Chapter one{Not really but this is how the series goes}

We open up with Roman Torchwick entourage with four goons wearing business suits of dark black and wearing red sunglasses and tinted hats also dark brown one of the goons is currently missing an arm golden hair,And currently also in bear form,The two in the back has White hair in a ponytail,Other one was black with A ponytail both low right Covers style,The final one was a slightly bigger better bruiser clearly more showing signs that this one was a human. Walking over to the shop known as dust Till dawn one of the big signature franchise dust shops ohh so carrying a good chunk of tech and variety things for like Maintenance.

Already in the shop was 1 Ruby Rose wearing her headphones and arousing the magazine rack ignoring the huntresses monthly but going towards weapon only desires carefully trying to ignore what was on the cover. Not hearing when the bell rang and the group was walking in Romans dialogue was hard to understand as their dialogue was kept secret by the fact that Rudy's headphones were blaring she'd even hear anything. The one that was white haired walked over to miss rose tapping on the headphones as she pulled them down and said. "Are you robbing me and the store?" The one that's has white hair which is actually Weiss,Being snarky and sarcastic which is not a good call. "That depends are you going to run away and cower and fear."

Ruby pulled out her signature weapon Crescent rose flipped it into its scythe mode Using the non sharp part of the blade to knock Weiss out the window shattering the glass and knocking her into the street everyone immediately started evacuating the area,Average people shouting. "Get the huntresses!"Weiss giving up to her feet And pulling out her rapier,As the click on her rapier unleashed a small Fleck of dust as she quickly created a lift underneath Ruby just as she came out to get ready to start the fight doing gravity crush but of course Ruby was easily able to withstand it because you know she generates that on a regular basis.

Roman just put her hand out and stopped the rest of the group. "Look this is a routine case we're not going to get involved and causing trouble if she gets arrested it's her own damn fault. I'm not here for the cash I'm here for the equipment that's all I'm not even here for the dust and this is a dust shop. Now lady things have kind of changed I need you to also make a new arm for my friend here what's your name Goldie." The bear turned and responded. "You just said it." Roman just started laughing. "What the next thing you're going to tell me is your last name is locks it is isn't it." As the headphone music stopped playing in the background creating the awkward silence.

The other one who is clearly Blake immediately ran outside and try to stop what was going on let the fight was starting to get a little already into the section of out of hand. Both of them were now clearly displaying their full semblance aura covered head to toe in their slimy goop, their chests pulsating and smaller. Ruby knocked down to C, And Weiss being middling still at a bee because she has not fully recovered from the incident! With the train which was about two days ago and there are things she was going to the school for was to improve her recovery time. As she was unleashing more of the dust stored in her blade she barely had any refueling so this made it even worse Ruby was actually packing a full cartridge. Dodging easily Weiss's fireballs as well as several gravity glyph not really doing much Weiss was sticking to her standard enhancement 1 not balancing out for a variety of powerful other glyph as she could only memorize 2 at the time she had written down her teleportation glyph is extremely expensive costly and requires 2 key dusts that she does not carry regularly well actually right now she's carrying a good chunk thanks to being next to Blake a lot more but the other ingredient she doesn't she barely had enough to pull it off for the train incident.

“Why won't you go down!” Weiss remarked as they landed onto the roof of a nearby building. “But this is so much fun.” Remarked Ruby pulling into her sniper mode firing a few shots when a Pink glyph-ed appeared in front of them it had slightly different insignia, Landing in front of the two girls just as Blake showed up with a couple of clones to try to stop it which was also a bit of a problem was now the huntress known as Glenda also known as Glenda the witch Of the northern winds! Ruby immediately stopped and turned and said. “You're a huntress can I have your autograph!”

Jump up to the prison cell. Glenda was talking to Ruby. “Do you have any idea how much trouble you are in! if it wasn't for your mother's great example of history, I would have expelled you! But the Had mistress has particular interest in you.” Ruby's sad pouty face, she was also wondering if what was going on with the other two girls that were also arrested at the same time with her. As head mistress Ozpin walked into the room. With a box of cookies! “That will be all Glenda, I swear this body will be an early grave.” She remarked as she placed the box of cookies down on the table line saying that only implies that your legend will live longer than you for only one reason. Ruby eagerly ate the cookies as fast as she could stuffing her face.

“Silver eyes are extremely rare and useful those are one of the few reasons why you are not expelled.” Ozpin remarked. Ruby gave a slight nod not wanting to dig deeply into this. “As punishment you will pay for the repairs from the window just as long as the other two are also going to pay for any damages to the rest of the street.” Ruby was about to make a statement like how can I afford this yeah yeah. But her mouth was full of cookies, Tits We're also slowly growing back to their original size of a matching E, Like the cookies were helping her recover faster. “And to help pay for this you will be doing community service! if you get in trouble again you're going to be watched by second years! Ohh and your sister is also on this list of helping out and thanks to this I Don't have to throw you in the team training exercise.” Ruby blinked for a second when she heard that part she skipped the team building ceremony.

“Your new team members are Blake belladonna, Weiss Sieben, Of course your sister Yang have fun becoming friends with them I will still have to figure out which one of you will be leader though so you will be going through the course you just not have to do the usual stuff of the course. That includes not having to find your teammates because you'll all be starting that course together.” Ozpin responding with a bit of a tone in her greenish suit and her grayish hair with a slight snickering remark. Ruby took a big gulp. “Ohh and to help start the chain of working together you're going to be spending a night in the same cell minus your sister she doesn't have that.” As the two guards came walking into the room Ozpin smiled and left.

Blake was shaking in the corner nervous as heck. As Weiss was walking back and forth and turn to see Ruby coming into their cell. “High teammates.” She said with a nervous reply as the credits began to roll with Weiss saying so many swear words that we cannot keep track!

End of C:one

opening credits: Opening gardens part one

We start in the middle of the airship the news broadcasts going on Team RWBY listening to the news To see if they actually made it on the news. “Last night we finally received the information from the stolen train incident detailed reports show now the footage of the train being attacked by two white Fang soldiers” {pictures a torsos, And Panther.} Blake readjusting her ribbon upon seeing the photos “This well known terrorism group, {Blake about to try to react on that one} who has been fighting for more territorial control, Appeared in the mad Queen's war known as the red queen who was Mistral. current red queen who killed the first consort of the previous red queen, And help with the overthrow was also so top general of the terrorist group when it was part of the military of mistral. Fighting for equal rights for Faunus. The red queen will be creating a response to this as ending this situation this will be a day to remember that...” The news broadcast was instantly cut off as the screens shifted to show Glenda.

“All students please go to your lockers and retrieve your basic equipment that we had you store before entering onto the airship the rest of your luggage will be arriving shortly to the Academy be sure to wear the arm bands that are located inside your designated lockers this will allow you to find out who your teammates will be in the entrance exam, we have made sure to make them random for exception of one team they have been wearing their art bands since the beginning have fun team red! I know I will be watching!” All the students looked at team RWBY wearing the red arm bands. As they all quickly head over to the secondary compartment of the airship containing their lockers and their weaponry.

Yang “Yay, I'm on my team with my little baby sister.” Slightly through gritted teeth as she carefully pulled out her gauntlets as well as a small backpack containing some of her basic needs. Ruby smiling. “I know isn't it great and I get to have two best friends!” Wrapping her arms around Blake and Weiss if looks could kill! she would have been successful at murdering Ruby right now. “You have a better chance of climbing the social ladder of Atlas, than being my friend?” Ruby turned to Blake he and said “Is that hard?” Blake shrugged her shoulders. “Only if you're a faunus?” Weiss couldn't help but not on that one. As the other contestants/students Putting on their arm bands as well as Grabbing their weaponry and they're little emergency backpacks or I should say carry ONS.

A blonde headed girl with tattered white armor short bald cut walked over to another group a pink haired warrior lady followed by a Long pony tailed dark hair lanky and more feminine built and the world renowned legendary Pyrrha Nikos! “Hey we're all wearing the yellow armband looks like we're teammates, Hi I'm Joan.” The pink muscular lady. “Nora and this is my buddy and pal, Ren.” Which now she could see that Ren had a tiny spec of pink in that black main like a small streak with the green outfit and the pink cliffs. “And I'm sure our lovely warrior lady has no need to introduce herself.” Joan gave a slight blink looking at Pyrrha. “Why?” Nora went into an epic rant about cereal boxes this! “Top athlete of Mistral, Isn't you know Beastie. Which you know it's kind of rare when technically that's the side of the Kingdom where you're the minority. And the ones with the gorgeous fur and nice coats and.”

“Do I need to get the bottle of water again.” Remarked Ren, With a slight snark. “Ha ha ha, But seriously what do you live in the outskirts.” Joan remarks “yes With my six other sisters and we rarely got to have a cereal box survive long enough for me to probably memorize it what was on it if we're going by that far back also I don't think I would recognize her from like when we were six.” Pyrrha Gave a hearty laugh and agreed “Also I think you're the only one Nora who still eats cereal with licenses.” Not noticing the hungry eyes of Weiss staring at her! here with Blake giving us a slight jab in the ribs.

“You have 5 minutes! to return to the main loading area if you do not, I will consider you and your entire team expelled! that will be all!” The voice on the intercom which was obviously still Glenda being still snarky and very very stern. Multiple teams were now rushing back into the main corridor it was strange that there was no seats for sitting in the dirigible you just walked around and lounged and now everybody was carrying their backpacks and their weaponry. As a small slit underneath them slowly began to pull away and open. “What's happening.” One Clown wearing outfit girl responded. “Excuse me, I didn't pack a parachute uh what's going on!!” As all the teams we're now dropped into the middle of a forest falling from possibly highly dangerous feats!

Ruby: “Quick, everyone get up to me!” Yang grabbed on to her sister and dragging both Weiss and Blake in the quick grab with her other arm as Ruby used her semblance to turn them all into flowery petals giving us light landing onto the ground as they Pooped back into their usual selves. “OK, that was weird?” Weiss remarked just as Rudy's scroll began to ring {Total absolution}

Meanwhile with team JNPR! Joan scroll was ringing Pyrrha Was silently vibrating, As they all pulled out their scrolls there's the ones that were selected as team leaders with the exception of one team GENP, Which was currently with team STEN, Which was currently being led by a shark faunus. Glendale was on the screen making observations “Seriously did any of you Violets! Recently had your scroll changed or upgraded that could be a problem? we just have the tower, we don't actually control the whole phone system grid.” The bear with the prosthetic hand gave a slight nod and gestured to her prosthetic hand. “OK uh this is extremely rare it never really happens uh OK I will just call you right now.” Goldie's arm proceeded to ring and she pulled up the holographic image on from a display on her arm. “Good now I'm going to do a quick check to see if there's no other awkward scenarios loose, so those who already have leaders do not answer your Scrolls.” With a dull luge of different ringtones unleashed No new answers. “Strange this rarely ever happens.”

Nora was giving Jonah high 5 Saying congratulations on being a leader, Meanwhile they could hear Weiss complaining about the fact that why is Ruby leader. Glenda proceeding to answer the question. “Those who are selected as leader are those who have been experienced with outdoor activities with the highest score, Among your team! Now for the challenge of your final entrance exam, Also your entry test actually because you've already passed ! For the most part, All teams have three days to reach the beacon statue in the middle of the Plaza if you do not arrive within those three days we will send out students from the second years, To go retrieve you in another three days, we have cameras monitoring all over the area to give you guys scores and grades! This will determine which classes you need to excel in and which ones you don't, if we do not need to send the rescue team that's good you're on main team lists. If we need to send a rescue team you are.” Everyone who is a team leader answered with the words expelled.

Ozpin walking in on the call. “No, you are placed in the reserve list encased is other team members decide to drop out, for reasons unknown or usually detailed. This is to evaluate what we can help you work on as well as to improve your team dynamics, when you are older and more mature. And leave my mentorship, you will most likely be on solo missions. but it is wise to prepare yourself for team building exercises for large scale situations may arise. But for all its purposes yes your team will be disbanded. Any questions before we turn off the call.”

“What if we encounter a grim?” Responded the emerald hair colored girl with dark skin. “Highly doubtful, we have this forced scoured multiple times. By the third years but if you do run do not engage even if you do manage to defeat a powerful grim, while this will give you high marks there's a high possibility that you will need a replacement team member and we can't guarantee that you'll get one this year!" Goldie made gestures yours so signal the rest of her team just as the call ended the biggest question was answered.

JNPR: Joan quickly pulled out the map setting on her scroll which is looking a bit less detailed than usual with a tiny little oz this logo showing up saying if we purposely change some of the data to make this harder have a nice day! it was Glenda's idea. "Well at least they gave us the rough direction north for us probably different directions for some of the other team. And thank you for the quick save I didn't realize we were falling that hard." Thanking Pyrrha for the rescue. "No problem not everyone has a semblance design for combat." She replied with Joan slightly blinking in with a bit of nervous. "Although it was strange that you didn't even bother to activate your aura." Joan now really blushing.

Nora quickly grabbed Ren and with a sparking remark saying. "I am totally starving let's go get some food 1st and then, we can talk and make a map! come you can help me hunt." Ren giving a bit of a side eye but using their semblance to feel the emotional energy giving a slight coat around the head and neck and probably a little bit of the chest when being yanked. "You haven't unlocked your aura have you." Joan with a bit of nervousness replied "Six other sisters in the room kind of changes things and camping is not exactly the best scenario for private time." Pyrrha Smart with a bit of a smile. "Do you want me to help you unlock it? I could start with the chest. if it makes you feel better?" Joan gave a slight gulp!

Pyrrha, First undid the straps on the chest plate it of the armor. Then using her spear to slit open the shirt and bra right off careful not to actually do injuries. Placing her hands upon the chest of Joan and slowly massaging while pushing her to the ground. "Are you sure it's a good idea to do it right here?" She responded with a nervous and slightly exhilarated voice. Her perky seas starting getting jiggled and massaged especially around Nipples, a little long. "The sooner we unlock your aura the better." As she placed her mouth upon one and carefully nibbling and then stretching it back and forth using the force like a rubber band. Joan's 6in Dick Bumped into Pyrrha's With only the pants separating there's from touching. As she pulled back one last time and let go with her mouth the loud slap and the Moaning of Joan! Nipples Start gushing the gold, All over her chest. Pyrrha: "Good and I see you're also starting to release from downstairs as well?" Seeing a bit of a stain appear upon the pants.

As two green shots went over her head! Pyrrha Was about to shout something when she heard the loud roar of a raging Beowulf! Right behind her. "FUCK!"

Opening gardens Part 2:

"No one knows where the grim came from! Some say it was a gift from the fallen dark God the God of destruction, some say it was a gift of retaliation from the God of creation. There are those who are godless who believe they are just remnants from the creation of the demonstration of the moon. All is known is that they are generated from these mysterious black pools! And they leave barely any remains left behind if you're lucky you find the bones but that's only if you also are strong against the older ones young-lings don't leave anything behind." As a slashing mechanical claw coated in gold was destroying parts of the force cutting away. The emerald green hair nervously responded. "So does that answer your question penny?" As the gingered hair in overalls Partnered up with a skirt that was green and equally fairly gave a slight nod. Emerald noticed that the girl looked like she had a lot more prosthetic than most.

The lower half of Penney's legs were bright white, Instead of boots or shoes she was wearing metallic coatings that made it look like she had high heels! Emerald had to blink a couple of seconds because she could see that Penney's chest was changing colors from the opening top that couldn't be right. "How far are we and does anyone have any abilities to sense the grim." She said to the bear who was revealed to be Goldy Locks. "I Smell about 3 trails that way is a Beowulf which shouldn't be here I would say it's a young Ling which is not too hard for somebody of our skill level to challenge. I also smell an Ursa yeah we're not going anywhere near that spot. Neo quick use your semblance to give us a cover fire now." The girl with strawberry and brown heterochromia hair and eyes, Pulled out her umbrella as a coating of her ore poured upon on top of it then she opened it up just to give a spray all over the area reflecting the sky and making several areas of the trees reflect around it. Flying overhead was a nevermore not a normal one it was close to evolving.

Meanwhile with team Rwby. : "Too bad we're just group of humans, I hear faunus can actually smell grim Or use other senses if they don't have the gift of certain types of Semblances." Both Weiss and Blake were slightly nervous they could actually pick up a little bit of the sense but neither one of them are masters of registering the smells of different grim. Well actually Weiss has some minor training in it although she's only more recognizable for one particular breed Boarbatusk. They're extremely common to hunt in Atlas especially if you are joining the royal hunts. Yang gave a slight chuckle. "I'm still wondering how my little sister beat me in that score? Or did you happen to remember every time you gave yourself food poisoning on our hunting trips."

Back with JNPR. Pyrrha Was using her semblance To manipulate the two Shields! To protect her and Joan as they were both trying to get their actual weapons out and ready to fight it was a lot easier for naturally her to do that because you know magnetic abilities and spear but when your sword is placed inside the shield it gets a little bit challenging. "Ren what's your symbol.." Before she could finish saying she got a good test of how strong her aura was placed upon her chest no slash marks or scars from the Beowulf's claws slamming into her, try and retrieve her sword. Pyrrha Was trying to pull out the blade out of the shield with help but it was almost like the sword was absorbing her semblance? She was actually pouring more and more energy to just maneuver Jones shield.

"I'm a sensor type, Mine allows me to enhance my vision to read emotions as well several of my other senses is to feel the differences within people's bodies and body languages, I can also use it to manipulate on recognizing the movement and actions of a grim. Hence why, I could sense that we were about to be attacked. Honestly let me do the tanking." She running into the battlefield, Firing a few more shots it's along the side and now taking the aggression of the large Beowulf there was no bigger than they were but it was actually still a threat. Nora transformed her giant hammer into its Gatling gun state, Getting on to the other side just as John managed to grab her shield and pull out her sword which was now coated in a deep green. "That's weird the blades supposed to be yellow when charged? Or is it common for the aura to be the same in families?"

They shrugged as Pyrrha was looking a little bit smaller than everybody else. Between using so much of our semblances basic energy and coating herself to give herself a defensive armor because she did take off a little bit of her own things were getting challenging as Nora unleashed a barrage of her Gatling lightning! "Say, hello to my little friend! Her name Magnhild!" Technically her weapon was a three transformation Type the ability to switch from Gatling to grenade launcher to hammer granted the size of its hammer is quite large on its length and reach often classified as a great molar. As Joan was swinging it wildly she was not as skilled and trained with her blade as they were hoping for.

Another team walked by their little commotion and slightly looked at them, Lead by a brunette with a similar outfit to Joan on the armor different code of arms on the chest plate. Shaking their heads and immediately went in the opposite direction no way where they are going to get involved in this fight. Little did they know which direction that they were heading was going to lead them into a different fight a much more dangerous one.

Pyrrha Recalling her spear back to her hand, Then causing it to transform into its rifle state jumping onto her shield and using the last bit of her semblance to levitate a little bit higher into one of the trees pulling out one black dust charge. "Stand back." They all nodded as they backed away just as she fired one gravity shot paralyzing and basically being a chain onto the Beowulf! Joan with a slight high jump slamming the sword right into the skull killing the Beowulf. "OK, everybody all right." The group nodded, her rifle was suffering from major damage Level 9 shells were extremely expensive costly and dangerous to fire dust shells were often given a grade between 1 to 9. Depending on how refined the dust was generated and the semblance there was partnered up with level nines were often around 2,000 Gil. "Yeah that was worth about two years of my salary from that cereal endorsement."

The Burnett team just ran into the Ursa Major it was huge its claws were as big as a car it had bolts and spikes sticking out of around its neck even like it was being used for something else. The silver haired member of the team was using their semblance to create wind currents to fly on a surfboard or like weapon The short bald cut one was firing arrows but they were doing nothing bouncing off of its thick hide as it was lumbering towards them. Team GENP Showed up chasing after penny who was arriving at the area her arms quickly shifted into blades giving quick slashes and cuts it's along the back of the Ursa barely even noticing her. "OK, team we gotta save that other team it's going to be great points." Remark the one with emerald hair. Goldie turned to her and said. "Are you sure altruism is a good statement? to deal with then again we have a crazy girl who's entire goal is to kill these things maybe we shouldn't ask questions about this, I really hate being nominated leader now!"

The one called Neo, Simply nodded and suggested that in her own unique sign language that she would cover on evacuating the opposing team while the two heavy hitters should be focusing on Delivering damage. "Yeah, Emerald what is your semblance by the way." The one with Emerald hair responded. "Mental illusions, I think Grimm are vulnerable to them." The one that was surfing on the sky-board landed right next to them. "Card's not going to like this, Don't let her see that you're being she's being saved by a bear while being fighting a bear." Emerald gave off a scary face aura with her green glimmering. "I don't care about, Your team's ego! I have a mission for my queen, I mean for my friend! And that requires getting to be the top student we need to complete this mission! I don't care if you guys are stuck in this forest missed and get expelled!" "My name is Skye thank you." As the surfboard turned into a giant clay-more slashed at the back of the bear to get some more attention which again did nothing actually the board broke.

"This is a carbine tendon weapon it is it classified as one of the strongest materials generated requesting for stronger ammunition." Everybody immediately looked at penny as her arms switched from blades to a freaking bazooka. "Permission granted thank you commander oz." As orange Level 3 dust was fired with explosive calibrations, This actually caught the attention of the Ursa Goldy shifted her arm into a battle axes, And did a few swings it's pumping her aura into the blade.

Cards Mace exploded a bit more than usual breaking its handle the one with the bow shifted it to 2 twin daggers each with dust lined in certain areas green and yellow respectively doing some quick slashing the last one in the sword was shifted into a short barrel gun firing some quick shots and some also lightning which we're bouncing off easily the bear was now turning its attention towards the more combat oriented team away from the rookie team supposedly. Well technically a robot girl is more tempting things somehow probably because she has high velocity Ballistics.

Neo was doing multiple signs trying to get the attention of team CRDL. "What is it lady we're busy fighting." She signed my team will take care of it please come with me if you wish to live. "Look stop giving me strange hand signals and tell me what you wanna talk about." The one with the dual daggers carefully tapped on the shoulder and responded. "She did she's using sign language." Card turned and responded "Look I don't understand the whole hand is signs what do you mean." The other two just immediately grabbed cardigan and just carried her away following Neo's directions! "Hey I can still fight just because the Mace broke into three different pieces, my mom is gonna kill me when she finds out." As Goldie proceeded to do one quick slash, is cutting off the first arm of the giant Ursa! It was a long hard hacking motion with her axes

"OK, that cut was not just right and things are spinning now this is not good my semblance is really starting to kick in, in its negative side." Goldys semblance was threes her first strike has to be not good but too short there are other strike has to be too strong and causes recoil damage insure herself her final one has to be just right doing the equal amount of damage to deal serious harm without doing counter damage to herself she has to follow the exact rules every time. As the sparks were starting to spark from her arm. Emerald was using her semblance to make something extremely enticing sing for the Ursa to keep itself from going towards anyone that was panicking.

"Request to switch to gravity mode... Request has been lost in transmission turning to request team leader instead Goldy, may I switch to gravity mode?" She replied. "Stop asking permission and start doing what you need to do, I trust your instincts OK!" Penney's eyes started to change a little bit in color from combat mode to her free willing personality starting to kick in. "Really, You saying I should have FFFFFFFFUUUUUUUUUUUUUUN!!" Looking a little confused but responded with a bit of a nod as did emerald. "OK!" Instead the chest switching to what looked like to be a dark murky color it was going to a bubbly pink then to a darkish plasma purple. "Did you know that gravity dust can actually even accelerate the frequency of light even to a variety of information size essentially I can vaporize things please stand back." As Penney's mouth slowly began to open and the spark of purple lightning was about to be generated.

Meanwhile back with team Rwby. : "Really, I wonder how awkward it is to have those apartments inside the giant statue." As they heard a giant explosion and saw a mushroom cloud of purple energy as the sky was screaming in pain flames upon the flaming sky as fire was being put out. "And that's someone who just learned you do not mix gravity with lightning Dust when lightning goes too fast the sky is set on fire." Remarked Weiss, Ruby snapped her fingers. "Darn it Yang is fire based not lightning based."

Ending credits Day 2 & Dust and Nevermores

Team Rwby was sitting in a makeshift shelter Since none of them obviously didn't think oh I will need a tent. Weiss was complaining that she was now down to even more of her reserves there's being gone she had no more fire, She used up the last of her earth to make the tent, And while gravity and ice are extremely useful in combat not as great as some of their other varieties. "Yang, I need to milk you." Weiss said looking at all of her capsules. Yang responded with a callous joke. "OK, but I'm an expensive date.” “Not like that! I need to at least recover some of my reserves and here are fire right?” Yang gave a slight nod as she started taking off her top with the first part being her jacket.

“Good since I don't know how low grade your stuff that's going to be I'm going to just have to start working on it and calculating in for a one grade and just seeing if I can upgrade it later.” She said getting out her tools for her dust crafting thankfully she always kept them in a safe secure spot even if she lost her backpack she wouldn't lose too many of her big key tools. “Excuse me I'm kind of strong and I have extreme recovery time, I'm not weak.” She didn't really pay attention that much on that subject, but! Weiss was determined to realize this was a teachable moment. “You really don't know anything about dust do you?”

Ruby, Yang, and surprisingly Blake also nodded! This shocked Weiss because she thought Blake would have actually known a lot about it considering her extracurricular activities. “I expected this from the Hicks but really.” Thankfully Ruby and Yang didn't really get the jest of Atlas humor. “OK dusts are graded by their purity level, The weaker the semblance the stronger the dust but dust cannot be created without a semblance hence the paradox of fact Mary is if you want really strong dust you need to find people with really weak semblances and vice versa. So there are tricks to finding ways of making stronger dust with people who have strong semblances this is called refinery.” Handing Yang a small bottle. Yang non supplant only just squeeze and unloaded from her chest in front of everybody including her sister which was something that Slightly grossed Blake but Weiss was just nonchalant about it something about Atlas probably. Especially after hearing how the social ladder system worked the best way the climate was to marry it.

