. Giving a slight nod while Leaping over towards the ceiling stabbing the fake tail into it for a short latch and then firing some of the quick webbing to latch up her teammate up into the sky before dropping down with the blades at hand! Stabbing through the chest and then doing a quick slice but it was stopped through the rib so she had to pull it back out. As more of the toxic oozes were generated. “Please tell me, you're far enough in your studies to do blessings of holy water?” Miste asked Kathy.

She took a deep breath and started chanting the words her silver piercing started to glow as the mist around their bodies started to also change giving a slight glow, Almost an instinct Maya's body started to shift colors back to being dark green instead of being the violent red her vampire teeth slowly sinking back into her mouth as the stream leaking from her stopped being turned into vapor, when it was touching the misty bottom. The old priestess started screaming like it was engulfed in acid and fire!

“Okay let's see what else I can do.” Symu Said not bothering to look around to see how much everything changed, she's from her great wish it seems only to them noticed. Pouring out three molten balls from her top which is starting to burn away and starting to juggle them, Tossing them into the air the first one she slammed with her right leg, Smacking the preset into the face the other one she smacked with her DICK Her mouth giving a slight cringe of ow that was a bad move, And smacking the last fireball with her regular leg from her left both of them smashed into the stomach scorching away a good chunk of the slime the priestess was now looking like she could move again!

Maya looked at her blade that was slightly more corroded grabbing the iron blade and taking it towards the webbing that was holding her up towards the ceiling. “Sammy we're going to have to have a talk about this after the battle!” “By the flames--” Said the princess just said she got smacked in the face by the oozing blade, But the stream of fire did go off a little bit! But being heavily dampened by the Holy Mist! As the oozing slime started to move through the mist and the flames still swirling around along with the cold air now making the mist even slightly chilly making the area feel more damp and muggy yet with the holy energy it was actually clearing up a lot of the damage that was along the walls as portions of the black mold along the walls and the floor were starting to dissipate and melt away.

Kathy was now looking a little drained channeling this much holy energy was not what she was expecting it was like the water was stealing her energy away from her all of a sudden, Miste grabs her Spiky magic 'wand' and gives this light rub, With glowing energy wrapping around And she sprays directly towards Maya just barely rolling away from the bullets! The stream goes straight through the flames dousing out the fire elemental while leaving giant puncture marks through the slimes, means that slowly reform their holes!

“Those who, do not believe shall feel the rafts of my plaguing faith!” Shower the priestess as spores splendid from her body fighting against the mist! Kathy focused her energy The two fates of the wills spiraled and all of a sudden the mist turned into dark black spores the entire room was now being turned into black mold everyone was coughing up as spores were pouring out black mold upon their bodies. Kathy was falling to the ground barely functioning as the mold had covered and consumed half of her upper torso Zach's one's beautiful long luscious red hair now being consumed by black mold in parts of her outfit dissolving in the black mold leaching from her body!

“We need to finish this, I don't think she can handle another one of these things we're going to have to take a rest after this!” Responded Maya climbing out of the black spores as her torso was actively converting it into her own darkness as her body was slowly shifting back to the bright red her teeth flamingly long her eyes consumed with darkness her skin turning bright white as her mouth and elongated her ears becoming more pointy and bat like along with her nose was being squished up and flattened. Once again the priestess felt too sharp blades piercing through her chest from her backside as the tips of the blades were piercing through the long rings that were unbold onto her chest! “Just because, I'm hit hard doesn't mean I'm out!” Zach said with her coughing blood As explosion of daggers pierced through the chest the spores flying everywhere the room still toxic but now the priestess was dead Zach falling to the floor. “Everyone pour out your water for me.” Saying as she fell to the ground.

Maya focused her glowing vampiric energy and taking a big inhale swallowing up the mist into her belly before she passed out as well forcing her body the process the damage. “Sam, You still have your holy water right?” Asked Mist as she pulled out The in holy water from Maya's bag. She gave a slight nod as she carefully dragged Maya away from the location wall pouring out the two waters and using her mist ability to coat the room with the holy water mist the black fog slowly dissipating as the room was being cleansed dragging the teammates back into the proper locations. “I'll take first watch since I, uh bulked up on healing.” Giving her fat belly a slap Symu Responded and placing a couple of barrings around the doors.

She nodded quickly looking around the area and pulling out from one of the drawers a shabby but okayish robe Made up from a couple of different beast furs she could find a bit of deer maybe some bear hum dear bear or moose bear maybe that Moosebear that we were angling with earlier? Placing the open robe on top of the priestess girl, who was now free and slightly a bit better they were all still a bit groggy. Zach waking up and smiling as there was a series of punctual wounds, And dissolve sections of her outfit. Taking out a small lunch bag of rice balls and offering some food.

Maya still exhibiting more vampiric styles decided to answer a couple of questions while testing a couple of others there's when she woke up noting that her junk wasn't active again? “OK, before I answer any questions because of the world those sports do give you a hangover. I know toxic sports mess with the undead, I mean none undead, Oh Lady, I am woozy. Tell us a little thing about basic history.” Symu Was still investigating around the building the floor was three rooms technically making sure that each one of the rooms were slightly cleared the mist did seep into other rooms so it did help take care of some of those things as well at least before it be coming a toxic mist.

Kathy was the first one to do this while checking over the body of the priestess looking at the robes she was covered in. “St. Hope's Charms! Well let's see I'm trained to be a battle nun,As you can tell from my spikes, I'm not long enough yet.” She said with a bit of an awkward tone. Symu, Open one door to reveal the kitchen pantry area. For safety precautions it was mostly laid out with stone she'd a lit a little bit of a flame to make sure that some of the spores if they were sticking around were taken care of !”

“Zach, I know you're assassin type really on the thief scale. Studying poisons in toxicology, And identifying certain key monsters that could be useful for a variety of missions. Am I still correct in understanding that?” Symu, said that she closed the door. “Yep, And you're still training to be a fire Mage with a little bit of Bardic training combat style. Now tell me what's really going on because I think this is more than just a little enchantment scroll, Going on you Maya and also what was that whole wish thing about Sam, I mean granted that was a dud wish but still?” The other two slightly blinked at the remark of that was a dud but these side of the play along that this was not something to talk about yet.

