

Amber looked down at the table of beakers and chemicals. It was complete, a month's worth of on and off the work, the fruit of her labor. She momentarily walked off to another part of the room, producing a wine bottle hastily labeled with a marker, returning to the beakers, grabbing a funnel from a nearby cabinet as she did so. The flask separated from the rest of the makeshift distillery with a pop, filling the room with the sickly sweet smell of blueberries, even more so as she poured its contents into the wine bottle, gently hammering a cork into the bottle.

"The very first bottle of chateau dragon berry is finally complete!~" she exclaimed, giggling to herself.

"Kairii is going to LOVE this!~ especially when she finds out about the side effects~ hmm... I can get away with letting these sit till tomorrow, don't wanna keep her waiting for our little date tonight!~" she giggled, grabbing her things as she left her lab, carefully placing the bottle in a cushioned box, ensuring its safety in transportation.

Her trek home, like always, was long and exhausting, made even more so by the extra weight from her surprise for her draconic lover Kairii, who greeted her warmly upon entering their home "Amber! You're home early today! Well earlier than usual, what's got you spending so much time at work lately?"

"Well I suppose I can finally tell you... I've been working on a project! a non alcoholic wine, blueberry to be specific, it's why I suggested a date night tonight~ I wanted you to be the first person to taste test it, and I figured a nice dinner would be the perfect excuse for it~"

Kairii blushed, all that work, just to make HER something special, at the very least with the intent of her being the first to try this potentially wonderful new drink

"Well now you've got me even more excited! I'm not even sure I can wait to cook dinner anymore~" she giggled

"why don't we order something instead so you don't have to keep me waiting so long?~"

"it couldn't hurt... but you're picking it up, hiking to and from work is tiring as it is, and I am NOT doing it again tonight..."

"yeah yeah I know! Anyway, I heard about this great new Italian place that opened up downtown, it's got great reviews, and the takeout looks soooo good! Why don't we get something from there?" "Hm... sounds as good as anywhere else! I'll go get the table set while you go get something, see you in a bit Kairii!"

Kairii grabbed her purse and exited, her wings spreading as she leaped into the air, flying off into the city, meanwhile Amber took the time to prepare a dinner set by the spring, a small round wooden table, fine cushioned chairs, a smooth checkered tablecloth, fine porcelain plates, and two large wine glasses, placing the bottle in the center of the table, along with a deep red wax candle

Almost as if on cue Kairii's voice echoed through the cavern from their home within the mountain "Amber! I'm back! Where'd you go?"

"I'm back here hun! You got back just as I finished up!"

Kairii's excited footsteps slowly grew louder along with the crinkling of bags.

"ooh fancy! Did you get a~"

"Corkscrew for the wine? Of course I did!"

Amber smirked, pulling a corkscrew from the pocket of her jeans

"get the food on the table and I'll pop That bottle right open, i know you've been looking forward to trying it~" Amber cooed

“yes ma’am~”

Kairii quickly and eagerly plated the food, chicken Parmesan, fresh garlic bread, spaghetti with hand made sauce, and steaming minestrone. As Kairii poured the warm soup into bowls, Amber popped the cork out of the bottle, that same sickly sweet aroma from the lab filling the air around them as she filled their glasses and sat with her draconic lover

“the reviews weren’t lying, this smells incredible!” “It does... still... I somewhat doubt it's worth a second hike over... buuuut the taste test will have to decide that one...”

both women grabbed a fork, Kairii enjoying a mouthful of spaghetti and red sauce, while Amber enjoyed a bite of chicken Parmesan and a slice of garlic bread

“gulp alright maybe this IS worth the hike...”

“We have to go out on a date there sometime! If we can manage to get a reservation anyway... they don’t even have half a dozen tables... but I guess with food this good there’s plenty of money to be made in pure take out ”

"you’re more than right there! I could eat this stuff till I’m fat enough to roll around! Oh wipe that smirk off your face Kairii,I’d get sick of it way before I got that big... but I would still get pretty soft before that happened~ why don’t you try some of the wine by the way?”

“Oh right! I almost forgot about it! You said you made this yourself right? I didn’t know you knew anything about brewing booze! Hey maybe you could mix some of Melony's pheromones into a bottle of rum! Heheh, would make for a pretty good prank don’t ya think?”