“Dust itself comes in a variety of colors, Red, Blue, Yellow, Green, Dark Orange, Bright Orange, Pale Green, Cyan, Light Blue, Dark Blue, Blue, Black/Purple, and White, Which bounces out the aura system that we all generate. While the dust comes in a variety of colors they usually have a variance ratios as well as our auras which are a side effect of our bodies producing energy. Our auras generate the categorization of the energy and frequency. And then we go blah blah blah blah blah blah blah blah blah!” As Ruby's eyes began to spin. Having a light smack on the table. “Earth dust is usually a dark brown closer to a orange color scheme fire is of course closer to a red color scheme. This determines the semblance of purity level already by default Viva of its many varieties of branches the five elemental circle pendant is how we determine the degrees of impurities versus the grades of confinement,” Pulling out a small medallion showing off the differences between the five key points. The 'Four' corners, Of the coin in the center of it with a hole. “Technically my dust is not actually white it's more like a extremely pale blue that registers as white to the average eye.”

Yang handed the bottle containing her liquids over To Weiss who was tying a string into the coin. “This coin is made out of several materials each unit's variety of circles go pointers then merge together there and has this small hole allowing me to attach a string this is known as the void hole this will already tell me things that we should already know like that you're in the Enhancer, And judging from your color you're closer to a light orange which means you might switch to electrical once in a while if you're not careful hmm.” Placing the coin into the mixture as stated the coin did spin in a particular rotation without any prompting. “OK so I can't really make too much fire from you. But, I can bounce out and recover my lightning which I'm also out.” Getting out the casings things to craft bullets luckily she's been picking up her spare casings that were empty the save scenarios.

“To determine which one is your counterbalance choices, While by default our semblances can be calculated into its standard rules of certain key types Enhancers, {Yang } transmitters [Ruby], Emitters, Conjurers also known as summoners {Blake} Manipulators, And finally what I am a master all yet also none a specialist. Six organized types allow us to evaluate what type of subjects are there emitters are capable of disobeying and also altering the properties of energy Yang you could also shift to a meter without really any challenges but if you were trying to specialize in conjuring you would have a hard time same goes for Ruby although she could shift straight to manipulator but it would horribly weaken her current skill set.” As she finally pulled out the coin it was covered with a faint layer of yellow dust and shaking it into the first capsule. “This will take a while because I do not have with me a spin around which allows us to separate dust more efficiently.

“Why don't you use either Blake or mine uh gravity based dust to help accelerate the process of separating dust from each other or is there a certain rules against that?” Ruby actually asking a wise and intelligent technical question. Throughout the night Weiss was giving out information while they were taking shifts watching for monsters after seeing that giant explosion they weren't exactly sure what in the heck was that! that caused it so they had to hazard a guess that it could have been a new type of grim.

While the group did get a little bit of sleep they were now out walking towards their key destination after Ruby heard how Weiss could create a gateway it gave her a crazy idea on how they could get to beacon much faster and more on schedule so they started climbing one of the top pillars of the force is mountain region which was part of the old ruins of the original Kingdom. On the other side of the mountain/ruins JNPR Was climbing on that side. Nora and Weiss were both complaining how hungry they were in their parties Ren and Blake we're simultaneously offering food to try to keep their party member from getting too grumpy. Weiss. “But vegetables are...” Blake whispering in her ear. “You're not going to suspect anything if you like vegetables.” “Gross!” Which took Blake aback she dated is a non predator type before, Adam was always loving grass? Maybe it's the Atlas diet.

“But insects are A good source of protein and fuel and besides, I've seen you eat weirder stuff like our pancakes.” Ren, to Nora as she responded surprisingly at the same time, That why on the other Weiss was responding to Blake. “But hot sauce pancakes are delicious especially when you pour chocolate over them.” Simultaneously Joan and Ruby remarked “It's only a little bit farther then we can get a clear shot of seeing beacon.” Pyrrha & Yang. “Yeah it's not that much farther,And once we get there we can have a nice real meal.”

As they were running across the stone pillars bridges of the old Kingdom,Loud roar of the terrifying creature known as the Nevermore,A ridiculously huge grim bird! Spotted team Rwby! Weiss and Blake were the first ones to notice it spotting the creature and also picking up its scent! But, it was extremely pale only few sets of creatures can pick up the smell of a nevermore anyhow but this was huge enough to at least rattle the winds and feel the air, allowing the others to pick it up as well rather quickly!

JNPR Was coming across the other side noticing a cave structure. As they could hear small amounts of dust gunfire. “Seriously we can't use any of our gravity dust we need to use that much and also the fire dust you just collected yes, I know you mean it has to be in lightning mode right now but that's beside the point! I'm the only one with heavy artillery.” Rubies loud voice ringing in throughout The Cave the other voices were not coming out as clearly but probably because of the gunfire was actually loud enough to shatter those voices. “We need to go help them.” Remarked Joan quickly leading the team deep into The Cave not noticing what was hiding inside the ancient ruined caves.

Bagu Is a spider grim known for lurking in caves and grabbing those who are unfortunate to be looking in these areas often surrounding mysterious pools dragging hopeless victims into them and devouring them whole and making more grim along the way sometimes more of themselves others their types. Ren instantly dodged the first strike of webbing. "We have company." As the group got out their weaponry! Pyrrha Started firing her rifle, Using the fire dust! Firing a few shots into the face, Ren was also covering a few more shots with some lightning dust. "OK, Let's get out of The Cave and maybe we'll have a better chance." Stated Joan as they were running out of The Cave! Nora was the first one to spot what was going on with the giant bird.

Rudy's Crescent rose was naturally still in sniper rifle mode and gamble shroud was the second long range weapon which was really bad considering that one's a sub mini machine gun Which its active range was about a good 25 yards versus the 60 yards that Ruby has and even then the bird was actually able to dodge most of those shots it's because it was in a 30 range charge. "Seriously, OK guys you're going to need to upgrade your weapon of choice sis you're going to have to have a backup weapon or upgrade your weapon of choice, if we're going to be dealing with creatures that are at decently annoying ranges!" Ruby being slightly annoyed that she's the only one that can do stuff she loves combat but doing all the work is not fun anymore.

Nora Quickly shifted her weapon to its hammer form stepped onto the top pulled the trigger and started flying towards the bird! the entire team Rwby immediately stopped, With their mouths hanging open. "Have fun with me you giant Turkey! Before I gobble you up!" Flipping her hammer around and turning a small dial onto it it's handle. Just before raising its head and slamming it onto the bird's scalp.

"Crazy girl just gave me a plan! Weiss can you make a gravity speed tunnel?" Weiss turned to Ruby as her head grew 3 sizes that time! "How many times do I have to tell you we need all the gravity dust for the scheme to work, I can't drain both you and Blake dry you need some fuel for your half of the portal on the other end!" Ruby turned and said "OK, can you make a wind tunnel system and fire like a rocket because you have two shells right here." Joan turned and said. "Make that 3 I'm going to regret this am I?" As Nora was tossed by a couple of feathers into a mountain sliding back down to the ground as the giant spider came through The Cave, flanked by of course Pyrrha and Ren!

"Of you keep your mouth shut and we'll have a nice time this year." Weiss Remarked Grabbing a small piece of dust chalk there was a strange color. "The citric my half sister taught me don't breathe a word to this to Any one. Matter of fact only you two are allowed to go into the circle with me." Gesturing to both Blake and Ruby. "Don't worry sis I'll take care of the giant spider just like that time we found it in our shower and in the porta potty outside and that giant grim snake that we also found in that porta potty outside, we really need this investing in indoor bathroom." Yang remarked as she jumped over towards the snake and activated her gauntlets their firing range was basically 10 feet.

As the three girls stepped into the circle they disappeared. Inside the circle was a catalog of different dusts as well as a Very large jar that says cookies on it. Rows upon rows of dust characterize and listed. "Good my room hasn't been raided yet at least my secret room hasn't been spotted yet by now they're probably patrolling OK this is a big risk so we gotta grab all the wind dust from the storage room now and you stopped drilling at the secret stash of cookies!" Weiss remarked quickly grabbing some empty bags. Tossing them and gesturing to the corner.

As they were quickly loading up the bags Ruby notice there was a section full black dust. "Are you using these two or is there something about this room we should know." Blake was slightly blinking as well on that subject, the platinum blonde responded. "We're going to need two of those capsules to get back this is not actually my room or my stuff exactly it's more of a complicated vault basically we are stealing." she Wisely not to reveal how much money that they were stealing and worth of dust! "Let's just say the Schnee might be angry afterwards!" Blake quickly started scanning the levels of dust now when she was grading them making sure to only steal now at the level 9. While Ruby was actually panicking. "We're robbing the sea CEO of dust to dawn what are we in like the main storehouse or one that's close by?" "Well technically the circle that I made is a shortcut straight back to Atlas so I guess the main warehouse.!?!"

"Hey who's there?" Weiss quickly finishing up the exit portal and grabbing one of the level 9 shells was of both gravity and electrical. "Time to go." Grabbing both the girls tossing the shell and when they arrived back the spider was dead with a giant hole through its torso. Nora was unconscious, Ren was nursing a shoulder injury and Yang was basically showing off how good of a tank she was also June was showing off that she could be a decent tank with a shield! "OK launch your first shot and make it count because I don't think you could just launch the other two." Remarked Joan.

"OK, by the way if we ever need to go to Atlas we are not using that trip ever again because that is now going to be watched like a hawk." She said placing in three level nine wind capsules oops not realizing that they were level 9 when she created the three glyphs. "OK, Ruby you're up first!" As she placed her foot into the first glyph tunnel, just like a rocket she was flying! Actually shifting Crescent rose into its synth format, And managed to cut off the Nevermores left wing causing it to spin wildly! And she was still going and going heading straight to begin. "Crap Ruby doesn't have the circle with her to create the other half of the gate and that's too far away of a distance without me tasking my own supply, Blondie looks like you're still going to be fired." "My name is Joan and what do you mean."

Meanwhile Ruby was still flying towards the top of the beacon tower as she stabbed her synth blade right into it and still was going slicing into part of the tower thankfully Glenda noticed what was going on and quickly managed to stop Ruby using her own variety of powerful gravity dust spells her glyph was creating a small pocket Ruby found it very interesting that Glenda and Weiss had a couple of similar designs. "Are you Weiss's half sister?" "No, we might be though very distant cousins" As she placed Ruby in front of the statue showing the four founders of the schools, And the first rulers of each of the main kingdoms.

"Now interesting little trick?" Glenda responded looking slightly curious that Ruby then tactically stepped to the side as Joan covered in her aura slammed right into the statue nearly breaking the forgotten Queen the first Ruler of Vale. "Ice queen said you forgot this." Handy Ruby a piece of paper as she quickly fondled the try to put back on the head. "OK, I don't have any gravity dust that strong." Glenda looked at the piece of paper real quick grabbing it, she recognized the residual design! Turning to Ruby and Joan and gave us a bit of a smile. "Time for a lesson, But minor question do you know where dust comes from?" Ruby raised her hand exuberantly, Joan had no clue. "Good, dust comes from aura the stronger you are the weaker the dust is When it comes to being attuned with your semblance."

Joan looked down worried that her scheme might have just cost her a chance to be a hunter reluctantly remarking. "Right what if you don't have a semblance yet?" The good witch just chuckled "Don't worry you'll eventually unlock it! you only need to worry about that until, you're the second year then you'll probably be dead if you don't unlock it." Joan made a slight gulp as Glenda continued her lesson. "You know these six rules of semblances correct." Ruby explained. "A little bit uh Weiss gave a small lesson about dust making, She had an unusual coin with her." Glenda smiled as she unraveled pulled her belt revealing it wasn't a belt it was actually. "Ah yes a divining coin."

Glenda pulled out the coin in question only this one was slightly bigger than Weiss's obviously meant for a bigger set of glasses and stuff. “This coins divots are a lot larger, than probably hers since her coin is meant for dust manufacturing! Mine is more of a teaching tool. See these unusual markings of rivets it's it's where the metals were joined together.” Placing what was looked like to be a 2 foot long belt Of Her DICK! “For example I'm a manipulator, Mainly I'm technically a specialist but my specialist settings are more trained in manipulation which means I can only go up to a grade of five, is the highest. Let me guess miss Weiss is also a specialist. “ Gesturing to one part of the coin which was completely on the opposite end of rubies. “Yeah and I'm a transmitter what's your point wait we can alter our grades within ourselves, I thought that was only like capable with like the whole purity stuff?”

“Good to see that Weiss is very skilled at teaching, I guess I'll have to give her high Marks and give her a tougher challenge in the testing courses On dust.” Which made Ruby slightly nervous if Weiss found out she would not be very nice! “Good now stare intently at the coin picture your energy flowing from one dot down towards the center.” As Rudy's eyes were staring intently they started to glint brighter for a split second get when she was at the Center of the coin. “Good now move towards the manipulator resection it's the farthest away from you original setting so it'll make your grade much higher while you'll feel much weaker on using your semblance.” She did as she was told and when she activated her semblance tiny dust particles start floating but otherwise not that much she could barely lift anything this is how it felt to be having a weak semblance, no control, exhausting, Yet had the exhilarating!

Her aura was still dark and black but now it was darker almost like all light was gone within the area as she started unleashing it pouring it into the circle equals diagram with directions given by Glenda. “ Luckily I carry with me a couple of grades of lightning, I'll help you out with this little lesson .” Once the circle is complete it started to glow with a vibrant deep purple, First Nora and Ren came through the portal, Ren was still crushing her shoulder with a big huge feather in it And Nora had some blood coming down from her forehead. Two strange little pods came flying out of nowhere and quickly grabbed the two. “Off to the Infirmary, what happened !” Turning to Ruby as both Yang and Pyrrha For the next to show up. Pyrrha. “A nevermore and a giant spider and also the day before that we thought that Beowulf.” Glenda was even more furious than usual after hearing the story from team CRDL & GENP Fight with the Ursa and also how they've had to create some uh alternate solutions. They could hear muttering underneath Glenda's breath “damn homunculus.”

As Weiss and Blake dive through the portal instantly closed underneath them. “So that's why you little sneak.” Remarked Blake obviously the two were having a private conversation on the other side. “Guilty as charge but we cannot let the others oh wait uh that's something in between us, OK?” Glenda rolled her eyes. “You 4 head to the Infirmary get your injuries checked out then head to your dorms You TWO Come with me first both of you look like you don't have any injuries!” She said referring to both Weiss and Blake. Weiss was trying to fake limping but it was not working.

Emerald was looking on her scroll looking at a shadowy figure that was extremely large in the belly with a glowing red eye in the center of it. “You, look so gorgeous lady Cinder!” The voice coming from the scroll. “Yes, yes now tell us about the school? If you found where they're keeping our queen at ?” Emerald shook her head “No, and classes are going to be starting today! I took all day of the free day, And scouring most of the grounds with my team. But we are teamed up with a prototype weapon known as A homunculus. The team that we 'rescued' Got their minds wiped didn't know they could do that we almost got ours too.” Cinder smiled revealing her face into the screen a little bit more out of the light the flames irking from her shoulders she had vibrant tattoos. “I expected a lot from the witch since she's the descendant of our queen a very close one.” Finishing off with a dark laughter as the doors were begin to open emerald quickly hanged up on her goddess just as the rest of the team came walking in.

“And that's why you have to keep it in a small circle penny so if you're going to get someone to fill in for recovering your gravity, And flame dust in your unique way let us know and let us vet them.” Remarked Goldie As team leader and thankfully, Neo doesn't speak. “Gotcha also let's include win on that list of subjects.” As the girls were so quickly getting into their school uniforms! Emerald was already dressed in hers. With a pulsating ring on her Dick! Everyone with the exception of penny because she's mechanical also had to wear the rings. Penny did look a little pudgier than the rest of the group as well because of how much dust she was collecting and manufacturing.

“Once we get ready we gotta hit for breakfast and then we'll hit 4 class.” Goldie remarked as they were getting dressed. Cutting to team Rwby Also wearing their school uniforms the button shirts, The feminine short skirts and the color Blazers. Set to match with their auras. And they were allowed one accessory item from their original outfit collection Ruby of course went with her classic cloak, Blake went with her ribbon, Weiss was double layering, And of course Yang was wearing a bigger set of gloves. As they were sitting at the table at the cafeteria getting their nice meal. All the first years were wearing their school uniforms second years were given privileges to wear their standard outfits. And when the first years tried to pick on one of the second years did not go well, They were slightly confused on why they couldn't see any of the third years though.

“Excuse me why are you protecting this foolish fawn? Is it just because she's a team member.” The leader of team CFVY was pulling out, Machine gun aimed at directly at the leader and first year of team CRDL The slight tiny little remark. “Remember 3 things the little one, Your first year a freshman and I'm just one year away from joining the freshman hunt don't make me cashing that card now.” The reaction was essentially don't care mentioning what was the other two things. “OK!” “Coco we're not allowed to do this remember if you start shooting Up the cafeteria we might get put on suspension or worse Tudor duty again. “ With a bit of a shrug.

Blake was tempted to go up and beat the living daylight out of the squiggling coward but Weiss stopped her. “I think she learned his lesson to not mess, With the seniors! Besides we've already seen Glenda's office twice this year I don't want to make it a third and we just started it.” Blake gave a slight nod as she looked surprised that Weiss was eating roasted rabbit Stew. “What it's the signature recipe in Atlas. I know you are what you eat.” Giving a slight smirk like this was a joke that was very cruel and tasteless actually, but she thought it was a nice funny inside one!

A total of 6 teams were sitting in the First classroom. A rather large portly presenting male Teacher with His mustache. Was standing in front of several diagrams. “To day class we will be focusing on learning about the details and manufacturing of dust, Now before you remark and say why do I need to know this I'm a hunter just because it's my ammunition doesn't mean I need to know how to use it said or how to manufacture it. That would be wroooooonnnng! Sometimes you will be out in the field without access to supplies only being able to manufacture the dust that you naturally produce.”

Peter Port On the plaque of the teachers desk. “Now we've already supplied with several layers of aura in the cauldron sitting next to you your team is to make 3 rods of dust whatever grade is, OK with the exception of one team. Rwby, You need to make at least a level three grade. Now the semblance there is already stated to be fire as you can see with this nice glimmering red and we have the standard equipment for purifying and rectifying that you'll be bringing on field missions on regular occasions. Now watch as I write up the diagram formula for the process.” Port replied.

after that particular class the groups were walking out Weiss is looking extremely nift at Ruby. “Nice Weiss good Weiss!” “I’m not a wolf, I’m extremely angry right now and you are really testing the urge of me not to commute mutiny especially with the fact that you made that strange looking thing over my head in our room.” Ruby carefully pushed away Weiss. “But, bunk beds are cool!” Weiss pulled out her rapier and was getting ready to stab when the next professor showed up Club with green rims block the blade. “Weapons training is next class to they you all be learning history from yours truly. “Professor and doctor Bartholomew Oobleck” Said the glasses wearing woman wearing a nice bowler hat today. “ Now off to history class where, I will tell you the tales of wars and deaths!”

Several classes later. They were breaking for lunch in the cafeteria again. “OK, there history exam was nightmarish!” Remarked Ruby sounding exhausted, Yang was surprisingly chipper. “Why are you so happy Blondie, I know from your writing in that yours paper is probably going to have as many red marks as your sisters here.” Weiss feeling slightly nervous because only one of them she could reliably besides herself think was going to get a decent grade in that class and she's sleeping them with the one right now wasn't for the fact that her bed is now underneath the annoying idiot.

“Because I know that he's only testing us to see how much we need to learn for the next class at best those grades are just going to tell us which parts of us he's going to give worse test scores and plan the Lesson plan accordingly. And besides the weapons master was pretty nice too. Although I'm surprised we haven't seen Glenda yet.” Remarked Yang they just finished dealing with professor Heian Hepburn, Who taught them weapons maintenance And also suggested giving Yang and Weiss a backup weapon. Although she did teach Weiss a little trick on how to enhance her range.

“Yeah, by the way is it just me or have we been feeling a little stiff lately?” Blake remarking as she was trying to hide her raging hearts for the past several classes. “Come to think that since I have put on the ring on there it's just been really really hard lately, I thought it was just because it was sitting next to you all the time gorgeous, I just said that out loud ohh!” Yang was slightly giggling. “Well you still owe me a dinner date it maybe we can make it a nice threesome.” As both girls faces went bright red and went very throbbing. “Oh it's just a standard vibration set up in the ring, Our chest have been feeling tingly too if you haven't noticed that's probably because of the Covers it's supposed to make us increase our ratios of production.” Weiss's mouth dropped at ruby's statement. “What, I had pay attention.”

“Neo have you seen Emerald she went disappearing before lunch?” Neo slowly shook her head trying to keep herself calm in between each byte. “Should I go scouting for her commander.” Remarked penny just sitting there with a small drink. “No, I think she'll show up before we have to worry about it.” Just as the bell rang for them to head straight down to weapons training. Now the teams were being thinned from the original 6 to now being only three. Being filed into classrooms. GENP, RWBY, & JNPR. Standing in front of the good witch Glenda who was now dressed in her combat outfit no longer that flairy short dress but now a long ball gown with pink details in her right drew was a deep dark horse whip! But there was a small set of ridges within the small horse whip.

They were in the darker sections of the school. “Welcome students, I will be your instructor and combat to day. Now some of you do not have semblances yet and some of your semblances are not meant for combat but better skilled for hunting but as teams you must learn how to value your teammates Leaders 1st and then the conspiring letters into this circle so I made demographic which roles you should be best for?" Ruby, Joan, and, Goldie were all stepping into the circles. Joans circle naturally didn't show any readings. As Glenda moved around creating three more circles as the first three that Ruby, Joan, and Goldie, stepped into shifted colors. "Next." As Ruby and Joan quickly gone to their knees Goldie was shifting into combat formation her arm covered into an axes like shape.

Emerald looking quite nervous as she started walking Nora was pumped and Weiss was about to ask some very severe questions but it was stopped . "Don't worry miss Sieben?[With the look of knowing the truth.] I will gladly show you my Rune book,After you show me yours If you can't then show me the ones you can?"Weiss out audible gulp. First off the circle showed off that Nora was a emitter, emerald was manipulator,And of course Weiss was a specialist Before the circle was about to activate for its second-half Weiss could figure out now what was going on Goldie was enhancer just as she found herself standing in front of a large grim she quickly pulled out her blade trying to flex to activate her own semblance but she couldn't she couldn't even activate her aura it was like it was being blocked by ohh yeah the ring and the covers.

Glenda was standing now at the opposite end of the room Neo, Blake, & Pyrrha. We're next Neo Emitter,Blake Conjure,And finally a manipulator, Pyrrha! Again each of them acting slightly differently but each of them still pulling out their weaponry. Blake had to focus now she realized what was going on this was to test out and see how well you would do against a surprise attack and without you being able to access your standard skills. "Now before I generate your circles, I need to ask a few questions to penny in private." Glenda directing penny to a certain location only leaving one circle behind her. Yang shrugged and walked immediately into the circle felt the sensation of pointing out that she was of course and enhancer and then immediately was shifted into a battle against a grim it was the standard Beowulf probably because it was most common to encounter during the area.

Ren Using her semblance to figure out what was being talked about. "Are you sure you're not going to show off that you're actually an artificial creature." Penny: "Since I already activated my semblance there is a 95% chance that my semblance will override the semblance of my father registering in your circles and my aura is of course randomize so all I have to do is just pull up my father's aura which is a green, which I use regularly as is anyhow. It probably doesn't hurt matters that emerald is also extremely tasty." Glenda quickly remarked. "What do you mean emerald is extremely tasty?" " I Drink from her Penis." Being marked penny. Glenda gave a sigh as she made two more circles noticing that Yang was already doing her manipulative fighting the circles were acting like strange little floating panels as the group were fighting throughout the area keeping their MO from leaving the circles area but not reflecting damage upon them as if it was converting their weaponry into blanks.

As Penny asserted it showed that she was an emitter While conjurers can conjure physical objects that follow the rules of the universe emitters generate large amounts of energy and can also emit unique wavelengths and alter certain things, Like how Ren was also classified as one even though Rens semblance is sensing emotions,Which means she could admit her emotions into a form of energy but she couldn't manipulate another person's emotions versus a manipulator who could alter someone's actions and perceives.

Circles deactivated shortly after Pennies first attempt to get ready to unleash a giant attack. "Excellent work class, This also tells me which skills you'll be focusing on for the rest of the school semester. Rwby, Your entire team is built around surprisingly good healing factors you'll be in charge of rescue teams I'm going to have each of you focus on learning how to heal and recover people who have been attacked in grim incidences so just to improve your medical training and using your aura I'll give you unlocker tools for later purposes. JNPR Nora is the only one who's close enough to learning a healing capability and that's still far off. So until your team leader unlocks her semblance so that way I can properly evaluate which one of you can double as a healer! because I get a funny feeling that the one that I'm currently going to be training is more built like a tank, And Ren, you do have some support moves but I wouldn't rely on them."

