

Stellar Gold Rush

(This story uses metric and UK Cup Sizes)

Once, the world of Tervia had been a fantasy world of swords and sorcery, but that age was long gone.

Two years ago, the discovery of vast veins of stellar gold had changed the world, drawing people from across the world to the magic desert of Valhidia, great railroads were paved, and vast, over forty meter wide and sixty tall, kilometres long trains thundered across the great desert, transporting vast quantities of the prized stellar gold across the land. Today, one such massive train carrying enormous amounts of the magical, rainbow glittering gold was midway through its weeks long journey, and was about to pass through an abandoned mining town, once prosperous, now empty thanks to its Stellar Gold veins drying up.

And in this town, atop a tall tower in the centre, overlooking the railroad, stood the famous bandit and self proclaimed 'Phantom Thief', the one and only Nadia Bluebell. Nadia was an ordinary looking woman, average height, but with a body woefully devoid of curves, and a totally flat chest and butt, dressed in her stylish black leather gunslinger outfit, custom revolver at her hip, she was in her late twenties, and had brown hair.

"He he, there it comes! If my source tells the truth, this here train contains piles and piles of Stellar Gold! If I can make off with just as much as I can carry, Ill be damn near set for life! And with so much gold to take, they surely wont notice if I just skim a little off the top!" Nadia cackled to herself, crossing her arms and taking a wide stance, the train was in sight now, and as soon as it began passing by, Nadia would use her grappling hook to cling to the side, then sneak in, to find some of the smaller vaults to pilfer.

Stellar Gold was far, far more valuable than the non-stellar variety, not only did it contain a massive amount of mana, it was actually possible for someone to permanently increase their mana capacity and magical power, just by touching it! Though this made the Stellar Gold crumble to dust and came with some... notable side effects. Indeed, it was thanks to these side affects that the aristocracy around the world had suddenly had tremendously huge butts, with incredibly wide hips and thick, juicy thighs become totally average, along with increasing their average cup size all the way to FF! Nadia herself couldn't say she wasn't interested, she had always wanted a bit more for her figure, but the results were unpredictable, everyone grew differently from Stellar Gold, and besides, there were people willing to pay far more for it than herself!

Snapping herself back to reality, Nadia eyed the oncoming train, and braced herself. A few moments passed, then, with a tremendous gust of wind, the vast locomotive began surging past like an unstoppable tempest. Nadia leapt forth and threw her grappling hook, catching a windowsill of a passing carriage, she swung forward and smashed through another window, on the third storey of the eight-storey carriage, rolling to a stop inside.

The room was dark, and empty, scattered boxes were spread throughout, along with a small safe. Rubbing her hands with glee, Nadia crept over, and in a few moments, cracked the safe, opening it to reveal a single one of the large, dramatic coins into which Stellar Gold was processed, yes, this invaluable material was used as the highest value of currency among the elite of society. Admiring the radiant, rainbow sheen of the coin, Nadia plucked it from the safe and placed it within one of the pouches at her left hip, opposite her gun.

Pleased with her find, Nadia left the room and continued through the train, careful to avoid any areas from which she heard the sound of human activity, she had one coin, yes, but her ambition rose far higher than that, she was going to take as many as she possibly could! To that end, she headed towards the small vault situated on this train, according to the blueprints she had handsomely paid her informant for, it was located in the dead centre of this carriage, on the bottom floor.

Thirty minutes later, Nadia had sneaked all the way to the vault, and broken inside. The vault was piled to the ceiling with Stellar Gold Coins, suppressing a gasp, Nadia went to work right away, stuffing all of her pockets, and the large sack she had brought, to the brim with Stellar Gold, barely able to carry it all thanks to the magic she circulated through her muscles. Only once she was done, and looked up, freed from her trance of sheer greed, did she realise her mistake.

A similar looking woman, though with blond hair as opposed to Nadia's brown, chose the exact same moment to look up after filling her own pockets and sack with Stellar Gold, the two eyes met, and in unison, they cried
"ITS YOU!"