Zach was taking out of her bag some of the fabrics she stole from the lower rooms to make a new top. Maya took a bit of a sigh. “OK, I lied on what we found in the dungeon. Sam show the bottle.” Symu Pulled out the mostly rainbow colored bottle. Which still had a good chunk of blood in it about five more liters. “Am I safe to say that with the exception maybe the 'weapon and armor' set that you got those wishes were the replacements of the scrolls?” Zach replied stopping in mid sowing being with a little bit of air quotes, thankfully her bag of Holding was ok. Symu gave a bit of a nod. “The first one I wished while being extremely drunk to be very hard and a sexual action.” Miste rolled up next to Maya.

“Okay, then uh pour me a cup?” Zach said heading towards the kitchen area, Thankfully Kathy made a slight point towards the room that Symu just set on fire. “Waiting till after Misty puts out the flames, I was trying to make sure that room didn't have any mold.” She shouted before Zach could even touch the doorknob which was starting to glow a little bright red, the water mage walked over towards the room. “Okay, before I swap spit explain the other wish?” Zach remarked taking a seat and looking directly at Maya. “I said Monster Boobs.” Looking slightly reluctant and still very vampiric? Kathy went for a little test to see how the body worked. Moving her starting sacred artifact on to Maya's belly there was no smoking no sizzling and her Tits went straight back to green and her Skin slightly lightened up, Her vampire features started to fade away. “and apparently it picked slimes to be the monster of choice? Strangest picking the shining green it's a small low level holy slime but still weird that your jostling between a low level holy and a high level blood slime for unholy which is also undead which causes you to effectively become a vampire for a little bit?”

Zach grabbed the bottle before taking a swig asked a couple of key questions. “Okay so how do I avoid getting, Hey do nothing spell beyond probably terrible wording?” Turning to Miste because she used her wish to basically have a permanent identify. “Well it's based on the strength of your wish determines how much you drink, I'm guessing Sam Wish was either a dud because she phrased it but the ending word being from the start. Or she didn't drink enough although her stomach would have exploded she killed a whole thing.” Pointing out that the bottle was basically 6 liters. As a light bulb blinked in the other two. Taking a very small swig and staring at the two spider Silk bladders?

“ I Wish to Put inside My Tits, These spider bladders and have them work as intended?” A little glow from her belly as well as from the bottle, As the stained glass on the bottle slowly started the shift around making more of a shape? Nipples Started to grow a little bit longer and more stretchy. “A little help here.” Said Zach as she opened them up a little bit first off starting off with the left one it took two hands to keep it open so somebody else had to shove it in. Maya was the first. Zach does a bit of a test run before asking for the next one making a very short silk rope. “Works excellently, ok uh who's next?” Kathy does the shoving in of the right one just as Zach opens up Nipple.

Then Kathy turns and asks about the wishing bottle as well. “Are those the only precautions that it go against?” Miste's eyes start to glow. “The wish cannot make a break or deal, It cannot steal it can only create or alter, It cannot alter the scales beyond certain reasons.” As her eyes stopped glowing she immediately turns and says. “No, you cannot resurrect her. Even if you word it in a way she never died in the first place.” “The moment you said stealing, I kind of figured that. Considering the priests mentioned Puch-Ami? She's one of the dark underworld gods so I get the feeling that she's going to claim her as property either way.” Kathy said sadly well she's just gonna have to think of a different wish then when the time comes she might bank it for later pushing back the bottle.

“Ohh yeah you are a practicing priestess so you actually study up the different gods. We know he brought up the fire God, Klaatu. And considering the frost elemental she had to have called upon Skady The goddess of ice and the hunt!” Remarked the two mages. Zach looking over her new GG Pillowcases, And debating on how to redesign her battle armor looking over Miste's body to see if she had any scales. “I know what you, like to see but still.” She remarked being noticed just after being clear about the goddess. Kathy gave a good nod. Maya grabbed Symu With a whisper of one of the other rooms to check at the same time. “So Kathy what's this room over here?” Gesturing to the other room that was next to the kitchen pantry area.” “The servants quarters.” She responded. “We'll check that place out.” She said dragging her teammate, As she was opening the door her body started turning more vampiric.

Maya walks in and it slowly the bacteria starts seeping away, like it's scared? Symu, Uses the light heat from her hands to go across some of the wood burning off some of the mold that doesn't hide as much as it can? Giving some of the wood the deep black furnish. The two go over the information in a slightly like tone agreeing that the year hypothesis might make sense and pointing out though it's strange that these are the only two that remember the world as it once was as the wish was somehow rewriting everybody's memories. Meanwhile Miste was giving a slight tutoring lesson To Kathy. As making holy water would be probably beneficial to her.

Symu Begin shaking her rear. “Sam, Since you're taking first watch why don't we just finish some things here?” Maya said that she was cleaning one of the beds free of the mold her vampire energy starting to get stronger and more hungered? The low light in the room just from the sheer heat of the flames. Somehow made the room feel even brighter, As she walked up closer to her friend's rear, removing the cap from her blade. “You know once, I get started, I might not be able to stop?” Symu: “don't worry I'll burn you if you take a chunk.” As Maya plunged in she whispered. “That's not why, I was referring to but thank you for the warning?” As Her teeth lapped across her Fangs.

The other group could hear the moans and groans as in the screams from behind the door, Kathy was getting up immediately grabbing a couple of her spikes that she already started removing before she was stopped by Miste. “You must be a rookie to this. Considering your training to be a battle Nun.” Symu Let out “ KllllllaaaaaaaTOo YEEESSSS!” Followed by a series of unique moans and groans. Kathy gave a slight nod. Zachary readjusting herself and said. “Minor negotiations since you hired us does this mean we have to still pay you when you do your nunley duties or are we free from having to do large sizable donations?” Still leaving her robes onto the side.

Baseballs & DICK 16in Long maybe one inch thick when deflated but show signs of possibly being a grower. Her new outfit,As a combination of long black silk a few leftover spikes of scales was being stitched into her hair. With the suit giving her a look of being a Nice long tail. Stored in the interior of the jumpsuit are her daggers meanwhile laying on The left side of her hip is her twin scimitars in a single sheave still made of copper and bronze.

Client & Guest party member: Kathy Jesse Elijah: Short purplish hair, DD Mellons,Now barely being supported by a furry coat wrapped around her waist, It's open bottom revealing 13 inch very long Dick, Extremely thick thanks to the extra long piercings taking her notches up to what would be probably on average around one to three to now being a decent 5 inches thick the silver spikes along it Including three on each one of her basketball size testicles. And being armed with a standard woodcutter's ax.