Then Glenda walked over towards the other team leader Goldie. "Your enhancing ability has some negatives and some pros I can teach you on how to use that for healing but that condition of yours is complicated healing a person too much could cause vital organ failure healing them too little can also be dangerous in its own right we're going to have to figure out a way around your tiny glitch of the prose of threes might have to figure out a way how to evolve your later? Maybe shifting is a good idea for you to start early." Goldie responds "But I do already shift into bear form when I go into combat I kind of shift regularly." Glenda shook her head "I mean Semblance shifting, I gave a small crash course of that to Ruby Rose, And I might add she did quite beautifully on that part." As Glenda gave them the after school list of activities.

The early morning classes were classes that all teams had to attend as well as all team members the afternoon classes we're scheduled particularly for each team member and also for what they were specialty as there were three main classifications for there's certain students. Hunters there's are known as 3 archetypes: Searchers: Known for their healing and scouting abilities able to rescue people from large situations of grim attacks. Annihilators: Those who scour locations and eliminate large grim pools, They have to be extremely skilled and powerful Penny was designed to be an annihilator! And finally guard ships their job is to guard towns and cities from grimms more built on the fence than offense while it's not unheard of for someone with annihilation capabilities to become a gardener it is extremely unlikely more likely a searcher will become a gardener during scenarios.

Jumping to that night: Ruby was returning with Weiss, From a bookstore, Tukson's Book Trade. By Blake naturally but it was very late Weiss was giving Long time to learn from Glenda one of her symbols while also teaching Glenda the symbol that created her wormholes. "So you've been lying to us?" Ruby remarked trying to keep it secret but she was so ecstatic she snuck in it a little bit earlier when Glenda referred to weiss's last name being not the one that she's been going under but as a Schnee ! "Don't tell anyone, I will plant this sword straight up into your chest since you sleep on top of me." Gesturing to her rapier.

"White Fang uniforms!" She noticed all of a sudden as a group we're running torch the docks. Ruby nudged Weiss. "We can scout and investigate, get some extra credit. Then we can alert the remaining guard students, you know the ones that graduated and just stayed here." Ohh Weiss shrugged it was the only way how she could be sure that she could set up a method of keeping rudy's mouth shut!

Lunar dust and the doom of man

As they arrived at the docks. Weiss quickly Drawing a circle, Again with dust due to having her aura locked and stepped into the circle before pulling out her scroll. Ruby was slightly confused but decided to stick to watching what was going on at the docks. "Now be careful Ladies we need to make sure that none of this stuff is ever traced this is the first time we're attaching cybernetics to a grim. Crazy fire lady who's now extremely weird looking! Wants us to upgrade it we do that by the book and I want a bomb in that head." Ruby tapping her arm into the circle saying "Weiss wasn't that your boss, Hello aren't you going to answer me." Ruby turned her head not realizing that Weiss had developed a cone of silence. "Wait why is everything so quiet here I can't hear anything hey even the rain has stopped being noisy." "Sis this is the dumbest thing you've done since that wait come to think of it I didn't even realize it but yeah it was raining outside how is it that you had so quiet on your Weiss?" "Cone of silence now get the teachers to come here! Also, I'm starting to feel the throbbing a little bit more." She remarked quickly grabbing Ruby and dragging her down to the ground noticing that.

Roman was walking around the area her footsteps were completely silenced and her mouth was moving. Ruby said "Even with our auras locked we can still use our semblances well mine has some troubles how bad is yours?" "You see me drawing with all this chalk right?" "So you're pretty hindered. Let's see what we can do." Remarked Ruby as Weiss killed the circle. "Ah if it isn't snow queen and red I noticed you two didn't recognize what I was talking about I'm so used to people reading my lips. Now let's get started, I wonder how strong you two can handle your stuff." As Roman was starting to unleash a golden brown aura.

"What why is everything spending." Remarked Ruby as Weiss immediately started to throw up. Roman dashed with her cane out smacking Ruby in the face turning to Weiss and aiming the gun part of it, Right at her head. "Nothing personal Princess, Although something strange is going on with that little circle of yours so that might be the only reason, why I'm keeping you breathing I don't think you need your throat. "Moving the gun down a few inches and to the left and pulled the trigger flames scorched the right side of weiss's throat alive instinct she shifted to her hair form Ruby was shocked and quickly swiveled with her syth knocking Roman into the corner with the blunt in. "OK I forgot that some people can still react but you're no match for my drunken aura."

Ruby felt dizzy, Weiss was drawing a circle with her own blood. Quickly shifting her Crescent rose into its sniper rifle and shooting wildly. Then shifting it back into its sharp blade when she was dashing forward she activated her semblance turning her into the pedals and grabbing Weiss just as the thing started to glow. They fell into the water of the riverbank why she was shifting back into her human form just as they got far enough away. "You 3 search the bed , If you find them kill them and bring me their heads if not don't come, back because then I will melt your heads!"

About 1/2 hour later Yang and Blake arrived to pick up the two on the other side of the bank. Yang noticed the three goons that were standing there looking around the area she quickly ran over and punked out three shots into their faces non lethal shell launches of course but still enough to knock them out for a good couple of hours.

"Weiss are you OK?" Ask Blake trying to snap her out she opened her eyes and said "Yeah but I think Ruby saw something then again everything is still a little woozy like, I did some stupid stuff at daddy's parties." Blake had the hazard guess it's not unusual for some of the servant kids to probably accidentally drink some of the alcohol. But the fact that she said dare these parties made her think weird things then again you could have parties says servants and since steal some of the masters drinks.

“Sis are you OK?” Yang said picking up her sister from the water Bay she still looked like she had a couple blossoms on her torso . “I’ll be fine just need to squeeze and beauty pretty, Wait this is my sister Yang bring Wise so I could squeeze her fluffy?” She said in a drunken apparently she was still fully drunk. Pete was walking over with his Crossbow that was relatively nicely designed. “OK you 2 will be getting demerits but I’m glad to see you’re alive. I’ll call in a team later get you two out of here.” Pete bend over and Yang placed Ruby on his back. Both Blake and Yang picked up Weiss.

The next morning. Ruby's head was throbbing worse than her Balls! And Weiss was wearing a bandage around her neck and she was checking and she went up a cup size or two She thinks as our top was a lot tighter than usual. “OK, Definitely need coffee Oh my God my head.” As they opened their door to reveal Glenda, Ozpin, And the team that they saw fighting yesterday. “After your morning classes you 2 will be scouting around the area where you made that circle. Thank goodness you were smart enough to at least contact the rest of your team.” Remarked Glenda. Ozpin took off glasses, And stared intently into weiss's eyes. “Also you will be reporting to the medical wing during your first class. I’m sure your team can handle a minor history lesson on dust.”

In Pete's Dust class which everybody was now using their testicles as extra cushions for their now hard wooden chairs. “OK we can skip the long story about the origins of the two gods yada yada yada , This is not philosophy class this is dust class where we learn about dust. Now the origin is that when the queen lost her husband the last man and resurrected him with a female body using the stolen apples of souls, The gods became angry at each other and the two brothers battled the battle was so strong that the two blasted 1 into the moon shattering it upon the sky raining stone and death and the men who survived and the women who lived we're now at the new reign of the second round and the second round gained the powers that allow us to gain dust. Now there are some arguments that the moon dust is because of radiation others say it's because of other things religious etcetera we're not going to talk about that philosophy.”

Blake was so thankful that Weiss was missing this class because Weiss would probably be heavily arguing against talking about the gods. Considering that Atlas is known for its not being very religious even the faunus aren't really known to be worshipping in Atlas. “And that is the theory on why we have auras and dust, this is because of moon radiation landing onto the ground! Those who survived the apocalyptic winter and impact and the radiation that was laid waste across the land developed the auras and liquids around our bodies. In essence we are walking nuclear power plants and we are building Up that nuclear radiation, And increasing your load with every single time you're wearing those particular rings and patches. Don't worry we'll let you release at the end of the week after all we don't want anyone going nuclear explosion anytime soon just kidding nobody actually explodes.”

Pete let out a slight chuckling joke as everyone was starting to feel their throbbers! “Now to look over the radiation formula that will be determining the purification ratios.” As a cart was brought in with another round of different chemicals this time it was the basis for yellow dust. “Same grades as before only team Rwby you don't have to try to go for a grade 2. Sense you're missing your expert.” They all gave a slight sigh. “Oh and today you get to keep your shells. Because you'll be using them in target practice today.”

While everybody was out on target practice CFVY, &, Weiss, and Ruby, And a teacher known as Pinka Little. She was big and bouncy in the top and she was swinging her wrecking balls like nobody's business and if it wasn't for her signature weapon also kind of making it look like she had two sets of wrecking balls one pierced with nothing but spikes as she had dual maces. “So this is The Cave and this is the Mystic circle.” Pinka responded. Ruby gave a slight nod Weiss tried to activate the circle and it was not functioning which she kind of figured it was probably destroyed at the other end. “I see your circle doesn't work. Well to be on the safe side Velvet copy and destroy.” Velvet pulled out her camera took a picture of the circle and then her semblance poured out of her chest a deep golden white slowly shifting into a exact replica of weiss's blade and with a ferrent slash the circle was destroyed as it was sliced into 40 pieces in one swing. “Thank you Velvet, Fox & Yatsu, You two are with me we're checking to see if the pools here if so we destroy it if not we check for any remnants. I'm afraid we might be doing with a brood.”

Ruby quickly raised her hand. “That's right you're skipping grim class because of this OK a brood is when someone becomes Filled with grumblings, It's when they absorb an entire grim pool into their own body and then they start producing grim on their own. Some poor unfortunate souls get this done by accident others do it on purpose as a form of worship to the grim queen. If that is a case either way the unfortunate implication is that we must kill the person that has become a brood hopefully before they start giving birth if they do well there's a chance that they'll no longer stay A brood. But that will take a lot of dust to purify and depending if they have a semblance or not determines if they choose to stay which means if they do choose to stay one that means there are worshipper.”

The leader of team pronounced coffee, Coco Stood outside Watching the area velvet was also staying with them as well. Why they were sitting Ruby was playing around with her jiggling chest. “Geez my BOOBS are huge!” Ruby who gone from borderline double's E, To twin G's And looking at weiss's as well. “Oh by the way you still on my sister date. Maybe you should make good on that after all it wouldn't be a good business decision.” Weiss quickly ran Up towards Ruby pulling out her blade before it was stopped by Velvets copy of it. “Look just because you're worried about team flagger nization doesn't mean anything, If you have issues just deal with them. And also keep yourself in check you're starting to "heat up"! “ Which means velvet figured out already that Weiss was part rabbit probably because she could smell it. “Fine, we'll do it as a team thing. How about we make it Saturday.”

Ruby smiled. “Sounds good to me, Maybe I'll jab my blade in your sheep wink wink nudge nudge nice weiss nice weiss.” Ruby quickly shifting into her pedal form dodging a couple of swings of the blade. Weiss's big FAT DICK getting even thicker and bigger, Maybe pushing about 7 inches! “Hey uh do you know where the bird landed?” Remarked Coco. Weiss stopped and Ruby shrugged as she was going like several mph when she ripped off the wing probably wouldn't pay attention. “Yeah about down there.” Gesturing down to a deep dark crevice. Coco quickly unraveled her around 2 footer from around her pant leg. “Valve can you, you know with the camera and you know.” As velvet unraveled hers & Out of her boot. Place the two tipping and took a picture real quick with her camera. “OK, which one of us is going down I recommending you, boss.”

Coco nodded and grabbed on to her own junk while also shifting her handbag into its machine gun with this rotating barrels and carefully scaled down the side of the Cliff both Ruby and Weiss were amazed that it looked like velvet junk was getting longer and longer but there was also getting more bright and yellow. “I'm a conjurer anything that I take a picture with my camera I can use my semblance and it's to generate a copy of it or enhance its length and durability. When it's based off of the original my copies while not as durable as the actual original weapon I can utilize them more effectively and I can also switch to a different type I've mastered about 15 weapons so far of melee types and I think about 6 long range, I have to admit though I do enjoy using the bazooka. And I can also mimic a couple of grim based attacks as well.”

“Yeah the bird's gone I don't see any trail beyond a little bit of the bone mixture from a wing and some grim blood. And it's starting to evaporate so it's been a while.” As her voice was propelling up from the scroll.” Pinka Little,Ushered out the team just as Coco immediately jumped back up onto the field as if she never even went down the mountain side in the first place. “I know you've already checked for the bird it's gone isn't it.” Coco looked down. “It's OK I'm not angry that was a smart move that said you're still watching these two idiots and the rest of their team I say this week and weekend they're on clean up duty for the whole week.” As everybody immediately started griping and groaning.

“Well I had a date finally and she was hot damn it,” Remarked fox “Yeah, I know but you 3 aren't exactly a good relationship model.”Referring to her teammates.

Cutting to the school grounds deep in the catacombs. Target practice was over and emerald was walking down the catacombs and secretly Following her teammate penny who is also investigating the grounds which was weird. “No, signs of her commander. Will you be arriving shortly with your number one subordinate and will you be bringing my sister with you?” Emerald couldn't see or probably not at all here what who penny was talking with but that's probably because the girl has a builtin scroll in her head. “She still doesn't want to come OK, Is it because I'm not fleshy and she is fleshy. Oh no she can't get away I see. Well it's nice to know commander. Wait you're saying I can stop searching for right now is my mission suspended or ever been kicked off. Ohh that's good. OK wait you found what oh OK so my new mission is to watch, their head mistress gotcha. Form teams for extra admissions, yes I've already found some fueling stations. At the end of the week I will be allowed to refuel. My team is currently underneath locking.”

“Commander you know I can't produce my own fuel right now we're still trying to figure out a way around that problem.” Penny looking more and more sad. “Yes commander.” Her slightly thinned out body kneeling towards the ground. “Yes, I am alone commander. I don't sense anyone nearby.” Emerald watching intently trying to make sure that she kept her semblance Up, Her semblance allowed her to manipulate people's emotions and mental images it was a little bit harder to do it on penny but she could actually maintain it a little bit it was making it even harder because she had locks on her aura which was making things harder and throbbing her. As she turned behind the pillar noticing that penny was about to turn and look at her direction. “I will save power now by turning off heat vision.” Penny was now back to normal site mode. “OK commander I will maintain radio silence until you arrive in person with Lieutenant Schnee.

Emerald quickly ran into a certain direction just to make sure that penny wouldn't see her and make it look like that she just ran into her later scenario. Emerald realized she could not let penny find out what she was doing and she has to eliminate penny as a threat but how if penny ever caught on she would eliminate her and despite how ditzy the robot girl could be. She's not dumb enough to not notice certain details.

Ending credits

Grim lessons

As a team of hunters armed with weapons and we're investigating the warehouse. “Sorry, OZ but it looks like they've already cleaned out.” Founded a blue outfit wearing hunter wearing more like a military uniform. “Thank you, Pepper.”Ozpin's voice came from the scroll that she was holding. “But there seems to be some trace signs which means yes a brood is here.” “Yeah pink checked and yes there was a pool nearby near emerald forest it was drained dry. Get your team prepped and get better controls.” Pepper nodded and send out several hand signals a variety of teams of four were already unleashed the raid team was about six teams of four roughly equaling the same amount as a classroom.

Meanwhile a new hideout: A presenting masculine scientists wearing a brown overcoat. Roman and a very very pregnant looking cinder her breasts were swollen huge and leaking giant toxic goo with red tinges everywhere her pregnant belly blinking with a little large yellow eye over her belly button. “We almost lost our operation because of your incompetent fools!” She said blazing her hand. “Now relax I’m almost done with my first ever project they said I was mad, But I think the first ever grim weapon against grim is going to be an unique tool. Although we’re not testing out my weapon against other grim yet we’ll be testing them out against the hunters that used to hunt them.” Remarked the scientists brushing his tiny mustache. “Shut it madman. Look it’s not my fault that some my ex employees found their way back to the old place, I tried to eliminate them! I did tie up the loose ends, And you’re too little spies are still wandering around it’s not my fault that one of them got stuck on the wrong team! That was labby boy’s fault he only switched one of the team members.”

Cinder getting up from her chair walking with her giant belly and flapping down behind her was her swollen Balls! Sporting some dark veins and instead the hairs were now long vines of thorns and spikes. “I’m very tempted to turn You T’W’o both into broods, As I don’t think both of you would be very enjoying of it as much as I am. And Arthur did the right thing keeping them separate makes it harder for them to be suspected, I just wish! I had a secondary set of teens combining with yours! But you lost two rockets so I’m going to have to deal with that. Emerald has hit a dead end, Mercury is getting better.” As the eyeball was now pulsating with bulges and then her breasts started just frail with unusual goop coding around her arms instead of her usual bright red aura it was now dark black almost matching gravity but it wasn’t gravity it was still covered in flames toxic it wasn’t a normal black goop it had a slight glowing tinge. “I think, I’ll hit the prom.” Rubbing her belly trying to forecast when she was about to blow. The two laid out the audible gulp.

Afternoon still afternoon classes

Pinka little was teaching the class: “Today, their class we are going to go over a brood mother. It is one of the grim humanoid hybrids.” Pulling down the images is showing the digression of the few months that it takes from a normal humanoid to become a brood mother. Starting off with their large swollen pregnant belly turning into an eyeball and they’re swollen breasts, Then their testicles slowly turning into the vines and it’s known as the thorn Bush. These are things that happen during the first month slowly but surely causing their waist to expand and stretch. Emerald was studying the images across.

“The first month there’s a small chance that a person could be saved, As throughout the four weeks they will slowly shift and change each around the lower half of their body.” Then pulling another diagram that says month 2. “This is still in a possibility of savior but it’s now thinner the goal is still the same slice through the stomach, But now instead of justice using one type of dust known as electrical you also need to use fire and gravity all at least level 5 or higher the victim might survive the process.” As the skin starts to look pale white with veins of black goop, And the arms looking like giant claws, With the hip spread wide open, But the Pussy Is now completely sealed tied Up with vines and wrappings, In giant thornbushes everywhere. “Also you will have to start slicing if you haven’t uh completely enclaved in the entire area multiple orbs hopefully before they start bursting and generating smaller their protection grim that will emergency activate if threatened.”

Then she pulled down the diagram for month 3 which has the statement of saying point of no return now the breasts have multiplied scouring down the arms and legs, Or are those eyeballs with miniature bellies? The skin still pale white the eyes now engulfed with blackness and red voids it's within the main subject their body elongated and larger. "By this time frame they're as big as a house literally. If you find one this big they are beyond saving and it is a mercy to kill them if they do not desire it, if they did they have gone mad! They will start spraying and unleashing toxic goo the area requires you to release your aura as much as possible or you will risk possible infection." Emerald was slowly caressing herself being thankful that she was still entering the lockdown.

"Now I am not going to continue showing you the months for if you encounter someone at month 4 and higher at your skill levels you better run because you will die second years are told to flee if they encounter one at month 6 you are first years third years may have a chance to survive a battle with one that is at the point of birth so I will show you the point of birth only so that way if you ever encounter it don't even think about it." Grabbing multiple strings and pulling it down all the eyes have burst open grim crawling all over the body the pale white skin cackling in pain and laughter As if multiple eyes bursted black and red goo pouring from those locations the red clearly being listed as blood in the diagram. "If you happen to ever encounter this run don't bother and start fighting off the grim that have been unleashed and keep running because that town is dead if this happens within a town within a city at your skill level you will be lucky to survive this is a Stampede generator." Her eyes widened and smack down her mechanical leg, her arm flexing, Over to pull off the glove that she had on her other arm was fully metallic.

"What would happen to the person who was a generator out of curiosity?" Emerald ask the teacher responded. "Well if they didn't die from these sure insanity of the pain and see it as form of pleasure which would also drive them insane and possibly kill them they might live I don't know last time I countered one of these things I lost a arm and a leg as you can see and a teammate of mine practically lost His entire body now known as the tin man of Atlas." Weiss remarked "James Ironwood!" Pinka nodded. "Yes, And if it wasn't for our symbolizes we would probably be dead James is an enhancer, I'm a conjurer, I didn't know, I could conjure organs until that day!"

Jump to dates [8Friday]

Weiss was the first one to enter with her jacket open and that was really the only thing she was packing now wearing a purse on her side containing her book and some of her cash which she had very little on. "Watch, where you're sticking that thing Ruby." As the girls walked She Look Like had two Pull wreckers. "Nice Weiss, You're the one who suggested this would be a team date." As they walked into the restaurant known as Café Silvertorch. "Well this is the only place you can find my budget." As Ruby negotiated as they all finally got into the place. "But I thought you were very wealthy weissly?" Ruby still knowing the truth but not letting everybody else know but Blake countered with a good answer that still love her not being any of the wiser. "Well Weiss did run away so I'm guessing no funds it's kind of hard to access daddy's credit card when, Your father is currently probably sending out patrols of police."

Not revealing what she was really thinking was most likely she sold her into slavery. "Nah I think she would have been found out it when we got arrested." This shocked Weiss as she didn't think about that for a second. Then of course the yellow sister responded. "Well good thing your dad is probably not someone really high up or else they would have just sent the military." And now Weiss was deeply panicking as they were led to their table by a very busttie girl not as BUSSTTie as Themselves which were now pushing G's. "This way ladies, And don't worry they paid for it." Said lady as she gestured to team GenP {Pronounce Gentile}!

As they scooted in Blake responded slightly worried as they were all touching tips with the exception of one she didn't feel the tips of penny. Which the ginger green outfit was not as big as everybody else she was like immense seated. "So why did you call us over here?" Goldie reluctantly said. "OK, I feel like I can trust you girls! since we all have a bit of a secret history dealing with things right now. Well at least two out of the two but, I got a funny feeling! I can keep at least red and blonde in check." Staring at the three and instantly thinking too long, Too short, Red is just right. "Why is she staring at me like she's going to eat me and why is both of them doing that?" Remarked Ruby as both Goldie and Penny were staring like they were hungry like a wolf at little Red Riding Hood.

"You see a Penny has a slight problem." And then Yang just immediately blurted. "She's a robot girl without the ability to produce the stuff but she can generate her own semblance which is a little weird right." The group looked at her like that slow Camera pan. "Hey you pick up some detective skills. Let's see emerald Harry's green she defaults to green but that's not exactly always useful in certain situations I know goldies gold because we have similar stature although mine is more fiery right now, Silent but deadly is I think blue like Weiss I mean it's still white but I'm not sure which, I mean there's some that have unique orders that can shift to white that are just visible for the spectrum of our eyes." Neos giving a flirtatious look, But carefully wrote down on the tablet actually orange it's sand so hot that it naturally converts to glass. "OK, which means you you're down several flavors. So you wish to suckle us instead to balance it out."

Penny gave a slight nod she looked horribly drained like she was running on fumes. "Well uh Weiss this is your date plan is this, OK for the happy ending. Weiss remnant to Weiss come back down from the moon that is been shattered." Ruby waving her hand frantically in front of Weiss who is still in a panic lay frozen state as she just realized her sister may be showing with a Platoon. "Blake since she's interested in you maybe you should give a tight squeeze or two?" Blake gave us light squeeze of the melons as strange hoses popped up from in between them to vacuum up the small droplets of ice is called liquid penny's eyes glimmered and her chest started to show a slight tinge of blue. "Thank you that was delicious now how can I have more?" Weiss's coming back to remnant, Or more likely vale.

"Sure thing as long as you pay for our meals, I am extremely hungry right now." She replied slipping into her nervous hunger. "Penny will eat after you eat then and penny is not picky about which order to eat." Yang laughed. "Let's see, I guess this is what you call it eightsome! umm that sounds dirtier in even more ways than one." Emerald was feeling even more nervous. There was no way she could get away with anything with all these witnesses she was going to have to find a way how to develop a new plan.

After ordering a round of drinks and a couple of platters the girls started talking with each other over certain details Weiss still having panic attacks in her head but trying to keep them from going outside. "So, penny tell us about yourself?" Inquired Ruby, With her sister Yang bouncing off with a nice extra jab. "Yeah tell us why a sweet robot girl like yourself built from Atlas this is all we hear in Vale." Blake could see Weiss now having what could only be a sign of I have no mouth yet I must scream. And probably the only reason why she's not screaming is because she is devouring her plate.

"More Chocolate buns please." Weiss using her semblance to just move things around also demonstrating that the disk is very versatile when she can unleashed her aura a bit more regularly. "Mission is currently classified and suspended, Which means I can now just learn lessons here instead of having to focus on navigating the grounds." "So your mission isn't a hunt down and collect right?"

She inquired as the waitress was now set free from the mysterious circle that seemed to bind her to a spot for a split second. "No my mission was originally to locate and destroy and if necessary blow up all of Vale, A Kingdom war is suitable for stopping Armageddon according to the words of my commander. That was classified, I should not reveal that, I do not have the capabilities of mind wiping." Neo using the tablet responded 'What the FU(*)'

"Well considering that tactical explosion you did on our first day of training yeah, I could see you being actually able to do that." Remarked Goldie. "Well good thing the mission is suspended is it because someone higher rank is coming." Remarked why says another platter of Chocolate buns which will probably go straight to her buns and rims was placed upon their chests. "Actually yes although it will be a while it will be until the summer festival of the duels when one Lieutenant Winter Schnee and commander James ironwood will be attending." As the two solid steel forks immediately were broken both by Blake and Weiss. "Oh so those are your superior officers how nice, So are they showing up with a platoon or are they just going to tactically drop a bomb on us that's before the festival." Remarked Emerald really really trying to make a slight joke but also actually heavily trying to gather information.

"Neither as perfect the festival is only held with the top competing teams from each grade of class from each one of the four main Kingdom schools." As Ruby quickly placed her hands down and gave a quick yank on Weiss, Which Weiss reached marked. "Not now we're in a public place and this is not becoming." "Let's talk in private Wiisee bicy?" Gesturing to the bathroom. "I thought you were looking forward to that Octomom as you planned this one to be a foursome originally which is weird that you're willing to have fun with your sister in front but it's not unusual." "No this is more of a private conversation about things that we know that we you shouldn't let known." Weiss all of a sudden figured out what she meant thankfully Yang was more confused by the fact that there's another cool name I'm about having two teams colliding in multiple fund exertions.

