

Karus struggled against his bonds, his arms bound behind his back and his legs shackled together. His fur was matted from his little brawl earlier. He had been out partying when he got on the wrong side of a large grizzly woman. He had gotten in her face and threatened her but much to his surprise the bear overpowered him and threw him on the ground, planting her large ass on him to hold him down while she had a few other people tie him up. He looked between his legs and saw his cock standing erect, his knot throbbing.

“Stupid brain, stop it, we need to get out of here.” He had been alone for hours now. When they brought him in they sat him down and left, the only other thing in the room was a large T.V. He turned and saw the woman walk in, her fat belly jiggled, and her large breasts bounced as she walked. She walked by without even looking at him and stood in front of him, her large ass in clear view. She sat down hard and knocked the air out of Karus. She wiggled her ass on his lap, it being over twice as wide as he was. He groaned and felt his cock throb as she ground her ass against him. She turned and had a shocked look for a moment before smiling at him. Her voice was deep and sultry.

“Oh, this is where we left you, I almost forgot about you.” She moved her hips side to side, causing Karus to whimper. She stood up and turned to face him, noticing his cock leaking, she ran a finger down his shaft causing him to tremble. She reached into her pocket and pulled out a piece of blue gum. “I was planning to use this on you when I found you, lucky me. Do you know what this is?” Karus watched her wave the gum in front of his face, he did recognize it, at least he thought he did. He had heard of an illegal blue gum going around but the effects were different in every story so he didn’t know what to believe.

“Yeah, that’s the illegal W gum right?” The grizzly smiled and patted his head.

“Good boy.” He tried to hide his face as he felt his cheeks flush red. He turned back, his eyes fierce.

“I’m not eating it; you can’t make me.” She only laughed, she could tell he was fighting against himself and not her.

“Oh, is that so?” She leaned in close, and he could feel her breath on his neck. “Be a good boy and open up.” His body trembled and his cock throbbed again, against his mind screaming for him to disobey he opened his mouth and took the gum. He began to chew, trying to keep the angry look on his face to hide his real feelings.

“See I knew you were a good boy, now we wait.”

---

Karus was chewing for a few minutes, the flavor of the gum wasn't bad, it was a very powerful blueberry flavor. He heard the grizzly laugh and looked up at her.

“Its starting.” She pointed to his belly, and he looked down, his fur was taking on a deep blue, and it was spreading across his body, he saw it make its way down his legs and up towards his face. He saw it creep over the top of his snout and envelope his paws.

“Is that it, you make me blue.” She laughed again and it made him feel uneasy.

“No, that's just step one, of three. Step two should start any second now.” Karus felt a pressure in his stomach and doubled over, he looked down and saw his stomach starting to swell. His belly grew and grew, eventually making contact with his thighs. As it reached this size he felt the pressure begin to travel to other areas. He saw his thighs swelling out and felt his wrists filling what little space remain between them and his restraints. Eventually his thighs grew so big they were forced apart and the pressure became too much they snapped the shackles on his ankle, the ropes binding his arms followed suit. As his arms were let go they sprung to his sides, so full they could barely bend. He managed to rock himself forward and get himself standing. He began to waddle slowly, trying desperately to escape. The grizzly merely laughed as his body sloshed with juice. His midsection was rounding out and beginning to absorb his extremities. Each step became harder and harder until eventually his legs were so heavy he couldn't lift them. His body had grown out to his knees and elbows and didn't appear to be slowing down.

“When does it stop?” He waved what remained of his fat arms, feeling them jiggle and hearing the sloshing it caused.

“It depends, some people get really big, others not so much. I think you still have a ways to go.” He felt her run her hands along his sides as he swelled, his body was so sensitive. “So big, poor boy cant even move anymore.” Karus whimpered and felt his cock start leaking again. His swelling stopped as he neared 8 feet wide. His body was tight and full, his paws had been pulled into divots and he could only flail them uselessly. His head had sunken too, robbing him of the ability to speak. The only part still sticking out of him was his engorged cock and balls, dripping with need against his wishes. He felt the grizzly's claw press lightly against his body making him moan as loudly as he could. "Well someone's all full aren't they? Don't worry, stage two is done, now we go to stage three." Karus flapped his hands again, what more could she do. He wanted to be scared but was finding it harder and harder to fight back what he was feeling. He closed his eyes, waiting to feel whatever came next but felt nothing for several minutes. When he opened his eyes everything around him was huge, including the grizzly, and it was all still growing. No! he was shrinking. His eye line was even to her fuzzy navel and going lower and lower. The shrinking finally stopped as her got level with her thighs and that was when he noticed the large bulge in her shorts. She stepped over to him and started to roll him back to the couch.

"Perfect, I'm glad step three went off without a hitch. You see sometimes the person shrinks but not the juice and well as you can imagine, it makes quite a mess." Karus moaned; he was leaving a blue trail behind him as he was rolled along. She stopped in front of the couch and stepped over him, bending over to fish between the cushions. Her large ass looked massive to him now, it was bigger than he was. He began to worry she would sit on him but that changed rapidly. He wanted her to sit on him, he wanted her to squish him. She turned to look at the helpless blueberry wolf as he moaned and a small bit of blue cum shot out of his cock. She sat on the couch and rolled him close, leaving him laying on his back and staring at the ceiling. She threw her feet up and let them fall on the helpless wolf. She shifted her paws, causing him to slosh around.

“I knew you would make a perfect footrest, you’re just what I needed.” Karus lay there panting; he was completely gone now. He had given in to his desires and wanted nothing more than to be used. He felt something fuzzy around his cock and it took him a moment to realize what was happening. She had his cock between her toes and was rubbing him slowly. He balled his juice filled fingers as much as he could as he felt the pressure rise, he cock throbbed and shot cum like a geyser. His round body and her fuzzy paws were coated in his blue cum. His cock didn’t go down though, and she kept stroking it, keeping small amounts of cum leaking out constantly but he could feel the building of another massive load already.

“Now my favorite show has a 24-hour marathon on today and I need to be comfy, so you just lay there and be quiet so I can watch my show.” He fought to hold back his whimpering and moaning as another gout of cum shot out. The grizzly smiled and sat back to watch her T.V.

“Good boy.”