After hearing the moaning stop Zachary suggested. “You know I don't want to sleep on this bare ridden floor or sit in one of those many chairs and just try to sleep in them how about we just use the servants quarters, I'm sure the couple of beds how many exactly?” She said heading towards the door. They could hear Maya saying the words. “I told you, I might not be able to stop once, I get going and it looks like it's not stopping.” Kathy stated as she walked over with them, There's three beds, servants are expensive even though mom could afford them.” Zach with a devious smile said. “I guess some of us will have to share.” Opening the door to reveal a small stream of gold 'honey' One bed were as stained with a good chunk of white 'honey'. The golden liquid pouring straight from the pulsating blade that Maya has.

When Kathy walked into the room the liquid turned bright green and Kathy's aura just changed my straight back to her tart green glowing body almost as if it was a defense mechanism. “How peculiar?”

Symu Belly was now even more huge and bloated Boobs Resting on them and splitted her gown covered her in stains but the golden stains were now disappearing leaving small smoky trails. Each one of them slowly sitting down on a different bed well Zach climbed unto the same bed that Maya was on and Miste was on the other side of it. Kathy put Her silver spikes into a robe and placing her robe across the bed.

“Well how about we thoroughly 'coat' the room first off before, I make it a holy chamber.” Kathy suggested as she closed the door with a light click they could hear it lock. The green stream was already coating some parts of the floor. “And while we're coding maybe you can tell me about yourselves? I'm curious about the people, I hired.” Placing her fingers along the holes of her spikes it's left within her and almost playing it like a flute with the gushing liquid pouring out upon tops of her fingers The lightly 'white honey' streaking across the floor, in slightly coating the front of the door.

“Well aside from the wishes that we've been having lately,” Maya getting up from, The bed she was sitting on and making sure to coat the uh wall that was next to the kitchen, Being careful to readjust the stream strength. “I'm technically of a bit of an open book, I just want to become the highest rank adventurer Electrum. Maybe be interviewed by a few bards or two. And Miste and I had known each other for a long time.” Miste goes into the other corner figures three rubbing in caressing causing her the flow much faster than you would expect the little nubs on her particular rod becoming pulsating ! “Oh and she also just wants to marry rich.” Miste turned still spraying encoding a little bit onto Maya. “That's not yet, I want my dragon horde filled with ancient artifacts that are very Draconic in nature. But getting married to a wealthy Dukess or Princess. Would help a lot in that field, Heck I would even mind not just being second Mistress.” As the two were walking closer to each other.

Zach placing her newly worked on outfit with some of the stitching that she started doing into her hair along with adding some pockets inside to at least store some of her gear. “I'm looking for a person with the initials N.H.G. It was all I found of her.” Showing a wooden tablet similar to a dog tag or a Guilds license. “Well there would levels so that least it's not thing too extravagant or they might have just gotten rid of one of their old tablets?” Remarkd Kathy as she finished coating the doorway and started moving across towards other walls. Giving out a nice soothing tone with her new flowing.

“All I know my family might have been considered wealthy, But I did grow up in the nunnery. I'm looking for the mysterious 'Baker' All I know is that shhhe's a human considering, Mom Was a oni big strong bruising and alluring I think she was a battle nun, just like what your training to be?” Symu Said moving on to another bed her belly still plump & feeling like she was about to burst. As Kathy finished holy find the liquids looking to the corner to see Maya and Miste having some 'fun' on one of the beds. “Yeah considering the donation was you?” Kathy said taking to look round to see which beds she should sit on Zach was patting a spot. “I promise again that the charge but I should note that you are going to all have to make donations to the Church, afterwards when you get back to town unless you want to spend time raising 1 or two or three?”

This time it was Miste, who was doing the penetration as her dragon scales rubbed against each bump each notch pulsating and wiggling jiggling into their each bump causing more and more of the belly to get bigger as her Boobs jiggled and bounced With each loud thrusting sensation The bouncing jiggling somehow the slime was oozing deeper deeper as the breasts became bigger and more flexuous than before the stream leaking all over the floor the floor's cracks slightly letting seeping out more and more of the goop down into the next floor beneath them only Kathy knew what was underneath the servant's quarters reset the moment and she wasn't going to reveal what they were coming in stains.

“We'll figure it out after not before.” Zach said spreading her legs, Kathy shoved right in With each thrust coating the area making the belly bigger and bigger bigger.
“WRERWROOOOOOOOO!” Zach led out feeling the sensation, Belly was stretching, The part of her outfit that always looked like a tail was starting to swell and get thicker and bigger now going from the one inch thick to actually being closer to a three, Having the spray back gone to the back of the bed. Soon everybody rolled over and started to get ready to take their rest breaks they each still took their shifts.

“It's OK it's OK.” Remarked Zack slapping her face as it was now her turn to take the shift her body covered in a cold sweat watching over the door and listening she's going to hear skittering of spider legs, globbing of goo there is going to be a fight in the morning she sighed and decided to get ready. First off walking over to Maya and giving her a slight push her junk stilts diff as a board but no longer oozing. “Look I know you get your nightmare, but you gotta stop and take some time to see the church for some therapy.” She said groggily while pulling Miste out of her body.

“Yeah yeah yeah yeah, I think I hear two oozes & a spider outside. I'll wake up Sammy you wake up Misty.” Maya nodded and quickly put on the cap and the band back onto her special blade, Before pushing the back of her bed partner tossing her into the slightly sticky and obviously leaked out all the goop floor. “What was that for?” “Zaki girl says we gotta fight on our hands in a little bit?” She said groggily. Zach was playing bongos on the melons, Symu Grumbly woke up and then proceeded to walk over and nudge their client. “Okay I guess we're going to have to start fighting now who's going to take the first action.”

Maya Got in front first walked up to the door raising her leg, Kicking the door open and breaking it off of his hinges which is breaking the wooden door as it slammed across! But shattering apart when it hit a spectral “and oshit! I thought we wouldn't have to deal with elementals once we took care of the priest?” Remarked the warrior here priming herself to get ready to take her next stance. Kathy remarked “Mum Is a bardic it who is capable of summoning some elementals, but I don't think she can summon them this strongly this looks like to be a fusion version. “I wonder if there's something up in the attic, there usually is.” Remarked Zach getting into position. The first strike of the daggers here's into one of the elementals striking a key spot, The daggers had a whiff of smell of the morning's actions.