"Yes, I guess it's nice to powder our noses we'll be right back." While showing off that she was actually a few inches taller than Ruby with those high heels but if you cut off the heels you would probably be actually in shorter. "Your sister is the second head of the military, Look I can keep this a secret for a while but when she shows up things are going to go down no matter what! you better tell Blake what's going on!" Weiss remarked. "After we get rid of the explosion in between our balls? Maybe on Monday where we can deal with things later, I want to have a good weekend." Ruby gave a sigh she was not liking being the adult in the room. "Sure we can lower 9 inches wait we're 9 inches now." Ruby looking down and noticing yeah they've grown and weiss's gotten a lot thicker too not enough to split people but maybe enough to make things stretch a little bit.

After more conversations than drinks and talks the girls walked back to their dorm.

Ruby with a slight chuckle. "Weiss this is spring, Fall is several Months away you don't need to store for the winter, oh wait that's coming." Weiss grabbed rubies and gave her a big squeeze. "Don't make me bite the carrot, although I think, I might have enough room!" As they were heading towards the hallway leading towards the different dorm rooms. Goldie remarked. "Mind if we use yours ours is kind of tight." Blake slightly nervous. "sure we kind of have bunk beds?" As they opened their door.

One side had bookshelves & was in posters, A patched up curtain. And a set of mug shots. Neo typing on her scroll a little crookedly says the words 'I remember my first mug shot, good days' One bed was hanging from green vines means and blankets it's hovering over another bed the second one looked like it was fused together. "Penny since you're the first one to go because we're all going to have to deal with your sloppy seconds just to make sure you get plenty of fuel you get your first pick.” Penny picked a random number generator to activate.

Penny began to remove her armor, & And climbed onto Ruby! Ruby's Dick in Penny these first of many refueling 'ports'. Penny's Pussy Was like a vacuum ruby's eyes opened wide as she was pushed onto weiss's bed. As Ruby was moaning, Weiss went up to grab penny from behind! As the vacuum port from her ASS Activated sucking in Weiss's 'rapier' As they flung back onto yang's bed with a loud moaning groan one of the two sandwiching the robot girl, who is slowly expanding! “Hey go back on your bed!” Were marked Yang as Blake went to help her move the two with her slight grumpiness just as Ruby was throwing her body back but still attached!

Penny's Nipples Opened up and created extra ports sucking in both Yang “Ohhhhhhhhhh yeeeeeeeeaaaaaaaah!” and Blake positioning their rears just at the right spot for Ruby's face to slam right into them, Penny's body was swelling up expanding and stretching showing the latex coding around her torsos so skeleton showing certain areas where becoming translucent and showing off the different colors of dust! She could possibly create means as she was vacuuming CUM Of team RWBY, It wasn't for the murky liquids coating you could see, minor glimpses of Penny's metallic skeleton. But not the parts that would make her eternal organs they were so covered in the goop it was impossible to identify them.

Ruby felt Penny's decoupling after getting a good awkward lick and try and make sure she maneuvered and licked only Blake! But, she did get a little bit of a taste of her sister's rear strangely Blake's tasted like cat hair? When she fell back she noticed why Blake had transformed into her feline status not completely she was still upright with two legs but her fur was now more densely blackened matching her black hair there was a big large patch laying bare on her back showing the marking of the white Fang! Neo smiled as she took place eagerly getting involved but being silent it was not obvious as Yang was trying to debate it more sounds coming out of her mouth as Blake was also unleashing. “What?” Remarkd Ruby and then she saw Weiss uncoupling falling back on her puffy tail and.,, “Wait that wasn't a drunken hallucination!” Using her semblance Ruby quickly grabbed Weiss still in Hare form, Quickly try to slide into the closet well actually the dresser since they didn't actually have a closet. “What... Ohh yeah you wait you thought, I was a drunken hallucination when I was a rabbit! Damn you have great stuff on me, Really making me want to kill you now.” Ruby just simply gave Weiss a pat on the head and said. “Nice Weiss, good Weiss.” “Are you just being masochistic now is that your kink?” Not able to hear what was going on in the other room clearly enough or say the other half of the room because they were still in the dresser as there was a knock on it.

As the door opened revealing Yang and cat Blake. “I guess the cats out of the bag now, What is that offensive? Seriously I don't know what that is?” Remarkd Weiss! Yang was actually debating on responding thinking that would probably be actually offensive. But, Blake didn't really comment on it. Now Penny was actually having fun with her team or refueling it's kind of awkward that way and the room was getting kind of cramped granted was already pretty cramped but now for a totally different reason.

“How about we take this outside and we talk about these things more clearly?” Remarkd Yang as Ruby was noticing yeah it was getting tight so tight in fact that ohh... “OK, I guess we're all going to talk in the closet now! OK, when I was suggesting a possible foursome! I didn't expect it to be this awkward!” Yang remarked. “Yang this is enough of your jokes also please tell me that it's not yours that's sticking In me!” Said Ruby trying to check for whose was jabbing her right in the rear. “I think that's me.” Remarked Blake feeling a little awkward that she was basically jabbing Ruby at the same time when Ruby was also being jabbed by Weiss. “Well sis you got a furry sandwich.”

End Of Arc but not a volume!

[Minor note I am using the calendar from persona 5 just to make things easier!]

Arc of Joan {The reason why I separate the arcs is so that way you know why we are disappearing from following our core cast known as Rwby Because it feels weird to make them the background characters in their own show, But it is required in order to make the plot make sense! Luckily the main unit got their own trailers which showed off their main characteristics because the first arc also required a lot of setups.}

JoanShips.

9 Saturday Io {April for normal calendar} JNPR Was sitting in the Cafeteria we're in there standard free time/hunters clothes Of course they were now more exposed than usual with Joan herself not even bothering to wear the chest part of her chest plate Armor set which she really wanted to get around trying to readjust it. Pyrrha: “Great news, And some bad news we're allowed to get some jobs but we're not allowed to get some jobs.” Gesturing to the board that's hanging in the cafeteria there were three sections of the board determined for also the years for the students. Second years we're given the options to go on what are called hunts scouting out certain areas within the forests and other areas of towns. Third years were given options to go on quests these quests are often doubled as grading challenges is it require you to basically reach a certain location within a few weeks and then return back.

Then there was the first year assignments, These missions were only in town and only allowed in town. Basically hunting for lost pets, Nighttime guard duty, Sparring matches & Town runs. The last two were setups by second years basically sparring matches allow them to practice fighting rogue hunters and town runs were essentially: Games of hide and seek, Where second year's pay students to go hide to practice their rescue methods it's tracking people who are injured in basically this only town area. “Well at least it will give us some paychecks, Hey it also lists places we can go to get certain things altered like our armor.” Remarked Joan as her and Pyrrha We're the only ones who Where battle armor that couldn't actually fit anymore! Not that she was in complaining about the view it was quite enjoyable.

“Hey the Silvertorch cafe needs some more bodyguards, On certain nights, I think we could swing a couple of those with study groups.” Bring mark Nora. They gave a slight nod just as the doors open revealing team Rwby, Their junks were smaller their melons still roughly the same jacks. Also walking over towards the bulletin board. “Hey it's good to see you guys, How are you have you been?” Ruby sounded slightly exhausted and looks like she was still wiping off some of the stains around her area that looked like to be a pale white? “It is very common for teams to have relationships in the small rooms, just be sure to not let that destroy the team dynamics.” Remarked Ren.

The entire team was blushing as Weiss was the first one to grab the nearest piece of paper. “Look Team Coffee is asking for a Team run, 30 gold an hour that's good! Wait there's a stipulation that says we'll pay you 10 gold up front just to be on the safe side per teammate naturally? Hmm I wonder why they say that?” Ruby looked over the location that they would be going towards. “Well I hope you guys get a good job as well have fun?” “Just be sure to take your pills afterwards, I think Glenda would look frowned if you were starting to look as big as someone who's about to brew.”

Remarked Ren with a slight interesting joke.

Nora gave her gal pal a nudge just as penny and her team was walking in penny of course looking like a freakin whale. "Like gin, Pretty colors." Being slightly distracted that penny was also not wearing any and all the auras were mixing in giving her some unique rainbow designs. Team Genp Leader Goldie quickly went looking at several of the mission statements. "Neo since your guardian watches that place should we take that job or not?" Gesturing to the same job that JNPR Was just holding. She just shook her head. Emerald picked up one of the jobs and suggested that one, It was a slight sparring match with the team SEES. "OK but we're going to have to set some ground rules for penny just to be on the safe side. {With a low grunt } we just finished filling her up." To Emerald. As the three teams split up into their separate directions.

After having a decent breakfast, The team showed up at the location to cover some of the finer details of the work. Thankfully team Rwby was not there When stepping out of the establishment was Roman Torchwick. "The cafe doesn't open until noon, what are you doing here?" Joan responded. "To help finalize the details for the job that you put on the sign board," Roman just shook her head. "You're lucky junior, you are so lucky right now. OK uh well since you're not the one that could cause me some situations and I don't like getting in front fights anyhow so this is a good thing. Come with me towards the docks. I need security for some equipment of mine the last time. I ordered some my equipment the train was cut in half, And mysteriously teleported into the train yard and half of my equipment was severely damaged enough where I had to hire people to make replacement parts for that equipment."

"And you're sending it by boat because if the boat gets cut in half it will sink, I hope you don't order it by plane the third time around." Remarked Nora making it sound like it was roman's fault. "Look pinky." "That's the teacher's name my name is Nora." "Good, I was starting to get worried that I was running into people with that happen to have the same name as their hair color. From that bare named Goldilocks to the red that's you know I haven't gotten the name of the red yet nor the white hare, or the black cat? You probably with my luck they would have all been Crimson flower, Snowflake, & Blake Puma." Ren nudge Pyrrha. In a low whisper she responded. "OK, What are the odds that he's actually talking about team Rwby?"

Meanwhile Velvet. "OK ,Sorry Ruby but you should have picked a better place to pretend to have landed." Ruby was hanging in a tree slightly covering her nose for some odd reason she was sneezing a lot also in the distance was Weiss who was just finished wiping her nose and Blake having an intimate moment in the bushes. As the two immediately quickly stopped and start trying to dash off into a direction so that way they can continue hiding. Fox turned. "Hey rich and black just went down that way." Coco gave the order to velvet. "Watch Ruby we're after those two."

As they arrived at the docks. Roman gave off a calendar and showed off the list of dates that the ship was supposed to come in and be unloaded Io 18 Mon ,Night Ship would be in The dock for Pollux 2 Mon.

"Now most of my cargo will be probably finished being uploaded IO 29 It's a lot of computer work and some software files those there are just too big. Just like us get it, because we all have never mind ah I really hate being sober in the mornings. If it wasn't for the fact that I like having my shipments come with other people's shipments so that way, I don't get looked at too often! I would obviously go with a private boat. Fives when I ordered the private train that got cut in half so yeah you can see why I'm really going with the economy classes on this one. Every day I'm starting to regret working on this job it's costing me more money than it is going to make me OK you get 40 gold per night divide it between you, I'm not running a charity! Don't ask questions don't look at all the other things that are being unloaded. While most of this stuff is from Atlas that is it I think there's a couple things that it's also coming from uh a Vacuo, but I'm not sure."

"So we got three weeks worth of nights to watch this place uh what happens if we have uh study groups here while we're watching you know in case things get boring and also since we're actually students." Asked Joan very carefully not to give off the directions of study dates being possibly date dates. "Look I don't care if you bring your girlfriends or those who identify as guy friends! I don't care if you two happen to conceive like what 40 kids on one of these ships! just make sure it doesn't get cut in half and I don't lose any of my stuff and everything will be fine, I even asked them to double up the security on the ship when it was coming so if you see a couple of mechanical tanks ignore them unless they start trying to shoot! you then you can come in half. And only the tanks not the ship."

Pyrrha Over to Roman. "As you can see we kind of do need some upgrades in our stuff and also to resupply because even if we do use all the stuff we managed to make and keep it stored we won't have enough for guarding for that long any place you would kindly offer for to supply for our equipment." "Blonde keep this one, She's a business woman after my own heart and she knows how to supply herself pretty well. Follow me to a good old friend of mine she's practically untouchable."

Showing the gun store which was currently closed won't be open until Tomorrow morning. "Ohh yeah she's always closed on Saturday so I keep forgetting about that. Well yeah that's the place where I get my cane tuned up every so often." Nora gesturing to the Trouser snake. "No this one although, I have tried to tame that one a couple of times and not just on the lonely nights. I'm pretty sure you guys know where your armor is so I'll give you advance of 30 but only me to upgrade your body protections, And I will like to see the receipt. "Reluctantly pulling out some of the cash three bills with the words written on them clearly the word gold on yellow paper money. 30 single bricks To be exact.

They nodded as it took them most of the day to get through with some of the finer details. It was dinner time just before the cafeteria was about to close for the rest of the day students were allowed to eat at the cafeteria for free so long as they didn't get too greedy with their meals. There the team met up with team RWBY and team GENP. Penny's translucent fat body was still showing off the giant knockers and she even had some Jingle rocks dangling below what you could see past some of the fat rolls.

"Manufacturing the dust into large crystals seems to be increasing my chances of maintaining them? This enquires more study and more work and maybe more fuel. I wish first years were eligible to put down volunteer paperwork on said board but that is against the rules." Remarked Penny probably figuring that she could at least get away with a couple of volunteers and see if she could swindle the cash flow from Atlas itself. "What is she talking about?" Remarked Nora as they just finished shopping for some of the armor.

"Nothing to worry about although, we'll probably keep growing judging that most of the second years are also two footers." Ren remarking as they looked down at their nine inches and some of them were sporting also around the circumferences of either 3-4 a thickness. Weiss and Emerald being very thick, Although Emerald was actually close to a 10! Everyone was getting close to either geez, With Yang starting to get close to H! "Well my stretchy armor will be ready by Monday so I guess we'll have to work with it thankfully it's only the start of spring but man it's gonna be cold and wet." Remarking Joan.

“Ohh yeah you went and speak to your employer uh how was she or he?” Ruby inquired readjusting her breasts for the third time as they were all basically pushing the table to its breaking limit . “She was fine a little upset that her training when she had her previous order was destroyed cut in half weird story about that.” Weiss and Blake's eyes slowly widened upon that statement. “Complaining that a girl named Crimson flower snowflake and for some odd reason he actually mentioned you Blake not sure why but, she got your last name wrong so I'm pretty sure it's not you.” Weiss interjecting. “How did she know that was my nickname.” With Ruby making a slight joke king remark. “Well winter does bring snowflakes, hopefully some big ones. Nice Weiss nice Weiss!” Using her semblance to constantly dodge the sword swings.

“How about we tag along, Just to be on the safe side that your little curricular activity doesn't turn out to be ohh you'll go to straight to jail.” Remarked Yang probably being the only one of the 4 who actually hasn't crossed swords with Roman. Neo doing some basic sign language roughly translated 'Don't worry unless you screw up daddy don't let you rot' “OK so she might, Drop bail money.” Both Weiss and Blake immediately responded “No that Bitch Warren jail.” Neo throwing some hands signs that could be probably a bit of a gang signs. “No she is one do you want to go to the training yard to figure this out?” Weiss responded wanting to let off some steam. “OK, you're on.”

With the role of eyes As the credits rolled.

Joanships Part 2

17 Io Sun, What team JNPR and Rwby We're picking up their weapons that have been remodeled from the gun shop during classes they were being forced to use prop weapons provided by the school well Ruby didn't because her weapon was perfect and neither did Blake because she just ordered like a secondary extra 1 just to balance out. Gamble shroud was a short sword type weapon so she partnered up with a long sword type model since she used gamble shroud as more like a kunai with chain. This one also shifted to being a Sniper rifle rivalling rubies type nicknamed Dieshot. Yang's gauntlets were already defaulted to being a shotgun pair but she did need some range so she added to herself 2 magnum Boots so that way she could practice some of her kicking stats also doubled her height again giving her a bit of a high heel status.

“What can I say sis you're always going to be my little sister!” Remarked Yang as Ruby was trying to jump up giving some remarks of saying. “Sure thing how's the weather up there.” Weiss gave off a bit of a fury with her analog and she just had her weapon slightly readjusted to have the ability to switch out to different barrels her standard rapier tip was small and thin so she had a thicken it out now that the barrel was just as wide as hers. “Don't make me test out how long range this thing can be.” Meanwhile Jones team was just getting their weapons checked out and refueled with the exception of her own her standard sword was pretty good the weapons manager said not tapering with this thing.

“Well at least she was willing to upgrade my shield, Although I'm now in debt why does it cost so much, I didn't know my family shield was that expensive to upgrade in tune!” Now the sheave Shield could turn into one more thing, A blim blaster a shoulder mounted thing that works kind of like a bazooka but not really it's like wearing a rail gun on your shoulder. “Well tomorrow night is our first watch you girls really don't need to show up with us.”

Team rwby's response was. “Hel we do!” Jones shrugged with her new armor her chest plate giving it a bit of a clever curves and showing how big those now bustling eyes were getting. Pyrrha, Course it was making her rocks also going straight outward define physics at some points. With leather Tlts plates. "Fine but you do realize it's going to be cold and wet." Ruby gestured to her cloak and wrapped it around her body and Weiss just simply gestured to her thick thighs and the little bit of belly fat she's been slightly building up. "Hey this is the reason why I stuck to the bunk bottom." Ruby gave a slight chuckle. "Yeah although since we don't have those tall ceilings things you're getting close to actually stabbing me up in the rear a couple of times a night maybe we should switch places, Blake."

As the girls giggled both As they went back to the dorms the following day after classes this testing out their new weaponry they got to the docks just in time to witness the ship landing it was late at night about tanish and just as the forecast stated it was raining Io was known for its Rain. As the old poem once stated. "The bull brings the Thunder to the battlefield and parallax's pinched which with blood across the way flowers blooming upon the grave of his dead brothers Castor." As Weiss gave a bit of a sneeze. "One word Ruby and I will shoot you dead." "I'll just get us some more hot chocolate." She remarked walking past a couple of the guys on the boat figuring it would be faster to just use the boat's kitchen instead of walking all the way down to the dock house.

"Just getting some hot chocolate nothing to worry about, walking with my giant scythe." Ruby responded to several of the sailors are giant melons swinging freely and having the ring glistening off of them with the thin fabric of her cloak showing Them off! Nipples We're now hard and erect, From the rushing rain "Ah there's my pipsqueak who's still a little shorter than you expect you should really dig into your own milk. Looks like you have plenty of it." Rudy's eyes lit up there was her aunt Qrow. "What You're doing here?" As she mindlessly poured the hot cocoa right onto her hands completely missing the cup. "Well trying to keep my bad luck from contaminating everything but that's not working out too well. I'm also been hired to watch the ship when it was coming across I need to get some things taken care of in Vale and a free trip sounded a great idea and getting paid for it was even better. Only having the dispatch of three grim sea monsters."

And they spent conversationally and throughout the night Ruby completely forgetting to bring the drinks she also introduced her aunt to the rest of the groups! Weiss still getting really nipped and angry and it was wet cold wishing she could pull out the fur, Blake was taking sniper positions and using her fur which meant she kept warm as that glaucous black coat was blending in with the rooftops. Yang nickname of being firecracker was being pretty obvious, And calling her old lady was probably a strange one to bring up also with a couple of extra age isms.

Once you get close to quitting time which was about 3:00 in the morning Qrow offered to give them some food, Forcing her favorite bar to open up a little bit earlier than usual and grabbing some drinks as a familiar ginger hair was sitting at the table drunken and Ruby was very tempted to pull out her weaponry but there was a sign, sign that made it very clear. As the team were placing their weapons down next to the racks as the sign said check your blades and your guns at the door we're all friends here at this Crow Bar. Technically is actually no door it had one of those garage screen doors.

Was quiet throughout the rest of the week Ruby was catching up with her aunt the gang were dealing with their usual routines during the nights it was sometimes cold sometimes wet sometimes both on Wednesday Weiss was forced to stay in bed nursing a cold and Blake was just watching over her Ruby kept on suggesting something to Weiss but didn't take. As it reached Friday and the first strange thing that was shipped off that only team JNPR Noticed as there were some broken tentacles from the sea monsters. "So that was your handiwork you old crow." Remarked Joan shaking off some of the water from her wet armor glistening from her chest and torsos.

“Yeah not sure why they wanted to keep the old stuff something like the employer wanted to pay extra for certain parts.” Qrow remarked the only one who was staying there as adult. “Now at least I don't have to worry about you breaking pipsqueak's heart you already got a different girl on your string.” Doing a slight set of jiggles. Pyrrha Was on sniper watch duty a sniper rifle double s as a good long range telescope allowing this to scan the area. But someone moving fast in bull form she quickly took aim and fired a shot it bounced off the side of the mask.

“Calm down, calm down, I'm not here to fight yet.” Shifting from bull was Adam his shirt was bursting with his fluids, Deep black aura flowing across pouring from the chest down with tiny trickles of red seeping into the blade. “This came from Atlas some of its equipment came from the Schnee Dust Company, surrender the cargo from there or we will begin.” Two large tank automatons immediately opened fired in a flash of black and red the two tank automatons were sliced as if the sky itself was cut in two shaving the blade back into its container. “Surrender I will do it again this time I will aim for those who are organic.” As a voice rang from in the background. “Now now bull you don't need to be in a China shop to understand this, First off this is not carried with the human cargo that you're so fond of protecting that you're willing to kill them. Loser! And while I'm not a fan of the old bloke here, just the two of us can easily take you down. The name is Roman Torchwick remember it in feel the night get a little dizzy.”

Romans manipulator was also classified as a mixed type slightly emitting the effects of being drunk but only emitting those effects upon touch being more manipulations on those factors Qrow was also classified as a manipulator, Altering probability fields. Classified as misfortune bad luck but sometimes that bad luck doesn't just happen to Qrow but also to anyone who fights her. Pulling out the syth in its war mode, Roman Aimed her cane directly at the bull was back. Adam charged getting ready to unsheathe his sword! The quick draw battle commenced the bowler hat was cut in half the building was sliced but Roman was unscathed as the bull was down. “I'll take care of this old bull well actually she's a youngster but that's beside the point take care oh and congratulations you 4 you're getting a double you caught me the person who cut my train in half sure you didn't do much but hey just being here was a good sign.” As she ran up and picked up the bull “God's heavy, Omar can you help me.” Nora quickly ran over and helped out along with it Qrow, Carrying over to your a short limo and tossing the unconscious Adam into the back.

Team left a little bit afterwards so it was around midnight when the incident happened so it kind of surprised them that Roman showed up in person. “Well I guess we're off for the rest of the night.” They remarked the next morning at the cafeteria the team was telling team Ruby about what happened last night both Blake and Weiss immediately took a spit take when they heard the description of the bull. “Weiss, You just got over your cold! I don't wanna catch it! I already had to bring half of your homework.” Ruby crying over the fact that she was just covered in hot tea spit From weiss's mouth as it was trickling down her Boobs.

“And she just took her away in a limo.” Nora just gave a slight nod as she was the only one that was of the group that actually carried. “Yeah his semblance was really powerful, I mean with like a quick draw slicing entire building in half. But then Roman just dashed and the cow was down like nobody's business. Probably getting milked for information and then some.” As norah's voice slowly disappeared into the background panicking thoughts dripping into the minds of our two furnaces the fear of Adam slowly dripping into their heads each drop bigger and bigger and bigger.

“Right so we are gonna probably be watching with you guys then huh for the next few nights. Well minus Weiss because she got a cold and she's got a lot of work because of that cold." As Weiss stretched her arm across and covered Rudy's mouth. "We will be there and I will be setting traps just in case the bull has friends right Blake." "Yeah who knows what type of friends the bull has made since the last time." Ruby then remembered oh this is the bull that cut the train in half of type detail ohh now she knows why they were worried things were a little hazy when they were uh having a foursome in the closet well special concern she didn't want to mention about the fact that was actually a complete foursome .

Leaders grave

Pollux 3: Tuesday, The group we're seeing their cafeteria enjoying their scenarios when they noticed one of the signs was being changed on the bulletin board midterms coming up first years and second years barred from jobs third years now you have to make deadlines spin those frequent Flyers.

"Midterms OK, didn't expect that to come up we're totally doomed aren't we?" Remarked Joan realizing that the only thing she's done as a leader was basically have them sit down and watch a shipping unloaded and the most dangerous thing was handled by the owner who hired them she's a terrible leader Ruby was a good leader she managed to handle the situation when Weiss accidentally tied up junior in a compromising position also it was amazing that they never ran into Roman at the same time with team RWBY out there at all like what are the odds. "Relax the midterm shouldn't be that hard it's only what few sparring battles what's the prep for the festival to figure out which teams are going to be fighting and what. I mean you're not going to have to panic as much as Weiiiiii, Having to deal with the fact that there are a lot of people would probably recognize her from her own hometown."

"It's OK, Weiss it's not like your family's going to show up with military guard." Blake being very forgiving would still not know what was going on. "OK Ruby is right I should talk about things and then pushing it out for too far along but we're not doing it here after classes hopefully are we spending any of them outside by the way." Nora sitting also at the table naturally as team JNPR was prone to sitting at the same table with team RWBY especially after the shipping incidents Also team RWBY was doing their entire mission pro bono which means that they got no cash from it. "Well we're now upgrading to outside experiences with the grim training no more VRS? We're supposed to be dealing with uh HLM? Not sure what that means but they say outside in the park area of the forest zone where we used to do our entrance exam so that's going to be fun.