Indeed, it was none other than Nadia's rival, Lydia Smith, the self proclaimed 'Angel Thief', dressed in an outfit almost identical to Nadia's, but with striking white leather making up her boots, belts and cowboy hat instead of black! Only after shouting in surprise, did the two realise that their commotion had caused guards to notice, and had entered from either side, a blaring alarm starting to sound across the entire train carriage!

"Dammit!" Yelled Nadia as she drew her gun, in a flash, she infused mana into her bullets and fired, creating a shockwave on impact that knocked back the guards on one side of the room, before sprinting out the door, only to notice Lydia still beside her.

"Hah! Nice job flatty, you've clearly acknowledged my superiority as the Angel Thief, since you were so gracious as to clear a path for me!" Taunted Lydia as the two ran, leaping over obstacles and firing at guards as they went.

"Flatty!? You've got a butt just as small as mine! Tits too!" Screeched Nadia, skidding round a corner and blasting a guard out the window with a mana shockwave from her gun.

The argumentative duo ran as fast as they could, but to no avail, they soon found themselves surrounded. Strangely, something in Nadia's chest clenched at the thought of fighting alongside her rival, and a little heat crept into her cheeks, pretending it was nothing, she turned to Lydia, while the guards aimed their guns.

"Any idea how the hell we can get outta this one Lydia?" Questioned Nadia, her tone full of false bravado.

"Cant be helped, we'll just have to use some of this Stellar Gold for ourselves!" Saying so, Lydia drew a coin from her pocket and clenched it tightly, catching on, Nadia did the same.

"Argh! I wanted to sell all this!" Complained Nadia, as she activated the gold alongside Lydia.

Instantly, a surging power made its way into Nadia, she felt heat gathering in her butt, hips and thighs, her legs lengthened slightly, her thighs thickened, her hips broadened, and with a creaking and stretching of her leather trousers and belts, her butt grew and grew, filling them well beyond what they were made for, Nadia's once utterly pitiful rear had grown to average with but a single coin.

"Hah, I can feel the magic coursing through me! Take this!" With a battle cry, Nadia put all her newly replenished magic into her gun and fired six times in succession, the bullets ricocheted off the walls, building in power, then unleashed a mighty blast of magic, knocking out the guards on Nadia's side, meanwhile, Lydia had done the same.

"Who knew? I guess you really can fire a gun!" Mocked Lydia as she reloaded hers, her lower body had been enhanced just as much by the magic, but Nadia noticed a significant difference in how the gold had blessed them.

Creak

Lydia's tight series of ammo belts across her chest were straining to contain their new prize, Lydia hadn't just grown to average in her thighs, hips and butt, her breasts had developed from a non-existent AA-Cup to a respectable C-Cup!

"What the hell! That ain't fair!" Squawked Nadia. "How come you get tits and I don't!"

"Just the luck of the draw!" Lydia scoffed smugly "looks like my butt is a little bigger too."

Nadia grit her teeth, then went back to running, Lydia right alongside her, the two found running to be easier with their newly developed figures, and thanks to that, they were able to make it to one of the trains exit doors on the side of the carriage despite not having magic left to enhance their muscles, but in the moment they thought they were finally free...

"Gotcha now, ya varmints!"

A beautiful woman stood in front of the door, flanked by dozens of guards armed to the teeth on either side, she had an extremely voluptuous figure, blessed with huge FF-Cup breasts, a tight hourglass waist, hips almost twice as broad as her shoulders and a butt so plentiful it clearly stuck out on either side, thick, juicy stems of unbelievably full thighs sprouting forth and leading into long, long legs, all framed by her flowing, golden hair. It was the guard captain of the train, and clearly, she had enjoyed plenty of Stellar Gold all for herself!

Nadia silently seethed in envy, what she wouldn't give for a body like that! But there was a far more pressing concern, empowered by all that Stellar Gold, this woman was clearly no laughing matter to face in battle! There was only once choice to take.

"Are you thinking what im thinking... partner?" Said Lydia with a rye grin, taking out several Stellar Gold Coins.

"Damn right, partner!" Proclaimed Nadia, her face flushing bright red as she did the same, in unison they activated their coins.