Zach leaping onto the ceiling, Using her feet ethan latching down with some minor webbing from her chest as she sliced down with her two twin blades, With a scissor motion cutting off the abdomen of the spider as the spider's silky body, webbing all of a sudden coarsely straight towards Nippes Of Zach slowly making her chest even larger, Now getting closer to being H's? But Zach wasn't done. Quickly throwing another said daggers yours with one hand freed, she was more focused on combat! Aiming for the other elemental in the room. But it quickly countered with acid spray dissolving, the first two daggers! The acid springs two slimes next to her while she dodged it easily by flexing her body.

Miste's 'Canon' raised straight through, Maya's slightly gooey body, Right underneath the right arm! As the streaming cannonball fired straight through the horde blasting away 1 of the elementals, Zak's instincts naturally caused her to dodge the attack as she was in the center of the situation. Symu Dashing forward and coding yourself in flames as she jumped and dived into the spray right in between the two flaming slimes they're catching on fire and burning away the Heat and the intensity. Kathy sliding underneath Maya which was actually very doable, Charged with her ax blazing in golden light towards the last elemental and with a furbillant swing it was gone.

The group gave a slight nod and still had Maya go ahead. They would purify the entire building being later with a different strategy. Her blade was starting to get stiffer as she was grabbing it hard and tightly she could feel the pulsating her once small ones were now slowly getting swollen. As they slowly walked up the staircase step by step them taking a uniform status Maya first followed by Symu, Then Zach then Miste and finally their client Kathy.

“Okay, what's the layout of the third floor?” Maya responded as she was now starting to develop small trickles down her blade even the cap couldn't keep off all of it. “We'll enter into the study library first down the right is the master bedroom then on the left is mine and when I'm staying here? In between the two rooms though are a adjoining laundry room and wardrobe room there's a shaft that you can drop down the laundry down to the ground, floor it also doubles as the shaft, into the pantry we've had a couple of occasions where we've accidentally got some socks into our food.” She said Maya thinking okay so kicking the door might not be a good option taking one hand off of her now sticky sore blade in placing it onto the handle of the hilt of the door itself with a loud turning click she slowly opened the door.

The lady was scribbling upon a piece of parchment her skin showed signs of massive rotting the complete left side of her face was now exposed skull, Black goop was pouring from her right eye socket and floating in her left was a deep blue flame as she turned revealing her body covered in black mold creaking down the side of her chest rib cage exposed her heart beating with black goop pouring out of it with each loud thump Maya was a seasoned warrior and even this startled her thankful that she was the first one to see this instead of the daughter of This monster their. client kathy would probably shatter and break. The creature turned raising her pointed quill with a flourish of writing a fireball came gushing out from the tip of her quill.

Maya instinctively charged through the flames her body coating and Spikes of acid in the gelatinous skew warmed around her body, Running for a brief tackle. Knocking the creature onto the floor and slamming out the chair the room was covered in a dark lit with streams of sunlight still peppering the hallway via the library. “SaM!” Maya shouted both the acid and the black goop fighting against each other! Consumed by the flames Maya can muster up another tack while they're both infined into the fireball. Nippe Of her left breast became a hand in grabbing on to her iron blade almo says if she split it in two both swung their weapons slashing across the creature while knocking it further towards the book's case then the piece of flesh returned back to her chest the sword still covered in a little bit of acid as it was starting to deteriorate around the handle.

Another quick scribble this time of a different word chains swirled around and then turned into a beam of energy of flames and things of ghostly blue and green blasting into the chest Being a light tingling sensation. Symu Move deeper into the room allowing Zach to come into play! Zach throwing two daggers, At the undead creature it swerved and dodged but still focusing its attacks on Maya who was still stuck in front of her As it let out a ghostly whall Screaming out a ballad that was hard to distinguish and understand! As her body begins to swell and grow the black goo leaking out of her belly button and the gaping a hole in her chest is forming into a monster a black ooze!

Zach dashing across the room the dagger placed deep inside the tip Cock Tail like a stopper and with a scorpion like sting she stabbed across the neck normally this would be lethal but in reality it wasn't because the creature was undead. The slime unleashed spores there's just as another stabbing to the chest it's with the tail trying to aim for the beating heart now the other two were walking into the room upon hearing the ghastly Screams. “MUM!” Kathy coughed as she spotted fighting the urge to throw up. Miste was next! As a portal of water beneath her, Diving in! Slicing down the middle of the undead creature was a portal of water bursting out was Misty The portal closing within the chest this says she was standing in front of her teammates. Her new circulates on her chest started glowing underneath the fur covering. And she slowly started moving deeper into the room lightly breathing.

Maya grabbing her Iron blade raising it with both hands and letting her others swing freely lightly said to her teammates. "I'm going to trust you guys to finish a little work on the zombie and I'll take care of this slime real quick before it becomes of trouble." As her body was shifting back and forth between the red and the green like it was fighting on which one was the better option her face shifting back and forth as well she was feeling hungry. Pumping her strength into the blade as she thrust it in and leaving the sword to being dissolved as it was covered in its caress of goo! Plunging her whole body in with a raging global straight as her skin slowly turning completely red as the sun searing fear and then she popped out with a blackened blade of pure dark black ooze whose forming in her free hand replacing in the Swordblade that was devoured by acid! And then she turned green real quick the sunlight's still beating but it was getting closer to night.

Symu Gave a slight nod and flames across her fist and her pulsating whip of a Dick, As she threw two flaming punches into the chest. With flirtatious eyes she signaled to Zach rubbing her belly a little bit as Zach gave a slight nod. Letting go and all of a sudden a swerving fist that was getting bigger and more pulsating with dark black goop was coming to her she slipped and dodged and then punched right into the chest again with a stronger blow. Noticing its quill was no longer in its hands it raged and wildly anger more wheeling rage but thankfully not enhanced with the spell of vocal damage. "Misty your turn!" Zach shouted & was debating on adding the quill to her repertoire? After all if she could replace her iron spiked daggers with something a bit more fluent in her styled G? she might be able to play more effectively.

Misty's back sprang with wings of scales as she flew slightly up into the air throwing two sprays of water ore from her hands grabbing from her large ample breasts throwing them at her target. "She's long dead and gone just purify her and get on." She shouted to the client as her wings quickly folded back into her back completely vanishing as she was standing up right next to Zach! Kathy's body was spraying water of holy energy all out of her body her multi hold hose of a penis is spraying like sprinklers her large breast shooting out liquid stinging up her fur top as she tried to explode with holy water energy! Left as the village of her mother pulled out a slime from its arm we've been making into a giant all work shield to block the sprays!