Kairii took a sip of the aromatic wine, the compounds within, staining her mouth and tongue blue

“oooh this is delicious! It’s sweet but not too sweet, not overly bitter either!”

“I’m glad you like it! And I PROBABLY could, but I’m definitely not going to just so you can pull a few pranks, you know as well as I do how potent they are... your venom on the other hand... THAT would likely be a lot more stable, both in actual shelf life, and in dosage...”

“you’re not milking my claws for venom Amber.” “I’m not gonna! I'm just thinking out loud is all... but if you REALLY wanted me to make some fancy inflatable cocktail...”

“alright MAYBE just once...”

“You like the idea that much huh?~”

“How could I not! getting big AND drunk off the same drink? That’d be incredible! Imagine if you took it to a party!~”

“you’d probably end up destroying the host's place with a whole party of people swelling...”

“I wouldn’t call using me as an air mattress fun but you always seem to enjoy it anyway~”

“hmph I walked into that one didn’t I?”

“Knowing you I’d say floating into it is a bit more accurate~”

over the course of their conversation kairi's glass slowly but surely emptied, the blue tones of her mouth slowly spreading across her lips

“It's weird, I haven't eaten nearly as much as I usually do, but I feel weirdly full... still kinda thirsty though, think I could get another glass?~”

“Of course!~”

Amber cooed, filling Kairii's glass once more with a slight smirk, its contents disappearing down her stomach in a matter of minutes, the blue coloration beginning to spread past her lips and onto the rest of her face, now spreading rapidly

“what the...? Amber, did I spill some of that wine on my nose or something..? I swear there’s some- WOAH! I definitely didn’t stick my fingers in it!” Kairii’s skin had begun to rapidly change shade to a dark almost purple blue, followed by a loud grumble emanating from deep within her belly, which promptly began to rumble and swell, sloshing as she moved

“Surprise airhead!~ well... I should probably call you juice head actually~ the distilling process for that wine created some VERY unique compounds, and rather than getting rid of them... I decided I should have some fun with ‘em instead! Of course I needed a test subject for that... and what better test subject than you?~”

“hehe~ and I thought tonight couldn’t get any better!~ should’ve known you’d pull a trick like this on me though.. especially after I spiked your meal last time! So... how big is this gonna make me anyhow?~”

“very~ now hold still, blue looks VERY good on you, and I wanna see how good it makes the rest of you look~”

Kairii complied with a grin as Amber stepped towards her, pulling of her shirt with a giggle, tossing aside her shoes, unbuttoning her jeans and pulling them off, unhooking her bra and tossing it aside, and pecking her lips with a kiss as she slowly pulled her panties down her legs, finally taking a step back to admire the draconic fruit of her labor.

“Oh my!~ you look even better than thought you would~”

“ough... it feels weird being so heavy... it’s a nice change of pace though~ ”

“Now you know how I felt when you used me as a water bed last week~ actually...”

Amber pushed her bloating lover to the side, smiling as she pecked her on the cheek, leaping onto dragon berry’s massive stomach

“NOW you know how I felt~”

she cooed, wrapping her arms around Kairii as best she could “say Kairii... you wanna finish off that bottle?~”

“I was hoping you’d ask me that!”

Amber hopped off giggling, grabbing her still full glass and the half full bottle, and bringing them both back, pouring their contents down into Kairii’s stomach, which began to grumble once more. “Kairii..? Maybe that wasn’t such a good- holy...” Kairii’s body began to rapidly balloon, gurgling and sloshing as she filled with gallons upon gallons of sweet juice, her arms legs and tail fattening before getting swallowed by her bloating blue body, her massive leaking bosom the only part of her not swallowed, sticky blue juice leaking from her bosom. Amber smiled, watching it drip, Kairii dazed from the rapid swelling filling much of the cavern. Amber wandered to the side of her immobilized fruit, climbing atop her and placing her lips around one of Kairii’s engorged nipples, filling her belly with the thick sticky juice, staining her muzzle a deep blue that contrasted immensely with her soft white fur

“mmm~ I love you Kairii~”

“love you mmgh~ t-too Amber~”

Amber refused to part her lips from the berry’s breast, snuggling and suckling into the night, both utterly content.