With a terrible groan, Nadia's trousers were filled to the brim as her butt grew big, shapely and plump, her thighs thickening out, full of muscle, while her hips grew broader than her shoulders, yet once again, her chest was untouched, annoyed, she activated the other two coins she held at once, her butt rocketed up in size, her trousers tearing with a mighty RIIIIIP as a huge butt jiggled free, her thighs and hips making sure to develop and grow as well as her huge buttocks spilled outwards, gaining more and more mass, soon she had more than enough that any surface would make a comfortable seat, but yet, her chest was still flat as a washboard!

Using her newly empowered magic, Nadia engaged in a rapid gunfight with the guards and captain, blocking their shots with a magical barrier while she fired off her own, then she looked to her newfound partner, and was dumbstruck!

Lydia had used the same number of coins, yet the woman had grown into a mature beauty, her butt was far larger, almost twice the size, of Nadia's, and her thighs were thick as tree trunks, her hips almost as broad as her torso was tall, yet the woman had somehow also developed hourglass curves, and a bountiful pair of DD-Cups! The Guard Captain was saying something about how they would never defeat her, but Nadia was far too distracted by the bouncing assets of the gloriously overdeveloped beauty that fought alongside her, this couldn't be allowed to continue!

Thinking so, Nadia reached into her bag and began activating coin after coin, as she did so, her legs lengthened and lengthened, making up almost two thirds of her now highly impressive height, her butt tore through the rest of the clothes on her bottom half like paper, leaving in nothing but boots, stocking and panties, and even so, her panties were barely holding up against the relentless onslaught of top-notch ass that just kept growing and growing, yet not a single gram made its way to her chest, looking even more pitiful now that she was so well developed down below, her lower body was more than a match for the Guard Captains now, and far exceeded Lydia's.

Noticing the skyrocketing growth of her partner, Lydia licked her lips and began activating coins as well, her buttocks surged forth with ever-increasing mass, outclassing both the other overdeveloped girls in no time, while her tits grew and grew, tearing straight through her top and belts, leaving her in just her lacy white bra, the titanic supertits filling all the way to LL-Cups in no time!

Noticing the outrageous growth of her opponents, the guard captain stepped back in shock, the twos attacks were incredibly powerful now, it took all the guards had just to hold them back with their magical barrier, but the pair of outlaws still hadn't finished!

Grabbing every coin she could, Nadia activated as many as possible, her ass ballooned in size, the godly butt so developed that she made the Guard Captains look utterly flat, her growth spurt so mighty that she even outpaced Lydia, who was burning through coins at the same pace, soon, the two giantesses filled the room with their amazing rears, the guards who had rushed in behind them crushed, and their bullets useless bouncing off the beauties magically empowered backsides.

"Its, oof, getting a little hard to move in here!" Complained Nadia, her butt jammed against Lydia's.

"Well, at least nobody can call your ass flat anymore, shame about the tits though!" Teased Lydia, before leaning in and planting a kiss on Nadia's cheek, making her 'Rival' turn completely red from head to toe, Lydia's new Q-Cups sloshed as she laughed "ah, it seems you were just a late bloomer all around!"

As she made this fateful proclamation, Nadia's butt exploded in size, tearing the walls of he train with a mighty roar, the Guard Captain and her remaining minions flattened under them as the force sent Nadia and Lydia flying off the train, to bounce harmlessly to a stop on their huge assets on the desert sand.

After collecting herself, Nadia sighed and got up, stumbling upon realising she was now over eight metres tall, and that she towered over the five meter Lydia, and not only that, but she couldn't see her because...

Boinggg

A full pair of her very own Z-Cups obscured her vision, beaten only by her own tremendous ass, so big that even standing upright, she could feel that protruding parts of the train were being smashed to pieces by the bountiful behind, without her suffering a scratch!

After a moment, Nadia realised with a start that she had forgotten something very important, she checked her loot sack and pockets only to see...

Nothing.

Every single coin was gone, it seemed Lydia was the same in this regard.

"Don't look so glum gorgeous, we can always rob another train! With out newfound... power and charisma nobody will stand a chance, so what do you say, want to be my lover?"

With a grin, Nadia sat down, her numerous colossal assets burying Lydia in divine plenty.

"Of course!"