"OK, that's definitely keeping away the whole vampire thing right now!" She said lapping up the mixture of 'honey' and milk. Almost as if her body was easily eating it without even having to open her mouth ooth really. Eager to test out her new black blade that she forged, A large dashes slash across the back as the target it hadn't exposed, black goo pouring from it like an open wound! "Ooh I think, I'm going to like this?" Maya said as the sun was rolling down now the Moonlight was barely clinging into the room her teeth turning bright long and her coat turning red. Her team were slightly worried as she slammed into the undead creature with her full body her, tits covered in spikes and acid drippings! Swinging beneath her legs were now basketballs her blade of a Cock, With pulsating and getting more violently veiny like it was trying to stretch and grow even further the arousal of battle flowing into her body.

The slime was pouring out the chest trying to come out the belly growing and pulsating as black goo was pouring from the belly button the remaining right breast swelling and growing and pouring out black liquid. "Sorry girlfriend but this is going to sting a little." As both slimy creatures were engulfed in flames. Maya climbed out of the fires but Kathy was right next to them raising her ax coated In Holy energy the strength and determination! but the undead creature plunged its hand quickly into what was left of the slime that was still pulsating out of its body and formed into a shield blocking the blade of holy light as it was looking like a sacred sword blade that was fat and chunky!

“ I Haaaave nooooo DaauggggghteeEr!” The undead creature said its jaw unhinging As a coughing UA blackened spirit from its mouth shooting out screams of wailing destructive energy! Zach plunged her hands deep inside her chest and pulled out two huge balls of webbing throwing them directly at the creature that tried to surround it As it was trapped inside a giant ball of webbing ax mess of melons now shrunk down from bordering towards H down to a 32F. “Ok I think I've bought some time everybody else let's get out of the room I have a crazy idea for that elemental gets ready to burst through that webbing.” Kathy led the group into her bedroom with the exception of Zach who is staying behind.

“I'm sorry, but those words string so deadly to me.” Remark zach pulling out the quill that she stole. “Sorry, this is my first time casting a spell, I'm going to have to ask for some lessons later!” With a wave of her hand with the quill she stabbed a tiny prick of a hole inside the webbing and it burst to esteem a fire and ice and dark black smoke before was consumed. “Coast is clear.” Placing the quill back inside the pocket that she made inside her hair. “Sorry Kathy uh I had to destroy one of her items in order to see if that would help, I hope you weren't attached to that quill.” Kathy shrugged and shook her head she didn't really care as they started investigating around the area to figure out what was happening also she starts playing a little bit more of her holy energy around the area to purify it a bit more.

Zach carefully walked over and whispered something to Miste's ear! Miste gave a large punch in the shoulder. But with a bit of a grumble she had no choice she was going to tutor the little thief again.

Drunken Wish power 5:Murder investigation

Warning: Generic fantasy world, futainari, MEGATITES,Fatting,Cum Everywhere, Futa on futa action!

Maya Lore: Is a warrior short hair[Turquoise][Cut similar to Clover from Total spies] slightly roundish around the torso small HH cups, 5.4,Currently Baskets size Balls & 13Inches Penis with diameter of 5 inches, Human. Current load-out Slime breasts & Cock Blade.

Miste Vomardriv: Is Water-mage,Bright blue hair with a long flowing ponytail on her left side it goes all the way down to her Scale covered legs & Foot-long Penis with diameter of 2in, her scale's green skin being only picked out by her thin silk blue fabric that barely reveals the fact that she has huge double D Utters,With her naturally huge spikes Along with the natural spikes around her Nut-sack that made her Ass look even bigger ,With golden rings latched on to them, And along her bumpy spiky Cock! 6.2 Kilsy[The Draco elf race] Sporting a bit of an hourglass shape wondering how she doesn't break her spine.

Symu {Sam} Mervyn:Fire-mage Short blonde with red streaks call that half Ony[Basically half Orc only with more colors] Also rocking the double D's, Her Cock,Is slightly shorter maybe about 11 inches but very thick bidding close to about 5 inches thick balls A little Sorcerer ! Wearing dark blues and bright reds to correlate with her yellow skin if it wasn't for the red streaks in her hair you would think her head was misshapen-ed And also still towering over her warrior bodyguards Standing at still a 7 foot taller with her appendage not even touching the ground although getting pretty darn close

Zachary Thundermoore: Her long flowing hair doubles as her cloak being slightly stitched up to look like a giant cloak around her body. 32F Size chest. Baseballs & DICK 16in Long maybe one inch thick when deflated but show signs of possibly being a grower. Her new outfit, As a combination of long black silk a few leftover spikes of scales was being stitched into her hair. With the suit giving her a look of being a Nice long tail. Stored in the interior of the jumpsuit are her daggers meanwhile laying on The left side of her hip is her twin scimitars in a single sheave still made of copper and bronze.

Client & Guest party member: Kathy Jesse Elijah: Short purplish hair, DD Mellons, Now barely being supported by a furry coat wrapped around her waist, It's open bottom revealing 13 inch very long Dick, Extremely thick thanks to the extra long piercings taking her notches up to what would be probably on average around one to three to now being a decent 5 inches thick the silver spikes along it Including three on each one of her basketball size testicles. And being armed with a standard woodcutter's ax.

The first thing that they do is check her desk, Zach first off looks over the desk to see some of the envelopes naturally they still have their wax seals slightly broken but easy to reattach and look to figure out what they are, Looking like for the audience Hive Badge(5) Although the wax is solid black with tiny red dots, And a dark brown top although it's hard to tell with the breakage point being that particular location, 3 Trio Badge, Trapped in the standard circle the brakes are always along The bright red dot in the center the fact that there is multiple colors of wax mixed in shows that these are expensive markings most of the time you get solid basic wax seals it was with single colors. 3 Wave Badge Only flipped outside down possibly all in a dark brown wax the ridges being hard to tell. The final three looks as just like the plant badge again solid green and wax no distinguishing markings beyond the fact that the outline imprint. The nine letters look like that they've had water damage probably from being written on ships? The other five were basic fabric paper with a bit of animal hide design.

“I'll take these to the Guild Hall later to figure out what they reference?” Remarked Zack putting them in her bag. Maya walks over to console her client. “It's okay if it makes you feel it better we are well I can donate for a resurrection?” Looking over towards Zach and Symu, Zach gave a slight shrug. “Don't make promises that we shouldn't keep.” Symu Replied with a stinging look. “no, its ok. She already had it in her claws that she would not be used as a subject for eternal life at this cost of some one else's. Besides you might need your spares later although it's going to be hard to make the Spare's work for you they are more for the other.” Stopping and lightly meditating on the rituals at hands.

