

As the panic was clouding Anna's judgment, she decided to finish the green potion. As she did so, it felt like her whole body was on fire. As she felt like her body was burning to a crisp, her skin colour started changing. What had been a fair complexion started turning purple, horns started sprouting from her head, her hair started turning white, wings and a tail also began to appear on her. Once all that was done, a different kind of fire started burning inside her, less of a literal one and more of a lustful one. As she felt it bubbling in her, her breasts, butt and thighs bubbled outwards. Her breasts reaching beach balls sizes while her ass was not far behind and her thighs not only didn't a gap anymore, but bulged out of her frame in a cartoonish way. As the transformation finished, the pink liquid from the remaining potion and the soup caught her eye.