Cutting to Glenda. "Welcome to the forest now a long time ago before we use the HLM We used to use back when I was learning WDF And, Even though we have a whole slew of them still in the basement some still quite functioning we are switching to the hard lights and just to prep you for the upcoming exams King Taijitu. Seems like a good test run for your teams ohh yeah you'll be fighting in teams by the way." As the three teams came across three giant hard like constructs of the snakes with their dual heads it's attached to a single torso.

"So does one eat lies and Throws up truths or does the other head eat truths and then the that one throw up lies?" Remark Nora. Leaping forward with her warhammer, And striking the blackened head! Pyrrha Start using her semblance along with her spear to balance out several areas while still keeping her shield upright the group had gotten used to now being able to store or recover a lot faster amounts of their semblance or slowly use less or less of their aura when generating their semblance well with the exception of Joan who still doesn't have a semblance yet.

"Ren, get it to focus on you Pyrrha Back up and get ready to fire aim for the head that norah's been pummeling, I'm going to try aiming for the center.” Joan quickly spawned with several orders, Using the shield to build up for The attack switching to its gun mode placing it upon her shoulder and taking aim. Pyrrha Fire shots were barely registering. GENP, We're actually doing a lot faster and better jobs at taking down their opponent. Granted penny showing off how her amazing systems work by firing of rage of different types of auras and and then delivering a final deadly slash it's on one head while the other head was cut in half by Neo? Who did transformed from looking like Ruby?

Ruby was slightly distracted as she watched neo basically steal the kill with her body and was slightly blinking as she was smacked by a giant head. “Get your head back in the game Ruby!” Shouted Weiss trying to keep herself from turning more animalistic. Blake was swinging across the other head's neck with her sliding and slashes while Weiss was trying to enhance a barrier around it. “Let's show them the real power.” Yang kicked off herself by giving her an extra high jump thanks to her new boots! Before charging up her shotgun blast right up close to the white head of the snake as it opened its mouth wide open to swallow her whole the gang were shocked as then the explosion happened the torso blasted open.

“Excellent work now we're going to reset and you do it again because three of you would have died in each one of your excursions also I'm turning up the difficulty level just a smidge.” As the snakes were reformed now with three heads.

After class

Penny walked over to Ruby with her big pudgy brown body and typed onto her shoulder. “Oh uh hi penny uh what do you want to talk about?” “Well after midterms, There will be jobs listed for helping out with the festival coming up soon.” Ruby giving a slight nod while also keeping one eye on Weiss and Blake and trying to listen in to see how it was going. “Uh-huh.” “I was wondering if you would like to, to this thing known as a date before we get really too busy?” “Yeah yeah sure just make sure it's not during a school day.” “OK, Saturday night our date is in question we will do this before the usual you help out with refills so that way the date will be more special. “Sure thing.”

At the cafeteria for dinner. “So have you told her. “ “Told me what.” Ruby forgot that she was surrounded at the table already so this was not actually at all helpful to be a private moment with Weiss as Blake asked the question. “Look we all know that Weiss and Blake are having happy funds, Our dorm is right across from yours we can hear it all night long although it is weird that you guys have a weekly session with team Genp?” Remarked Nora. “Well that's because she's a robot.” Remarked Ren, The rest of the team laughed and team Rwby had that nervous laugh. “You are so funny that's why you're a laugh riot Ren, Sometimes makes me wish I had a funny girlfriend like you you know in that whole dating thing that we don't do.” Exclaimed Nora which Ruby was thankful that she was being her usual distracting from her own problems and mistakes.

Ruby slightly Corning Weiss in the hallway just before they left. “When are you going to tell her?” Weiss began to sigh. “Look we're exhausted I don't want to deal with a possible fight after that big fight with The giant snake multiple times, I can't believe we fought up until it got to six heads! And besides it's no big deal right I can tell her later.” Ruby lay out a sigh. “You're not gonna like it when she finds out it's gonna become much worse just tell her! This is the hardest part of being a leader and you're not making it easy.” Nora listening in on the conversation And carefully removing herself out of the background. “Look it's going to be even more complicated how about we should wait until after midterms I mean that way she can focus on her grades and our grades.”

“And then when she shows up after midterms things will explode or say implode since she's gravity like me or uh what's the other ones built ohh wait yours is ice and your ability as a family thing OK, yeah ice yeah ice or freeze!” Remarked Ruby! Nora immediately heard that and put things together and slipped into her team's room. “Gang huddle, I think Weiss's mom is showing up, And I think she's going to propose to Blake.” As Norris sworded in with a big huge confusing tale of how Ruby is probably secretly helping out with the relationship but been trying to keep it a secret, Weiss is afraid to tell her mother about Blake in some form or another.

Later on during the next set of classes Peter Port: “As stated we've already explained semblances is as their types now let's talk about the other types that we do not really talk too much about semblances known as areas, passives, and controls. First off for those who are worried if you happen to have a passive semblance does it drain your aura regularly the answer is no it's slightly a misnomer but the passives are fueled when you are not fueling them in reality you can turn off your semblance by actually coding yourself with your own aura, As long as that is a passive that's within you if it's a passive area effect there's some details that we need to discuss but that's personal details so if you have one of those please come up to the class after class. Area effects are usually designed around a unique area that you create.”

“Area effect ones usually have stipulations on your range how you generate that range and what you can create also this is the most expensive aura drainer because you are essentially claiming a territory the bigger the claim of territory the more it drains of your aura yes, miss Sieben?” Weiss inquires. “So does my glyphs count as area or control.” “Generational semblances are extremely rare and complicated technically I would say your glyphs are area based but you are capable of controlling placing glyphs even farther than the range of your aura could naturally get to as long as you have access to a large portion of aura that naturally flows in those areas. Certain portions of dust have been recalibrated back into their liquid Ora form as a cycling the system. Like for our magnetic rail system which is currently being repaired because somebody cut in half from Atlas at least we'll have the train that still functions from The other two kingdoms.”

“Really he cut in half that much you really know how to ohh not going to continue that answer outside yeah...” Ruby responded thinking out loud again a lot of things were going through her mind. “Now to ignore the outburst controls are generally depicted as having the smallest area because they are within themselves and a line of touch. And sense miss rose gladly volunteered herself she will explain how her semblance works step Up here in front of the class!” Ruby gave a slight grumble as she walked up to the classroom standing in front of everybody.

“I am a gravity transmuter, My simplex converts my molecules and anyones molecules that I touch into petals of equal variety of molecules, These pedals will glide with the flow of wind and generate its own speed velocity he through the gravitational fields of my own semblance, Allowing me to make them heavier or lighter upon reactions.” Ruby pouring some of Her aura naturally around her body and quickly shifting into petals and flying over back to Her chair. “Excellent.”

“Now, I have not seen my semblance yet, And that's a good example mine is the reason why I said I would be bringing this up later mine is what I call a passive area. When I claim a territory as long as I'm stepping in the area where I've set up my territories my semblance is active when I leave my semblance is inactive but it requires both me and the area that I have claimed creating a small circle within that zone some semblances of this type can disappear having their auras dissipate and having to reclaim that territory multiple times others like mine only need to have the territory claimed once.”

Pete smiled with a devilish grin. Everyone was looking around expecting to see some type of aura effect they couldn't see any of Pete's aura they were slightly grossed out by the theory that it could be on their very chairs but that's beside the point. “I'm also classified as a manipulator, There's a reason why I am trained in dust, military tactics, And grim Anatomy. Any the information that I have stored in my head, Will be instantly sent two person of my choosing within my territory, In turn though I can also receive messages from my units within my territory. As long as that person has been marked as part of my territory in your class drawers are headphones please place them on.” As they pulled out their headphones which had strange tubes filled with deep amber ore color usually that meant that this was a rock type.

“Congratulations class you've just now discovered how an area effect passive or works thanks it requires equipment it requires love & effort and work for me but for some of you it might not those who have that please come to class after classes are done and I will gladly tutor you on how to improve your status this will be on the test though for midterms.”

The group head off to their classes

Pollux 5: Thursday.

Rwby is stuck with A slightly different class than usual. “You're probably wondering why you've been slightly rearranged with other students of different sets of classes this is to prep you for your soon upcoming midterms as part of the midterms there will be student team duels. This is to help out with the competitions Which will be in two months Vytal Festival, Where one of the schools those representing the top 4 kingdoms will be hosting the tournament which is beacons turn. With the top students of said schools of each one of the years showing Up for a friendly little war game tournament. In turn we also show off our top students. Some of the head instructors and teachers will also be there from rival schools I want you to be all on your best behavior during this festival but we are right now trying to figure out which one of you are going to be competing in it those who do not manage to make the grade during the midterms thankfully we'll only have to deal with the repeat of what the maid terms are like.” Ann Greene bird Faunus to be exact eagle. Strong enough to do the passing movement her giant eagle head was constantly moving around with her glasses being adjusted walking with a big huge flapping motion.

“Now why I'm also the security teacher I am also a professional grim hunter teacher so enjoy I'll be flying around watching you take out your choice of Grimm, I have set up a lottery box for this one.” As she was basically a giant eagle Using her large feathery wings to bring over the box and place it in front of each one of the team leaders DMND (Diamond) , Wearing a red outfit grabbed the first one standing next to Her was another one with a silvery hair and two large prosthetic legs. They drewed them nevermore, LGON (Lagoon) Beringel. Only team Rwby got their particular choice, Boarbatusk

“There's something easy I hunt these things daily then when I was a kid of course they were a lot smaller and I had a group of hunters with me.” Weiss remarked as the boar that they were facing off was actually the size, Of a small SUV. “Yeah, I keep forgetting Atlas monster place! So what you're forced to learn your aura and semblance when you're like 5?” Commenting Blake trying to figure out what's going on as she's starting to realize that Ruby and Weiss have a secret that they're not telling her and she knows very well Weiss is our rabbit so it can't be that! “Weiss, we can hear about your family love stories later let's focus on taking care of this thing sis do your stuff on the punches!”

Friday

“OK, so we gotta go shopping for new outfits for that festival that's coming up. And since Weiss ran out away from home we don't have free cash, Blake how much cash do you have.” Ask Yang as she was prepping up for what she was thinking is a big party. “I guess you could say I'm a bit of a Stray myself.” With a bit of a remark. “Look we'll sign up for jobs after school.” Remarked Ruby. “OK, sis after we of course address your date with penny.” “What.” “Penny asked you out on a date don't you remember she said it was on Saturday.” Remarked Yang she was listening in on the conversation that penny and Ruby who was basically had her brain focusing on the other couple in the room didn't realize she just said yes to a date with a robot. “Oh oh that's right I did my brain was at someplace else because... OK we'll sign up a job on that part to make it more clear ohh wait we can't do jobs they're barred until after midterms.” As Ruby proceeded to slam her head towards the wall repeatedly.

“I think we're putting a little too much stress on her for the first year.” Remarked Yang trying to stop her sister from knocking herself unconscious. “I don't understand why she's so freaked out we've had a Sex With penny multiple times in a group in awkward situations? How stressful could a date actually be it's just sitting there listening to a person talk over and over again about their life And then you tune out half of it because you're bored because they're talking about how their family tree is all these great rosters of history and then their family tree and then about their father and their mother there's history and then how much money they make every single day and then how much money that their servants have to give up in order to continue working for them gloriously.” Blake covered weiss's mouth after a while but now she was starting to understand why Weiss has not said yes to a single actual date the girl has only been shipped dated which is a test for like if the arranged marriage system works or not.

“Wow Atlas is really all about breeding us huh.” Remarked Blake adding more disruptions to what's going on. “Well after the incident with the Workharles And some my family tree has also had marrying cousins and sisters. It's within good reason to start making sure that we avoid inbreeding anymore.” Weiss exclaimed not actually realizing she almost gave up the goat. “I guess uh controlling the birth rate problem would be making sense.” Thankfully Blake did not put it together the way that Weiss in trouble yet!

End of part one

Part 2 grave leader.

history class: Oobleck “The numbers about the relic of choice known as the crown of knowledge of foresight. Granted I don't think the crown of knowledge actually helped the old age of man.” Mark the teacher as she was showing off the different. Showing off the details of the 5th continent which didn't have a Kingdom anymore it was a barren wasteland shaped like a dragon it was representative of the old lands the old kingdoms back when man was in charge before the gods reaped havoc and wiped out humanity and thus the new gods came into play for a short time and then they disappeared leaving their land to wither and die in the Great War to begin. “Really sad how the lady had to deal with being imprisoned .” Remarked Nora. “Yes it's very common for people to be imprisoned by their loved ones and speak cause of dark prophecies especially when they turn out to become true.”

Weiss leaning back in her chair as the creaking of the wood. “Yeah but at least those days there was no racism.” Professor Oobleck immediately said. “Well actually according to the archaeology studies yes there was plenty of it.” Weiss was startled as her chair immediately started to break coding her self with her aura around her head to avoid getting a conked and quickly got up to her feet! “But there were no fondness how could they be racist and what would they have to be complaining about.” Blake was starting to give that suss look on Weiss. “Well they picked a variety of other signifiers to suggest possible superiority or the interiority complexes. There was even a theory that a group of people who are just really good with math are actually in charge of all the money in the world ? But a lot of those theories are very conflicting because if they were so powerful why did they manage to get trapped in these camps.” Bringing up some archaeology studies of different documents. “This painting of one of their famous leaders is also very clearly showing off that they had severe racism against people who happen to have very pale skin.” This is a book medium so thankfully we do not have a visual of this very cursed Image of a orange man but you can probably figure out who this very cursed image is.

“And they had access to this thing called magic? Well I guess it doesn't run on pure heart logic.” Remarked Weiss as she got back up and started leaning on to her desk the sound of creaking wood again from her boom bosom. Cardigan chuckled. “Well I guess they were still willing to eat people as much as you are willing to eat faunus.” Card had to immediately avoid getting stabbed by giant icicles! “Keep this up and I'll seek Rudy's robot girlfriend on you!” Penny chuckled with a slight tone of her eyes going into a dial tone for a split second and then going. “Ohh she does have the clearance, I'll take that underneath advisement.” “OK, I need you all to do documents on the relics as well as when they were lost as they were once originally with each one of the four kingdoms but, due to instances of multiple wars some of them have been lost like the great sword known as the yellow death.”

Lancers giant Wasps drones, Was the last training battle for the tournament as the teams were going to be facing off against each other next, And this time all six Of the class students were participating in the fights it's in the same classroom area. “Don't go too hard on me mercury.” Remarked emerald as they were still getting ready to do their fights. Glenda was the teacher of this scenario. “Yes yes represent the class, But I need you all to focus the one with the highest scores we'll face off against the one with the second highest score and so forth! Whichever team kills the most drones wins.” As the hard light duplicates of the drones were unleashed.

Skimming through Saturday Ruby was getting herself ready for the date, Her sister Yang helping her pick out different outfits which they realized quickly that they couldn't fit into for a lot of variety of reasons Yang also making some slight jokes saying maybe we should borrow some of Weiss's outfits after all they should be let out by now there was icicles that day.

Also during this time Weiss was being convinced by Blake to go on an actual date quietly there was the new movie coming out in the theater Tear-jerkers Known as the GRVR Leader Following the romantic tale of a team of hunters where their leader dies of a horrible combat and then they find out something truly horrifying in the sadness of untold reachers technically it's also a horror film but a lot more people cry about it than they do about being scared. “Seriously, I expect this from the battle freak Ruby but you Blake.” Weiss on her third doughnut, At lunch after having second lunch and 3rd lunch.

“Come on we can have popcorn with extra butter.” Trying to flirt. “Which type of butter?” Weiss responded stopping in mid bite looking up and down Blake's gorgeous body that is much much thinner than hers right now. “Whichever flavour you like? we can even make it lighter or heavier?”

Gesturing to our large milkers. “OK, under one condition!” Blake gave a nod of like OK. “We sit in the back there nobody can see us. And no talking.” Blake shrugged with the exception of some of their study dates she barely got to know anything about Weiss's history the girl was tight lipped granted she was also tight lipped but that's for a different reason I mean admitting to your war crimes is not exactly a good thing to build up a relationship. Granted technically she was doing this for the freedom of her people but still their war crimes. “OK, we'll have dinner afterwards and then I can make you spill your guts.” Weiss patting her very big belly. “And I have a lot of guts to Spill, I guess.” ‘OK if I don't have my mouth not full with food I can't spill anything! I'm gonna break a bed am I?’

When Penny showed up to pick up Ruby for her date, Ruby was astonished at the design of the outfit that Penny created manipulated her aura storage to make? The golden part of her chest the glimmering green of her belly the end of her arms and legs. “I see you already taking care of refueling from your team wait yeah there's even that little bit of The orange from Neo? I can see it now looks like a necklace?” “Dust crystals I've been working on how to manufacture them a little bit better I have three giant ones representing all of team RWBY. Strangely gold compared to me creating them as if I was birthing a cub?” She gave a slight shrug as the two made their way over to the movie theater running into actually Blake and Weiss.

“Yeah, I expected to see you here battle freak.” Weiss remarked as she was giving the quadruple sized popcorn bucket and one gorilla drink and one rigorous sized drink. “Actually I suggested this one because it studies the emotion of sadness within a teammate. I hear Alistair Gunn Death sequence is quite saddening in the film.” Blake remarked. “Yeah that's nice but we all know that this is basically a story about how A-Team gets obliterated. But I am curious who is the actress playing Alistair?” Penny answered quite clearly. “It is unheard of for superior officers to take time off, To venture into other magnemite king activities like Lieutenant Winter Schnee.” The last name echoed within Weiss's head, Blake was grumbling a little bit but she didn't want to ruin her date. “Well we better get to our... Weiss did you just kill the entire popcorn and your drink?” “Ohh silly me I guess we're going to need to get a refill, I'll be back thank goodness refills are for free.” As the girl behind the counter immediately had a heart attack.

Sitting in the back at separate corners there's the theater Ruby sat down and said. “Wow, I wonder why Weiss is so gigantic on this moment. I mean, I know it kind of beats up her durability. one of the things that she was kind of weak on but this is ridiculous!” Penny answering with a nonchalance and also the film was about to start “Well according to the files, Weiss was always known to eat her feelings away when she was nervous.” Blake using her keen hearing to overhear this amazed that Penny has files on Weiss then again maybe it's just files she accessed over the school datas yeah that has to be it why else would she have files on Weiss. As the movie began.

Weiss was now standing in the back area as she was too big to sit in a seat after going through three of her quadruples. “Look you, don't have to be this nervous about a date. It's not like we're being shipped to breed or something.” Blake trying to comfort her date, Weiss just instantly inhaled Blake's drink on top of it. “It's not that.” As the loud action sequence was playing in the background the actress Marinette Dupen-Chang playing the role of Vertical Stone was dodging a physical vector version of referencing an Ursa Grimm. Both characters were playing a course with their semblances as close as they could to the actual storyline. Just as the character Alistair was about to use another semblance technique Weiss quickly covered Blake's eyes, By giving her a big kiss!

“Hey that looks just like oh that's probably another reason why she probably is really nervous about this movie.” Remarked Ruby. Penny's not being nonchalant as per usual because robot don't know know that she's supposed to keep this a secret. "It is not uncommon for those who have semblances of a family line to be so directly compatible on design in similarities. While it's extremely rare for family semblances this generational semblances are extremely dominant on their design and stick relative attitudes. Each generation seems to make it stronger and more improved moved at the cost of individuality eventually, you can no longer upgrade the semblance any further beyond its normal capabilities."

"Weiss who's your father? I mean your biological one?" Blake asked when their lips separated. "Klein Sieben." Nonchalantly without a hint of nervous or scared. "And your mooothhhheeeerrrrr." Just as the screen ripped open revealing a Beowulf has broken into the theater a real one? Everyone started to evacuate. Penny flew over into her combat mode emitting her laser swords of different types of dust blades is she has access to. "Weiss can you craft me a sickle of some type, I don't bring my weapon with me." Ruby materializing with her semblance right next to Weiss and Blake. "Sure uh yeah." As she cryptically crafted with her semblance ice A giant ice war Scythe. "Feel free to join me in maybe it will burn off some of those uh stress marks." Ruby quickly swift into combat formation.

"This is a heavily populated area cannot be allowed to use heavy ordinance." Penny responded while doing a quick lightning slashes the golden aura followed with a couple of green slashes of wind and tornado leaks lacings scenes of green grass. "Oh yeah I keep forgetting that wind and plant are practically identical to the naked eye." With the remark of Weiss as she dashed in creating her rapier from her own icicles and dual wielding just because she could Blake was forced to come up with some options. "Strange emeralds is only grass base her plant based semblance but that's I'm generating my own Aura data confirming." Penny sounding more ecstatic as she's generating more of her semblances effects emitting unusual energy waves which were enhancing everyone else's auras, elemental effects!

"Congratulations, I think she's involving her semblance." Remarked Blake as she was dodging a couple of key attacks while having her clones take damage the field was getting heavier and heavier though. "Penny you need the cut down on enhancing our auras, weiss's is already slow enough as it is!" Remarked Ruby as she was also having a hard time moving everything in the area was starting to get really too hard to move. "Penny do you have any fuel from Ruby?" Penny swerved and quickly latched onto Ruby and drained a little bit, rudy's eyes fluttered in the back of her head. "Now I do?" Weiss quickly drawing out A glyph just as the screens torn showing off a very similar glyph being generated by winter although the glyph was covered in dust to match the background of the scene only those with keen eyes like a cat would probably notice the differences. "Penny fire onto that glyph Lightning, gravity and Magnetic earth." Penny proceeded to do so and Weiss vanished.

"OK, this is the best time for me to use the trump card on myself, I was hoping to save it for you know someone who's actually lighter but, I guess this will have to do!" marked Weiss as everything was stopped, She dashed forward placing the first ice blade into the chest then leaving it and then generating another one into slice off the head then placing 2 more into the arms then another one into the leg just this time reverted back to being normal. Weiss was standing there and it looked like she lost maybe about two or three pounds actually. "Weiss you're a Schnee!" Blake remarked standing in front of Weiss, Weiss was already in rabbit form using it's immense power and speed to enhance her own while the time dilation was active she hopped out of the windows screen that was torn up and started hopping across rooftops.

"Ah, sorry we're going to have to cut our date offshore! Penny, I'm going to take care of some team leader business. " Ruby quickly using her semblance to try to catch up with Weiss for someone so big, She was hopping extremely fast and only leaving a trail of broken roofs!

Black and white with the Shades of Grey

Sunday morning Ruby was dashing across the rooftop still trying to figure out where Weiss went, She thought hey I could just follow the trail broken roofs that shouldn't be too hard oh wait apparently these roofs were built really well and don't break that easily and there are no greater markers here's after like 5 or 6 jumps OK let's just figure out some logical roads wait I don't know what would be weiss's logical route would be she's an emotional panic wreck I know check all the restaurants that didn't work out either. "OK, can I, what are you doing here?" Responded Ruby to a Roman TorchWick.

"This is my establishment, Now red we'll take this outside and then, I will dispose of your body in the back alley. Because we both know who's going to win this." Neo walked up to Roman just before getting ready to close the door, Tapping onto the shoulder and started using her semblance to shift back and forth between several people. "Wait she's dating a robot girl, and you've had what? Are they better than me, Ohh thank goodness huh." Ruby was slightly confused was this like telepath is there an extra feature too Roman or neo's abilities ohh so she just realized wait neo's sleeping with an older woman she's not guardian she's her wife... "OK, One emotional problem at a time have you seen a giant white rabbit with a scar on her Right eye right down the middle makes you wonder how she can see out of it."

Neo shifted to Weiss And then trying to shift to rabbit design but it was very hard like she was straining a muscle. "You did! which way did she go, or is she still here?" Neo then shifted to a shorter torchwick which would explain the problem she can't change size and then did a motion of like putting in cage and Chains which Ruby turned to look at Her. "OK yeah I got ohh that's her name umm you know, I should really get a names of my former employees listed once in a while. Look if you're willing to pay for the damages I'll let her back into your custody in the meantime, she stays in the cell with me." Neo let out a few signs. "But, OK I'll let her out on Monday. But it's only because neo says it will help her grade not sure what that means. You can pick her up in the morning if you wish to talk to her though I'll let you do that red, but she stays locked up in the basement. "Then Roman turned around and started complaining about a Beowulf.

"Is she trading in grim?" Neo shrugged shifting to men that Ruby has never met then shifting to a lady that Ruby is also never met whose skin was pale white that made Ruby slightly nervous with black veins and then shifting back. "You know I'm starting to understand your accent when it comes to your sign language, you really like to abuse your semblance." As she was led straight towards the basement. At the same time Blake was standing in the shooting gallery area with Yang blowing off some steam as well as some heads from the wooden dummies.

"Stupid, Hiding Schnee, Dumb cu*& Blake, Always picking wrong partners! Do I have a thing for bad boys and bad girls?" Firing a few rounds into a couple of dummies one of their heads exploded right off the torsos. "Wow you're certainly angry, I take it the date didn't go well. I mean when robot girls showed up and said you might want to talk to your friends, I thought it was kind of interesting that she showed up without Ruby but now it makes more sense." "Aren't you going to chase after your sister." Yang quickly picking up several broken pieces & placing up new statues. "Why I think Ruby can handle herself just fine, Now what's got you all angry enough to start doing some night well actually early morning gun practice and isn't it strange that you're particularly selecting the dummies that look awfully lot like one of our teammates." Noticing that the hard light setting of the dummies were reflections of Weiss in a variety of poses and designs including her rabbit form.