“Right let's formulate a plan for an attack when we get into the next area since those will be on our end for a proper surprise.” Maya thinking of her strategy. As Zach and Miste were taking lessons from each other real quick passing some minor notes. “Well if we condense both my holy water and Misty's fog ability we can flood several of the rooms with the holy energy for a while. But there's a lot more work to causeway black mold to exist than just water and moisture damage right?”

“ Maybe we should investigate some of the other rooms then?” Zach remark opening up the door to the bedroom the master one. “Ok that sounds like a good start at least that should cause some weakening and also clean up some of the mold in the area, bathing on using a wish but if we rely on it too much...” Remarks Maya now slightly lost in thought. Miste answered with a quick counter, : “We shouldn't use a high level item like that for fragile ideas of skipping battles especially for your goal remember it cannot steal so it's going to have some key rules in play to make it where even using it to enhance our victories might come problematic.”

“You're right besides we're probably going to need to save it for a better idea for a stronger situation.” Maya remarked. “Besides we also probably need to make it where we can take shortcuts back and forth here's from our new home to the guild, I mean it's a day's walk half of the good quest will be gone if we do it and we will not be allowed to have a guild room if we have a actual residence.”Symu Remarking because the guild has limited space they probably need it for new adventures who just starting out. “Yeah, I'll probably should make that wish because, we don't want them also to figure out that we have this powerful item. We can make it look like my spells enhanced beyond normal reach chins like it took me a while to cast it? Maybe gathering some fake ingredients to make it look like it's more believable after all, we don't want actual competent fighters to take us on.”Responded Miste while looking at Zach.

“You mean actual thieves, who are not having a moral compass.” Zach said looking around in the wardrobe area to check for any clothes that might have been the sign of bringing in the mold and found a small guild logo with the mysterious initials on them and quickly pocketed it. Meanwhile Maya shouts. “I really hope my stuff isn't turning, Oh wait that's not me?” Zach turns to see the dark black trail pouring from the above the bedroom on the master bed. The entire team looks around that spot to see a big huge black dot droplets of black goo pouring onto the bed. The goop creeping towards other areas forming cracks in veins. “The Observatory is right above there?” Notes Kathy while placing down a dark blue rod right underneath it from her bag it was small.

“Good idea a special surprise attack.” Maya remarks as she places another one of the rods this time on the bed that is a bright red one that she found on the ground floor. “Well our client needs to unleash the mist so she's got to go up there as well as Misty so that leaves the three of us to be the ones to decide who stays here and who goes up there to help them out.” Remarked Zach. Zac throws Blade, Maya throws ax, & Symu Also drops a blade. “Should we go another round or something else zachy?” Fluttering her eyes and giving those sexy turns but with the extra jiggles of both her belly and her gut now showing off the fact that all that liquor has actually started to p00l.

“Which one of us can throw a fireball.” Zach remarked causing her the grumble it wasn't working ah so Zach was going to be the one to set off everything underneath the floor.

As the four headed torch the upper floor slowly but surely walking up the tower walk way the strategy was clear they were going to open up with the mists so they had the two water casters in front. Maya leaving a trail of reddish slime with a slight hint of gold. vampiric nature fighting with the green. Followed by the fiery wielding monk give warrior. Kathy is the first one to start unleashing her mist through the many holes in her Dick! With a little bit of mist coming off of Miste and being pushed away ye also with her water controlling powers. They could hear the screams and groggles of the creature not sure what was the creature made out of? The only clue Zach was going to be given when to activate the flames it's enlightening was when the spot that was dark black was going to glow bright Red!

“Is there anything else we need to know about the observatory area?” Asked Maya before she was about to open the door. “Only that's not actually out in the open but you might feel like it is it's a glass dome, very expensive.” Remarked Kathy. Maya was now back to being striking green, As she was walking into the mist.

Meanwhile Zach in the master bedroom, Notice is the glob above the master bed starts to get a little bigger and looks like it's turning into a droplet. "Okay it just probably is a simple slime it can't but..." As three large appendages fall out of the small bumpish orb extremely bony legs in a large meaty piece of flesh. "FUCK!" Zach quickly scrambles into her pockets pulling out the last two daggers she has left in her pockets and throws them at the statue of weaponry that she set on the bed it before running out of the room!

The stinging smell of holy water was flowing into Maya's nose her eyes coated with slight watery green ooze was matching the same green ooze covering her blade with a blinded swing she could feel her blade bouncing off against the gelatinous body of the creature there are two acids mixing and slashing upon each other she bounced backwards a little bit the creature was letting out a screech in a moan. Symu Managed to land a flurry of blows including with her swollen flaming Cock! But the heavy moisture in the air made her flames feel weak. As the creature was now summoning a quick shield to defend itself with one arm the mist fog still filling up the room they could barely see the creature with still a shadowy blob hard to tell which parts of it was undead and which parts of it was just the blob itself.

As the slime forms a blade it's other hand! making arm grow and stretch and look sharp! Symu Feels a small slash across your stomach. With a quick reaction still coating her hands with flames Placing her open palm upon the chest instead of the slime creature quickly slams with its shield With a bit of a wince she unleashed a flaming fireball from her palm. In a conical wave of flames dissipating from the mist and fog of water. Making the room very hot and muggy but if it wasn't for its holy effect the fog would cause the worstness of the mold to get bigger and stronger instead it was actually fighting it like it was a strong cleaning solution the fumes getting stronger and stronger. "Holy this is sticky and sticky too!" She said taking a leap backwards let's get some distance the shield that the creature was wielding had shattered and parts of its armor was already, it flaked off and burnt.

"Sammy are you still good?" Remarked Maya noticing the slight bruise upon the arm that was normally yellow but now was starting to show signs of slightly turning purplish. "It's only a scratch." She remarked with a bit of a giggle. As the creature was trying to make another hole to escape its legs seeping into the ground trying to get out of the Mist filled room. "Girls get ready to make another trail that goes down to the next floor. Don't want Zach to have to take this thing by itself!" She shouted barking another order while getting ready to swing with her Black blade that she develops pulling out from her arm! And using your other blade to double her striking actions! "Come on I'm your only opponent!" Using her dueling taunt.

Its body was trying to unleash spores but the misty fog was destroying it disinfecting all the spores that was leaking from its body as it was trying to spew out black smoke! Maya jiggled her other 'blade' Keep focus in taunting with more actions while getting ready to attack again, While also slamming its black blade upon the shield bouncing off as the slime creature generated a new shield of a glob and glob? The fog was peeling away pieces of the slimy body, More bone and flesh slowly showing.

As the creature slowly developed a large swollen belly of slime forming across its body trying to heal itself while also generating some more goop. As the giant blob gets hit hard existing into the mist shrinking down immensely. "I hope the girls can keep it up." Remarked Maya. "Honestly, I wish way I could switch with Misty right now so that way we could have someone doing some actual damage or maybe Zach should be Up here." As she proceeded to do a dive kick directly into the slime kicking into its ribs, ribs and then bouncing back. "Yeah but you're doing pretty good with your martial arts maybe you should switch to being a martial artist fighter instead of a magecaster?" Maya remarking King on the fight.

“And what leave all the magic to Misty?” “I heard that O-hi Zach!” As Miste gave her bev a reply back. As Maya's body starts jiggling and jingling Moving down to our gut and then her body explodes along with a series of ice green daggers Maya moves around behind the slimy figure as the daggers slice through the body as well as Maya herself as the slimy goop and reforms. “Okay, I might need to reclassify what, I am now too?” She said slightly woozy as Zach was now entering into the battle! Shooting webbing from her Tits, Latching onto the target and then slinging herself forward with a strong kick. “Well I'm sticking to my roguish styles although those spiders might make me very close to a ranger at times but I don't think I have that fashion sense.”

Just as a slimy creature try to move some parts of its body a spider bursting out of its chest it's mandible leaking with seeping with acidly spitting poison it's multiple finger stick stick hairy pinchers of legs piercing through and climbing out the rib cage! “Let's hope your wish didn't cause this much of a change Up to your metabolism too Zack?” We marked Maya slightly giggling. As the Black Blob completely dissolved leaving just bones freshly clean bones of a humanoid most likely a regular human maybe slightly larger maybe a small giant roughly the close to Symu's height.

“Well I guess I should finish off the spider.” Remarked Maya She said thrusting her 'blade' into the spider's head the Lightning striking straight through its body. As Zach went over and cut out the spider silk webbing and started absorbing it back into her chest. [FF] As the other two run in as well still covered in the lacing fog. “OK, we probably need to keep all of our wishes down to a minimum setup so that way they're not noticed. Because obviously people will start to come after us if we have a high level artifact like this.” Remarked Miste getting ready to clear off some of the room.

“Yeah let's start getting the rest of the house filled up with this affected source beak? I guess I know what my first wish is going to be hand me the bottle.” Said Kathy as the group hesitated. “Okay how about one of you guys make a wish that uses me in it then?” Miste gave a slight devious smile. “Ok.” Taking the bottle away from Zach who still had it last, And taking a big drink. “I WISH Kathy's holy fountain would keep going until the rise of the Morning sun!” Kathy's Dick Was pulsating all of its many holes spewing and the tip spring forth like a fountain her eyes rolled as she moaned and groaned as the floor began to get sticky. “Look I know this is going to be an awkward question but where's the chamber pots?” Zach Asked And Kathy responded “one is the library, two Stored in the wardrobe room downstairs?” that she fell backwards laying in her own goop. As the other three split up to take care of other things. Leaving Maya upstairs.

Zach was the first one to reach the one stored in the library and notice that it was very full and possibly one of the other sources of the mold having to take it downstairs and still hold it the other two also noticed that and proceeded to go down to the ground floor just as the trails of the liquid was pouring through the secret passageways and the floor of the stairway.

Upon reaching to large the ground level while Zach was now heading towards the outhouse which was in the backyard which looked like it was the only place besides the possible armory shred that existed for the guards it had a small single bedroom, two dig hole pots. And now a series of gardening tools where normally probably a collection of weaponry was going to be mounted.

And being armed with a standard woodcutter's ax.

After cleaning and disposing of the collections of their bodies the growls of their stomachs were starting to concur it was still moonlight. Zach was reluctantly probably going to have to do some quick hunting none of them were proficiently skilled in cooking hopefully they could run into certain key animals choices although Zach wouldn't argue against eating maybe wolves, Heck with the right skills you can make a giant spider taste good.

“Oh hi girls?” Remark Zach as the other two were now starting to look a little envious now they were starting to become the small ones. “Well if you finish uh percolating and Sam maybe yours will get bigger.” Zach feeling the demonic aura around her. “And let's go check and see how the kitchen is doing and see if there's anything we can salvage.” The three nodded heading back into the back door now since there was no big huge massive fighting. They didn't have to take their time while navigating the house what would normally take maybe hours to navigate through was now taking minutes, Reaching up towards the kitchen.

As they checked in the pantry inside the kitchen which was a big huge stone room with some stones shelving when they were walking up they noticed the big huge massive support pillars in the back it gives the house these were stone pillars as well and built with signs of being there back when it was just a mere fort they did notice that the servants quarters they've kind of feel like one of those whose barracks it was an uncommon for people to build the barracks a slightly higher location and so that way you could have two guards run straight up to the firing ranges while having one guard run downstairs immediately to escort people through the guarding station also detour is a lot of smaller Threats monsters. Even giant spiders warily will climb up certain surfaces.

“I kind of pictured the Pantry, was going to be bare but, I didn't expect it to be this bare?”
Remarked Zach giving a wave of her hand suggesting that she'll take the next swag of a wish. “Okay just remember to be careful with your wording.” Remarked both of the girls as Miste handed over the bottle. Zach was using her free hand doing the talking motion while drinking a little bit from the bottle before she put the bottle down on one of the shelves. “ I Wish, I had a couple of boars in the pantry.”As Zach's once flat belly started to swell and also her already f's slowly changing to GG! And then a gushing of water coming out from beneath her as she fell to the ground screaming and Miste remarked. “What did I just say!!!”