Simultaneous “Just being stupid!” Simultaneous for both Ruby and Yang. “Well love has never been the brightest thing.” {If this sequence was animated this would be where I would put a split screen showing off both sides since this is Writing, I'm going to just have to write one side 1st and then write the other! The only reason why you're knowing this is because it makes it make clear.}

Ruby side first: “And I'm supposed to take wisdom from a girl who literally dated a robot.” Remarked Weiss as she shifted back from her rabbit form to her humanoid form and looking a lot slimmer than usual a lot summer I mean she's still overweight but wow like a weight loss program actually kicked in. “Actually she says homunculus, Unlike you we actually did have a bit of a conversation about each other during the movie, you are so busy trying to keep this secret. And now I know why you were eating yourself to become a new continent it makes more sense now.” Weiss was looking around for a weapon and then remembered ohh yeah it's not here. “You're so lucky right now that I'm exhausted.” “I know! now why did you pick this place, I know it can't be because of the chocolate buns they're not that delicious?” “There was already a hole in the roof when I landed this was I think number 14th place I jumped.”

Blake: “Yeah I fell in love again with a wrong person.” As another head was blasted off. “Look miss icicle is probably not that cold, I mean she did eat herself into a mountain.” “Probably because she was nervous that I was going to find out her little secret of her being a spy?” “If she eats that much for being nervous she's not a good spy, I mean it's a good thing that the school doesn't charge you with for food or else we would be in debt and considering that Atlas is notorious for being money grubbers on some of their levels, I mean they have literally almost zero social welfare. I highly doubt she's a spy, So what makes you say that?” “Schnee, Although I never suspect winter would be 1 to actually be willing to have a child with a faunus, ohh I thought she was more focused on her iron golem?” “Probably a secret child that had during the school years I mean. She's like 26?”

Ruby: “And you were still moving so fast from that dust right, Or is your hopping skills really that good and you just don't demonstrate it that well because, I'm starting to get a little angry that you're not using your full strength in our Little duels.” Weiss laying back. “It's time dilation dust, I enhance it into a haste like ability that makes a person move incredibly fast but it has several downsides 1 it will make you incredibly hungry unless you have energy reserves, which is probably the reason why I'm actually lost while weight.”

Blake: “Wait isn't that the also the name, ohh my gosh she slept with her Butler? I bet Weiss has been trained to believe that she's undeserving but due to some political districts she has to be there, I'm surprised that they didn't bother kill her though for just existing?” Yang setting up some of the statues, Now was trying to readjust them to look like somebody else. “I mean yeah she probably didn't have a good relationship with her family and was probably afraid of talking about them? And it's not like she's really going to be handling it well when she's talking with the Princess of her own rival Kingdom.” Blake looked shock at Yang.

Ruby: “So the new dust is very tasking on both the caster and the user one is expense the other one is literally you could burn yourself into a pile of dust wait is that why you call it dust diet?” “Time dilation dust, I am surprised you happen to actually get A's.” Weiss rubbing her forehead. “Well you're staying here until classes this is on Monday, sorry about that you're still doing them right?” “Yes and I'll also let them know that I'm a Fat rat of a hare.” Ruby with a bit of a smile. “And hopefully my sister who is by now probably revealing that she is much better at detective than I am, As talk Blake into just letting you off with a nice warning.”

Blake: “How did you figure that out no one's supposed to know that the Princess of mistral is also when the top warriors of the white Fang!” “Well stepdad was a detective mom was a bandit so I tend to pick up some things, my right you're still roaming the countryside probably doing her crime things.” Readjusting them to look a lot like winter and maybe some of the other Schnee that she can gather a guest from. Nora falling out of a tree along with the rest of her team witnessing the conversation. “Yeah also sorry for listening in on your conversation and wait you're a Princess.”

“An I thought I was special, We both have dust royalty and a Princess, On our rival team that is amazing next thing you're going to tell me, That Joan is actually the descendant Of Queens Julian Caesar of justice toria.” Pyrrha Giving her partner a big hug. “I don't think so or else I think my family would have mentioned that part. Also would be kind of weird that I would be a descendant of the queen that rules this place while having my family grow up in Vacuo. “ end of back-to-back session.

“Interesting statement there, But I need you to do me a couple favors since I'm going to be locked up here First off. Get out of sheet paper you're going to need it.” Ruby pulled up her scroll which she kept tied to her belt the only few things she had on that and also her robe and pulled out the note taking session Weiss gave out a list of chores for Ruby to do while she was still locked up. Once she got the full list Ruby left Weiss immediately went to the small not concealed bathroom in the cell.

When Ruby Arrives back at the dorm,She was bombarded with a series of questions including by Blake which she knew she was going to get hit with as she went over to weiss's desk that she set up do craft dust in a variety of different styles and shapes some had to be turned into crystals so little for better shell conformance others were just powders, She gave some basic info about what was going on with Weiss but she didn't leave in the idea that the only reason why she was freed was because of Neo she didn't want to figure out if there was some issues with that so she made-up a bit of a different story trying to explain what was going on with Weiss naturally her sister could easily figure out that she was lying but she let that one slide.

“Now I can see why this time dilation one is super hard she only has three and I have to maintain them? “ Remarked Ruby as she was resold edifying the three crystals she had to actually turn them back into the separate liquid forms then swirl them back up into solids magnetic dust was extremely hard to come by without having to horribly refine both gravity an earth dust Then separate them then refine them again it was a variety of mixes and separations and levels of separations was like having to filter and unfilter above water of different pure impurities and then put in certain impurities back in and then take them back out after a certain set time frame.

“OK yang, you will take me to her so that way, I can finish my talk!”Yang looked at Ruby and shook her head “Come on the snow queen probably wants to look her best afterwards let her have her cry you soak out of her detox tank and just deal I'm pretty sure Ruby did a good job of saying that you're over things right?” Ruby was too focused on the dust thing and said. “Trust me Blake you just need to wait, But if you really really really need to get this off your chest you could always ask Neo to report this it's a bit complicated on her end.” Blake blinked a little bit and was curious but she decided to ignore asking Ruby so many questions and decided to go ask the mute that is Neo.

Blake and Yang we're off to investigate for Neo First off by knocking onto team GENP's room.

Yang easily picked, Lock! which startled Blake a little bit that Yang knows how to pick a lock? “Sshs” As they snuck into the room, Three of the beds were pushed together making you look like a giant king size bed a desk and a strange tube like box with a series of wires wrapped around it. There was a couple of bookshelves and of course the dresser that was usually for the students. There were three giant crystal balls of dust the third one was even larger than the other two one was bright white tints of blue, The gravity one was the largest with this beautiful purplish hue. “I guess she's been manufacturing ours into balls, I guess considering that it would be hard to tell the difference between the semblance and the actual formula that she just combined both yours and rubies?”

“Yeah, I guess so. But looks like nobody's here.” marked Blake. As they scoured the room looking for any clues for where Neo would be located at. “That's Roman torch Wick why does she have a picture of her?” Blake noticed as there was a giant painting that was extremely obviously adorned with arrows and hearts. “Probably because that's her, I'm not going to talk about their relationship because that's weird. I mean not exactly a pimp but at the same time it kind of does feel like pimp behavior it's complicated.” Yang remarked as she instinctively dodged a quick stab, Neo was standing in front of the doorway looking extremely angry and then shifted straight into Weiss! “Yes, I would like to talk with her.”

It was close to night when they arrived at the bar. Neo shifted back to disguising as Roman, Gave a look of very obvious terror inducing to two of the bouncers letters on the back door followed by Blake and Yang. They could see Weiss cleaning up the mess, she made a while ago! “Look Blake I'm sorry but I was just worried ..” Blake quickly put her fingers in front of Weiss's mouth she noticed that Weiss's lost a lot of weight from pushing to being probably close to six to maybe 700 to now actually being close to being around 300?. “That can't possibly, be healthy for you.” Giving her a hug through the bars there's Neo still doing some watching and shifting a couple times in front of Yang to adjust some flirtatious moves. “We'll see how you feel after midterms.”

“Yeah it's probably not a good thing to tell you that, I may have overdid it a little bit! I'm going to have to say it's probably best to keep it down to maybe 2 minutes now instead of uh pushing for five.” Weiss still trying to keep the conversation away from what she was worried about. “Well you don't have to keep worrying about things. OK, my little chunky Bunny.” Her eyes weighed when she heard that. “And I'm sorry, I should understand that family can drive you nuts. And dealing with the politics of having your mother being in the military and also doubling as an actress.” “What are you talking about my mum's the CEO ohh you thought” Weiss burst out laughing and immediately both Neo and Yang using their auras to cover up for the sound Neo even tried using some of her semblance her secondary 1 which showed the tint of blue wait what. “She has two semblances ohh?” Neo signed out that her second semblance is not that useful in combat so she defaults to her main one.

She explains her main one is called mirror it allows her to disguise herself into anyone as long as she meets their dimensions it's easily if they are too big she has a hard time presenting that image if they are too small well she literally can't do anything about it beyond looking like she's taller than them or adding the magnifying feature on certain parts of their bodies. See her first semblance of mirror allows her to reflect light in a variety of different factors giving a bit of a shimmering effect whenever she shifts to a different type of image. Her second semblance which gives her a watery aura allows her to convert any energy or into basically one of her other auras either water or sand AKA rock allowing her to recover a little bit faster than most since it's so indistinguishable it blends in with her original semblance.

“OK now what was so funny Weiss?” Exclaimed Blake. “Winter is my half sister she's 26 she'll be 27 next year and yes I know that's pretty young for someone who made Lieutenant but her grades are pretty good in the fact There's a reason why she picks a lot of action films too being. Anything to promote the Atlas war machine.” Blake did the quick math and go oh yeah that checks out a bit more realistically still would have been weiss's big sister but that would be about 9 and no matter how much that the rich would cover up things yeah Weiss wouldn't be alive. “Well either way I can understand why you're still worry. Now I'm going to break you out.” Neo then proceeded to shift into something that really shocked all my gosh Blake and Weiss just turned to a shade of white, Yang had no clue what this was about. “Adam is still here.” Remarked the two neo shifted back still in the sword stance though of Adam she did reveal the third thing that made her mirror semblance really terrifying and why she actually leans on that bit more if she's seen someone else's semblances moves she can mimic them for a short time as long as they are not out of her range of semblance meters if they have the elemental effects the answer is no if they do more than just Go to enhancer or manipulator unless she switched to her other semblance Which is classified as a transmuter low tier but still transmutation which allows her to shift it down to Conjurer for about 20 seconds at best and even then she can't make too many copies.

“I guess we're not going to break out your girlfriend she's just going to have to wait for her release a few more hours later.” Remarked Yang as the three quickly left, Weiss was left sitting, Filling a lot better! And for once not hungry.

End of black and white

Round one teams versus teams

That morning Ruby picked up Weiss from the Tavern also amazed of how much weight Weiss has lost while they were walking towards the school. “ So let's see we start off First off with our matches so that's why I brought all the dust, Then we do the written exams if we've lost which I feel like it's an interesting subject matter of punishment after we wipe out your muscle fatigue your brain gets more wiped.” Ruby remarked after having a unique conversation with TorchWick. Then Ruby started walking towards a different area. “Not surprising, I mean we have six teams per class with over 24 classes. And we're not going to the gardens where are we going?”

As they arrived into a large stadium area on the signs were CRDL VS JNPR, DMND VS LGON & RWBY VS GENP. Along with several other classes set up in their own little mini brackets. Ruby and the gang sat down together naturally the root for team JNPR! As the team was getting set up the announcement and the rules of these little tournament battles were going to be listed with Glenda being the referee.

“Welcome students now this arena has a special set of attachments performed by our headmaster. Ozpin, she crafted several unique Abilities on to this arena so that way you cannot harm or kill each other while fighting in this ring granted this is based off of ancient tech an Ozpin is the only one who knows how to attune it and fix it. That said I still want to follow the key rules of this tournament so once your aura breaks, Or you are knocked out of the ring or you fall unconscious you are out if your leader is unconscious at any point you lose is important for your team to tactically withdraw and try to get your leader out. The one with the most conscious team members minus the leader within one hour of fighting we'll move on to the next round. “

“So to be clear, If your aura is gone, You fall unconscious, Or ring out you lose if your leader suffers any of these three situations your entire team loses your goal is to knockout the leader.” Joan receded to do a big gulp noticing that team Crdl was having a big huge target focus on her! As the thing started to count down Glenda using her glyphs went up into the air hovering in the sky. As the first round began fight!

As the two teams covered themselves with their aura, Polishing their top half with from their bosoms and they're both half from their testicles! In each team's semblances this is on the screen Cardin Winchester: fire: emitter: magma Rd., Russel Thrush: plant: conjure: string, Dove Bronzewing: water: enhancer: hydro slice, Sky Lark: wind: emitter air current. JNPR: Jones was listed as lightning and that was it Nora was also listed as lightning: enhancer: high voltage, Pyrrha Nikos:Plant: manipulator: Polaris, Lie Ran:Plant:Emitter:Tranquility. As the two teams stepped into the arena a little health bar showing up right next to their names.

Sky and Card immediately started their usage of their semblances Cards slamming her Mace into the ground on several locations creating magma roads fire and lava the pouring into the area, Sky taking to the air on his shotgun axe which was a ridiculous looking weapon, In his two handed hands jumping onto now a basic skyboard generating air currents to cover for the air and fly around Thrash was already using Her weapon of choice in bow form her twin daggers combined to become bow using the string that chicken generate to fire arrows,Using the dust crystals mounted inside her daggers to generate the arrows in question lightning and more plant. Doves blade began to glow of dim blue when surrounded by water but before she could act Nora slammed her high voltage mate of hammer into the ground! “ Ran Draw fire, Nora still keep wrecking house!” Jones shouted giving orders.

Ran & Pyrrha Gave a slight nod,To each other as Ran proceed to run in between the arrow launches and the roads of lava making banks and turns almost as if instinct was taking over the emotion of survival sensing the other emotions around and being able to mask her own well also sensing the emotions of danger and threat giving her the ability to basically dodge things that were threatening her body almost like a bit of a danger sense! Pyrrha Started off in rifle stance and started using her gun Loaded with water, Dust Which combined with Nora's already electrical personality,Was a deadly combination as Jones sword was glowing with a bit of electrical charge almost as if it was becoming yellow and deadly just before Joan began to swing a loud blaring horn unleashed!

“Winner team juniper, breakage calculated!” As the headmaster immediately showed up she looked extremely worried grabbing Joan and whispered “Where did you get that blade?” The team that they were facing against was shocked they weren't even hit with the big huge attack that was going to probably calculated to break their aura but there probably was thinking that sword had something to do it. Hence why Ozpin was so focused on it.

As the next two teams were listed: DMND:Damien Dawn: fire: conjure: flame arsenal.Mercury Black: wind: no semblance,Nils Ninian: water: conjure: dancing decoy,Dante DuMont: fire: emitter: nine rings.,LGON:Lyn Sacae: Wind, conjure: Call Doubles,Guy Daein: Ice, conjure: Ice dance Ooyd Bishop: fire, enhance: flaming heal ,Nia Greil: Wind: enhance/manipulator: sacred song. Emerald only Rooting for Mercury, Again stepping into the ring both teams getting ready to fight underneath the same conditions. Lagoons started off with their conjurers of decoys is generating their decoys! Lynn's double call creates 4 duplicates surrounding her they mimicked her motions moves but she was unable to move from her position she always had to step back into the original position with four decoys always surrounding her. Each one of them wielding a sword a katana to be exact, her teammate guy had to dance across the battlefield leaving a clone icicle statue when stopping in certain movements, Nia Sacred song was enhancing her teammates while manipulating their movements a little bit causing them to move in a dancing emotion hence why I was classified as a dual class she can't enhance herself but she can also manipulate her teammates while enhancing their statuses and abilities.

Dante was using Her rings to create fiery circles around the areas he could emit Up to nine of them before she becomes exhausted, Her platinum blonde hair slowly shifting back and forth two different colors of fiery red, blue, and gold! Combining the two small guns into One large great sword swinging with the deadly fury trying to get guy but also fending off the clones of Lynn, Mercury using her mechanical legs, And the combustion dust to fire off into distances and run faster. Dawn's flaming arsenal was unleashed creating a series of flaming blades of knives and throwing stars. The dancing decoys were moving In Sync with her teammates creating different duplicates to make it harder to see who was real and who was fake, Mercury weaving in between the multiple clones of both Her teammates as well as her opponents, Using the thrusters of the mechanical legs thanks, Of combustion dust to eliminate throughout several of the ice clones and then get close to her target.

Lynn switching from her Katana to her, Bow form of her weapon Which causes her clones to switch instead firing multiple arrows but the clone arrows aren't actually there they're just mere illusions her strikes of her original self are the only ones that can do damage mercury picking out what's going on slips through the barrage of arrows avoiding the real ones but actually taking the blows of the fakes, For dashing through one of the fake clones And delivering A powerfully dangerous kick to the torso breaking the aura and shattering into a tornado of dust blowing out several of the teammates out of the ring. "You're lucky she's the leader or else we would have lost!" Remarked Damian as she used her semblance to actually keep herself in the field breaking her right arm by coating it into a flaming sword and impaling her feet with metal spikes of flames. "A win is a win."

As the scattered aura dust was collected from the battlefield before the next and final match of the class was going to commence the other two teams were now splitting off into their directions team diamond was getting their medical treatments as well the physical injuries were now so quickly healing a lot faster than they normally would that was still a serious set of wounds. Noting that while inflicting damage to your opponent was negated of lethal force inflicting lethal force to yourself was not the self damage can vary easily cause physical damage.

Ruby Rose: gravity: Transmuter: Petal Burst, Weiss Sieben: Ice: special family: glyph, Blake Belladonna: gravity: conjurer: shadow, Yang Xiao Long, Fire? Enhancer: Burn!!! Goldy locks: lightning: enhancer: rule of three. Emerald Sustrai: plant: manipulator: Hallucinations, Neopolitan Torchwick: emitter: Mirror Mirror, Penny Polendina: {parent plant} wind: emitter: aura wave/Aura switch. Once again the team started coding themselves, As Weiss put on two new ammo belts she has been preparing for the tournament within a decent ratio. Each one of them binding on to her DICK, Which also had its own waistband!

"OK, team! Let's start off with operation pinball wizard!" Excitedly exclaimed Ruby, Yang got into position behind Weiss, as She set up two glyphs right next to her one on each side! Ruby got on to the left glyph as Blake stood onto the right one they were tilted in midair with their stance ready to go up higher and higher. Weiss handed them both a capsule before they started dashing off into the air. As the glyphs gave a unique glow of dark dark purple. GL: "Neo pick one pick one, Penny cover me Emerald think of something!" Channeling some of her semblance that was already on top of neo who transformed into a duplicate of Ruby just to mimic the dashing off point but Ruby was a lot faster than expected. Then neo switched to Blake and almost demonstrate the strength of a actual Panther when she climbed onto the next spot reaching just at the same point that the two tossed their grenades and Yang fired two shots directly at them!

Neo quickly shifted herself to her other semblance to absorb the attack still keeping her image of Blake, As Blake generated a copy and Ruby shifted into her petals, Yang shots were meant to do that! If it wasn't for neo's trick she would have been knocked out of her aura! Emerald quickly flipped her fingers and Ruby saw something a dagger right at weiss's throat, Yang on the ground bleeding from her gut Ruby shifted back from her petals, popping up in front of her friends! Just as the chain wrapped around her and she noticed that her friends were fine ohh yeah emerald's ability only affects certain targets but it makes allusions in their heads strong enough to be believable! “ Penny why don't you give emerald a quick ride, I only say about too much.” “Quickly gang Alpha Omega, Oh my Godasss!” As Ruby was yanked up into the air by the chain!

The two blades on the chains were seeping into her aura getting closer and closer to penetrating through it and lashing onto her belly, The sheer speed of the two flying up into the air was immense and then the world began to slow down. She heard Weiss slowly speak the words “ I--- Didn't Know-- that penny==could---use---my-- techniques--- when--- I give her the recipe!” Almost in a blink of an eye Weiss was now catching up and she also shifted into her rabbit form hopping into the air creating glyphs upon glyphs trying to climb up faster and faster Ruby was starting to feel the hunger oh she's being hastily added too ohh which means also... “Penny you need to stop we're organic remember we need fuel you generate yours!” Penny looked down and saw that emerald was starting to have parts of her skin get thinner and she was starting to look pale like she was burning through more of her health penny stopped the chain reaction just long enough for Weiss to still catch up she did a quick punch to penny's jaw just as she shifted back into timeline, All three crashed onto the ground.

“OK, now we've lost and also everybody knows, I'm a rabbit, how could this day get any worse.” Remarked Weiss and then a thunderstorm clapped and it started to rain and sitting in the audience was a very dapper man, Smiling with Glee as lightning clashed and clicked. As the Dome was slowly closing Glenda called it as Ruby was lying unconscious and muttering in her sleep. “Yes, I would like a cheeseburger! And yes, I would like more cookies with my milk, I have plenty of milk here and here..” Slightly laughing. As the teams were carried off into their separate directions it would have been a close match if it wasn't for penny activating the time dilation shin dust and being able to calculate how glyphs work which was the thing that Weiss was trying to calculate against.

After Ruby devoured her breakfast, Which made her look like she was eating like Weiss does on a panic attack they headed off towards their classes to start taking their written parts of their exams. 'Name the four elements of dust?' Ruby noted that this was actually a trick question it was supposed to be correcting the actual thing which is saying that there's technically 5 gravity is classified underneath its own well. 'What was old man's design and capabilities before dust.' This was actually multiple choice and she selected magic, which the subject was kept particularly vague on what they could do. But while semblances are extremely versatile it was very clear the big differences between magic and semblances one magic could break the rules, semblances might be able to bend one or two but not outright ignore!

After lunch which again Ruby was seriously devouring and starting to get a little worried that she might eat like Weiss in a habit, And she knows she wasn't the only one, Emerald was eating storm! Just like the raging rainstorm outside good thing that the arena actually had its own builtin Dome setting as several other classes were still doing their routines of cleaning up their first rounds of fights some had to take care of some of their written exams earlier as there was only one stadium.

'What are the names of the four sacred relics?' Ruby put down the lamp of knowledge, The crown of choice, The rod of creation, And the yellow death also known as the sword of destruction.

'What happens to a infinitely destructible object when colliding with an invincible object.' Ruby wrote down nothing. 'The tale of the four maidens,Is a story of?' Ruby wrote down the four warriors that fought with the The queen in the great battle that created the four kingdoms. 'What relic created the dark queen?' The crown of choice.

Ruby still sitting at her desk was now on her next test. : 'What are the threat levels of grim? There are choices, A: Young Ling, Wyrmling, Adult, & Elder. B: Fresh, Mold, Bacteria, & Plague. C: Pond, Rookie, Fighter, & Emperor. D: Zero, Devils, Primordial & Angels. Ruby looked a little smug as she marked her answer. 'Where do Grimm come from?' Again multiple choice: A: Unknown they've always been here. B: Grim pools. C: Moon rocks from the moon. D: In dust mines. Again marking her answer with a nice wisdom. "What are the worshippers of the dark queen?" This one was also multiple choice but this was not really covered in the class ohh this is a hard question. A: Blight B: Shrieks, C: Witches, & D: Preachers. Ruby closed her eyes and marked her answer.

The next question obviously gave answers to a couple of questions that happened to be from the previous tests and then they Went back to their dorms exhausted and rundown with the exception of Ruby! Ruby went off to get more food she was still starving from time dilation thingy and she was not Letting up. "Weiss, my sister going to become as big as you? Before your burn off?" Yang remarked as she dives onto the bottom bunk. "I highly doubt it she'll probably stop having cravings for about a day or two, I'm still wondering though how penney's reacting to it she's a machine that thing alters your mental and physical perception it doesn't actually accelerate time it accelerates how your body metabolizes time." Weiss is exclaims hopping on to her bed.

End of round one.

Round 2 and a new blade!

Tuesday around 3:00 in the morning Ruby comes out of her bedroom dressed in her pajamas, Actually just the top when she noticed Joan was coming out of team GeNp Room? "Uh what are you doing up?" Inquired Ruby while also still doing the gotta go dance. "Well I could ask you the same question but I think, I know what you're doing to say yes so we can talk while we're on your way?" As the two head over towards the uh dorm lavatories. "I've been asking penny for help on making me a new blade. I can't believe Had mistress ozpin took my blade! it's been the family for years I'm just going to kill me, And that's if sisters don't find out first." Ruby gave a tighter squeeze on her Cock, Upon hearing that almost making a dent it helps with the peepee dance. " So which team are you going up against?" As she reached the door to the laboratories. "Diamond? And I think emerald is really rooting for mercury to win because she kept on saying to penny sabotage the blades sabotaged the blades sabotaged the hilt. I am so glad 3 outvoted her on this." As Joan's showed off her new hilt, And slight alteration to the shield. The family Crest was even bigger and more brighter than usual.

As Ruby walked into the laboratory and taking her positions Joan was admiring her new shield and sword combo well to be exact a hilt it was more designed to be a gladius hilt than the hilt of the previous sword that was in there which was just a standard long sword fluent in unique design. After the loud flushing noise in the hound of the hand dryer, Ruby stepped out brushing herself.