As Zach fell to the ground the weight of the belly crushing. Her eyes screwed up and she was screaming in pain traveling up the rafters. “We need to get Kathy, she's a nun she can take care of it oh wait.” Miste just remembered she kind of set up this 'spell' to cause problems already. “You're just lucky, I'm here I'll handle this! You don't you tend to learn a few things when you grow up in the place.” Symu Giving her gigantic hands ready to pull out and lifting both sets of baggages out of the way. “ OH LOOOOOCCKKKKCCCYKKKYYY!” Zach exclaimed in pain. As the first full grown bore came sliding out its tusks bearing with blood almost on instinct a punch straight through the skull was delivered with flaming force as the brains were pouring out and then with a quick grab as another one was getting ready to come flying out. “Get this one on the burner and get ready to start cooking, uuuuuhh when she stops we're going to have lunch?” Symu Said trying to signals Miste to get out of here as her jaw was dropped.

Meanwhile Maya was opening up the secret passageway that was developed by the slimy creature and also opening up the staircase a bit wider test facilitate the flow of the current white holy 'honey'! “Well, I'm going to investigate what that awful scream of blood curling yelling was about.” Kathy trying to get up but slipping and sliding. Maya quickly wearing over the help. “No you can stay here, I heal a little bit.” Quickly dragging her over to being laying right next to laying against one of the walls. And deciding to jump down the secret passageway because it was closer landing on to the nice soft bed now covered in sticky goop that wasn't a black and poisonous. Leaving the bedroom she was slowly trying to think okay what are they going to do the next day they have to send a party to do the collection they have to send Kathy so no matter what.

“Well let's see we have to figure out the strategy.” Hearing the bizarre exclaim of pain from Zach coming from the pantry. “Okay, I think that's The God of thieves, I can't remember where is it goddess? no jeez I wonder how much my brain is going to be messed up from that wish?” She remarked walking into the library the trail was already cleaning up some of the messes when she opened up the doorway the small tidal wave of the white honey leaked onto the floor.

Two hours later and four bores, Zach was purposely moved out of the pantry not sure what accidental conditions that they've added to that wish she still looked like she had a big plump belly and being split into by giving birth to four P200 of meat and flesh and muscle. Was left of her outfit was already torn to shreds and stretched beyond belief, Zach still feeling too groggy to even comment. Maya's standing over with a bit of a slicing motions over several of the dead carcasses now that they had to sleigh.

Eventually Kathy did join them in a nice meal in the dining area still spewing in if it wasn't for the table she would have been smacking herself in the face constantly they were eating and feasting and making sure not to drink anymore of the wishing liquid right now debating on strategies and arguing over suggestions. Zach's mine barely coming too And they all had a bit of a couple of strange little awkward jokes passing the time with different comical moments. Oh and yes Zach's incoherent scream was for Loki the goddess of thievery and crookery, Master of lies deception and fog & fire, The Lord of poisons and masters of vaccines.

“Ok so the strategy is this at first light when Kathy stops. Misty and I will go we'll drop her off, Since we don't want to take forever Misty and I will take thee potion bottle you two will finish cleaning Up the place.” Maya fishing up the planning strategy session. “Misty & Kathy after you two finished taking care of the paperwork on the actual quest and I will finish taking care of the paperwork of us completing it find a location to make a gateway from the town to the Observatory? on the top floor of this building. I believe that's the best choice to make our entrance and exit back to town and to here! it's high up it's a big round room so if we do get a surprise encounter we can at least take care of it.” Going into basic details.

“And what are you going to do when they're going to DO, obvious question of why are you completely green?” Remarked Miste. “Well I could just state that it was a slow active spell from the dungeon. Obviously they're going to look for a high level person to ask probably another slime or jelly?” Replied Maya already figuring out a way how to set up at least one of the 5 cover stories that there were going to have to develop later after all they cannot let people figure out that they have a mystical bottle that contains the ability to make wishes that could alter the fabric of reality. And wording is extremely key. “And people wonder why we have to do so much pressure coverage.” Remarked Miste and her struggling to just deal with the fact that oh great another a wizard did it.

“Well I better get stern coating downstairs.” Remarked Kathy pushing back and then smack right in the face thankful she hadn't put in her plugins again! Gently moving it as she was now spraying all over her furry gown. Also lightly coating some of the leftover meat with the unique 'honey'. “Well I'll, get my wish real quick beforehand and make sure all those books are not damaged by the stickies.” Symu Remarked grabbing the bottle and walking up to the library. The floor was covered in sticky goop several other books obviously were going to be covered in sticky damages as she carefully looked over several letters which were also very sticky now but not just sticky with the holiness some of them were still generating some of the black stuff too like the mold was part of a curse?

Quickly getting a sheet paper and writing down the brochures before burning the originals. Then looking down at her overstuffed belly and placing the bother onto the table debating on what to wish for to make sure that she wouldn't suffer similar fates we'll also cleansing these books very very careful to think about the wording.

“ I Wish That the flames in this room shall not destroy any books and restore them from any dark spells or incantations but still have the notes and diagrams from whatever castings they have made?" After placing down the bottle feeling like she was about to burst again. Then picking up the third brochure that was laying on the table it was still covered in the black mold she didn't do a quick sketch on that one because it was hard to read as she proceeded to do a slight flame with her hand the flame dounced around and scorched the mold off but the page itself was ok. And quickly started reading the brochure of moldy bog.

"Ok, now let's see if, I can do this with one of the other books?" She said waving her hand over when the books still covered in flames as she went towards one that was obviously very very sticky not only was the pages now dry but not coated in the sticky smell sitting in now the room filling up with steam as she slapped her big belly. It was a martial artist book detailing some unique ranged attacks around fire and lightning. "I'll see what, I can do tomorrow morning on that one." She muttered just as Maya came up stairs. "Kathy says she's gonna sleep downstairs until the sunrise so we're offered to sleep in her bed for a while. But once this is done she's taking her bed back." Looking slightly surprised she was expecting her friend to gone up at least a couple of sizes yawned the belly. "Right I'll start work on trying to carefully distribute some steam. I'll leave you to clean, Up! the master bedroom."

The next morning. The party of three were settling up. Symu Belly fat was starting to seep into other areas making her hips wider and she did finally go up one size now being a small E. Kathy was slowly finishing putting back in her spikes I notice she's gotten a little bit longer as well not as much as she would have liked just gone from 13 to 14 inches but still better than nothing still not long enough for her to just use it as a mace or chain or a whip. Kathy also made sure she had a good collection of coins and also some of the gemstones to sell so that way she can make the proper payments. As the group went off to take care of the last set of businesses.

The end of this arc of the story. Depending on the comments remarks and reviews will determine if this continues. Hopefully we'll see more chaters of this but you never know the deadline is January feel free to throw in your own choices for adventures. Who knows maybe one day you might get sucked into this world.