"So tell me about the new weapon please? I mean, We're not gonna have a round against each other so?" Ruby drooling at the hilt and the slightly upgraded shield. "Well I had to sacrifice my big huge rail cannon, Good thing I have 3 Ranger fighters on my team." As the two slightly laughed. "Go on please, please." Ruby still inquiring in holding back some energy. "I'm starting to think I know why you date a robot girl, Well if I place my hilt into my sword sheath, leave when the shield is in sheave mode.” Grabbing a dust crystal and placing it inside the shield family Crest and then shifting it into with the sheave and then placing in the hilt then pulling it out and there was a long sword like blade crafted out of the golden dust that was placed in. “I get a full dust blade with the ability of activating its elemental attunement. Sure at best it will last for three swings but it should do decent amount of damage?”

“So you're going to be a dust blade wielder for a while cool, You know daddy uses them she's really cool with them she has, her signature weapon that basically makes a whole bunch of them with tiny katanas. Long short ones uh sometimes even really fat blades too. Come to think of it penny kind of makes a couple of those two once in a while although her hilts are slightly different and she actually turned them into blasters sure if she wants to but the guns like break in a second or half.” As Ruby started spouting off different things in details about dust blades. Pure dust blades which are the ones that she was referencing are extremely brittle but extremely powerful as well they can deliver harsh amounts of elemental damage at the cost of the fact matter is that they are extremely brittle strong attacks and also counter elements could easily destroy them. You have to remember the rock paper scissors system of the Five elements.

“Ruby we're in the hallway you might not want to do that there.” Ruby got to the point about explaining about core differences with subtypes known as fusion dust blades which are the ones that are slightly more durable but weaker at the same time when she was leaving a trail of black goop. “Oh sorry, And no I do not like penny just because she's a walking weapon arsenal and that is extreme is, she still awake?” “I think she's in shutdown mode.” Ruby snapped her fingers and muttered something about making Weiss three times heavier like she would even notice. “Um maybe you should ask before you do that?” Remarked Joan. “You're right I'll just dig into my collection of bags, I'll leave it out for Weiss! That way she'll be happy to see a new rack for her dust collection.” Giving Joan a wave as she headed straight towards the kitchens. “OK, see you in the morning? Ruby nice talking with you.”

At 6:00 Weiss. “RUBBBBYYY!” Looking at 3 bags of full giant condoms is sitting on her desk glowing with purplish goop. “What I was feeling energetic last night? And you were sound asleep and I didn't feel like trying to climb up and wake up Blake either so yeah?” “But, Victims, Big tests final grades?” Yang quickly tap the shoulder of a twitching Weiss who was starting to quickly shift into rabbit form. “We're going to be late for class and we can't get seats to watch the fights so we're going to have to book it.” Weiss quickly picked up the three bags and found her paperwork for the exams before rushing off out of the Dormitories with the rest of her group barely slipping into the school uniform as per usual.

More quizzes this filling out for several of the class lessons including combat strategies, And details. When they came up to the philosophy class Weiss was banging her head leaning over very carefully so that way she would not be heard by anybody else she whispered to Ruby. “What are the names of the two gods?” Ruby replied “I can't tell you that because that would be cheating I know you want A, in your course, But you might just have to settle for a B, Of course you might be miserable if you pick a C or a D in your life.” In a low whispering tone and then got back to her paper white took this as picking out B: Treclach Vs Freumhan Although she was slightly worried though it might be also A: Ehweh Vs Helel ! Thankful that at least the battle maniac that is Ruby was going to at least memorize something although she was out also on the day of that class lesson so maybe that her just doing research.

You're answering the question of what were the four God's names that took the place of the two when they left and destroyed the moon. Again Weiss had the slammer head to the table because Atlas does not teach about religion. “Miss 7, Please reframe from making noises, I know you missed these classes this, Covering the test but do your best any good student could study up and cover the answers.” Weiss was giving Ruby the side eye as she was the one who covered her notes with black goop! She was up all night studying, Until one! Blake leaned over and whispered “The four artifacts are a good reference tool.” Weiss closed her eyes and remembered that the four artifacts are, The crown of choice, The lamp of knowledge, The staff of creation, And the sword of destruction. Salem, Gale, Ozma, & Singra. Also known as the forbidden team SGOS.

After weapons class, Which was also a written exam explaining the different types of weapons and why do hunters use both makeshift melee and range weapons in combat. {Also a better design of Peter's blunderbust The ax heads are on the barrel still double headed though unless you're looking clearly it looks like a crossbow!} Just before Ruby was about to go to the shooting range she spotted Penny. “So since our date kind of got interrupted and we are still in a situation can we finish our date in the cafeteria like around lunchtime? And then take after activities after direct but just before the next test.” As her massive muscle was throbbing. “Calculation you will have to stop in mid energy and hold it until after the rest of the exams of today can you handle?” Ruby tried to stretch it towards her lips, but her big belly is starting to get in the way actually. “Maybe with some help from my teammates.” She said slightly struggling as she went towards the shooting gallery and grabbed her Crescent rose And naturally shifting it into just playing rifle mode.

“Okay, class. Today we're just dealing with your range attacks no fancy melee weapon attacks that's if you have failed your first attack Rounds of the tournament you have to take that though.” Ruby Gave a bit of a wine including several of the other teams, That loss in the first round. “Second rounders you don't have to do the exam although it will help improve your score if you need it so pay attention to how well you did in that fight. Ruby noticed that a lot of team diamonds side, Including Mercury Black who was putting on new legs? “Ohh mercury you'll get new proper legs later, I'm sorry that. We haven't properly calibrated the right caliber for your fighting style.” Commented the teacher. Pyrrha Looked a little guilty, like she pulled something she shouldn't have done. Also she noticed Team Gentile was slightly, Apprehensive and Ruby turned to Penny?

“Did you guys lose your match?” Emerald was looking extremely angry when Penny was asked this question the rest of the team was not upset for some odd reason, Both Mercury and Emerald were extremely angry though as if they had a secret mission that required them to get farther in the tournament. “Affirmative, I tried to use the time acceleration as a attack instead of a rescuing method for teammates noting. The new problems that came arise with the fact that, I am not requiring Meals sustenance in order to maintain variety of energy field fluctuations, although it has recurred to me that there is several things that I do require refueling on after using said technique. I had to replace my secondary battery core during said battle in mid combat. Which my emergency defense skills cost us the battle.”

Ruby looked around and noticed that team street was missing, As the classes were allowed to see all the other classes during midterms she recognized Team Street they were the one that was led by a shark?

“Madam where is Team STEN?” Inquired Blake actually which was an interesting situation on that one Ruby was amazed that Blake was the one who picked up on asking that question for her instead of usually her sister Yang sometimes it is joked that those two chair brain. The Bird teacher replied. “Currently watching over their teammate Soop Bolton, Was seriously injured in combat the arena is capable of preventing you from receiving most lethal injuries and damages but it will not prevent you from w hen 100 percent lethal injuries or damages. It could turn what would be known as a mortal blow into something at least survival. We are not as resumed as our enemies, Cut off the arm of a grim and they will still continue to attack this is the reason why we are told specifically to target the chest and head! Rarely are we even able to recover from limbs being removed in strong formats and there are some cases where even grim come back with their heads removed, we do not. Thankfully the team will not have to have a substitute replacement unlike team coffee during their first midterms one of their teammates passed away and was replaced with Fox Alistair.”

The team really need to watch the instant replay of those fights luckily they'll be airing during lunch time on the big screen in the cafeteria. After shooting the group set up into their different tables ruby getting herself a lone table with penny while also positioning herself just enough so that way she can see the giant holographic screen she caught the last bit of Juniper versus diamond! Joan managed to catch, Damien and Dante in a great ether, Shifting from a fire dustblade to a water dust blade in mid swings before slamming down making a tidal wave. But she didn't get to see what happened to mercury although she did get to see what happened afterwards which was enough of a bit of a clue that the legs were missing.

Then Penny tried to get everybody's attention away from watching the hologram when it came to her fight! Penny dashed forward grabbing the crazy hammer girl known as Eva Poppy And activated time acceleration. People had to blink twice to notice that there were 14 explosions happening simultaneously. “Wait isn't poppy semblance?” Noted one of the other students. “Yeah I think she's also a mitter? I think she calls it self destruct?” “Yeah girl has rattled herself a couple of times a bit more than you think with those explosions, I think she lost a couple of marbles last time she blew herself up?” Soop Punch emerald so hard that she was tossed out of the ring. Just as penny landed and opened her torso revealing three glowing orbs one was covered in goop that, They could tell the other one looked like it was something strange like it was pulsating the third one was clearly a glowing lightning crystal. Soop dash forward with another powerful punch his semblance was an enhancer he was a good counter element to actually Yang if she didn't unlock the Lightning vibration and she's clampable of activating his was known as soak the opposite of burn still working on the same principles coding his body with water or that's what everybody thought what would happen if he punched where he did plunging his hands straight into penny's chest. “Activating emergency protocol unleash protective barrier over core for 20 seconds. No must not do that court true danger just to be released in front of T.” A blinding light scoop was sitting on the floor of the arena his entire right arm which was the punching arm was missing only a blackened stump at his shoulder.

“Monculus doesn't actually have a normal soul. In order to assimilate a soul we need something unique. “Penny turned to explain to Ruby. “This is classified, but I kind of have a heart but not a human heart and we know grim don't have the ability to generate a semblance.” Giving a slight nudge to Ruby as in this is a touchy subject she cannot reveal anything more. But the rest of the classes started moving their chairs farther away from the two couple. Ruby grab pennies arm and tried the dragger that was not working she's too heavy. “Bedroom or laboratory?” Ruby exclaimed. “I don't think I can make it to the dorms laboratory.” Just knowing that Penny was capable of vaporizing an entire arm was such a turn on! Granted the hologram was actually censored and didn't show enough of the full damage to Soop who is also blinded severely from the incident, Having some of the flesh melted from his face and the other factors.

Ruby took off what was left of her school uniform and grab pennies's tie While laying on for a kiss while trying to push her into one of the bathroom stalls not happening robot girl's skeleton frame was at best £250 it's not counted when she's fueled which is even heavier. Crescent rose even with its insane overt uning built at best ways 170. If you don't factor in some of the materials that she uses which cuts out in the weight even further to about 75. As Ruby shoved her Cock Inside the fake vagina. Pussy Was being demonstrated to have its own elasticity as well as some of the belly which was a combination of polymers plastics and industrial flakes. Given some elaborate frequencies and goop. Ruby could feel her pelvis hurting a little bit more every time she thrust harder and harder it was like slamming into the hard steel wall of a glory hole! Penny opened a port in her hands as she placed them onto Ruby's chest grabbing the her tiith, And like a cow's milking machine was pumping out the liquid, Ruby could feel them getting longer and stiffer. And making noises that would have made probably a lot of the bull/cow fondnesses angry. As the orbs were getting smaller and smaller and Penny's torso was getting purple and purpler.

Penny slowly moved them into a stall, As Ruby was like she was plugged into another milking machine hm with a slight extra vibration setting Cum, Coding areas upon areas machinery designed to withstand being covered in such strange goops! The metal rims of the stall was starting to bend and compress force. As the sound of bending metal was freaking into Ruby's ears. And then the bell rang signifying for the next class ruby activated her simplest to slip past Penny turning into her petals. "See you later at Class still throbbing gonna really have to hold it." "Understandable also this was a miscalculation I am currently stuck activating muscle enhancements." As she ripped the half of the stall off which another couple was hiding in the corner giving off a little bit of a scream as they noticed who was standing next to them. "Right away it's the nanny killer bombs!" "Actually my core is not composed of a nuclear reaction, you have ran away? More like a hydrogen reaction?" towards her class with a feel of not activating the side effect of having a large amount of gravity in her body with each step making cracks and layers upon the dirt here's of the school.

When they got to their second exam Ruby positioned herself right next to Penny and asked a couple of key questions. "Look, I don't mind being the one doing all the Cumming! But once in a while I wouldn't mind seeing how it would feel to be you know rammed by your rods. So could you demonstrate that in the bedroom preferably your dorm. If you're worried about us being interrupted you could always put a suck on the door that's what Yang told me? Granted she thought she would be using the sock a bit more than Blake and Weiss are." Obviously this was before school when she was given this information yang was calculately hoping that she still wouldn't be partnered up with her sister just because it would be awkward but the awkward still levels. "I do have three different types of pump action rifles that do exist near that region, This assembled into the leg reactors do you want me to try to figure out a way how to do this without literally blowing your brains out?" Ruby gave a nod the rest of her team were starting to look a little disturbed especially Yang.

"Please tell me there isn't a story where she shoved her the barrel of her sniper rifle up her.." Before Weiss could finish the sentence yang's look on her face just screamed oh yes there is a story behind that. "She needs therapy and as someone, who probably needs it, 'equally' that's a lot." She responded with air quotes. Blake gave a slight tilt on that statement but at the same time, Par for the course for her relationship history she did a chameleon that has a sensitive emotional issues about her skin, A bull with psychological trauma and both in theory and superiority complex, And now she's in a relationship with the Bastard Child between The Butler and business tycoon mother that is probably having a horrible drinking habit. Possibly living in a loveless marriage.

After classes the Team and a quarter managed to slip away to go to the shopping district. Granted Neo was a silent party, But more willing to actually help. "You all think it is a good idea to not use said hypolistic weaponry instead come up with something a bit more safer?" The rest of the team Ruby covered the mouth of their leader "YES!" Said the rest of the team and Neo holded up in a sign. "Now is there any suggestions on where we need to go?“ Inquired Weiss. Neo with the most experience hold up assign that says 'SEX Toy Store.' “Well I think we're old enough but that is in the red light district, which is kind of uncouth?” remarked Weiss. “Yeah and considering my sister has a bad habit of wanting to use dangerous objects? They're really testing out how far she can make it where she can't actually walk straight.” Ruby countered her sister's remarks by saying. “It was one time and you can't even see the scar anymore!” Moving her cloak and showing the giant gas mark behind her back. “Wait I thought that was a grim attack injury? Ruby did you shove thee..” Again Weiss was stopped by Blake and Yang from finishing the rest of the sentence accusing Ruby of placing the sharp in inside her body.

“How about we split up into two teams, I will go with The ones who are experienced and understand the reasonable capabilities of said equipment located at this red light district neo and Processing processing Weiss.” Weiss was shocked like she had ever encountered such cruel provocative of a district where you pay you women to have relationships and going to CD hotels. “Neo what are you doing?” As she Covered herself with her aura and also penny and Weiss And then giving them a disguise Neo naturally disguised yourself to look like Roman, Penny was given a slightly different hair color matching more like a person named Arthur Watts, Meanwhile Weiss's white hair was disguised to look more like a dark Crimson and her skin was made to still look a little darker. Neo holed UA sign that said 'Sorry I can't make wholesale disguises but, I can make light ones that could just make it harder for you guys to be recognized.' “Excellent yang and Blake will take Ruby to the place with multiple garden locations I am capable of attaching variety of things to my ports that are located in the farming district that would be safer yet still be at the same risk value that Ruby pleasurizes.”

“Again one time, When we were raking the leaves just one time ok?” Ruby feeling slightly humiliated as the cat and her sister was dragging her to Bingo depot. As the two walked into the store ruby was heading towards the chainsaw department as the two girls grabbed her by her giant robe of a cloak pulling her by her cape and she said “Not like this, Losing oxygen pretty light, thanksgiving tighter.” Blake generated a clone and grabbed Ruby's other part before it started reacting. “I think a guarding hose might work?” Remarked Yang. [Narrator: You could probably guess where I've been getting my research for a while]

Meanwhile at the Red Light District arriving at aerials what's its and who's it's. “Ah If it isn't miss torchwick, What can I do for you.” Neo gesturing to Weiss. “Yes my friend...” Weiss was scrambling for a name in her head trying to think of a fake name for penny that could work “Nickel Electron. Is of the need of a well could you move a bit of those roles of your belly to show her what we need?” Penny gave a slight nod understanding that she was given a fake name nickel is a gray coin representation of her copper exterior which is a reference to her name penny. “Oh I see you need a Strap-on dildo. Do you prefer two or three and do you need access to your Pussy? For your activity or not! because 've got gadgets and gizmos a-plenty, I've got whozits and whatzits galore, I have dingo, boppers, and reppers all galore, mint for that hole that you find adored.” “Yes, also one that would be useful in every day where.” She remarked to the redhead fish Funnis. With Neo giving us slight silent giggle.

As Blake sneezed. “Maybe you shouldn't have had that fun time when Weiss was sick with the flu from sitting out in the rain. Although that was like a month ago so, I'm not sure why you have that cold?” Remarked Yang as she was looking at a couple of different types of garden hoses there was the silk model which gets thicker and heavier when filled with liquid but when fully drained it becomes a flat and compressed. Then there was the hard thick hoses, they were also looking at variety of different heads. “Now this one looks interesting it says it's even capable of high powered taking off the bark of a great wood ?” The two immediately said no to that one. “Oh come on it's just going to be a perforating my insides!” Yang countered with a slightly different remark. “Yeah and I don't have silver eyes you do that s extremely rare that I don't because of mum.” Yang gesturing to Ruby's silver eyes which they still don't know how to unlock the unique semblance that is tied to silver eyes known as the Medusa Stare.

“Yeah yeah, I know it's extremely rare nobody knows how the semblance works they've only heard tales of how it functions turns grim to stone and freezes in place all others.” Remarked Ruby muttering about the fact that she has no clue how to activate this ability and it is only detailed in rumors there are so few people who have the silver eyes that the story has been kept secret and it is basically a rumor entails some theorize it's not even actually a semblance but more like a dark power that exists from before the times of classic man. “Okay how about this one this one just says I can get off dirt and grime that's heavily caked on. Party poopers.” “Look just because you're having fun with a nuclear reactor? Probably power from whatever check that Atlas has stored Up, there who knows maybe they're making an artificial god. Performing blood sacrifices, ritual burnings Or sick. Yeah it was a good thing that Weiss wasn't here with us.” Remarked Blake as even Yang was giving her the side eye.

Weiss was covering her nose as they were looking at a variety of Dingle Hoppers? “thingamabobs Like 20 of them, Do you also need some orbs to help balance things out or you don't mind rocking the no stones approach?” As they read the name tale saying Ariel. “I can attach hardened crystals dust to those areas easily in a variety of methods, I can even integrate the dust back into its liquid form although it has lost most of its potential so it cannot create proper life yet.” Penny said trying to put on a voice of older and more maturity which she goes pretty well actually because she actually has a voice synthesizer. “Any preference for your partner since this is obviously not going to be just for you?” Nao was in shock and horror, And as she was wearing torchwick face that was even funnier. “Yes she prefers to be shaken violently and horribly possible bone breaking.” Ariel gave a slight laugh. “Ah then you wish to go to the jacket's corner section.” Taking her to a section filled with Vibrators and ones that look like they had sharp Jack hammer handles with Pistons and Extensions hoses galore with powers and mites flexible tubes and Mechanical ridges, And areas that could leave easily distinguished bruises.

“Maybe we should have taken Ruby here instead.” Remarked Weiss as they were given the tour.

End of round two

Fall and Demons

Meanwhile Mercury and Emerald were talking or to be exact berated by a very large Cinder She was reaching stage four starting to develop the Boyles that would become more husks of her body be multiple eyes steering from across her body on to the directions of her to subjects. Watts was sitting in a different room experimenting on his new test subject and process the one known as Adam. “How am I going to get the power of the fall maiden if neither one of you are possibly going to be selected! The only reason why, I'm not killing you too right now is that you still use some minut purpose to me!” As sections of our flesh was starting to boil and melt unleashing parts of her semblance of heat which is counterbalance to the fact that she is currently becoming a grim brewed the symbols itself is dangerous.

The fact that they were separated by a glass wall was already the only reason why they were probably safe to be in the same facility. Blackened pools were pouring out of Cinder's gigantic body the eyes leaking tears of dark goop. “Maybe you should convert one of us into a secondary one and we could just slip in and unleash.” Cinder turned with evil glee and said “No, Emerald! just because you would find this exhilarating as much as me does not mean that we sacrifice the plans! Mercury focus on making yourself proper new legs get parts from Atlas find a way around certain rules we need to make things clear.” Focusing her attention on Mercury. “Emerald find the blueprints of your robot girl, I think she'll b more useful than we realize. I have to draw Mr Watts once to use her in a scheme? And when this is done we will find the location where our queen is being inhaled.”

Cinder took deep breaths as her belly pulsed up and down jiggling all the lumps of flesh that are her glowing eyed Tits, Which she had grown multiple of down her body and arms and legs. Even some pulsating off of her massive DICK! The teary substances once in a while shifting into Beowulfs small youngsters. Barely even showing off some of the bone spikes around the head biting and sniping at the other. “That said we might have to move Up some of our plans, I have a few more months before I burst.”

Meanwhile in Team Gentiles' dorm room “YEEEESSS! YEEEESSS! YEEEESSS! YEEEESSS! “Ruby was repeating as she was bouncing up and down up and down on the king size bed even with her slight weight gain her belly was showing bulges and bounces & punches galore. The bed being shook and bounced as the bedposts were crack and breaking, Naturally Ruby herself wasn't getting any bigger as Penny was currently just shooting blanks although the air compression has been leaking out from several areas with each time Ruby exhales her belly de expands for a split second. “I am glad you are enjoying this I am finding this quite pleasurable as well it feels strange as if I can feel the sensations across them, yet none of the parts were designed with the Nanopoplaners in design as if my systems had reincorporated the data? May want to add this to future blueprints in case of Roject Phoenix although Roject Phoenix is never supposed to come into play.” Penny remarking as she stretched out her fingers on her left arm over towards a small computer monitor typing in slight adjustments to a folder that she opened up.

At 9:00 o'clock there is a knock on the door since they were shopping until 8 that meant they only had really one hour of fun time. “Ruby we have chess while neither one of us are going to be competing in the tournaments which my superior has not been notified yet about this one will probably be extremely angry the other one might be forgiving it depends on his mental acuity. Very few people have ever kept their semblance maintained in the on the active status when they are not known to maintain the m levels it is not a passive semblance.” Probably referring to James Ironwood.

Mettle, Enhancer rock to be exact metal. Gives one the mental fortitude and will power to surpass their physical limits by removing all emotional status to one's type of frequency. While very similar to Rans Semblance on emotional core, Ranz emits a outward field, Sending out messages in energy waves and bouncing them back like echolocation meanwhile James is known to basically make gitware their will is noted to have literally made it where he cannot die, Willing himself to still be alive while losing a lung the heart diaphragm stomach lower intestines left leg, left arm, And lower half of right leg.

“Good night weiss sleep nicely.” Has Ruby jumped up into her bed which was dangling by vines and heavy rope over Weiss. “Do I hear crick ..” Everything was in slow motion as Weiss generated a glyph trying to hold the bed up, Shifting into rabbit form and moving onto the floor just before the bed slammed and crushing it ruby still sound asleep. “Well blit let me guess nope.” Weiss went back to studying with a bit of a psi as she was not going to get that much sleep to night.

“Okay so to night we'll be fixing our beds again so that way this won't happen? I really liked our bunk beds though.” Ruby looking a little sad. “Look you crazy maniac, Just because you wanted to shove a nuclear rod Up into your Passy!” Blake twitched at that statement. “Okay honey pot, And stir it until it has glowing fallout. And you would probably have liked getting crushed to death underneath two mattresses, but some of us like to breathe!” Yang couldn't help herself. “Yeah, I'm worried that my sister won't breed at times.” As she snickered. “Yeah you still been hanging too much time with step dad.” We marked Ruby as they sat down at their usual table having breakfast and noticing some of the change in lineups. JNPR Winning their first match by forfeit, Now they were in the finals.

"I guess team streets not able enough to compete anymore." Remarked when the students. "Well not everyone has a simplest like James, I'm surprised shark boy is still breathing after taking a nuclear reactor to the face." Remarked another student. Penny now sporting a green hose wrapped around her waist showing off different bindings of her curves. "It's not nuclear that close it's more of a fusion reactor and I cannot reveal anything else more because it's classified as top secret, With hydrogen pox abilities." Walking over to the other students that were arguing over it and being extremely loud about that even then she was kind of lying about the reactor based on how it's presented.

"Think she's a little touchy about being called nuclear?" Remarked Blake. "And since we're resetting Up, Ruby's bed? why don't we set Up our bed, I kind of want to get access to my books again." Ruby giving some side eye and going "You mean your books filled with filth. And no I'm not giving back your book it's still good." Blake giving off the puppy dog eyes. "Now since Penny does have tool, I can try out position 16?" Remark Ruby, Blake was looking saddened thankfully that was not a spoiler but that was peristally close. As the bell rang for their next class.

At lunch time they were playing of course the highlights but they haven't run into at all team junior matter of fact none of the final teams were showing up. "I guess it's some type of big top secret meeting?" Team Gentile was over by as well missing emerald though. As was teamed diamond missing Mercury. Damien Dawn was the one who walked over to Penny, Who unveiled her arms in gun mode for a split second and Damien gave a look of oh okay. "Thank you! I just wanted to see if, I was guessing correctly. I will promptly forget that information as it is probably heavily classified. I told you, Nil stopped thinking conspiracy theories!" Nil: "But the giant Plate, Is floating because of the staff of creation!" As the two D's were dragging king N back away from the table spouting out several other crazy theories like Ospin is actually oz, The fall maiden is currently stored in the basement and a variety of other things.

Meanwhile in the basement. "You are the teams in question that are being checked, For certain levels." Ozpin Pulls out her scroll, Opens Up small program, And turns to all the team mates. "Those with sharp weapons slice your hands those who do not ask your teammate for them to do it for you and put it in the bucket standing in front of you until I say stop or you feel woozy." Ran Hand over the other gun to Nora the sharp blade of the comma gave a strong cut down the middle of the hand it hurt like nobody's business, The sting of the salt water dust on Joan arc Right hand felt stinged and hurt. Pyrrha And three other students were standing there long and hard strangely Nora did pass out a little bit faster than Ran followed.

Jones saw a strange cat before passing out. "Jessa Myst, Pyrrha Nikos, Pena Bell, & Alice Squires. You may bandage your hands And say hello to my familiar bound by a soul contract, Nekomata The name of Nikki." As Glenda used her Semblance to put down circles underneath the rest of the teammates pouring down the dust and making sure she made the correct symbol that she borrowed from Weiss. "Congratulations ladies one of you four will become the new Fall maiden. And we are lucky we don't have to rig the game we came very close to it." As Joan was teleported away from the room with Glenda staring at the body as they arrived in the Infirmary getting fresh new blood pumped back into their bodies.

The cat walked over to one of the buckets sniffing it. It's two tails swinging back and And 4th going over to Pyrrha And started drinking her blood lapping it like it was a Water bowl. "Don't drink all of it, we need some for the ritual. Since you are the four who are conscious I will now tell you the true story of magic, glenda leave the room.” As Glenda was about to go through the circle. “Also take the spy that's watching in the corner she's tasking her aura so much. “ Gesturing to emerald hiding behind a pillar glenda took emerald with her talcinesis like an invisible hand was grappling her and dragging herself into a portal as it closed. The remaining four gulped. Pena was the only one who was the leader of her team. “ToMorrow the winner of these two matches will be one step closer, And then the finalist will determine who will be the true and who will be thee worn her up hopefully. Have you ever wondered why Salem if she had the access to magic was locked in a room by her father? It wasn't because he took her spell book or found a way how to bind her magic she didn't make the contract yet magic requires three things to happen.”

“1, Offering blood to the demons that surround us all.” As glowing eyes surrounded in the room. “2 facing your own inner demons and finding your convictions to bless them. And number three fighting your spirit to understand life and death but if you accept it too much it might want to eat you and if you fight it too well it will still rebel.” As the eyes glimmered behind the glasses of Ozpin. “Now prepare to cry where you are going to enter into your own labyrinth of your minds. And when this is all said and done you will have your contracts with your favorite demon face your inner demon if you fail you die and your team will forfeit this is the secret round.” As the girls felt the world go woozy and blank and they couldn't feel their semblances for at the moment it was like they were stolen away.

Secrets and finals

“Good thing my simplest is kind of useless anyhow?” Remarked Pena As hers was Tinker allowing her to tinker with objects and create new advanced weaponry, She's not a conjurer she's a manipulator. As a gnarly hunched creature showed up in front of her slamming a hammer upon the road his leg twisted and bent his arms crackled and boned his face smashed and bargled. “The madness of one's mind is complicated young one, You haven't evolved enough to get me so I will show you one that you are closer to? “ As the broken man with the hammer slammed onto a stone the stone shattered and formed into a different shape as the man disappeared then a Raven with a broken Wing resting on the shoulder but it had Horns on its head of a cow as it landed onto her shoulder the feathers had multiple wrinkles like it was showing a map of a maze. “I am a great architect my name Daedalus, I have been cursed to this form until you have grown wiser I will not become near the god of creation.” Of the magicians Arkana

Pyrrha Was navigating her maze watching as Spears were launched at her a voice ranged in her ears. “I can't use my magnetism, So I need to focus on coe sting my aura.” Grabbing her Cock & Cum Up and down her body then grabbing one of the Spears that we're laying on the ground the metal was strange slightly luminous at and she also coded it as well. As she ran deeper into the battlefield. Came across a fairy queen for a split second and then dodged more Spears were thrown now she was deflecting them with her spear. And now she noticed the words on the Spears. “How can you find love within yourself if you have no love for yourself?” “Never know you you are too afraid?” “You claim to be the queen but you're no queen, you wish to be only a peasant.” “You fell in love at first sight but your love will seek to nothing.” “You have no competition you have all the competition?” “You pull yourself in so many directions but you might as well be standing still.” Nervous since shaking. “I will earn my honor, I am more and focused.” the beautiful butterfly ferried wings turned along in multi serrated the eyes blinked in multiple formats until they became multiple eyes the tail became longer much like her own “You think you are having to come to grips with your strength but you just need to accept that you are loved as the one who pierced the goddess of love is only, I who will watch over you! Diomedes And I will be your fly upon your shoulder and drag you into battle. How many will fall into your chipper.” Lovers Arkana

The semifinals were about to begin the teams were awake they had slept the most of the night feeling strange and groggy their minds fogged. "I had the weirdest of dream oh we're in the Infirmary what happened?" Remarked Joan looking at the rest of her team they shrugged and Nora was flexing she felt more energized when all things were done and her hands injury the only thing she could remember was completely gone as if it was never there maybe the weird thing with Ozpin was a dream.

"Now now time for your match they have been told exactly what to do remember only your simplices and your auras have fun." Remarked Glenda, Joan now noticing A monkey with wings sitting on Glenda's shoulder 'what?' The monkey even had a funny mustache it was like a simple slit. "Yeah is?" "She's waiting for you at the arena. Thankfully all you've passed this secret tournament match that will not be reflected on your grade. We weirdly have this match. Now go on but Joan wait for a sec, I need to ask you one question." Joan nodded Signaling the rest of the team. "do you see Cesar?" "You mean the monkey on your back?" "yes, He created a deadly dust that could kill many of warriors as punishment he is forever a monkey now stuck on my back, He is the spirit of the old man only those who are closest to death are allowed to see him during the ritual if you are powerful enough to activate this ability, I need to warn you if you see anything like this on the battlefield ignore it."

With a gulp Joan made her way there as she spotted now what she meant there were four weird creatures on one player of each of the teams is that a dragonfly flying around Pyrrha? A crow on Pena? "Ignore it just ignore it they probably are told not to do something strange just ignore it focus on the battle?" Joan turned and saw everybody slightly looking at her. "It's nothing." It is they noticed their teammates were now allowed to watch them in their battles or say their rival teammates. Cardigan shouting "Come on Joan win this one for the whole team, And also I'm kind of glad that I was there before you got the handicap! Now I know why Oz said no!" Both Damien and Dante were giving thumbs up Showing their status for rooting, "Come on, you can do it Joan! We even chipped in a few stone crystals for you." Ruby shifting into her pedal form and chef over 8 crystals obviously the two Purple ones were from Team RWBY, But even crystals from Team GENP? "You better not lose I rather squash the dragonfly although I'm not afraid of shooting some clay? Or burning that little doggy maybe, I'll just freeze the kitty?" Remarked Mercury. Joan looked at the animals and noticed wait those are the same... Mercury can see them too!

SJVG vs PNDC, Saki Inaba: Fire: Highlight: Emitter vs Pena Bell,: Plant: Tinker: manipulator
Jessa Myst: Water: Acid Ray: Emitter vs Nella Barker: Plant: Painting: conjure.
Banan Val: Plant: Poison Charge: Enhancer vs Danny Nolan: light: Phantom: Enhancer?
Meg Genta: Wind :Secret Bell: Conjurer: Vs Charlie Coel: Earth: Ketsue Bomb: emitter. Themselves in the usual methods of justice with their own liquids. Pena went and grabbed her Cock & Jizz Coding on her friend and teammates Nella & Charlie but Pacifically avoided spring any on Danny? Ruby proceeded to make notes of this? Danny was focused on using the aura from her melons and Pena was covered in Charlie's code. She was wearing an unique armor set. Which made Penny look a little nervous.

"AK-68 Shells have been used in her battle armor interesting, Also mother is right the holographic models of the Knights are really hard to distinguish you just kind of seem in person now, I know why we don't really sell them online so easily." As Weiss mindlessly said out loud which had a lot of the fawniness looking strangely at her including Blake. "Hey, you know my secret now. And people there are more people on the sales staff that you realize!" Shouting to the rest of the crowd that were giving her stares. "And besides the Knights are actually really good at defending towns that are small enough where hiring really skilled hunters is expensive. And sometimes they're good for training defenses granted we like the better models because there's less things requiring the heavy shells."

As the fight was starting Ruby was trying to pay attention to most of the battle but it was really hard luckily there were a couple of key players that didn't actually have a good fighting semblance for example highlight is not a good fighting semblance, It's really good for tracking so is paint although combining paint and ketsue which is actually bloodbomb and blood is a combination of liquid and earth using the liquid water components as well as the moisture of ionized liquid particles of iron you're in compounded chemicals now it made sense on why their team leader devised this strategy. Danny's ability known as Phantom allows when channeling the aura just right to become one of three states the ability to go through solid objects but still be visible being invisible but having to rely on the physical world and finally the third one being able to move faster than the human eye can perceive also it showed signs that Danny was actually blind because you know being invisible kind of negates the ability to see.

“Yes, but it's weird to see my calculating how best to describe this? Blake you're a cat?” Penny turned to ask a very strange and awkward question that will probably be very insensitive. “Yes?” “What is the feeling when you see someone wearing a mink coat or when there's a tiger skin rug?” “I'm going to check this to you being a robot, One minx are more rodents than cats but it would be kind of rude to see your family members being used as a rug so yeah I now kind of get what you're saying here do, you wish to eviscerate her?” “No because I also know that technically recycling my body materials would be a good method of proving the environment but at the same time it feels weird to see someone wearing the bones and flesh of your ancestors I mean she is wearing previous models I am classified as actually Atlesian Knight-W1 Generation. Although most of my product and design models will arts are based off of the currently 104 line?”

“Come to think of it yeah the bust is a lot better designed we're moving on over to the 5 version which has no nips, And it only has equipped the rear fueling pump that could be a good reason why you actually have both back and forward fueling vds as well as a mouth port is the only unique design feature, I see. Look I take some electives when I was younger?” Again Weiss getting some strange looks. “Yeah is the reason why the 68 was decommissioned is because of that giant gaping hole around in the chest? I mean it's not exactly the best set of armor.” Remark Yang as Ruby immediately turned to look at the group missing the massive explosion and Meg screaming. “My leg!”

Saki Inaba Was able to avoid Danny using her semblance to highlight Danny so that way invisibility was completely useless although Danny couldn't tell because again invisibility requires no sight as light cannot bounce off of things that cannot be there and when transparent light goes through but at the same time bounces. But she was distracted when she heard her teammate lost her lay she was still feeling a little bit woozy when she saw the blood pouring across the battlefield and then flashbacks to the blood going into the Bucket she fainted. “Semifinal victory of round one goes to team Penis! Next match Juniper versus Latinum!”

Naturally the scrolls showed off on the big screen team junipers list and still stating that Joan doesn't have a semblance yet. Levi Shaffer: rock: Conjurer/Specialists: Justice bullet, Alice Squires: Gravity: Emitter: hole, Nick Bond: Fire: Conjurer: Chain, Mell Kennedy: Light: Enhance: Pulse. As Latinum was getting ready to activate their collections of auras just by coding themselves with their own stuff Joan stopped and smiled.

“Okay watching the other team gave me an idea. Pyrrha & Nora, I want you to cover us.” Nora Grabbing her big fat DICK And start spraying like a gatling gun. Pyrrha Was a little nervous but she was done as she was ordered grabbing hers in spring as well. Jizz Caked on the two thickly. Nora started praying herself from her chest because she emptied out her dingalings on her teammates, Pyrrha had a l little bit left inside hers, But finished up with her milk. "Oh you two are supposed to coat each other as well. I guess, I should have mentioned that?" Norah solved this problem by just simply grabbing Pyrrha and doing a hot sexy make out which caused a raised eyebrow on Ran?

Before the two teams got into the ring they huddled up to talk. "Ok we're going to use Polaris enhanced with electrical conduction to make it where our weapons come back to us. Ran I want you to focus on drawing the team into one position. I've seen almost everybody else's moves except for Alice's. SO if I'm right, Hole is Extremely overpowered or utility based, I'm leaning towards overpowered but has its very strong weaknesses. We just gotta get clear to not be hit with Justice Bullet and we'll be fine focus on getting Nick's chains to wrap around everybody else, Pulse is just support. We've got this and thanks to Team Rwby, I think we got a major edge." As Joan entered into the battlefield plugging in the first gravity dust crystal into her shield giving the emblem its nice glowing purplish hue. "Ok let's start operation. Magnetrush!"

Ran started by firing a few key shots directly at Mel, she started dodging activating her semblance. Before running forward to try to punch unchecked her weapon of choice was of course the unchaintlets which was a favor of most melee physical fighters and enhancer types. Nick's signature weapon was of course shot dumb just flip in and dipping and swinging them around wielding three sets including using one with her giant rod which she swung around like a giant chain as well. Flipping around her Semblance directed at Ran as well. Just as Joan calculated the Aura mixture allowed the semblances to correspond as if they were all able to use the exact same one, Pyrrha Was able to yank ran from a distance even though ran had very few pieces of metal armor at best the shoulder plate and maybe the guns counted but most of them were plastic polymers.

Joan was running into the middle of a battlefield just to avoid the other two teammates now they were starting to focus their actions at a flying Ran! "Let's see if this strategy works, Nor Thunder struck me now!" As Joan Drawled her gravity black blade just as Norris sent out a giant lightning bolt, she fired her judgment bullet. As the gravity field coated the area now it made sense everybody was starting to get harder and harder to move except for team juniper magnetic fields counteracted the gravity field as the stadium was now pumping out large amounts of gravity throughout the area. Those with gravity base were able to move easily even those that were in the stands were starting to feel the effects.

"That's clever ooh ooh ooh we should really think about doing that something like that yang you gotta really focus on trying to figure out how to use lightning?" Remarked Ruby as she was probably the second person in the group that's not being affected by it Blake was also not being affected. "Yeah you really like the idea of just spraying everybody with your own stuff huh?" "Actually I think that's the stone made from yours?" Remarked Ruby as Blake was just blinking profusely. "So glad last night you did some filling on me because I would not like to feel being crushed right now." Remarked Penny as she was the only one standing still in her group everyone else was like trying to not slam their heads into the ground as well as the rest of their body!

Alice was using her simplest diving into parts of the arena and then popping up in other locations now it made sense on how whole worked. The sound of thundering vibrations though tuned out what minor dialog that was coming out from the round the fans everyone else was having a hard time moving the bullet that was fired was now sunk into the ground! Joan Focus, Placing the first gravity blade into the arena and breaking off from the hilt. Focus on protecting this tiny little space now all range weaponry was completely negated.

Which made Alice's weapon of choice even more of a problem for Alice actually hers worth sm all throwing daggers so she was having to get up close and personal if she threw the daggers they would sink straight towards the ground it doesn't matter if they were made out of plastic or metal or wood everything follows the rules of gravity. Magnetic fields were slightly dampening the effects but they were still underneath the rules. Ran was already up back on the ground trying to move her legs feeling stiff and hardened swinging the sharp blade at one of the knockdowns to be exact Mel. "PyRHHA !" Joan shouted at the top of her lungs every single word feeling harder and harder to shout as the deafening silence of the gravitational field even heavier than usual. But the platinum warrior understood what was stated running over to the revolver wielding gunwoman who is now sinking straight into the ground with their spear tapping straight towards the neck. When the gravity failed left team juniper won they were now in the finals and they only had one team to takedown and now everybody was breaking for lunch.

In the cafeteria everybody was watching the highlights of the batches, Some of the teams were turning up their weaponry and all the students that didn't have to compete today were actually given some time to at least focus on smaller tests, we'll get to watch the real matches. Giving out smiles and Gle juniper was sitting with team Ruby along with Team Gentile with the exception of Joan who is walking over to team diamond. "Ooh emerald look like somebody's going after your favorite girly?" Remarked Nora seeing Joan trying to talk to Mercury. "No, my lady cinder.. I mean oh we just know that each of her friends we're not a couple thingy?" Remarked Emerald. Pyrrha looking extremely nervous? Did she let her dating chance fly on the wayside? Trying to nudge as they were wiping off some of their leftovers. Ruby stopped eating for a split second raised her hands and clapped. "Oh it's one of those other invisible buggies again darn it?" Yang sighed and mumbled something about. "Yeah we see sometimes some strange stuff around here."

"Thank you, But we need to talk in private." Joan giving some deadly looks at Mercury. "How about this we'll have a private match ourselves, If you manage to win the finals if not you don't have to worry I won't be hunting down your girlfriend so all you have to do is lose the saved her life?" In a low whisper only enough for her teammate to hear as well as Joan herself. "Wow mercury is taking the loss pretty hard, They mean you better watch your back it's been known that sometimes teammates have been betrayers." Damien gave a slight chuckle she wasn't worried at all. "Fine I'll win and then I will make sure you will not hurt her." Mark Joan as she walked straight past the cafeteria table and went heading straight towards the student dust shop to buy two crystals to replace the one set she just used.

Pyrrha running over after Joan, Grabbing her by the shoulder and said "Look I-I want to?" Joan turned and said. "Yeah sure, Maybe Monday night or how about this weekend? I'll see how my plans go after this final battle." "Yeah so after the match we'll figure out where to go to eat drink and be merry?" Joan just gave a nod "yeah, don't worry. A strong leader carries all the burdens of the team even the ones that the team is not allowed to share." Pyrrha looked confused noticing that Joan was looking at a bit of a direction towards Ruby like this was some advice that she just got from Ruby a while ago. "Ok."

The finals

"Today it will be the final match between team Juniper versus Team Penis isn't it strange that that is the actual call sign of the name of the team? Jasmine?" "Not at all latin! Also isn't it just great that team coffee is now representing the second years." "Certainly is, Can't wait to find out who will be the representatives for the matches of the 3rd years but we'll find out after the verse." Again the Jumbotron showed the simlences and Aura types of the teams. The arena was already fixed and nicely stunned up some of the students even bought food for the concession stands which considering that they also had lunch meant that they were eating a little bit more than usual.

"Let's have this be a good match." Pena Offering a handshake to Joan as they both shake hands before coding their teammates. Although some of them were showing signs of the fact that back to back matches was actually showing a bit of a challenge even with a slight rest break they were still not ready to for this strenuous activity. Showing that they had thin layers and weak auras. "Oh so this is also another way of testing out stamina? OK team after this and after a couple of tests how about this weekend we practice stamina?" Remarked Ruby. "Sure thing sis, We can practice stamina while having fun with multiple relationships. Bear claw, I have some fun?" Goldie shook her head. "Sorry you're just a little too tall and the white one's a little too short but, your sister is just right." "Neo, Emerald." Neo answered for both by doing one shift for herself and then doing a shift to a strangely familiar not familiar girl before turning back to her normal self. "I guess I'm gonna have to scour the scene myself darn it, I Hate the odd girl out?"

Just before team Juniper was about to enter into the ring with maybe one coat barely, Nora grabbed Joan and Ran's Dicks And she started rubbing them physically together! The other two ladies were just now starting to get the idea Cumming All over their teammates using their colors of aura to fill in for the missing pieces of Nora's and Pyrrha, Then once that was done Nora grabbed Jones and asked a small question, "Dominant or weak?" "Dominant?" The Thunder Valkyrie nodded and shoved Jones's hose inside her own with her own little moan. "Pyrrha Do the same with Ran, Yours is the same color this way we can build Up in case we have to do a secret backu brown or something?" She nodded and plunged hers and docked in that way as well as now it looked like they had two long cables attached to their waist handcuffing themselves to their teammate, Nora quickly walked over to the rival team for a split second and asked "Quack tape?" "I have some sports." Quickly wrapped up and made sure that they weren't gonna separate during mid battle tight and hard making the cables become even harder and stiffer.

The other team we're setting up with their setup naturally they also did some alterations of who was coding who instead of just their leader, Nella's Jizz All over her teammates it's with the exception of Danny who is still stuck doing herself it was strange though why didn't their rock teammate who was clearly a different color bother coding herself. Nella was wielding a bowstaff with two aintbrush tips on the end, With the ability to transform into two paintbrushes is that we're slightly longer. Pen's Manage to finagle the two pieces of armor shell into fully functional arm cannons even with her fleshy arms, Danny was equipped with slashing claw hands, And finally Charlie was wielding a bowl ax instead could transform into twin throwing axes along its size it had gravity dust implanted.

As the two teams walked in to the arena it started to glow, Then part of the arena slowly started to fill up with trees? "Now our contestants are going to have to deal with the true challenge of the finals the challenge that is always been irking great hunters and warriors alike? Why do we fight each other when our main goal is to take down the grim? Is it to remember the great battles of the Great War partially! But no just like how the 4 fought the old two gods we must fight two of our own evil gods although one has vanished from all of Remnant the other can still clearly be seen only vanished for a mere 16 years." As the new hard light combat dummies were unleashed of Beowulf's and a giant holographic image of a crazed giant woman the image could not show the full extent of her terrifying beauty.

"What is it 0 yeah?" Emerald quickly jabbing one of her arms believed to be her left down inside her own hose to keep it from unleashing. "Yeah I can handle my whole arm now oh that feels good oh yeah oh yeah yes yes yes." Staring at the holographic queen and grubbing and figuringly as her blums were throbbing and growing and swelling. Her team turned and gave her strange looks as well as Team RWBY, As they looked at a crude holographic representation of Salem spinning Lotto numbers were shown wing up. "The first years with the best grades of the tests will be playing Salem's guards and get a chance to show off as representations in the battle those of the festival. Enter randomly they will not be registered as their actual team. Its goal is simple the team that matches to take the head of Salem wins the one that doesn't loses. Contestant set win the lottery, We'll receive grades based on how long they live so urce speak, I stay in the rules if your or is broken you're out."

Everyone pulled out their lottery tickets Almost all of team Rwby and Team Genp, Were victorious! Only yang had to be replaced with mercury, And surprisingly goldie was replaced Lyn? Groups got into their combat gear and grabbed their weapons. "I was expecting us to ye know fight the big bad evil not fight with the big bad evil?" "You can do it sis!" "Remember we're just using this as excuse we can do this." Mercury whispering too emerald who was now fully coated with her own stuff and still having a throbbing. Salem's wavy hair was upon on the battlefield her body's pulsating as the holographic lights came popping out from her. "Yeah this is what Cinder might be like and she's ready to pop?" Emerald also keeping a very low tone, After all the robot might be able to listen in. "I never expected a error in protocols my mission is to delete her yet my mission right now is to protect the representation of her this is complicated."

Team Rwbm,Lenp VS Jnpr, Pndc!

As the two teams jumped into the battlefield, The forest was sprawling with trees obviously more real than usual the grass actually smelt like grass, But the giant Salem monster was still obviously hard light, And shooting out of several parts of it was little drones projecting hard light representations of well known grim baio wolves the bees et cetera. The bees naturally have the ability to shoot their stingers like arrows repeatedly, Danny was using Her ability to run through the stingers without any damage But also not cutting down the number of monsters that were being unleashed overwhelming the rest of the other team. Ren Was shooting and slashing trying to take down as many grim as possible nor was slamming and switching back to her gatling gun on multiple occasions her electrical boosting trick only giving her a few minor enhancements to Dodge or recover from powerful blows as her aura was staring to show signs of oh yeah now we see why this is a terrifying boss fight.

Pen was using her Of arm can into fire off explosive sticky bombs as Charlie was snapping her fingers there's the light creatures exploding in a variety of different colors, Blake and Ruby were easily zipping across the battlefield focusing their targets on team Pndc Now seeing how Nills very obviously not good combat symblance now converted into a decent combat semblance! guys Paint was allowing her to basically change the color of One liquid into another of her choosing and similarity in some of the properties of that color which meant she could actually generate a variety of different blood which allows Charlie to just detonate that blood as explosives oh they're a combo team. Weiss was placing enhancement circles and binding circles at different locations having to sketch into the ground a couple of them.

While the rest of Team Ruby was trying to focus mercury was out for blood against Juniper which was expected honestly they were kind of calculating that the other team was going to be focusing on junior for anyhow they were just trying their darnest not to hinder their friends they were half right neo was just sitting down watching the battlefield sitting and pretending to be drinking tea, penny was just hovering around trying to pretend to be a guard century. "For the queen!" Shouted emerald using her chain weapon to strike at several targets they were dodgy and actually pretty decent also it didn't help matters that Pyrrha, Could move around the enemy combatants weaponry she was purposely not focusing her magnetism on the hard light rojectors here's not realizing that they were also focusly coded with plastic polymers instead.

“Pyrrha Yank Mercury off the field again if she's dumb enough to repeat what she did last time it's her own fault.” Shouted Joan that was a eerie tone with malice and dark intent. But as suggested she did so using her magnetic ability to yank Mercury's Yet legs off on towards the ring out scenario, She had to focus more on the ammo shells apparently mercury switch to plastic polymers for the legs it was really hard because with the exception of penny skeleton frame she couldn't even grasp anything within penny and she was already putting out counter magnetic fields. Dust made shard blades were being tossed at her both shields were being demonstrated as their durability Joan was taking blocks and hits as well. They could barely hear one of the crowded screams themes of the fans. Joan charged forward now ignoring anything that was coming into her way Danny was still up getting closer and closer trying to manipulate through the horde.

“Surprise I don't think you can face through this?” Wiess says, she generated a lightning storm from glyphLike grenade right on to Danny set flying the Lightning was just powerful and Joan was tanking it scratch marks her hair streaking upwards cracks upon her body this was something that Nora would normally do parts of the aura breaking off and shattering, Tossing out the blade! Pyrrha instantly knew what she had to do, Grabbing Jones new dust blade with her power of Polarity and then striking the head of the holographic image where the drone was actually hidden behind the hard light the thing downed and then the instant replace. “Team Juniper gets the win! And the while on one fights have been categorized we'll find out who will be facing off against each other in the veil primary demonstration rounds later on this year. In the meantime teams rest recuperate and learn this is Jasmine reporting off.
